

Young Kim supports Donald Trump's agenda. She supports Trump's effort to gut protections for pre-existing conditions while raising premiums for the rest of us. She also supports Trump's efforts to take away a woman's right to choose.

Kim On Trump: “But If You Listen, And See The Results, You Have To Agree, This Is So Refreshing.” “As a mom, if you asked me, I would not let any of my three daughters date or marry somebody like Donald Trump. He's got problems. I would whip his butt, if I can. But I can't. But if you listen, and see the results, you have to agree, this is so refreshing. We have not had a president who does what he says as a candidate and he's really delivering every single one of those and I can't wait to see what more promises he's made he will keep.” Young Kim Campaign Event, [2/24/20]

Kim Said She Planned To Vote For Trump In 2020. “In line with their parties, Cisneros and Kim hold opposite views on many major issues. He supports universal healthcare, a pathway to citizenship for undocumented immigrants, gay marriage and a woman's right to choose, while Kim opposes all four policies. Cisneros said he hasn't decided who he'll vote for in the presidential election, while Kim said she plans to vote for Trump.” Orange County Register, [2/21/20]

Kim Said Obamacare “Has Given Us Nothing But Broken Promises” And Supported Repealing It. At A Chamber of Commerce forum on March 29, 2018 Kim said [1:09:55] “The intent of Obamacare was to ensure that there is access for all Americans to be insured. But what it did at the end of the day is that it has given us nothing but broken promises. While it may have given a lot Americans access to health care, it has given less than acceptable quality health care. The premiums have gone up and there is a penalty clause if you don't have the health care. This is an inability to give the original intent of the promise. [...] [1:11:05] But I will not ask for a complete repeal unless there is a solution that can be sensible and ensure all Americans by providing good quality care with not, premiums should not be too much for this. [...] [1:11:28] Until I see a good replacement, complete repeal is not the way to do it.” Chamber of Commerce Forum, YouTube, [4/10/18]

Trump Promised To Repeal The Affordable Care Act. “Trump is correct: At no point in time did he pledge to repeal and replace Obamacare in 61 or 64 days. Instead, he pledged to demand a repeal on Day One — even if it took a special session of Congress to make it happen. He pledged on several occasions to repeal it ‘immediately.’ The message he conveyed to his voters was very much not that ‘this is something we will get to eventually’ but that this was something that would come first on the agenda.” Washington Post, [3/24/17]

The Affordable Care Act Prevented Insurers From Denying Coverage Or Charging More If An Individual Had A Preexisting Condition. “In the old days, insurance companies had ways to avoid selling policies to people who were likely to cost more than insurers wanted to spend. They might deny them coverage outright, or exclude coverage for a known condition, or charge so much that insurance became unaffordable. The Affordable Care Act boxes out the old insurance practices with a package of legal moves. First, it says point-blank that carriers ‘may not impose any preexisting condition exclusion.’ It backs that up with another section that says they ‘may not establish rules for eligibility’ based on health status, medical condition, claims experience or medical history.” Politifact, [10/17/18]

New York Times: The Affordable Care Act “Forbids Sex Discrimination In Health Insurance.” “In the broadest sense, the new health care law forbids sex discrimination in health insurance. Previously, there was no such ban, and insurance companies took full advantage of the void.” New York Times, [3/29/10]

The Affordable Care Act Created A Mandate That Contraceptives Be Covered Under Most New Insurance Plans. “The Obamacare contraception mandate has applied since 2012 to most new insurance plans including employer-provided coverage. In 2013, for example, the mandate saved U.S. women more than $1.4 billion in out-of-pocket expenses for birth control pills, according to a report by University of Pennsylvania researchers. Almost 6.9 million privately insured U.S. women used the pill that year.” Reuters, [1/12/17]

Health Resources & Services Administration: “Under The Affordable Care Act, Women’s Preventive Health Care – Such As Mammograms, Screenings For Cervical Cancer, Prenatal Care, And Other Services – Generally Must Be Covered With No Cost Sharing.” “Under the Affordable Care Act, women’s preventive health care – such as mammograms, screenings for cervical cancer, prenatal care, and other services – generally must be covered with no cost sharing. However, the law recognizes and HHS understands the need to take into account the unique health needs of women throughout their lifespan.” Health Resources & Services Administration, accessed [10/10/20]

Kim Voted Against A Resolution Urging The President Of The United States And Congress To Express Support For Planned Parenthood And A Woman’s Fundamental Right To Control Her Own Reproductive Decisions. In January 2016, Kim voted against: “Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly urges the President of the United States and the United States Congress to express their support for a woman’s fundamental right to control her own reproductive decisions, as well as their support for access to comprehensive reproductive health care, including the services provided by Planned Parenthood.” The resolution passed the Assembly 53 to 22. The Trump Administration Created Rules To Effectively Block Funding For Planned Parenthood. “Even as access to any form of reproductive health care is threatened by the Trump administration’s latest rule on Title X, which blocks federally funded health care providers from making referrals to or even informing patients about abortion providers, state lawmakers are continuing their forward march on abortion restrictions. (Planned Parenthood, which serves 1.5 million, or 40 percent, of the low-income people who receive birth control, pregnancy tests and screening for sexually transmitted infections under the rule, announced Monday that it would withdraw from the program rather than comply with the so-called ‘gag rule.’)” NBC, [8/23/19]

Susan B. Anthony’s President Said Exceptions For Rape Were “Abominable.” “Susan B. Anthony List president Marjorie Dannenfelser, who moderated the press conference and whose organization has been a prominent backer of the 20-week ban in its current form, said that she believes that rape exceptions are ‘abominable.’ ‘I agree. I agree that the rape exception is abominable,’ she told LifeSiteNews. ‘I also know that with it, we were able to move forward, and we have the potential of saving 15,000 to 18,000 children a year. No one should give up or give over a rape exception unless there is simply no chance of saving those other children. I really believe that.’” Life Site, [6/11/15]

Scalise Opposed Abortion In Cases Of Rape And Incest. “Minority Whip Steve Scalise, the second-highest ranking Republican in the House, bragged about his support for banning abortion without making exceptions for women or girls who become pregnant as a result of rape. During a Tuesday press conference, a reporter asked Scalise whether he supported Alabama's new anti-choice law — an extreme piece of legislation that outlaws abortion at every stage of pregnancy, even in cases of rape or incest. Scalise began by saying that he was ‘proud’ to come from Louisiana because it is often rated as the ‘most pro-life state in the nation.’” American Independent, [5/21/19]
