

George Floyd was not the first Black person to be murdered by a white police officer, but his tragic death finally woke up the country. It must never go to sleep again.

What we do now is up to us.

It won't be easy, but we must sustain this moment with our voices and our votes, through November and beyond. We must change the system for good.

This is our moment.

→ Be Prepared to Vote.

