Kevin Lincoln Message #1 Backup

Kevin Lincoln isn't looking out for Valley families' pocketbooks. As Mayor, Stockton already had one of the highest sales taxes in the Valley, but Mayor Kevin Lincoln piled on even more. Lincoln voted to approve more than sixty city fees. His policies created higher costs for water utilities and even youth sports. Then, Lincoln increased health insurance costs for city workers by eighteen percent. In Congress, he'll do more of the same. Donald Trump has given Lincoln his "Complete and Total Endorsement." And Lincoln has promised his blind loyalty to Trump. As a rubber stamp for the MAGA agenda, he'll be another yes-man for Trump's tariffs and War in Iran that are raising prices back at home, especially gas prices.

2023: Lincoln Voted To Continue Measure A, Which Was A Sales Tax Increase

December 2023: Lincoln Voted To Continue Measure A, Which Was A ¾-Cent Sales Tax Increase, For One Decade. "Measure A is a three-quarter cent transaction and use tax passed by Stockton voters in 2013. It is part of the 9% sales tax people pay when making purchases at stores in the city. Measure A pledged to add 120 additional police officers, bringing the force up from 365 to 485 sworn officers. It was passed along with Measure B, an advisory measure that said 65% of the Measure A funds would be spent on the Marshall Plan — law enforcement and crime prevention — and 35% would be spent on exiting bankruptcy and recovering from the Great Recession. The tax was set to sunset on March 31, but will continue through 2034 with the council's vote. Mayor Kevin Lincoln, Vice Mayor Kimberly Warmesley and council members Dan Wright, Michael Blower, Susan Lenz and Brando Villapudua all said 'yes' to Measure A. Michele Padilla cast the lone dissenting vote." Stockton Record, [12/11/23]

The Average U.S. Household Was Projected To Lose $1,751 Due To Tariffs

January 2026: Yale Budget Lab: The Average U.S. Household Lost $1,751 Due To Tariffs. “Overall Price Level & Distributional Effects: TBL assumes the Federal Reserve ‘looks through’ the tariffs and allows prices to rise such that the tax burden is felt through prices rather than nominal incomes. With the Greenland tariffs, price level would rise by 1.3% in the short run, representing a loss of $1,751 for the average household and $964 for households at the bottom of the income distribution. This is marginally higher than the 1.2% price increase without the Greenland tariffs.” Yale Budget Lab, State of U.S. Tariffs, [1/19/26]

And what is a business without consumers?’ [...] Other small retailers in the area tell similar stories of increased costs and having to adjust to continued tariff uncertainty in the wake of the Supreme Court decision that invalidated the bulk of President Donald Trump’s wide-ranging tariffs. In some cases, such as if they imported their own goods, they might be able to apply for tariff refunds, though the timeline for receiving refunds is unclear. The president also imposed new tariffs based on a different law, against which California and other states have filed a lawsuit.” CalMatters, [4/29/26]

2024: Asked If He Supported Trump’s Mass Deportations, Lincoln Said “We Have To Protect And Secure Our Borders” Then Seemed To Suggest Deporting All Undocumented People Who Lived In The San Joaquin Valley

October 2024: When A Reporter Asked Lincoln If He Would Support Trump’s Mass Deportations, Lincoln Said, “We Have To Protect And Secure Our Borders.” HOST: “Immigration is another big issue for California voters. President Donald Trump has promoted this idea of doing mass deportations that could impact really I mean a chunk of your district that is known for its agriculture. I mean is that something that you would support or be on board with?” LINCOLN: “So we have to protect and secure our borders for the matter of public health and public safety. And and [sic] what’s happening at the borders, our open border right now, it’s making it difficult for those who are going through the immigration process the right way. And it’s unfair and it’s unacceptable. And as a nation, we have to do better. And our immigration policy as a nation should not be solely dependent on who’s in office.” KCRA 3 via YouTube, 02:01, [10/29/24] (VIDEO)

October 2024: When Asked If He Would Support Deportations Of People Who Were Already Settled In The San Joaquin Valley, Lincoln Said, “If You’re In This Country Illegally, Then You Shouldn’t Be Here.” HOST: “But on deportations of people who are already settled here in the San

Joaquin Valley, is that something that you would be okay with?” LINCOLN: “Families shouldn’t have to be torn away from one another, but if you’re in this country illegally, then you shouldn’t be here. And we have to send you back to your country and then you need to come back the right way. Because what’s happening right now is there is a public safety aspect of the impact of what’s been happening at our borders right now, specifically related to crime throughout the nation and that’s not okay.” KCRA 3 via YouTube, 02:50, [10/29/24] (VIDEO)

UC Merced’s Community and Labor Center looked at private employment rates between May 11 and June 8, and they said the numbers don’t lie – immigration raids are negatively impacting the state’s economy. ‘There was a decline of 3.1% in the number of people that reported working in the private sector in California,’ Lead Researcher at UC Merced Edward Flores said. Flores said the study ties falling work rates in California to recent ICE raids. ‘The 3.1% is roughly 465,000 people. Roughly 364,000 fewer Latinos working than the private sector between May and June,’ Flores said. 465,000 is roughly 2.4% of California’s labor force.” KSEE, [7/16/25]

As the Trump administration continues to ramp up immigration enforcement, industries key to the state’s $4 trillion economy like agriculture, construction and hospitality could be among those hardest hit by the loss of California’s immigrant workforce, according to new research. At stake are billions of dollars that fuel businesses large and small across the state, whose standalone economy is the fourth largest in the world after the United States, China and Germany. Approximately one-fifth of the state’s 10.6 million immigrants are undocumented, according to a June study from the nonpartisan Bay Area Economic Institute and the University of California, Merced. If mass deportations were to be combined with the end of temporary protected status for thousands of immigrants and stricter border policies, the joint study estimated that California would be at risk of losing as much as $278 billion from its gross domestic product.” CNBC, [9/1/25]

Been Detained” In The San Joaquin Valley. “In a dim storefront near downtown Fresno, a family gathered to mourn. They wore memorial T-shirts, lit candles, and told stories about their patriarch through tears and sobs. Luis Arreguin didn’t die, but to his closest loved ones, it feels like it. The 54-year-old skilled laborer was arrested Oct. 1 by federal immigration agents on his way to work, disappearing into a vast and opaque detention system, his family said. As more family members arrived at his ‘ICE memorial’ on Wednesday night, his daughter Elaina Salazar tried to comfort her mother, Arreguin’s wife. The woman asked CalMatters not to use her full name despite the fact that she is a United States citizen. Her family has faced a barrage of online harassment, according to her daughter. Arreguin came to the United States as a child and has been here for 49 years. His family says he has four children, two of them minors, and four grandchildren. While family members prayed and hugged their kids close, a few blocks away, a larger crowd gathered outside ICE offices to protest. The dual events were a reaction to what San Joaquin Valley residents describe as a sudden surge of Immigration and Customs Enforcement activity in the region. In the past three days, advocates say at least 100 people have been detained.” CalMatters, [10/9/26]
