Key Findings

Garcia Is A Threat To Women Everywhere

Garcia is an anti-woman extremist. Garcia has purposefully obfuscated his position on abortion because he knows his values are not popular in his district. In 2023, Garcia told a town hall in Lancaster, CA, that he was supportive of the three exceptions (rape, incest, and if a woman's life was at risk) when it comes to abortions and that a national abortion ban was not being seriously considered in Congress. Garcia lied. In 2021, Garcia supported the Life at Conception Act, which would have effectively banned abortions nationwide and restricted access to in-vitro fertilization (IVF). In 2020, Garcia claimed to only support exceptions for abortions if the woman's life was at risk, but also signed an amicus brief in support of Mississippi's 15-week abortion ban when it faced the Supreme Court. Garcia refused to support Roe v. Wade on the federal level, even though his district codified Roe's protections into the California constitution by a wide margin. Time and time again, Garcia has shown that he is purposefully trying to make access to reproductive health care harder. Garcia voted to make the Hyde Amendment permanent and supported defunding Planned Parenthood. Garcia hasn't stopped at abortion, whether it is the gender pay gap, supporting the Equal Rights Amendment, or protecting women from domestic violence, Garcia has opposed any measure looking to address the situation. Garcia has even voted against expanding accommodations for pregnant women at work. Garcia's actions have made his values clear; he does not care about the women in his district.

Garcia Has Failed Middle Class Families

Garcia voted against the Inflation Reduction Act, which forced corporations and ultra-wealthy to increasingly pay their fair share. Garcia sided with special interests to protect corporations from a larger tax burden. Garcia voted against bolstering the IRS from holding accountable the largest earners that purposefully evade paying taxes. Garcia's vote included voting against lowering costs for vulnerable Americans. The Inflation Reduction Act ensured drug price negotiations between the government and pharmaceutical companies and capped insulin prices for Medicare recipients at just $35 a month. This is not a big surprise though, since Garcia has accepted over $80,000 from the pharmaceutical industry, making him one of the country's top recipients among members of the House.

Garcia has failed to lower costs for his constituents and focused instead on siding with special interests. Garcia supported the 2017 Republican tax scam that gave a massive tax cut to corporations, special interests, and the ultra-wealthy, while raising taxes on the middle class, encouraging companies to ship jobs overseas, and threatening cuts to Medicare and Social Security. Garcia voted against the American Rescue Plan, which cut taxes for middle class families by expanding the Child Tax Credit, which benefitted over 7 million children in California, and the Earned Income Tax Credit. Garcia voted against another plan to continue the tax cuts for working families and stop rewarding corporations for shipping jobs overseas, while requiring corporations and the ultra-wealthy to pay their fair share. He opposed food stamps—which make food more affordable for working families, including the 7.5% of households in Garcia's district that used them—because he thought “everyone should have to figure out how to fend for themselves.” Garcia voted against a plan to help lower the price of gas by cracking down on greedy oil companies. Garcia voted against an emergency funding plan to address the national shortage of baby formula. Garcia also voted against a plan to decrease inflation and make the U.S. less dependent on Chinese goods by boosting American manufacturing and strengthening supply chains.

Garcia opposed investments in California's infrastructure to create jobs and make transportation more accessible. Garcia voted against the Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal that was projected to create 2 million jobs per year, which gave California billions in funding to make much-needed repairs and improvements to roads, bridges, power grids, water pipes, and broadband internet. Garcia also voted against a similar plan to improve roads, transit, water, broadband, schools, hospitals, and pollution. Garcia has repeatedly tried to end federal funding for California's high-speed rail project, which as of early 2021, had already created over 5,000 jobs and generated more than $10 billion in economic activity.

Garcia wanted to rip away current health care protections and opposed policies to make health care more affordable. Garcia repeatedly supported repealing the Affordable Care Act and one of his first action sin Congress was to support a taxpayer-funded lawsuit to gut the law—even though this would have ripped away protections for the more than 6 million Californians with pre-existing conditions and could have cause more than 4.2 million Californians to lose their health insurance. Garcia voted against multiple plans to improve health care access through the Affordable Care Act and to make health insurance more affordable. Garcia supported tax giveaways to the pharmaceutical companies and voted against lowering prescription drug prices. Meanwhile, he has taken $44,000 in campaign cash from the pharmaceutical industry during his political career. Garcia has said he was “not a big fan of” Medicaid, even though roughly 15% of adults in his district benefitted from the program. He also said he was open to block granting Medicaid, which would effectively cut Medicaid funding and threaten coverage and benefits.

Garcia was a member of the Republican Study Committee who supported policies that would make devastating cuts to health care benefits, Social Security, and law enforcement. Garcia's committee proposed slashing Medicare funding and raising the retirement age for Social Security benefits forcing older Americans out of hard-earned benefits. The RSC's proposals include defunding portions of law enforcement and placing our community's public safety at risk.

Garcia repeatedly supported fiscally irresponsible budget practices that risked economic crisis. Garcia repeatedly voted against the necessary budget practice of raising the debt limit, risking a “cataclysmic” economic crisis that could destroy up to 6 million jobs and $15 trillion in household wealth.

Garcia opposed workers' rights. Garcia paid lip service to workers by stating that “all union members deserve leadership and protection,” but attacked a plan to make it easier for workers to organize and collectively bargain. Garcia has voted against providing whistleblower protections to employees who report labor law violations, against prohibiting employers from hiring permanent replacements for strikers, and against a plan to fine employers who engage in unfair labor practices. Garcia opposed California's Assembly Bill 5, which would help give benefits like health insurance to gig workers by making business reclassify them as employees. Garcia has voted against prevailing wage requirements for public transportation projects.

Garcia opposed making childcare more affordable and accessible. Garcia repeatedly voted against making child care more accessible and affordable, including opposing a plan to help essential workers with child care during the pandemic and a plan to provide pre-kindergarten to every three- and four-year-old in America.

Garcia opposed efforts to make housing more affordable. Garcia voted against multiple plans to invest in affordable housing and reduce homelessness. In one case, Garcia said additional funding for homelessness was not necessary and in another case, he said that “free market capitalism” and private charities should solve the problem of homelessness.

Garcia was bad for California seniors. Garcia signaled that he was willing to cut Social Security and Medicare, saying he would reduce spending on “entitlement programs” to balance the budget and that he didn't want the federal government to be a safety net. Garcia repeatedly opposed plans to lower the cost of prescription drugs. Garcia said he only supported Medicare “at some levels,” voted against preventing automatic cuts to Medicare, and voted against a plan to expand Medicare coverage to include hearing benefits. Garcia voted against funding for the U.S. Postal Service that would help older American get their Social Security checks on time. Garcia voted against combatting age discrimination in the workplace.

Garcia was bad for California students and teachers. Garcia said he would “download funding” from the federal Department of Education to local authorities. He voted against measures to keep students safe at school during the COVID-19 pandemic, including the American Rescue Plan, which gave California more than $15 billion to help safely reopen schools. Garcia opposed funding for high-poverty schools and efforts to reduce education disparities. Garcia voted against making Pell Grants more accessible, even though students in Garcia's district received over $25 million in Pell Grants from 2019 to 2020. Garcia voted repeatedly against increasing student debt relief, including voting to keep a Betsy DeVos Education Department rule that made it more difficult to receive student loan forgiveness.

Garcia voted against measures to help veterans. Garcia voted against strengthening consumer protections related to medical debt and credit reporting for service members. Garcia voted twice against funding for Veterans' Administration construction.

Garcia's History of Corruption As A D.C. Swamp Creature

Garcia has improperly failed to disclose financial assets while funneling personal wealth into his own congressional campaign. As a Member of Congress, Garcia reported selling between $96,000 and $390,000 stocks that he had previously failed to disclose holding, including volatile stocks like airlines. For example, between June 3, 2020 and Nov. 13, 2020, Garcia sold Boeing stock that he previously failed to disclose while Congress debated COVID-19 relief aid for the airlines and aircraft producers. During the pandemic, Garcia also failed to disclose many of his stock trades within the time frame required by law, including airline stock. Garcia's action would need further investigating after a committee he sat on shared a damning report on Boeing's 737 Max plane. Garcia traded up to $50,000 of Boeing Stock shortly before the report was published. Two watchdog organizations, CREW and End Citizens United, have filed ethics complaints against Garcia for his shady stock trading behavior. Between June and July 2019, Garcia gave his congressional campaign over $125,000 dollars. However, in a July 2019 financial disclosure report for congressional candidates, Garcia did not disclose the full extent of his financial investments; he disclosed that he held a brokerage account worth between $100,000 and $250,000 but did not disclose the individual stocks in the account, as he was required to do.

Garcia has repeatedly failed to pay his taxes on time and even tried to take the homestead exemption in Washington, D.C. In December 2020, Garcia disclosed that he had purchased a condominium in Washington, D.C. According to D.C. tax records, Garcia was nearly five months overdue on property taxes before eventually paying them. Records also revealed that he had received the homestead tax deduction in Washington, D.C. for a few months before it was revoked in August 2021. Garcia also repeatedly failed to pay his company's taxes, owing at least $1,324.65 in liens in total between 2017 and 2020, and had another $250 debt to the California Franchise Tax board in January 2020.

Garcia denounced the practice of ballot harvesting, even though he used ballot harvesting to help him win election to Congress. During the 2020 special election in which Garcia won a seat in Congress, he "successfully" used the controversial practice of "ballot harvesting," whereby ballots could be picked up by third parties and dropped off at election sites on behalf of voters. After Garcia won the May special election and was gearing up for the November general election, Garcia ally Rep. Devin Nunes commented that Garcia would be in "good shape to hold onto" his seat "as long as we have a robust ballot harvest operation in November." After winning himself a full term in the November election, Garcia criticized the practice of ballot harvesting and said it had eroded Californians' trust in the election process.

Garcia took campaign cash from political committees associated with high-profile figures who were accused of sexual misconduct. Garcia accepted money from Steve Wynn via a joint fundraising committee after Wynn had been accused of a decades-long pattern of sexual misconduct. Garcia took $2,000 from Matt Gaetz's campaign committee and refused to donate it to charity after Gaetz was accused of breaking federal sex trafficking laws. Garcia said he would only donate the money if Gaetz was indicted or resigned.

Garcia Was A Right-Wing Extremist Out Of Touch With His District

Garcia marched in lockstep with his D.C. party bosses and was a rubber stamp for the MAGA agenda in Congress. Garcia was a vocal supporter of Jim Jordan’s bid for Speaker of the House. Garcia pushed for impeachment, claiming House Republicans had reached “critical mass” and would be able to vote to impeach President Biden, despite extensive reporting otherwise. Garcia was an “enthusiastic” “Trump loyalist” who received Trump’s “complete and total endorsement.” In Congress, he voted in line with Trump’s positions 84% of the time. When Trump asked Members of Congress to not allow President Biden a legislative win on immigration, Garcia did as he was told and did not support a bill to fund border personnel and stop the flow of fentanyl. Garcia voted with his party about 95% of the time and voted to elect Rep. Kevin McCarthy as Speaker of the House in January 2021. Garcia voted against penalizing Marjorie Taylor Greene and Paul Gosar for endorsing violence against Democrats and claimed he was discriminated against under the “Pelosi Regime” in D.C.

Garcia ran for Congress as a moderate, then lurched to the right once he was elected. During his campaign for Congress in 2020, Garcia said he was running because former Rep. Katie Hill “did not represent our moderate district.” He pledged that as a congressman, he would represent all of his constituents and bring House members of both parties together. But after he was elected, Garcia moved to the right. The Mayor of Lancaster noted that Garcia took “positions that I think sometimes are not supported by his district” to become more powerful in Washington. One Santa Clarita media commentator noted that Garcia had run as someone above partisanship, but that he had “voted as a Trump acolyte continually” since entering Congress.

Garcia opposed common sense gun safety measures to crack down on gun violence. The NRA endorsed Garcia and gave him an “A” rating. Garcia has voted against expanded background checks for gun purchases and said he opposed “new” restrictions on guns. Garcia said that no “law in the world” could have prevented a 2019 shooting at a Santa Clarita high school—even though the shooter obtained the weapon without a background check. His response to the Uvalde school shooting was to say he was “praying for the victims and their families,” adding “prayer does matter.”

Garcia supported harsh and uncompromising immigration policies and demonized immigrants. Garcia voted against providing DREAMers with a pathway to citizenship and falsely claimed that DACA recipients were not subject to thorough vetting such as a criminal background check. Garcia repeatedly voted to spend taxpayer money to build a wall along the U.S.-Mexico border and voted to block payments to immigrant families who were cruelly separated under the Trump Administration. He “abhor[ed]” sanctuary cities because he said undocumented immigrants were “sucking up our tax dollars” and “degrading our quality of life.” After a group of women said they were forced to have gynecological procedures against their will while in ICE custody, Garcia voted against condemning such procedures. Garcia voted against ending Trump’s Muslim ban.

Garcia supported policies that disproportionately harmed Californians of color. Garcia voted repeatedly against a plan to improve policing by holding law enforcement more accountable and banning policing practices like choke holds and no-knock warrants and voted against a plan to prevent local police from using certain military equipment. Garcia opposed decriminalizing marijuana and expunging all non-violent marijuana related convictions. Garcia voted against ending the unfair sentencing disparity between crack and powder cocaine, which disproportionately penalized Americans of color. Garcia supported the death penalty and supported plans to try to make executions happen faster. Garcia repeatedly voted against condemning racism and hate crimes directed at Asian-Americans.

Garcia opposed critical COVID-19 relief for Californians and opposed efforts that would help end the pandemic more quickly. Garcia said that the government’s COVID-19 relief plans were a “two month trial subscription to socialism” and he voted against the American Rescue Plan, which provided $1,400 direct payments, aid to state and local governments, schools, and small businesses, an expanded Child Tax Credit, and vaccine distribution funds. Garcia also opposed a plan to provide more direct payments to individual families and hazard pay for essential workers. Garcia voted against a bipartisan plan to increase accountability and transparency around how COVID-19 relief funds were being spent. He spread disinformation about COVID-19, was criticized for “raising unfounded fears about vaccine outreach programs,” and opposed efforts to get more Californians vaccinated.

Garcia was a right-wing extremist on energy and the environment. Garcia claimed that California's wildfires were caused by "bad leadership" rather than climate change and that more deforestation was the solution. Garcia promised to propose a plan that would increase funding to fight wildfires in California but voted to cut funding for the government agency that oversees wildfire suppression operations, fire facilities, and provides rural fire assistance. Garcia downplayed human activity's impact on climate change and voted against efforts to fight it. Garcia voted in favor of a Trump Administration rule that weakened air pollution standards and voted against reinstating an Obama-era rule that required oil and gas companies to check for and repair dangerous leaks. Garcia repeatedly voted against funding for clean and renewable energy.

Garcia sided with foreign adversaries and murderous regimes and supported keeping American troops stuck in failed forever-wars. Garcia claimed that Putin invaded Ukraine because Biden showed weakness and gave Putin the "Green light." Garcia voted against a plan to hold China accountable for their unfair trade practices and make the U.S. more competitive against them. Garcia claimed that the Biden Administration—not our foreign adversaries—was the "greatest threat to our nation's security" and accused top military leaders of pushing a "woke" liberal agenda rather than focusing on defeating enemies. Garcia voted against bringing home American troops from Afghanistan and defended the Iraq War as recently as 2019, saying that he would still support it today knowing what he knows now.

Garcia opposed equal rights for LGBTQ Californians. Garcia voted against the Equality Act, which would prohibit discrimination or segregation based on sex, sexual orientation, and gender identity, saying it was "contrary to American ideals."

Garcia's self-serving behavior put California families at risk by voting against firefighter pay, and wildfire suppression funding. Garcia voted against the Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal which helped provide millions for federal firefighter wages. Garcia and House Republicans threatened to slash firefighter pay, and Garcia would go on to vote for a cut of over $200 million for wildfire suppression. Garcia did so despite a dangerous brush fire in his district occurred in 2019.

Garcia Was A Threat To Democracy

Garcia voted to overturn the results of the 2020 presidential election. Garcia voted to object to the certification of Arizona and Pennsylvania's 2020 electoral votes, citing debunked and unsubstantiated claims about "constitutional errors," "irregularities," and "voter fraud." Garcia still voted to overturn the results of the election even after the Jan. 6 Insurrection, claiming a need to resolve "any uncertainty" about the 2020 election. Garcia further claimed that he wanted a debate about election integrity and was not trying to overturn the election. The San Francisco Chronicle wrote that Garcia's actions showed he was "unfit" to hold office, and the Monterey County Herald wrote that Garcia had sacrificed his "conservative principles" and "credibility."

Garcia opposed efforts to investigate the January 6th insurrection, hold Trump accountable for it, and upgrade Capitol security in response to it. Garcia issued a statement condemning the violence at the Capitol on Jan. 6th, but "remained silent on Trump's role in the insurrection." In January 2021, Garcia voted for establishing a bipartisan, 9/11-style commission to investigate the January 6th attack as an alternative to impeaching President Trump, but five months later flip-flopped and voted against establishing the commission. Garcia voted against penalizing Trump allies such as Mark Meadows and Steve Bannon for not cooperating with the January 6th congressional investigation. Garcia voted against a bill funding and upgrading emergency services and Capitol security in response to the Jan. 6th Insurrection. Garcia voted against impeaching President Trump for inciting the January 6th insurrection. In February 2022, Garcia responded to a question about the Capitol Police surveilling Republican congressional offices by saying "Capitol Police leadership" was "effectively behaving as the Gestapo."

After the January 6th insurrection, Garcia continued to promote The Big Lie by co-founding an "election integrity caucus," which collaborated with Trump allies who continued peddling 2020 election conspiracies. A few months after the January 6th insurrection, Garcia co-founded and then co-chaired the "Election Integrity Caucus” with Rep. Claudia Tenney to “focus on addressing election security and restoring faith in the U.S. election system.” The Election Integrity Caucus met with former Trump White House Communications Aide Hogan Gidley, “who continues to spread unsupported claims about the 2020 election” and also met with Texas State Rep. Briscoe Cain, who worked with Trump’s legal team to overturn the 2020 election.

Garcia refused to denounce lies and conspiracy theories about January 6th and the 2020 election spread by his brother. Garcia’s brother, Gus Garcia, was a QAnon supporter who sympathized with the January 6 Insurrectionists and posted the pictures and name of a man he said was the Capitol Police officer who shot an insurrectionist. Gus Garcia repeatedly promoted the Big Lie and said that Joe Biden lost and belonged in prison. Gus Garcia said on Facebook that everything “Q” said was “correct” and “spot” on, and he implied that since the leader of the Proud Boys “isn’t even white,” he was not a white supremacist. Garcia has not responded to requests for comment on his brother’s views and has refused to denounce them.

Garcia repeatedly opposed efforts to make elections fairer and more secure. Garcia voted against a plan to make elections fairer and more secure by strengthening fundraising transparency, expanding voting rights, and ending partisan gerrymandering. Garcia attacked partisan gerrymandering in blue states but voted against legislation that would outlaw it nationwide. Garcia voted against multiple plans to crack down on foreign interference in American elections. He opposed efforts to combat discriminatory voter suppression and supported efforts to make it harder to vote.

Garcia, along with Trump and the RNC, falsely accused Democrats of trying to steal the California 25th Congressional District’s special election in 2020, in which Garcia was elected to Congress. In 2020, Trump and the RNC claimed that Governor Newsom and other Democrats were trying to steal the CA-25 special election by opening another in-person voting site—even though it was requested by a Republican Mayor. Lancaster’s Republican Mayor, who supported Garcia, had requested the in-person voting site to make it easier for the city’s Black population to vote and because another voting center in another city was closed. He denied that it was evidence of a rigged election. However, Garcia still echoed claims that opening the new poll site was evidence that Christy Smith and the Democrats were trying to steal the election.

  - ✓ The Life at Conception Act would outlaw all abortions, even in cases of rape and incest, along with in-vitro fertilization, IUDs, emergency contraception, and certain cancer treatments for women.
  - ✓ The Life at Conception Act could reclassify common forms of birth control as “weapons of murder” because they prevent a fertilized egg from implanting in a uterus.
- ✓ Garcia voted in favor of a bill that would have limited retail pharmacies from being able to sell Mifepristone to patients.
- ✓ Garcia voted against codifying Roe v. Wade despite nearly 60% of his district voting in favor of enshrining abortion rights into the California constitution.

- ✓ Garcia repeatedly opposed measures to crack down on domestic violence.
  - ✓ March 2021: Garcia voted against reauthorizing the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) for five years, which would reauthorize measures that helped decrease the rate of intimate partner violence and expand protections for survivors of domestic abuse and stalking and help combat sexual violence, including on college campuses.
  - ✓ Garcia voted for adding an amendment to extend VAWA for only one year, instead of five.
  - ✓ Garcia claimed the bill reauthorizing the VAWA was “bad” and “encroach[ed]” on the First and Second Amendments.

- ✓ The NRA endorsed Garcia and gave him an “A” rating.
- ✓ Oct. 2021: Garcia voted against reauthorizing the Family Violence Prevention and Services Act.
- ✓ The original Family Violence Prevention and Services Act created programs and services that support 1.3 million survivors of domestic violence, and the 2021 reauthorization bill increased funding and support for services for survivors of domestic violence.
- ✓ Garcia voted against the Women’s Health Protection Act, which would codify abortion rights amid restrictive state laws challenging Roe v. Wade.

- ✓ Garcia voted to make the Hyde Amendment, which banned federal money from being used to pay for abortions and health plans that covered abortions, permanent.
- ✓ Garcia supported defunding Planned Parenthood.
- ✓ Garcia opposed legislation combating gender pay discrimination.
  - ✓ April 2021: Garcia voted against the Paycheck Fairness Act.

- ✓ Garcia opposed ratifying the Equal Rights Amendment.
  - ✓ March 2021: Garcia voted against removing the deadline for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment.

2021: Garcia Co-Sponsored Legislation That Would Effectively Ban All Abortions Even In Cases Of Rape, Incest, And When The Life Of The Parent Is At Risk

LA Times: Garcia Co-Sponsored "Legislation That Would Effectively Ban All Abortion And Some Forms Of Birth Control." "Rep. Mike Garcia [...] whose district includes northern Los Angeles County, omitted other parts of his record: Voting against the certification of electoral votes in Pennsylvania and Arizona that helped cement Joe Biden's presidential victory. The bill would ban abortion and grant the unborn all the legal protections of the Fourteenth Amendment, beginning at ‘the moment of fertilization.’ [...] Downing’s concern was that common forms of emergency contraception—Plan B, which is sold over the counter, Ella, and others—as well as intrauterine devices (I.U.D.s), a common form of birth control, could be banned if the Life at Conception Act became law.* Echoing the views of many opponents of personhood laws, Downing argued that these birth-control methods prevented a fertilized egg from implanting in a woman’s uterus and so, under Paul’s proposal, could instantly be reclassified as weapons of murder.” New Yorker, [10/8/14]

Garcia Voted Against The Women's Health Protection Act, Which Codified Roe V. Wade

Garcia Voted Against The Women's Health Protection Act. In September 2021, Garcia voted against: "Passage of the bill that would statutorily establish that health care providers have a right to provide and patients have a right to receive abortion services, and it would prohibit certain restrictions related to abortion services. The bill would specify that rights established by the bill may not be restricted by certain requirements or limitations related to abortion services, including prohibitions on abortion prior to fetal viability, or after fetal viability if a provider determines that continuation of a pregnancy would pose a risk to a patient's life or health; requirements that patients disclose reasons for seeking an abortion or make medically unnecessary in-person appointments; requirements that providers provide medically inaccurate information or perform specific medical tests or procedures in connection with the provision of abortion services; limitations on providers' ability to prescribe drugs based on good-faith medical judgment, provide services via telemedicine or provide immediate services when a delay would pose a risk to a patient's health; and requirements for facilities and personnel that would not apply to facilities providing medically comparable procedures. It would also prohibit requirements or limitations that are similar to those established by the bill or that impede access to abortion services and expressly or implicitly single out abortion services, providers or facilities. It would specify factors that courts may consider to determine whether a requirement or limitation impedes access to abortion services, including whether it interferes with providers' ability to provide services; poses a risk to patients' health; is likely to delay or deter patients in accessing services or necessitate in-person visits that would not otherwise be required; is likely to result in a decreased availability of services in a state or region; is likely to result in increased costs of providing or obtaining services; or imposes penalties that are not imposed on other health care providers for comparable conduct. It would require a party defending a requirement or limitation to establish that it significantly advances the safety of abortion services or patient health and that such goals cannot be advanced by a less restrictive alternative measure. It would authorize the Justice Department, health care providers and private individuals and entities to bring a civil action in U.S. district court for injunctive relief against any state or government official charged with implementing or enforcing a requirement or limitation challenged as a violation of rights established by the bill. It would authorize district courts to award appropriate equitable relief, including temporary, preliminary or permanent injunctive relief, and to award costs of litigation to a prevailing plaintiff. It would require courts to "liberally construe" provisions of the bill to effectuate its purposes." The bill passed by a vote of 218-211. HR 3655, [Vote #295, 9/24/21; CQ, 9/24/21]

Garcia Signed An Amicus Brief In Support Of Mississippi's 15-Week Abortion Ban

Garcia Signed An Amicus Brief Asking The Supreme Court To Uphold Mississippi's 15-Week Abortion Ban, Which Would Effectively Overturn Roe V. Wade

---

Garcia Signed A Republican Amicus Brief Asking The Supreme Court To Uphold Mississippi's Law Banning Abortion After The First 15 Weeks Of Pregnancy. "The Mississippi congressional delegation and the House Pro-Life Caucus today led more than 200 members of Congress in filing an amicus brief supporting the State of Mississippi in Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization and urging the U.S. Supreme Court to uphold Mississippi's law protecting life. [...] In the amicus brief, the lawmakers ask 'the Court uphold Mississippi's law as effectuating important state interests, or, alternatively, return this case to the lower courts for consideration on a full evidentiary record, recognizing that certain precedents [Roe v. Wade and Planned Parenthood v. Casey] may be reconsidered and, where necessary, be wholly or partially overruled.' [...] The State of Mississippi in 2018 enacted the Gestational Age Act, a state law prohibiting abortion after 15 weeks' gestation, except in cases of medical emergency. [...] In addition to the House sponsors, Representatives signing the brief include: [...] Mike Garcia (Calif.-25)." Sen. Roger Wicker, Press Release, [7/29/21]

- Upholding Mississippi's 15-Week Abortion Ban Would Overturn Planned Parenthood V. Casey's Prohibition On Banning Abortions Before The Fetus Becomes Viable Outside Of The Womb. "Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization, which the Supreme Court will hear on Wednesday, is the single greatest threat to abortion rights since Roe v. Wade was handed down in 1973. It involves a Mississippi law

that prohibits nearly all abortions after the 15th week of pregnancy, a law which violates the Supreme Court’s holding in Planned Parenthood v. Casey (1992) that ‘a State may not prohibit any woman from making the ultimate decision to terminate her pregnancy before viability.’ ‘Viability’ refers to the moment when a fetus can live outside of the womb, which typically occurs around the 24th week of pregnancy.” Vox, [11/29/21]

- Mississippi Presented The Supreme Court Case Surrounding Its 15-Week Abortion Ban As A Direct Challenge To Roe V. Wade. “The state of Mississippi begins its brief in Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization with a bold claim: The case for overruling Roe v. Wade (1973) and Planned Parenthood v. Casey (1992), two seminal Supreme Court decisions protecting the right to an abortion, is ‘overwhelming.’ Dobbs, which the Court will hear this fall, concerns a Mississippi law that prohibits nearly all abortions after 15 weeks of pregnancy. [...] And abortion opponents have every reason to be optimistic that the Court’s new majority will use Dobbs to undo the right to an abortion. That probably explains why Mississippi’s brief, which argues that ‘the Constitution does not protect a right to abortion or limit States’ authority to restrict it,’ breaks with the tactics anti-abortion lawyers have used to defend restrictions on reproductive freedom.” Vox, [7/24/21]

Garcia Voted Against Reauthorizing The Violence Against Women Act For Five Years. In March 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would reauthorize programs enacted under the Violence Against Women Act through fiscal 2026. It would also expand a number of these programs and other programs and policies aimed at addressing and assisting victims of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual violence, stalking and sex trafficking.” The bill passed 244 to 172. #### The Original Violence Against Women Act Helped Decrease The Rate Of Intimate Partner Violence And Improved Care For Sexual Assault Victims

In The 15 Years After VAWA Passed, The Rate Of Serious Intimate Partner Violence Nationally Declined 72 Percent. “Between 1994 and 2011, the rate of serious intimate partner violence against women declined 72 percent, from 5.9 to 1.6 victimizations per 1,000 women. The annual rate of rape and sexual assault perpetrated against girls and women older than age 11 declined nearly 60 percent from 1995 to 2010. While these declines are likely the product of multiple causes, evidence tells us that declines in rape and sexual assault are linked to VAWA. A study examining rape and aggravated assault data from over 10,000 jurisdictions over a seven-year period found that VAWA funding, specifically those funds most likely to support local law enforcement, was associated with reductions in these violent crimes, even after controlling for general decreasing crime rates and other justice-related funding.” Urban Institute, [2/9/17]

VAWA Funding Prevented Sexual Assault Victims From Having To Pay For Their Forensic Exams. “If a person seeks medical attention within four days of an assault, they may also undergo a sexual assault medical forensic exam (SAMFE). This exam collects and preserves important evidence—like DNA—that could identify a suspect and provide invaluable corroborating evidence to support the victim’s account of the crime. Before VAWA, victims could be billed by the health care provider that conducted their exam. No victim of any other crime is expected to pay for the collection and preservation of evidence. VAWA has supported programs in every state to end this practice. Our research shows that these programs have nearly reversed the billing of victims for collecting forensic evidence from their own bodies.” Urban Institute, [2/9/17]

VAWA Funding Helped Train Sexual Assault Nurse Examiners, Who Improve Both Quality Of Health Care For Survivors And The Chance Of A Successful Conviction. “Sexual assault nurse examiners (SANEs) are specially trained medical personnel who conduct the SAMFE, providing care and treatment for victims of sexual assault and rigorously collecting evidence for use during investigation and prosecution. VAWA resources support

many state and local SANE programs. Exams conducted by SANEs are associated with increases in successful prosecution, even when compared with exams conducted by traditional emergency room personnel. The SANE training equips providers with the skills to create a more thorough record of all medical forensic evidence and to preserve crucial, fragile DNA evidence. Studies show that SANE programs improve the quality of health care delivered to survivors, the quality of forensic evidence, and the chances of obtaining a conviction. Eliminating VAWA would almost certainly reduce the number of SANEs available to treat sexual assault survivors, limiting important victim services and the availability of quality evidence to convict those who commit these crimes.” Urban Institute, [2/9/17]

The NRA Opposed Reauthorizing The Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) Because It Closed The “Boyfriend Loophole” Convicted Of Domestic Abusers And Stalkers From Purchasing And Owning Guns

March 2021: The National Rifle Association (NRA) Opposed Reauthorizing VAWA Because It Banned Convicted Abusers And Stalkers From Purchasing Or Owning Guns. “The U.S. House voted 244-172 Wednesday to reauthorize the expired Violence Against Women Act with a gun-reform provision by Michigan U.S. Rep. Debbie Dingell that has drawn the ire of the National Rifle Association [...] It aims to close the so-called ‘boyfriend’ loophole by amending federal law to prohibit convicted abusers of current or former dating partners from purchasing or owning firearms. Currently, those convicted of domestic abuse can lose their weapons only if their victim is their current or former spouse, or they have a child with the victim. Dingell’s provision also would prohibit firearm ownership by people convicted of misdemeanor stalking. The NRA opposes the legislation over the provision, arguing there are no ‘loopholes’ for domestic violence or stalking, and that the legal system has sufficient protections to prohibit dangerous individuals from possessing firearms. The gun owners group has said ‘former dating partners’ is a subjective term that could be abused and noted that some misdemeanor stalking offenses don’t include violent or threatening behavior or even personal contact. The NRA also fought the Dingell provision when the House reauthorized the bill in 2019, when the legislation died in the Republican-led Senate.” Detroit News, [3/17/21]

Garcia Voted Against The Women’s Health Protection Act, Which Would Codify Abortion Rights Amid Restrictive State Laws Challenging Roe V. Wade Despite Broad Support From His District

Garcia Voted Against The Women’s Health Protection Act, Which Was Intended To Codify Abortion Rights Amid Restrictive State Laws Challenging Roe v. Wade

Garcia Voted Against The Women’s Health Protection Act. In September 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would statutorily establish that health care providers have a right to provide and patients have a right to receive abortion services, and it would prohibit certain restrictions related to abortion services. The bill would specify that rights established by the bill may not be restricted by certain requirements or limitations related to abortion services, including prohibitions on abortion prior to fetal viability, or after fetal viability if a provider determines that continuation of a pregnancy would pose a risk to a patient’s life or health; requirements that patients disclose reasons for seeking an abortion or make medically unnecessary in-person appointments; requirements that providers provide medically inaccurate information or perform specific medical tests or procedures in connection with the provision of abortion services; limitations on providers’ ability to prescribe drugs based on good-faith medical judgment, provide services via telemedicine or provide immediate services when a delay would pose a risk to a patient’s health; and requirements for facilities and personnel that would not apply to facilities providing medically comparable procedures. It would also prohibit requirements or limitations that are similar to those established by the bill or that impede access to abortion services and expressly or implicitly single out abortion services, providers or facilities. It would specify factors that courts may consider to determine whether a requirement or limitation impedes access to abortion services, including whether it interferes with providers’ ability to provide services; poses a risk to patients’ health; is likely to delay or deter patients in accessing services or necessitate in-person visits that would not otherwise be required; is likely to result in a decreased availability of services in a state or region; is likely to result in increased costs of providing or obtaining services; or imposes penalizes that are not imposed on other health care providers for comparable conduct. It would require a party defending a requirement or limitation to establish that it significantly advances the safety of abortion services or patient health and that such goals cannot be advanced by a less restrictive alternative measure. It would authorize the Justice Department, health care providers and private individuals and entities to bring a civil action in U.S. district court for injunctive relief against any state or government official charged with implementing or enforcing a requirement or limitation challenged as a violation of rights established by the bill. It would authorize district courts to award appropriate equitable relief, including temporary, preliminary or permanent injunctive relief, and to award costs of litigation to a prevailing plaintiff. It would require courts to "liberally construe" provisions of the bill to effectuate its purposes." The bill passed by a vote of 218-211. HR 3655, [Vote #295, 9/24/21; CQ, 9/24/21]

- Passage Of The Women’s Health Protection Act Was In Response To A Restrictive Texas Abortion Law. “Passage of the Women’s Health Protection Act is a response to a Texas law that essentially bans abortion after six weeks, before most people realize they are pregnant. The U.S. Supreme Court refused to block the law from taking effect, although the decision leaves the door open for future challenges.” NPR, [9/24/21]
- The Women’s Health Protection Act Would Codify Abortion Rights And Overturn “Laws In 19 States That Have Sought To Severely Curb Access To Abortion Or Ban It Altogether.” “The Senate on Monday took its first ever vote on the Women’s Health Protection Act, a bill aimed at codifying the right to an abortion. [...] The Women’s Health Protection Act would enshrine into federal law the right to access and perform an abortion, and it would supersede state laws on the issue. That’s notable because it would effectively neutralize laws in 19 states that have sought to severely curb access to abortion or ban it altogether.” Vox, [2/28/22]

Garcia Opposed Legislation Combating Gender Pay Discrimination

April 2021: Garcia Voted Against The Paycheck Fairness Act, Which Aimed “To Eliminate The Gender Pay Gap And Strengthen Workplace Protections For Women”

April 2021: Garcia Voted Against The Paycheck Fairness Act. In April 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would narrow the legal defense an employer may use in a lawsuit alleging pay discrimination on the basis of sex. Specifically, it would require employers to demonstrate that a difference in pay between employees is based on a business-related ‘bona fide factor other than sex, such as education, training, or experience’ as opposed to being based on ‘any factor other than sex.’ It would prohibit employers from retaliating against employees involved in lawsuits under fair labor standards law; prohibit employers from relying on a prospective employee’s wage history for hiring or wage determinations; increase employers’ liability for compensatory or punitive damages related to pay discrimination violations; and provide for automatic inclusion of all affected individuals in class action lawsuits related to pay discrimination. Among other provisions, the bill would authorize a new Labor Department grant program for public and private entities to carry out negotiation skills training programs to address pay disparities. It would establish an annual national award for an employer that made a ‘substantial effort to eliminate pay disparities between men and women.’ It would require the Labor Department to conduct a number of studies on sex-based pay disparities and require the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to collect compensation data disaggregated by employees’ sex, race and national origin. It would require the Labor Department and EEOC to provide technical assistance for small businesses to comply with the bill’s provisions. It would add a definition of ‘sex’ with respect to federal fair labor standards law, which would include sexual orientation or gender identity.” According to CNBC, the Paycheck Fairness Act “aims to eliminate the gender pay gap and strengthen workplace protections for women.” The bill passed 217 to 210. HR 7, [Vote #108, 4/15/21; CQ, 4/15/21; CNBC, 4/16/21]

Additionally, he said the Paycheck Fairness Act would make it illegal for employers to ask employees about their salary history in the hiring process and promote pay transparency by requiring more employers to report pay data to the government. Right now, at least 18 states already have laws in place that ban employers from asking about salary history.” CNBC, [4/16/21]

April 2021: Garcia Voted For An Amendment Granting A “Safe Harbor” For Employers Facing Legal Action For Pay Discrimination If They Took “Reasonable Steps” To Correct The Disparities. In April 2021, Garcia voted for: “Miller-Meeke, R-Iowa, for Stefanik, R-N.Y., substitute amendment no. 4 that would, among other provisions, provide a safe harbor such that employers would not be liable in legal action related to pay discrimination if the employer conducted a voluntary audit of its pay practices within the previous three years and took ‘reasonable steps’ to correct any compensation disparities found by the audit that may have violated fair labor law. It would prohibit employers from requesting or relying on the wage history of a prospective employee for consideration of employment, unless a prospective employee voluntarily discloses such information. It would make it unlawful for employers to prohibit employees from inquiring about, discussing or disclosing wages but allow employers to limit the time, place and circumstances during which employees may do so.” The amendment was rejected 183 to 244. ## Garcia Opposed Ratifying The Equal Rights Amendment

March 2021: Garcia Voted Against Removing The Deadline For Ratification Of The Equal Rights Amendment

March 2021: Garcia Voted Against Removing The Deadline For Ratification Of The Equal Rights Amendment. In March 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the joint resolution that would remove the deadline for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment to the Constitution, which would state that “equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.” The ERA was proposed to the states in 1972, with a seven-year deadline for ratification, which was subsequently extended through June 1982. The joint resolution would make the proposed constitutional amendment valid as part of the Constitution whenever ratified by three-fourths of the states.” The resolution passed by a vote of 222-204. H J Res 17, [Vote #82, 3/17/21; CQ, 3/17/21]

- Removing The 1982 Ratification Deadline Would Enshrine The Equal Rights Amendment Into The Constitution Since Enough States Have Voted To Ratify It. “The House voted Wednesday to eliminate the long-passed deadline for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment. [...] The House voted 222-204 to pass the proposal, sponsored by California Democrat Jackie Speier, which would remove the 1982 deadline for state ratification. [...] The amendment then needed the approval of three-fourths of the state legislatures before 1979, a deadline set by Congress. More than half of the states ratified the amendment within the first year, and 35 states ratified it before 1977. Congress then extended the deadline for another three years to 1982, but no additional states voted to ratify, leaving the amendment three state legislatures short of the three-fourths requirement. But in recent years, the ERA has gained new life. Illinois and Nevada both voted to ratify it, and in 2020, Virginia became the 38th state to do so — ostensibly reaching the required three-fourths threshold for the 28th Amendment to the Constitution.” Roll Call, [3/17/21]

So, look, we know that that’s not based on science. However, that rhetoric is used to go after a much broader range of reproductive rights and services. So it’s really important that Americans understand what that’s code for. That’s code for going after your fundamental, basic, everyday medication like birth control. It’s code for going after something that we know more and more American women rely on to expand their families and to have children, which is IVF. It’s very dangerous. ### As Chair Of The Republican Study Committee, Johnson Proposed Drastic Cuts To Social Security And Medicare

Johnson’s Republican Study Committee Budget Proposed Cutting Medicare By Raising The Eligibility Age. “Adjust the Medicare Eligibility Age to Reflect Life Expectancy: Since Medicare’s creation in 1965, advances in science and medical technology have increased average life expectancy. This is a great miracle, but it does put additional stresses on the solvency of the Medicare program. As a result, the amount of time a Medicare beneficiary is expected to be covered by the program has increased from 14.6 years in 1965 to over 19 years in 2015. As beneficiaries continue to live longer, the ratio of workers to retirees shrinks threatening the solvency of Medicare. In 1965 there were 4.5 workers per Medicare beneficiary. That number shrunk to 3.3 workers in 2011, 3.1 in 2015, 2.8 in 2018 and is expected to continue to decrease to 2.3 workers per beneficiary by 2030. To address the increased demands on Medicare, this budget proposes increasing the age of Medicare so it is aligned with the normal retirement age for Social Security and then indexing this age to life expectancy, ensuring Medicare remains available for future generations.” Republican Study Committee, Budget, [FY 2020]

Johnson’s Republican Study Committee Budget Called For Raising The Retirement Age To 69 And Eventually 70 Years Old. “The goal of the Social Security Reform Act is to ensure the long-term solvency of Social Security for this and future generations. It does so by modernizing the program, phasing out antiquated elements and bringing together a number of commonsense ideas to make the system work better for today’s workers and retirees. Many of the specific policies included in this legislation have bipartisan support and have been included in proposals put forward by members of Congress on both sides of the aisle and well-respected non-partisan organizations. Adjust the Retirement Age to Reflect Longevity: The bipartisan Social Security Amendments of 1983 phases in an increase in the Social Security full retirement age over time, beginning at 65 and reaching 67 by 2022 for those born in 1960 and later. The Social Security Reform Act would continue this gradual increase of the normal retirement age at a rate of three months per year until it reaches 69 for those reaching age 62 in 2030. The RSC Budget recognizes that, due to Congressional inaction, the Social Security Reform Act’s retirement age increase would need to be extended, likely to age 70, to achieve long-range sustainable solvency.

Further, the existing 5-year gap between the normal and early retirement ages would be maintained as the full retirement age is incrementally adjusted.” Republican Study Committee, Budget, [FY 2020]

Garcia Has Failed Middle Class Families

Significant Findings

Garcia Voted Against The Inflation Reduction Act, Which Forced Corporations To Increasingly Pay Their Fair Share While Reducing Health Care Costs For Americans

- ✓ Garcia voted against the Inflation Reduction Act, siding once again with special interests
  - ✓ The Inflation Reduction Act revitalized large tax burdens off of the backs of middle-class families and focused them on big corporations. The act required large corporations to pay a minimum 15% tax on their profits, modernized the IRS to collect at least $150 billion in taxes owed by big corporations and the wealthy, and limited deductions corporations could use to lower their tax rate.
  - ✓ The Inflation Reduction Act also allowed Medicare to negotiate drug prices, capped out of pocket Medicare costs, capped the cost of insulin at $35, and expanded ACA subsidies. Notably, Garcia is a top recipient from Big Pharma donors having accepted over $80,000 from pharmaceutical companies and is among the top recipients of big pharma in Congress.

Garcia Has Failed To Lower Costs For His Constituents And Has Instead Focused On Siding With Special Interests And The Ultra-Wealthy Time And Time Again

- ✓ Garcia supported the 2017 Republican tax scam and repeatedly called for it to be made permanent.
  - ✓ Garcia supported the 2017 Republican tax bill and claimed it created “the lowest unemployment” and “highest GDP that we’ve seen in a long time.” Garcia called for making the 2017 Republican tax bill permanent.
  - ✓ The 2017 Republican tax scam gave a massive tax cut to corporations, special interests, and the ultra-wealthy, while raising them on the middle class, increasing incentives to offshore jobs, raising health insurance costs, and threatening cuts to Medicare and Social Security.
- ✓ Garcia stoked opposition for food stamps—which make food more affordable for working families—because he thought “everyone should have to figure out how to fend for themselves.”
  - ✓ Garcia suggested that he was opposed to food stamps, saying that “as a purist” he would “say no” to “food stamps at a low level” because he thought “everyone should have to figure out how to fend for themselves.”
  - ✓ Approximately 7.5% of households in CA-25 were on food stamps as of 2019.
- ✓ Garcia voted against the American Rescue Plan, which cut taxes for middle class families by expanding the Child Tax Credit and the Earned Income Tax Credit.
  - ✓ The American Rescue Plan expanded the Child Tax Credit “from $2,000 per child to $3,000 per child for children over the age of six and from $2,000 to $3,600 for children under the age of six.”
  - ✓ The American Rescue Plan expanded the Earned Income Tax Credit from $543 to $1,502.

- ✓ Approximately 4,611,000 families with 7,513,000 children in California benefitted from the American Rescue Plan's Child Tax Credit Payments. CA-25 received at least $38.4 million in Child Tax Credit payments under the American Rescue Plan.
- ✓ Garcia voted against Build Back Better, which would cut taxes for working families and stop rewarding corporations for shipping jobs overseas.
  - ✓ Build Back Better would cut taxes for middle class and working families by extending increases in the Child Tax Credit and the Earned Income Tax Credit.
  - ✓ Build Back Better Act would raise the State and Local Tax (SALT) deduction cap from $10,000 to $80,000.
    - The SALT deduction allowed taxpayers to “reduce their federal income tax liability by deducting certain taxes paid to their state and local government.”
    - The 2017 Republican tax scam's $10,000 SALT deduction cap caused the average California taxpayer who itemized SALT to pay around $5,500 more in taxes.
  - ✓ Build Back Better would “adopt a 15% country-by-country minimum tax on foreign profits of U.S. corporations, so that they no longer receive massive tax benefits from” shipping jobs overseas.
  - ✓ Build Back Better would close tax loopholes and “apply a 5 percent rate above income of $10 million, and an additional 3 percent above income of $25 million.”
- ✓ May 2022: Garcia voted against the Consumer Fuel Price Gouging Prevention Act, which would strengthen the President and Federal Trade Commission's ability to crack down on fuel price gouging.
- ✓ May 2022: Garcia voted against $28 million in emergency funding to help alleviate the national baby formula shortage.
- ✓ Garcia voted against the America COMPETES Act, which aimed to decrease inflation and increase the U.S.'s global economic competitiveness by bolstering supply chains and investing in domestic manufacturing.
  - ✓ Garcia voted against the America COMPETES Act, a bill to protect American supply chains by investing in American manufacturing and reducing US reliance on China. The bill would:
    - Authorize $45 billion to bolster the supply chain and increase U.S. manufacturing of “critical” goods. Invest $3 billion in solar manufacturing to reduce the U.S.'s reliance on China. Invest $52 billion in domestic manufacturing and research of semiconductors to decrease the U.S.'s technological dependence on Asia. Fund an aid program for workers impacted by increased imports and invested in STEM education programs.

- ✓ Garcia voted against the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act, which had bipartisan support and allocated $550 billion in new infrastructure spending.
  - ✓ The Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal (BID) contained broadband investments that benefited households without wireline broadband or internet access in CA-25. Nearly 23% of CA-25 households lacked access to wireline broadband while more than 12% lacked any internet access whatsoever.
  - ✓ The BID would also create around 2 million jobs per year for a decade by investing billions of dollars in roads, bridges, broadband, electricity, public transit, and other forms of infrastructure. Additional details include:
    - Included $73 billion for power grid modernization, which Garcia said was key to address problems like frequent power outages in Simi Valley.
    - Provided California with “$25.3 billion for federal-aid highway apportioned programs and $4.2 billion for bridge replacement and repairs.”
    - Provided California with “$9.45 billion over five years [...] to improve public transportation options across the state.”

- ✓ Garcia repeatedly proposed legislation to end federal funding for California’s high-speed rail project, which, as of March 2021, had already created 5,200 jobs and generated more than $10 billion in total economic activity.
  - ✓ California’s high-speed rail project aimed to build a 200-mph bullet train between Anaheim and San Francisco.
  - ✓ Garcia claimed that high-speed rail would not help California’s traffic problems.
- ✓ Garcia voted against investing in surface transportation infrastructure in southern border communities, tribal infrastructure, and lead service line replacement projects.

  - ✓ Garcia voted against an amendment to reauthorize funding for the EPA comprehensive lead service line replacement projects.

Garcia Wanted To Rip Away Current Health Care Protections And Opposed Policies To Make Health Care More Affordable

- ✓ Garcia repeatedly expressed support for repealing the Affordable Care Act (ACA).
  - ✓ Aug 2019: Garcia believed that getting the ACA “off the books” would create a “forcing function for collectors to go out and do something.”

Garcia Voted Against The Inflation Reduction Act

Garcia Voted Against Concurring With The Senate Amendment That Passed The Inflation Reduction Act.
"Garcia voted against concurring with the Senate amendment to pass the Inflation Reduction Act which "Yarmuth, D-Ky., motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill comprising a package of climate, tax and health care provisions. Among drug pricing provisions, the bill would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a "maximum fair price" with drug manufacturers for certain Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition; cap cost-sharing for insulin products covered under Medicare at $35 a month; and require single-source drug manufacturers to provide rebates to HHS for the price of drugs under Medicare Parts B and D for which price increases outpace inflation. For Medicare Part D, it would cap the annual out-of-pocket limit at $2,000. It would extend through 2025 tax subsidies toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums for individuals under a certain income level. The bill would provide for approximately $270 billion in new or expanded tax credits to incentivize actions by businesses and individuals to mitigate climate change, including production credits for electricity produced by renewable and nuclear facilities; investment tax credits for certain renewable energy equipment and facilities; and credits for advanced energy manufacturing projects, including in areas where a coal mine or power plant has closed. To incentivize emission reduction and clean fuel production, it would create or extend tax credits for carbon oxide sequestration facilities; biodiesel, renewable diesel and alternative fuels; and clean hydrogen facilities. For most of its corporate tax credits, it would add prevailing wage and apprenticeship requirements and establish bonus credits for using domestic materials in facility construction. It would also expand individual tax credits for residential energy efficiency improvements and renewable energy expenses; increase credits for new energy efficient homes; and create credits for the purchase of used electric vehicles by individuals under a certain income level. It would reinstate the Superfund tax on crude oil at a rate of 16.4 cents per barrel. Among other tax provisions, the bill would establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with a book income of at least $1 million annually and institute a 1 percent excise tax on corporate stock buybacks. It would authorize $79.3 billion for IRS operations, including enforcement activities and systems modernization. The bill would provide funding for various activities to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, promote energy-efficient technologies and mitigate the impacts of climate change, including $27 billion for grants to state, local and nonprofit entities for greenhouse gas emission reduction activities; $9.7 billion for zero-emission or carbon capture rural electric systems; $5 billion for loan guarantees to replace or reduce emissions of energy infrastructure; $3 billion for zero-emission vehicles for the Postal Service; and $1.6 billion for methane emissions reduction and mitigation. It would provide $9 billion for residential energy efficiency improvement rebates; $3 billion for new EPA environmental and climate justice block grants for community-led activities to address pollution, emission reduction, climate resiliency and public engagement; and $3 billion for Federal Highway Administration grants for projects that address surface transportation facilities that disconnect or negatively impact communities. It would provide $4 billion for drought mitigation in Western states; $2.15 billion for hazardous fuel reduction and restoration projects; and $1 billion to improve energy and water efficiency or climate resilience of affordable housing. It would require the Interior Department to accept bids for certain canceled oil and gas leases on the outer continental shelf. It would authorize wind lease sales adjacent to U.S. territories but prohibit new wind or solar development rights on federal lands for 10 years unless the department completes certain oil or gas lease sales." The IRA Strengthened Taxes On The Largest Corporations And Limited Deductions Corporations Can Use To Lower Their Rates. “Democrats instead settled on a far more complex change to the tax code: a new 15 percent corporate minimum tax on the profits companies report to shareholders. It would apply to companies that report more than $1 billion in annual income on their financial statements but that are also able to use credits, deductions and other tax treatments to lower their effective tax rates. The IRA Will Extend Expanded Affordable Care Act Subsidies For Three More Years Helping Low- And Middle-Income Families Afford Healthcare. “One way Obamacare expanded health care coverage was by creating marketplaces for people to purchase insurance and offering federal subsidies to help low- and middle-income households afford it. Households making up to 400 percent of the federal poverty line — about $106,000 for a family of four — could get federal help to pay their premiums. After that, they were on their own. But in 2021, Congress eliminated those caps, instead saying that no household should have to pay more than 8.5 percent of their income for health insurance. The change had the biggest effect on people making between 400 and 600 percent of the federal poverty line (for the same household of four, that would be up to $159,000 per year). As Vox’s Dylan Scott previously reported, the changes also enabled roughly 7 million people to qualify for free health insurance under the ACA. Those policies, however, were set to sunset by the end of this year, leaving millions of people to face much higher health care expenses moving forward. The Inflation Reduction Act extends these subsidies for three years through the end of 2025, ensuring that people won’t face that surge for a while yet. That extension is expected to cost $64 billion, according to a projection from the Congressional Budget Office.” Vox, [7/28/22]

By making premium tax credits newly available to more middle-class families and improving the generosity of financial help for those previously eligible, the ARP helped drive marketplace enrollment to a record high of 14.5 million and the U.S. uninsurance rate to an all-time low of just 8 percent. Thanks to the ARP, the average marketplace enrollee saves $800 per year.” Center for American Progress, [8/12/22]

What I think the president has done is take off the handcuffs off of a lot of economic stimulus that was always there, levers that we could have been pulled. The Tax Cut and Jobs Act of 2018 (TCJA) was a big deal and it has translated into the lowest unemployment-- the highest GDP that we’ve seen in a long time.” Talk of Santa Clarita, 34:12, [8/8/19] (VIDEO)

California and the federal government have a spending problem, not a revenue problem. Garcia supports protecting Prop. 13 and will work to cut taxes for Californians. #### Garcia Called For Making The 2017 Republican Tax Bill Permanent

Garcia Said He Would Vote To Make The 2017 Tax Bill Permanent. “@MikeGarcia2020: “...Our state is throwing away your tax dollars with few tangible results. July 2019: Garcia Said He Would Vote To Make The Tax Cuts Permanent. [6:15] “Now, there were parts of it that were not beneficial to Californians and New Yorkers in particular. The state and local tax deduction limits of $10,000 was meant to target Californians and New Yorkers, and we felt that. I felt it personally, and we were capped at that as a family. So that’s something that needs to be negotiated. And those 2017 tax cuts are not permanent, they’re coming up for a vote in the next few years. So the congress that will be in place there will determine what that looks like, and I don’t think a Democrat congress will negotiate a better deal for Californians. And I don’t think Representatives, if they’re Democrats from California, are going to be able to negotiate a better deal under this administration. So I think for us as the 25th District, Santa Clarita, Antelope Valley and Simi Valley, to be able to get someone to represent them and ideally make permanent the tax cuts, but also tailor the tax cuts so we’re not being punished for being Californians.” KHTS, [7/22/19]

Garcia Voted Against The 'Build Back Better' Budget Reconciliation Bill

Garcia Voted Against The 'Build Back Better' Budget Reconciliation Bill. In November 2021, Garcia voted against: "Passage of the fiscal 2022 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, that would provide approximately $2 trillion in investments and tax cuts to address climate change and child care, health care, education, housing and other social policies intended to support families. It would establish a child care and early learning entitlement program, providing approximately $100 billion for the program through fiscal 2024. It would provide $18 billion through fiscal 2024 for a free universal preschool program. It would extend through 2022 the expanded child tax credit provided by prior coronavirus relief law (PL 117-2) and provide $5 billion to administer the credit. It would establish a paid family and medical leave benefit for up to four weeks per year, beginning in 2024. It would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a "maximum fair price" for insulin and select Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition. It would require manufacturers to provide rebates for single-source drugs under Medicare Parts B and D for which prices increase faster than inflation. For Medicare Part D, it would cap annual out-of-pocket limit at $2,000 beginning in 2024. It would establish or extend expanded eligibility for certain tax credits toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums through 2025. It would establish or expand a number of tax credits to incentivize actions by businesses and individuals to mitigate climate change, including to expand credits for renewable energy production and facilities, carbon capture facilities, use of alternative fuels and energy efficiency improvements at residential properties; and to establish individual credits for the purchase of electric vehicles. It would raise royalty rates and fees for oil and gas drilling leases and cancel or ban certain offshore leases. It would provide $29 billion to support the deployment of low- and zero-emission technologies, more than $20 billion for federal climate resiliency and environmental conservation activities and $9 billion for federal procurement of electric vehicles and related infrastructure. It would provide $65 billion for public housing improvements, $24 billion for rental assistance housing vouchers and $15 billion for down payment assistance and loan programs for first-generation homebuyers. It would provide $9.8 billion for local transit projects to support mobility and affordable housing access disadvantaged communities and $9 billion for lead remediation and water line replacement projects. It would forgive all debt owed by the National Flood Insurance Program's debt, for a total of $20.5 billion. It would provide such sums as necessary for the USDA to forgive farm loan debt for economically distressed farmers and ranchers. It would provide $6.6 billion to the Small Business Administration and Minority Business Development Agency to help underrepresented individuals with business development. It would provide $20 billion for Labor and Education department workforce development programs and $1.9 billion for Labor Department worker protection agencies. It would allow individuals who entered the United States prior to Jan. 1, 2011, to receive a grant of parole allowing them to remain temporarily in the country for a period of five years, but no later than Sept. 30, 2021. It would temporarily increase from $10,000 to $80,000 the annual cap on the deduction for state and local taxes for tax years 2021 through 2030. To offset costs, it would establish or modify various taxes on corporations and high-income individuals, including to establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with an annual income exceeding $1 billion; a one percent tax on stock buybacks by public companies; and an additional five percent tax on individual income over $10 million and further three percent tax on income over $25 million. Build Back Better Would Lower Taxes On Middle Class And Working Families By Extending Increases In The Child Tax Credit And The Earned Income Tax Credit. “Cut taxes for families and workers. Prior to the pandemic, 8% of children under the age of 18 in Kansas lived in poverty. This will continue the largest one-year reduction in child poverty in history. And critically, the agreement includes permanent refundability for the Child Tax Credit, meaning that the neediest families will continue to receive the full Child Tax Credit over the long-run. Similar to the Senate bill, it would create a new initiative within the Department of Commerce to help promote the resiliency of the nation's supply chains. The House bill would establish an office that would monitor supply chains, identify vulnerabilities and designate which products are critical. The agency would also be tasked with building up stockpiles to prevent shortages of goods in the event of a future supply chain shock.” CNN, [2/4/22]

- The America COMPETES Act Invested $52 Billion In Domestic Manufacturing And Research Of Semiconductors To Decrease The U.S.’s Technological Dependence On Asia. “The House voted Friday to pass the America COMPETES Act, a bill that aims to increase U.S. competitiveness with China and to address the country’s shortage of semiconductors by strengthening the country’s supply chain. [...] The bill includes $52 billion to support domestic manufacturing and research of semiconductors, the chips that are used in electronic devices and have faced shortages throughout the pandemic, contributing to delays and increased costs. The incentives for semiconductor production come as the U.S. has increasingly relied on imports for computer chips. Twelve percent of the world's chips are made in the U.S., down from 37% in the 1990s, according to industry officials. About 80% are made in Asia.” USA Today, [2/4/22]

- The American COMPETES Act Provided “More Than $1 Billion Toward Increasing Diversity” In Science And Technology To Increase STEM Employment. “Congress is aiming to reshape America’s workforce through new legislation that would direct more than $1 billion toward increasing diversity of the scientists, researchers and technologists who drive the innovation economy. The measure includes $900 million for grants and partnerships with historically Black colleges and universities, $164 million to study barriers for people of color in the field and $17.5 million to combat sexual harassment. They’re part of a expansive package of bills known as the America Competes Act, which lawmakers hope will ensure the United States continues to lead the global economy. [...] A report from the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering and Medicine estimated the United States will need 1 million more people employed in those sectors over the next decade than it is currently on track to produce. The group said the country will not reach that goal without substantially increasing diversity in the labor force.” CNBC, [2/4/22]

[...] Advocacy groups supporting human rights in Xinjiang and Hong Kong applauded the bill. The Washington-based Hong Kong Democracy Council said it was ‘elated’, and the non-profit Uyghur Human Rights Project said it was ‘encouraged that Congress continues to put rhetoric into action’. ‘We are particularly encouraged by provisions meant to provide safe haven for Uyghurs fleeing atrocities, and to tighten scrutiny on Chinese companies complicit in these abuses,’ said Uyghur Human Rights Project executive director Omer Kanat.” South China Morning Post, [2/4/22]
- The America COMPETES Act Included Provisions To “Offset China’s Market-Distorting Trade Practices.” “The U.S. House of Representatives on Friday narrowly passed a multibillion-dollar bill aimed at increasing American competitiveness with China and boosting U.S. semiconductor manufacturing, despite Republican opposition. National Association Of Manufacturers: The America COMPETES Act Would “Help Address Inflation And Alleviate Supply Chain Challenges We’re Facing Today.” “The introduction of the America COMPETES Act, which includes many components of the overwhelmingly bipartisan U.S. Innovation and Competition Act, is a major step forward, and lawmakers can feel confident that supporting this bill means supporting the future of manufacturing in America. Not only would its provisions help address inflation and alleviate supply chain challenges we’re facing today, but the bill provides significant investment in U.S. semiconductor manufacturing, which would also help us avert future crises. This bill also includes funding for a Supply Chain Resilience and Crisis Response Office at the Department of Commerce. It would provide $25 billion for airports and approximately $17 billion for ports and waterways, including $3.4 billion to modernize land ports of entry and $2.25 billion for water port upgrades, including resilience and electrification projects. It would provide approximately $11 billion for various transportation safety and research programs. It would provide $7.5 billion for electric vehicle charging infrastructure and $5 billion for zero- and low-emission school bus programs. It would establish requirements for many new and existing surface transportation programs to consider the environmental and equity impacts of funded activities and authorize a range of transportation programs related to emissions reduction and climate change resilience. It would provide $1 billion for activities to reconnect neighborhoods by removing or remediating the effects of transportation infrastructure construction in disadvantaged and underserved communities. The bill would provide approximately $65 billion for broadband, including $42.5 billion for grants to states to increase access in unserved areas and $14.2 billion to extend a program initially authorized in response to the coronavirus pandemic that provides stipends to help low-income families pay for internet services. Across various departments, the bill would provide funding for climate change response and environmental remediation, including; $11.3 billion for abandoned mine land and water reclamation projects, approximately $5.75 billion for wildfire management, $3.5 billion for the EPA hazardous substance superfund and $3.5 billion for FEMA flood mitigation. It would also provide more than $1.7 billion for cybersecurity resilience programs. The bill would include a number of provisions intended to offset spending, including by rescinding certain unobligated COVID-19 relief funding and establishing tax reporting requirements for cryptocurrency and other digital assets.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 228-206. ### August 2021: Garcia Voted Against Considering The Bipartisan Infrastructure Package

Garcia Voted Against Considering 3 Resolutions, The 2022 Budget Resolution, The John Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act, And The Bipartisan Infrastructure Package. In August 2021 Garcia voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 601) that would provide for House floor consideration of the fiscal 2022 budget resolution (S Con Res 14), the John R. Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act (HR 4) and the bipartisan infrastructure package (HR 3684). The rule would provide for automatic agreement, upon adoption of the rule, to the fiscal 2022 budget resolution (S Con Res 14). It would provide for up to one hour of general debate each on HR 4 and on a motion to concur in the Senate amendment to HR 3684. It would require the House to consider the motion to concur in the Senate amendment to HR 3684 on Sept. 27, 2021, if the motion is not offered prior to that date. It would also provide for automatic adoption of a Nadler, D-N.Y., manager's amendment to HR 4 that would, among other provisions, clarify and expand considerations related to court evaluation of voting rights violations, including to require that courts consider whether a voting practice was designed to and does advance a "valid and substantiated" state interest. The manager's amendment would specify that a provision related to violations in the case of voting practices that have not yet been implemented would apply to practices enacted on or after Jan. 1, 2021, and it would add an "administrative bailout" provision allowing political subdivisions to apply for exemptions to the bill's preclearance requirements for changes to voting practices if they meet certain eligibility standards related to not implementing discriminatory practices in the previous 10 years.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 220-212. ---

Oct. 10, 2021: Garcia Said That America Needed To Modernize Its Power-Grid To Address Problems Like Frequent Power Outages In Simi Valley. “Residents of a Simi Valley neighborhood have had it with the frequent power outages. They say they had to endure three lengthy Southern California Edison maintenance outages in a six-week period overnight on Aug. 5, 19 and Sept. 13. [...] Woodward said she has also turned to the office of Rep. Mike Garcia R-Santa Clarita, who represents much of Simi Valley in California's 25th Congressional District. Woodward said the office told her they were working on her complaint. In a statement Friday, Garcia didn't address the outages in Woodward's neighborhood. Garcia Voted Against The Moving Forward Act, A Bill To Provide $1.5 Trillion In Infrastructure Projects For Roads, Transit, Water, Broadband, Schools, Hospitals, And Reducing Pollution

Garcia Voted Against HR 2, Which Authorized $1.5 Trillion In Infrastructure Projects. In July 2020, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would reauthorize federal-aid highway, public transit, and surface transportation safety and research programs for five years, through fiscal 2025. It would authorize approximately $1.5 trillion for infrastructure projects, including $494 billion for federal highway and surface transportation programs, $100 billion for grants to upgrade facilities for schools with high percentages of low-income students, and over $100 billion for affordable housing development. It would appropriate $100 billion to expand broadband access, particularly for underserved areas and low-income individuals. It would transfer more than $145 billion from the Treasury general fund to the Highway Trust Fund, including $38.6 billion for mass transit. Of funds authorized for surface transportation, it would authorize $257.4 billion for federal-aid highway programs and over $29 billion for Amtrak, through 2025. It would also authorize $40 billion through fiscal 2025 for an Environmental Protection Agency revolving fund that provides grants to states for water infrastructure projects; $25 billion until expended to modernize U.S. Postal Service infrastructure and operations; and $10 billion through fiscal 2025 to upgrade hospital infrastructure, prioritizing projects that emphasize public health emergency preparedness or cybersecurity. It would authorize $20 billion from the aviation trust fund and appropriate an additional $17.5 billion for airport improvement projects, through fiscal 2025. Among other provisions, it would establish a number of grant programs for ‘green’ transportation technologies, including for the procurement of zero emission buses and other vehicles, purchase and installation of zero emission equipment at U.S. ports, and development of electric vehicle charging and hydrogen fueling infrastructure. It would authorize $700 million annually through fiscal 2025 for Energy Department electric grid modernization and security projects. It would reinstate ‘Build America’ bonds to provide subsidies for state and local bond issuers to offer lower interest rates for infrastructure investments. It would provide a number of tax incentives for infrastructure investment, including to expand the low-income housing tax credit program by increasing its base allocation to states and establishing a permanent minimum 4% credit rate for projects financed using tax-exempt bonds. As amended, the bill would require the Transportation Department to expand certain safety protections to passenger, freight, and cargo transportation workers with high exposure risk during the COVID-19 pandemic; grant Transportation Security Administration employees the same collective bargaining rights as other federal employees; and require contractors and subcontractors for certain projects funded by the bill to meet prevailing wage requirements for laborers and mechanics; and prohibit the use of funds for contracts or funding to any entity connected to a foreign company based in certain countries subject to existing trade restrictions, tariffs, and sanctions, including China.” The bill passed by a vote of 233 – 188. HR 2, [Vote #138, 7/1/20; CQ, 7/1/20]

- The Moving Forward Act Would Increase Spending On Roads And Transit, Water Projects, Broadband, Schools, Hospitals, And Reducing Pollution. “The House on Wednesday passed a $1.5 trillion infrastructure bill that would sharply increase spending on roads and transit, push for deep reductions in pollution, direct billions to water projects, affordable housing, broadband and schools, and upgrade hospitals and U.S. Postal Service trucks. House Speaker Nancy Pelosi (D-Calif.) said Democrats were making good on a promise to rebuild America with ‘green, resilient, modern and job-creating infrastructure,’ adding that the Moving Forward Act ‘shows that everything in our country is connected, from the education of our children to the technologies of the future to the road map to get there.’ The bill is meant, in part, to address the expiration in September of a law authorizing spending on highways, transit and other transportation programs. Backers, including Transportation Committee Chairman Peter A. DeFazio (D-Ore.), said the bill represents an ambitious, years-in-the-making push to buttress and expand aging infrastructure in a sustainable way. Supporters said it marks a departure from traditional surface transportation legislation because of its emphasis on maintaining roads and bridges, building transit and reducing transportation-related pollution, the nation’s top source of greenhouse gases causing climate change.” Washington Post, [7/1/20]
- HR 2 Delivers Better Roads And Bridges Faster With More Than $300 Billion Of Investment. “H.R. 2, the Moving Forward Act, is a more than $1.5 trillion plan to rebuild American infrastructure—not only our roads, bridges, and transit systems, but also our schools, housing, broadband access, and so much more. [...] Delivers better roads and bridges faster with more than $300 billion of investment that prioritizes fixing what we already have, including tens of thousands of structurally deficient bridges. - Invests more than $100 billion in transit to put more zero-emission buses on the road, add new routes, and provide more reliable service, resulting in better transit options and fewer single-occupant cars clogging highways. - Modernizes infrastructure to reduce gridlock and address bottlenecks, and makes roads smarter and safer for all users, including pedestrians and bicyclists. - Invests in programs, projects, and materials that emphasize resiliency while reducing carbon pollution from the transportation sector, including $1.4 billion in alternative fuel charging infrastructure. - Triples funding for Amtrak to $29 billion, allowing for upgrades and expansion of the passenger rail network, and improves rail crossing safety and addresses increasingly long trains that block crossings for 10+ minutes, which impacts local traffic and emergency response times. - Keeps cargo moving by funding the essential dredging and upkeep of American harbors, ports, and channels.” House Transportation Committee, Moving Forward Act Fact Sheet, Accessed [8/19/20]

Garcia Repeatedly Proposed Legislation To End Federal Funding For California’s High-Speed Rail Project, Which Had Already Created 5,200 Jobs And Generated More Than $10 Billion In Total Economic Activity

Garcia Supported Blocking Federal Funding For California’s High-Speed Rail Project

March 2021: Garcia Supported Blocking Federal Funding For California’s High-Speed Rail Project.

“Meanwhile, Rep. Michelle Steel, R-Seal Beach, on Monday introduced legislation that would block any federal funding from being used to support California’s high-speed rail project, which she called a ‘failure.’ A slate of local Republicans have signed on to support Steel’s bill, including Reps. Young Kim of La Habra, Mike Garcia of Santa Clarita and Ken Calvert of Corona.” [Orange County Register, 3/2/21]

EDITORIAL: Garcia Supported Legislation That Would End Federal Support For The California High-Speed Rail Project. “Rep. Michelle Steel, R-Costa Mesa, joined by several other California Republican members of Congress, has introduced legislation to end federal support for the boondoggle. ‘The California high-speed rail project is a failure. Costs have continued to rise, while people and businesses have lost their properties, and the sections of the high-speed rail that do exist are inoperable,’ Steel said in a statement. ‘This is an unacceptable and an embarrassing waste of taxpayer dollars.’ Steel is right about all of that. Appropriately, Steel’s proposal is called the Stop the High-Speed Money Pit Act. Steel’s effort is backed by many Southern California representatives, including Rep. Mike Garcia, R-Santa Clarita, Rep. Young Kim, R-Brea, Rep. Ken Calvert, R-Corona, and Rep. Jay Obernolte, R-Big Bear Lake.” [San Bernardino Sun, Editorial, 3/10/21]

July 2021: Garcia Proposed An Amendment To Bipartisan Infrastructure Plan To Block Federal Funding For California High-Speed Rail, Which He Called “Franken-Rail.” “The committee’s most heated battle over the bill was a flare-up in a longstanding fight over a troubled high-speed rail project in California. Rep. Mike Garcia, R-Calif., introduced an amendment that would bar federal money for the project, which has suffered skyrocketing costs and construction delays. ‘This isn’t high-speed rail, this is Franken-Rail,’ he said, adding that the proposed project was ‘not smart, clumsily meandering through our communities and scaring the hell out of our residents.’ He said his state does not want the project. But Transportation-HUD Subcommittee Chairman David E. Price, D-N.C., said the spending bill made no specific reference to California high-speed rail. Instead, he said, it provides ‘robust funding’ for competitive grants. Jessica Wehrman and Caitlin Reilly have more on the Transportation-HUD bill markup here.” [CQ Budget Tracker, 7/19/21]

Repeal Of The ACA Would Deny Coverage To People With Pre-Existing Conditions. “As many as 133 million Americans — roughly half the population under the age of 65 — have pre-existing medical conditions that could disqualify them from buying a health insurance policy or cause them to pay significantly higher premiums if the health law were overturned, according to a government analysis done in 2017. An existing medical condition includes such common ailments as high blood pressure or asthma, any of which could require someone buying insurance on their own to pay much more for a policy, if they could get one at all. Under the A.C.A., no one can be denied coverage under any circumstance, and insurance companies cannot retroactively cancel a policy unless they find evidence of fraud. The Kaiser Family Foundation estimated that 52 million people have conditions serious enough that insurers would outright deny them coverage if the A.C.A. were not in effect, according to an analysis it did two years ago. Its estimates are based on the guidelines insurers had in place about whom to cover before the federal law was enacted.” New York Times, [7/9/19]

Garcia Voted Against The State Health Care Premium Reduction Act, Which Would Expand Enrollment In And Reduce Consumer Costs For State-And-Federally Operated Affordable Care Act Health Insurance Marketplace; Incentivize Medicaid Expansion By States; And Authorized Maximum Price Negotiations For Prescription Drugs Under Medicare. In June 2020, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would include a number of provisions to expand enrollment in and reduce consumer costs for state- and federally-operated Affordable Care Act health insurance marketplaces; incentivize Medicaid expansion by states; and authorize maximum price negotiations for prescription drugs under Medicare. Title I of the bill would expand eligibility for federal tax subsidies toward insurance premiums and increase the percentage of premiums such subsidies would cover. It would provide $10 billion annually beginning in fiscal 2022 to help states lower costs of ACA plans, including to provide reinsurance payments to health insurance issuers and subsidies to individuals. It would provide $200 million for grants to states to establish and operate state-based ACA health insurance marketplaces; $100 million annually for Health and Human Services Department consumer outreach related to ACA marketplace plans; $100 million annually for the HHS "navigator" program, which helps individuals enroll in qualified plans; and $200 million annually through fiscal 2024 for grants to states to encourage plan enrollment. It would also prohibit implementation of August 2018 regulations related to health insurance plans that are not required to meet ACA patient protection requirements, including short-term, limited-duration plans. Title II of the bill would provide for full federal reimbursement of state Medicaid expansion costs for new enrollees for three years, then gradually decrease the federal medical assistance cost-share to 90% for those enrollees. It would authorize HHS to reduce the federal cost-share percentage for states that do not expand their Medicaid programs by 0.5% quarterly beginning in fiscal 2023, and by 10% beginning July 2027. It would permanently authorize funding for the Children's Health Insurance Program. It would require Medicaid and CHIP programs to provide at least 12 continuous months of coverage for qualifying individuals and provide one year of coverage for women after the end of a pregnancy. It would allow states to expand eligibility for Medicaid and CHIP programs to include children whose family income exceeds certain amounts, and it would make citizens of the Freely Associated States residing in the U.S. eligible for Medicaid. Title III of the bill would establish a fair price negotiation program under which the Health and Human Services Department would enter into agreements with drug manufacturers to negotiate a "maximum fair price" for insulin and up to 250 other Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition and account for high levels of spending. It would require the department to negotiate the maximum price of at least 25 drugs for 2023 and at least 50 drugs in each subsequent year, with maximum prices not exceeding 120% of a drug's average international price or 85% of the average manufacturer price for that year. It would subject manufacturers who do not reach a negotiated agreement for a drug to excise taxes based on gross sales of that drug. It would require manufacturers to offer negotiated prices to private health insurers. It would authorize a total of $3 billion through fiscal 2023 for implementation of the price negotiation program. As amended, the bill would authorize $2 billion for National Institutes of Health cancer research and make Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program recipients eligible to enroll in ACA marketplace health plans." Feb. 2021: Garcia Voted Against Passage Of The American Rescue Plan Act. In February 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the fiscal 2021 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, comprising a coronavirus relief package that would provide roughly $1.9 trillion in funding to further address the health and economic effects of COVID-19, including approximately $350 billion in direct aid to state and local governments; $47.8 billion for testing and contact tracing; $168 billion to assist educational institutions; and $50 billion to assist small businesses. It would extend and increase federal unemployment compensation benefits for 24 weeks and increase the weekly amount to $400; provide tax rebates of $1,400 for individuals with incomes of $75,000 or less; extend or expand a number of employer and individual tax credits, including credits to subsidize health insurance premiums; and gradually increase the federal minimum wage to $15 per hour. Among other provisions, the bill would provide $195.3 billion for direct assistance to states and $130.2 billion for local governments; $128.6 billion through fiscal 2023 for an Education Department elementary and secondary school emergency relief fund and $39.6 billion for grants to higher education institutions, including to provide emergency financial aid; and continue the 15% increase in Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program benefits through September 2021. It would provide $47.8 billion for COVID-19 testing and contact tracing; $7.5 billion for vaccine administration and distribution; and $6.1 billion for vaccine and therapeutic development, manufacturing and procurement. It would require Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program to fully cover the cost of COVID-19 vaccines. It would expand eligibility in 2021 and 2022 for federal tax subsidies toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums, including to fully cover premium costs for individuals earning up to 150% of the federal poverty level and cap premiums at 8.5% of household income. It would provide $50 billion for small business assistance, including $25 billion for restaurants. It would provide $30.5 billion for transit, $18 billion for airline and aviation manufacturing industry payroll support; and $4 billion for Agriculture Department pandemic-related assistance. It would incrementally increase the federal minimum wage annually to reach $15 per hour in 2025, including for tipped workers, teens and workers with disabilities. People up to 150% FPL can now get silver plans for zero premium with vastly reduced deductibles. Previously, marketplace premium subsidies were partial; no matter how poor, people had to contribute something toward the cost of the benchmark silver plan (i.e., the second lowest cost silver plan in their area). [...] Now under ARP, the benchmark marketplace plan will be fully subsidized for people earning up to 150% FPL. Cost sharing subsidies were already most generous at this income level (the average silver plan deductible for people at 150% FPL is $177 this year). Premium tax credits will increase for people at every income level. (Figure 1) People with income of 200% FPL had been required to contribute $1,664 toward the cost of the benchmark marketplace plan this year; now under the ARP they will have to contribute just $510. ### November 2021: Garcia Voted Against The Build Back Better Act, Which Would Lower The Cost Of Health Insurance Premiums Through The ACA Marketplace

Garcia Voted Against The ‘Build Back Better’ Budget Reconciliation Bill. In November 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the fiscal 2022 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, that would provide approximately $2 trillion in investments and tax cuts to address climate change and child care, health care, education, housing and other social policies intended to support families. It would establish a child care and early learning entitlement program, providing approximately $100 billion for the program through fiscal 2024. It would provide $18 billion through fiscal 2024 for a free universal preschool program. It would extend through 2022 the expanded child tax credit provided by prior coronavirus relief law (PL 117-2) and provide $5 billion to administer the credit. It would establish a paid family and medical leave benefit for up to four weeks per year, beginning in 2024. It would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a “maximum fair price” for insulin and select Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition. It would require manufacturers to provide rebates for single-source drugs under Medicare Parts B and D for which prices increase faster than inflation. For Medicare Part D, it would cap annual out-of-pocket limit at $2,000 beginning in 2024. It would establish or extend expanded eligibility for certain tax credits toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums through 2025. It would establish or expand a number of tax credits to incentivize actions by businesses and individuals to mitigate climate change, including to expand credits for renewable energy production and facilities, carbon capture facilities, use of alternative fuels and energy efficiency improvements at residential properties; and to establish individual credits for the purchase of electric vehicles. It would raise royalty rates and fees for oil and gas drilling leases and cancel or ban certain offshore leases. It would provide such sums as necessary for the USDA to forgive farm loan debt for economically distressed farmers and ranchers. It would provide $6.6 billion to the Small Business Administration and Minority Business Development Agency to help underrepresented individuals with business development. It would provide $20 billion for Labor and Education department workforce development programs and $1.9 billion for Labor Department worker protection agencies. It would allow individuals who entered the United States prior to Jan. 1, 2011, to receive a grant of parole allowing them to remain temporarily in the country for a period of five years, but no later than Sept. 30, 2021. It would temporarily increase from $10,000 to $80,000 the annual cap on the deduction for state and local taxes for tax years 2021 through 2030. To offset costs, it would establish or modify various taxes on corporations and high-income individuals, including to establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with an annual income exceeding $1 billion; a one percent tax on stock buybacks by public companies; and an additional five percent tax on individual income over $10 million and further three percent tax on income over $25 million. It would provide $78.9 billion to improve IRS operations and tax enforcement.” Passed by a vote of 220-213. HR 5376, [Vote #385, 11/19/21, CQ 11/19/21]

Title I of the bill would expand eligibility for federal tax subsidies toward insurance premiums and increase the percentage of premiums such subsidies would cover. It would provide $10 billion annually beginning in fiscal 2022 to help states lower costs of ACA plans, including to provide reinsurance payments to health insurance issuers and subsidies to individuals. It would provide $200 million for grants to states to establish and operate state-based ACA health insurance marketplaces; $100 million annually for Health and Human Services Department consumer outreach related to ACA marketplace plans; $100 million annually for the HHS “navigator” program, which helps individuals enroll in qualified plans; and $200 million annually through fiscal 2024 for grants to states to encourage plan enrollment. It would also prohibit implementation of August 2018 regulations related to health insurance plans that are not required to meet ACA patient protection requirements, including short-term, limited-duration plans. Title II of the bill would provide for full federal reimbursement of state Medicaid expansion costs for new enrollees for three years, then gradually decrease the federal medical assistance cost-share to 90% for those enrollees. It would authorize HHS to reduce the federal cost-share percentage for states that do not expand their Medicaid programs by 0.5% quarterly beginning in fiscal 2023, and by 10% beginning July 2027. It would permanently authorize funding for the Children’s Health Insurance Program. It would require Medicaid and CHIP programs to provide at least 12 continuous months of coverage for qualifying individuals and provide one year of coverage for women after the end of a pregnancy. It would allow states to expand eligibility for Medicaid and CHIP programs to include children whose family income exceeds certain amounts, and it would make citizens of the Freely Associated States residing in the U.S. eligible for Medicaid. Title III of the bill would establish a fair price negotiation program under which the Health and Human Services Department would enter into agreements with drug manufacturers to negotiate a “maximum fair price” for insulin and up to 250 other Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition and account for high levels of spending. It would require the department to negotiate the maximum price of at least 25 drugs for 2023 and at least 50 drugs in each subsequent year, with maximum prices not exceeding 120% of a drug’s average international price or 85% of the average manufacturer price for that year. It would subject manufacturers who do not reach a negotiated agreement for a drug to excise taxes based on gross sales of that drug. It would require manufacturers to offer negotiated prices to private health insurers. It would authorize a total of $3 billion through fiscal 2023 for implementation of the price negotiation program. As amended, the bill would authorize $2 billion for National Institutes of Health cancer research and make Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program recipients eligible to enroll in ACA marketplace health plans.” The bill passed 200-179.HR 1425, [Vote #124, 6/29/20; CQ, 6/29/20]

---

2019: Garcia Said That He Was In Favor Of Repealing The Affordable Care Act. “Another Republican in the contest is former Navy combat pilot Mike Garcia of Santa Clarita, now an executive at Raytheon. Like Knight, Garcia opposes abortion and new restrictions on guns, and he supports repeal of the Affordable Care Act. Underwood Jacobs, a bank executive, says she’ll champion fiscal restraint, border security and military strength.” [LA Times, 11/16/19]

2020: Garcia Supported Repealing The Affordable Care Act. “One Democratic ad interspersed the president’s statements downplaying the coronavirus with news accounts of its spread and footage of Garcia extolling Trump’s performance as president. Another said Garcia would fail to protect people with preexisting conditions -- a reference to a statement he made last summer favoring repeal of the Affordable Care Act -- ‘and hike up costs for lifesaving drugs.’” [Los Angeles Times, 5/10/20]

Repealing The ACA Would Increase The Cost Of Prescription Drugs By $1,000 Per Year For 5 Million California Seniors While Giving Pharmaceutical Companies An Additional $2.8 Billion. “Striking down the ACA would also transfer billions of dollars from seniors to pharmaceutical companies. Eliminating the ACA’s branded drug fee would cut taxes for pharmaceutical companies by $2.8 billion each year. At the same time, at least 5 million seniors would pay at least $1,000 more per year, on average, for prescription drugs because eliminating the ACA would reopen the Medicare ‘donut hole’: a range of beneficiaries’ drug spending where the Medicare prescription drug benefit initially provided no coverage, requiring beneficiaries to pay 100 percent of the costs.” Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, [11/4/19]

What I think the president has done is take off the handcuffs off of a lot of economic stimulus that was always there, levers that we could have been pulled. The Tax Cut and Jobs Act of 2018 (TCJA) was a big deal and it has translated into the lowest unemployment-- the highest GDP that we’ve seen in a long time.” Talk of Santa Clarita, 34:12, [8/8/19] (VIDEO)

California and the federal government have a spending problem, not a revenue problem. Garcia supports protecting Prop. 13 and will work to cut taxes for Californians. The 2017 Republican Tax Scam Gave U.S.-Based Drug Companies A One-Time Tax Reduction On Profits Earned And Kept Abroad, Which Was A “Major Victory For Pharma Manufacturers.” “The bill, H.R. 1 (115), lowers the corporate tax rate and would offer a one-time reduction on profits U.S.-based multinational companies earn and keep abroad. Pharmaceutical Companies Were Predicted To Use Savings From Tax Bill To Invest In Mergers And Acquisitions In An Effort To Preserve Patents And Prevent Competitors From Producing Cheaper, Generic Drugs. “Blue-chip drugmakers holding $200 billion in cash, mostly overseas, will start investing more of it in mergers and acquisitions after President Trump’s tax overhaul slashed the cost of spending the money in the U.S., debt-ratings firm Moody’s predicts. [...] Amgen, Pfizer, Gilead, and Celgene are the most likely to seek deals, Moody’s projects, as they grapple with challenges from a shrinking market for some medications to the expiration of patents on others that will enable rivals to produce cheaper generic versions.” Washington Examiner, [1/9/18]

Block Granting Medicaid Would Cap Federal Medicaid And Cut Medicaid Funding For The Median State By 10.5% By 2025, Which Would “Require States To Cut Coverage, Reduce Benefits, Increase Cost-Sharing, Lower Provider Payment Rates, Or Otherwise Reduce Medicaid Expenditures”

Block Granting Would Cap Federal Medicaid Spending And Give “States A Set Amount Of Money For Their Medicaid Programs.” “Congressional Republicans have consistently tried to alter the current Medicaid payment structure; two of their long-standing proposals have been to adopt a block grant and a per-capita cap structure. [...] A block grant program would cap total federal spending on the program and fix federal funding to a preset formula determined by previous cost estimates that include projected growth and inflation. [...] Both the proposed block grant program and per-capita caps undermine funding guarantees, giving states a set amount of money for their Medicaid programs while also likely weakening the programs’ benefits and eligibility requirements.” Center for American Progress, [8/17/19]

March 6, 2020: The Commonwealth Fund Estimated That Block Granting Would Cut Medicaid Funding For The Median State By 10.5% By 2025. “States that take up the block grant would see substantial reductions in Medicaid funding. Under our baseline scenario, the median state would face a reduction of 5.7 percent in fiscal year (FY) 2021; 14.6 percent in FY 2025; and 10.5 percent over the 2021–2025 period. The five-year median reduction in funding would be significantly larger if per enrollee spending growth is 1 percentage point above projections (13.9%), if enrollment grows at recent historical levels rather than projections (19.7%), or if a state reduces expenditures to capture “shared savings” (27.6%). Under all scenarios, the vast majority of Medicaid savings resulting from the funding reductions accrue to the federal government.” Commonwealth Institute, [3/6/20]

- These Medicaid Funding Cuts “Would Require States To Cut Coverage, Reduce Benefits, Increase Cost-Sharing, Lower Provider Payment Rates, Or Otherwise Reduce Medicaid Expenditures.” “Consistent with the fundamental ‘bargain’ of all block grant proposals, our estimates show that states would receive significantly less federal funding and be subject to increased financial risks if they take up the block grant option. The magnitude of the cuts would vary based largely on each state’s recent expenditure growth, but the basic picture is the same across the country: the caps would require states to cut coverage, reduce benefits, increase cost-sharing, lower provider payment rates, or otherwise reduce Medicaid expenditures as compared to current law spending levels or expected spending levels for states implementing new expansions.” Commonwealth Institute, [3/6/20]

They help crack down on criminal tax fraud and evasion, including the kind of evasion the Finance Committee identified with our two-year investigation of how Swiss bank Credit Suisse enabled a group of dual U.S. and foreign citizens to cheat on paying U.S. taxes. At this moment, the IRS Criminal Investigation division is working with partners in Ukraine to hunt down crooks who are evading sanctions on Russia. #### The RSC Budget Proposed A Premium Support Model For Medicare

The RSC Fiscal Year 2025 Budget Proposed A Premium Support Model For Medicare. “Implementing a Premium Support Model The RSC Budget is committed to protecting current retirees from the across-the-board 11 percent cut to benefits and subsequent rationing that would result from the bankruptcy of the Hospital Insurance Trust Fund. To achieve this, the RSC budget would implement a premium support model where private, Medicare Advantage (MA) plans would compete with a federal Medicare plan (the ‘Fed Plan’) that would offer the traditional Medicare benefits received through Part A, B, and D. Medicare Advantage (MA) plans provide the same services as Medicare but are administered by private health insurance providers.” Republican Study Committee, [3/20/24]

Premium Support Models Shifted Costs Onto Beneficiaries

Premium Support Models Shifted Costs Onto Beneficiaries. “In areas where Medicare incurs relatively high costs, the amount of the premium-support payment would equal the cost of a relatively inexpensive private plan, and beneficiaries would have to pay higher premiums to participate in traditional Medicare. In areas with relatively low Medicare spending, beneficiaries who wanted to enroll in a private plan would face higher premiums or fewer benefits, or might find that no private plan was available. [...] The vouchers would purchase less coverage with each passing year, pushing more costs on to beneficiaries. Over time, seniors would have to pay more to keep the health plans and the doctors they like, or they would get fewer benefits.” Center On Budget and Policy Priorities, [3/28/12]

Raising the retirement age cuts benefits for all new retirees — that is, those claiming Social Security benefits for the first time. These cuts could be deep, and they would fall hardest on lower- and middle-income beneficiaries because they rely most heavily on Social Security benefits.” Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, [4/25/23]

It would provide $28.6 billion in supplemental appropriations for natural disaster relief, including $10 billion for the Agriculture Department to cover agricultural losses; $5.7 billion for Army Corps of Engineers flood and storm damage response; $5 billion for disaster-related community development block grants; $2.6 billion to reimburse states and territories for damage to roads and bridges; $1.36 billion for the Forest Service and $636 million for the Interior Department, including for wildfire response; $1.2 billion for Small Business Administration disaster loans; $895 million for Navy and Air Force facility repairs; $345 million for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, including $200 million for fishery disaster response; and $22 million for the National Institute of Standards and Technology to investigate building collapses. The bill would also provide additional appropriations or higher spending rates for certain programs, including $2.5 billion for Health and Human Services Department refugee assistance to support services for unaccompanied minors who have crossed the U.S. border; $250 million for U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services for application processing and refugee program support; increased amounts for cash-value vouchers under the supplemental nutrition program for women, infants and children (WIC); and increased spending for White House COVID-19 activities and the national suicide hotline. It would extend for the duration of the continuing resolution a number of expiring programs and authorities, including the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program and the National Flood Insurance Program; the increased federal medical assistance percentage for U.S. territories, offset by a reduction of $96 million for the Medicare Improvement Fund; and HHS authority to appoint personnel to National Disaster Medical System positions to respond to public health emergencies. It also would extend through Jan. 28, 2022, the emergency classification of fentanyl-related substances as schedule I controlled substances and extend through June 30, 2022, Agriculture Department authority to provide child nutrition waivers as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic.” The resolution passed by a vote of 220 - 211. Failure To Raise The Debt Limit Would Spark A “Cataclysmic” Economic Crisis Destroying Up To 6 Million Jobs And $15 Trillion In Household Wealth

Moody’s Analytics: If Congress Failed To Raise The Debt Limit, The U.S. Economy Would Lose 6 Million Jobs And $15 Trillion In Household Wealth And The Unemployment Rate Would Surge To 9 Percent. “The United States could plunge into an immediate recession if Congress fails to raise the debt ceiling and the country

defaults on its payment obligations this fall, according to one analysis released Tuesday. Mark Zandi, chief economist at Moody's Analytics, found that a prolonged impasse over the debt ceiling would cost the U.S. economy up to 6 million jobs, wipe out as much as $15 trillion in household wealth, and send the unemployment rate surging to roughly 9 percent from around 5 percent." - Washington Post: Failing To Raise The Debt Limit Threatened $20 Billion In Social Security Payments For Seniors. "If Congress fails to increase the debt limit, Treasury would be unable to pay debts as they come due. Treasury Secretary Janet L. Yellen said earlier this week that such a default would be unprecedented in U.S. history. Moody's 'best estimate' is that this date is Oct. 20, although Treasury has not given a more precise day. At that point, Treasury officials would face excruciating choices, such as whether to fail to pay $20 billion owed to seniors on Social Security, or to fail to pay bondholders of U.S. debt — a decision that could undermine faith in U.S. credit and permanently drive federal borrowing costs higher." Washington Post, [9/21/21]
- Washington Post: Failing To Raise The Debt Limit Would Raise Consumer Costs And Interest Rates And Lead To A Long-Term Decline In The U.S. Dollar. "Failure to raise the debt limit would have catastrophic impacts on global financial markets. Interest rates would spike as investors demand a higher rate of return for the risk of taking on U.S. debt given uncertainty about repayment. An increase in interest rates would ripple through the economy, raising costs not only for taxpayers but also for consumers and other borrowers. The value of the U.S. dollar would also decline long term as investors questioned the security of purchasing U.S. treasuries. The cost of auto and home loans would rise." ## Garcia Opposed Workers' Rights

Garcia Voted Against The Protecting The Right To Organize (PRO) Act, Which Would Make It Easier For Workers To Organize And Collectively Bargain

Garcia Voted Against The PRO Act Which Would Expand The Authority Of The National Labor Relations Board And Protect Collective Bargaining Rights

Garcia Voted Against The PRO Act Which Would Expand The Authority Of The National Labor Relations Board And Protect Collective Bargaining Rights. In March 2021, Garcia voted against: "Passage of the bill, as amended, that would expand enforcement authorities of the National Labor Relations Board and modify procedures by which employees may unionize and elect representation under federal labor law. The bill would authorize the NLRB to enforce any orders it issues and to impose a number of civil monetary penalties, including penalties of up to $50,000 against employers who prevent or punish organizing activities by employees. It would require the NLRB to seek temporary injunctions against employers charged with engaging in unfair labor practices and allow employees to bring civil action if the board fails to seek an injunction. It would outline a number of procedures by which employees may petition for and elect representation for collective bargaining through an election directed by the NLRB. It would require the NLRB to schedule pre-election hearings within eight days of a petition being filed; prohibit employers from certain interference or participation in such elections; and require the NLRB to certify and order the employer to engage in collective bargaining with an elected labor organization. It would outline procedures for initial collective bargaining between an employer and a union, including to provide for federal mediation services if an agreement is not reached 90 days after the bargaining begins and referral to an arbitration panel if an agreement is not reached in an additional 30 days. Among other provisions, the bill would prohibit employers from taking certain retaliatory actions against employees who participate in a strike, including permanently replacing or discriminating against such employees. It would specify that employees' right to strike is protected regardless of the duration, scope, frequency, or intermittence of the strike. It would modify definitions of ‘employee’ and ‘supervisor,’ particularly to narrow the classification of independent contractors and supervisors, two categories of employees not eligible for collective bargaining. It would also authorize the use of collective bargaining agreements that require employees to pay fees to a labor organization as a condition of employment.” The bill passed by a vote of 225-206. The PRO Act Would Increase Fines For Companies That Illegally Retaliate Against Workers Seeking To Unionize, Expand Collective Bargaining Rights, And Weaken “Right To Work” Laws. “The Protecting the Right to Organize Act, known as the PRO Act, would amend some of the country’s decades-old labor laws to give workers more power during disputes at work, add penalties for companies that retaliate against workers who organize and grant some hundreds of thousands of workers collective-bargaining rights they don’t currently have. It would also weaken ‘right-to-work’ laws in 27 states that allow employees to forgo participating in and paying dues to unions. ### Garcia Voted Against The ‘Build Back Better’ Budget Reconciliation Bill, Which Increased Financial Penalties For Employers Who Engaged In Unfair Labor Practices, Such As Illegal Union-Busting

Garcia Voted Against The ‘Build Back Better’ Budget Reconciliation Bill. In November 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the fiscal 2022 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, that would provide approximately $2 trillion in investments and tax cuts to address climate change and child care, health care, education, housing and other social policies intended to support families. It would establish a child care and early learning entitlement program, providing approximately $100 billion for the program through fiscal 2024. It would provide $18 billion through fiscal 2024 for a free universal preschool program. It would extend through 2022 the expanded child tax credit provided by prior coronavirus relief law (PL 117-2) and provide $5 billion to administer the credit. It would establish a paid family and medical leave benefit for up to four weeks per year, beginning in 2024. It would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a "maximum fair price" for insulin and select Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition. It would require manufacturers to provide rebates for single-source drugs under Medicare Parts B and D for which prices increase faster than inflation. For Medicare Part D, it would cap annual out-of-pocket limit at $2,000 beginning in 2024. It would establish or extend expanded eligibility for certain tax credits toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums through 2025. It would establish or expand a number of tax credits to incentivize actions by businesses and individuals to mitigate climate change, including to expand credits for renewable energy production and facilities, carbon capture facilities, use of alternative fuels and energy efficiency improvements at residential properties; and to establish individual credits for the purchase of electric vehicles. It would raise royalty rates and fees for oil and gas drilling leases and cancel or ban certain offshore leases. It would provide $29 billion to support the deployment of low- and zero-emission technologies, more than $20 billion for federal climate resiliency and environmental conservation activities and $9 billion for federal procurement of electric vehicles and related infrastructure. It would provide $65 billion for public housing improvements, $24 billion for rental assistance housing vouchers and $15 billion for down payment assistance and loan programs for first-generation homebuyers. It would provide $9.8 billion for local transit projects to support mobility and affordable housing access disadvantaged communities and $9 billion for lead remediation and water line replacement projects. It would forgive all debt owed by the National Flood Insurance Program's debt, for a total of $20.5 billion. It would provide such sums as necessary for the USDA to forgive farm loan debt for economically distressed farmers and ranchers. It would provide $6.6 billion to the Small Business Administration and Minority Business Development Agency to help underrepresented individuals with business development. It would provide $20 billion for Labor and Education department workforce development programs and $1.9 billion for Labor Department worker protection agencies. It would allow individuals who entered the United States prior to Jan. 1, 2011, to receive a grant of parole allowing them to remain temporarily in the country for a period of five years, but no later than Sept. 30, 2021. It would temporarily increase from $10,000 to $80,000 the annual cap on the deduction for state and local taxes for tax years 2021 through 2030. To offset costs, it would establish or modify various taxes on corporations and high-income individuals, including to establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with an annual income exceeding $1 billion; a one percent tax on stock buybacks by public companies; and an additional five percent tax on individual income over $10 million and further three percent tax on income over $25 million. It would provide $78.9 billion to improve IRS operations and tax enforcement.” Passed by a vote of 220-213. HR 5376, [Vote #385, 11/19/21, CQ 11/19/21]

Build Back Better Would Fine Employers Up To $50,000 For Each “Unfair Labor Practice, And Up To $100,000 In Cases Where A Worker Was Illegally Fired For Union Organizing. “Although it’s still subject to changes, the current version of the Build Back Better framework includes a potentially landmark reform to labor law: monetary penalties for union busting. The latest iteration of the bill released by House and Senate leaders

Thursday would fine employers up to $50,000 for each ‘unfair labor practice,’ and up to $100,000 in cases where a worker was illegally fired.” Huffington Post, [10/29/21]

- An “Unfair Labor Practice” Or ULP “Is A Violation Of The National Labor Relations Act,” Which “Protects The Right Of Workers To” Unionize And Collectively Bargain. “An unfair labor practice — commonly called a ULP — is a violation of the National Labor Relations Act, the New Deal-era law that protects the right of workers to form unions or join together to improve their working conditions.” Huffington Post, [10/29/21]

Before Build Back Betters, Employers Who Committed Unfair Labor Practices Only Had To Offer Reinstatement And Backpay. “These fines would have big impact because currently, there’s almost no downside to breaking the law. If an employer is found to have illegally fired union supporters, the most they have to do is offer reinstatement and backpay. And the backpay is ‘mitigated’ — meaning any other wages the worker earned elsewhere after getting fired would be subtracted from what the scofflaw employer owes the person it fired. In many cases, an employer found to have committed ULPs merely has to hang a poster in the workplace acknowledging they did so. With such weak penalties, employers are acting rationally when they violate the law, which is why ULPs are so common in organizing drives. But with monetary penalties, employers might make a different calculation.” Huffington Post, [10/29/21]

Garcia Claimed That Assembly Bill 5 And High Taxes Were To Blame For California’s High Unemployment Rate While Smith Claimed That It Was Due To COVID. “‘AB5 has killed our economy here in California,’ Garcia said, lamenting it throughout the hour-long forum as a top reason, along with high taxes, why people and companies are leaving the state. ‘She chose not to repeal it. It was low-hanging fruit.’ Smith, who as an assemblywoman supported the bill, pushed back on Garcia, arguing that the law was an outgrowth of a California Supreme Court decision that put the burden on employers to prove that workers were not ‘employees’ but ‘independent contractors.’ It ‘left every local small business potentially exposed to frivolous misclassification lawsuits, so in fact the unemployment that is occurring right now is absolutely driven by COVID,’ she said.” [Daily News of Los Angeles, 10/21/20]

Garcia Voted Against The “Child Care For Economic Recovery Act,” A Program To Extend “Grants For States To Provide Family Care For Essential Workers.” “Passage of the bill that would make emergency fiscal 2020 supplemental appropriations in response to the COVID-19 public health emergency for grants to support family care services and infrastructure and expand certain tax credits for individuals and employers related to child and dependent care. The bill would provide $850 million for Health and Human Services Department social services block grants for states to provide family care for essential workers, including to pay family care providers, set up temporary government-operated care services or reimburse workers for the costs of care. It would also provide $10 billion in emergency appropriations for HHS child care infrastructure grants to states to construct or improve child care facilities, prioritizing facilities that primarily serve low-income populations, children under five years of age and children of essential workers, as well as facilities that closed during the COVID-19 pandemic and cannot reopen without making required safety modifications. It would require the department to conduct immediate and long-term needs assessments on the condition of child care facilities as a result of the pandemic. The bill would make fully refundable the child and dependent care tax credit, increase from 35% to 50% the maximum percentage of costs that may be claimed, and increase the maximum income level at which individuals may claim the maximum percentage. It would more than double the amount individuals may deposit into flexible spending accounts for dependent care. It would allow child care facilities that lost revenue because of suspended operations due to the COVID-19 pandemic to claim payroll tax credits for 50% of quarterly operating costs. It would provide a refundable payroll tax credit of 30% for employer-subsidized dependent care. It would require HHS to award such funds to states within 30 days of the bill’s enactment. Under the bill’s provisions, state agencies that administer existing child care block grants would make subgrants to child care providers affected by the COVID-19 public health emergency to cover payroll and other operating costs, including to reimburse costs prior to the award and to account for increased costs due to the emergency, such as implementation of practices related to social distancing, limited group sizes and sanitization. The bill would require subgrant recipients to certify that their operations were impacted by the public health emergency; provide full compensation and benefits to all employees; implement federal and state health guidances; provide relief from copayments and tuition for enrolled families; and prioritize providing care to children whose parents are essential workers or students, homeless children, children with disabilities, foster children and children at risk of abuse or neglect. It would also require agencies to prioritize subgrants to providers that operate during non-traditional hours; operate in communities with a low supply of child care; or serve certain populations, including dual language learners, infants and toddlers, and low-income families.” The bill passed by a vote of 249-163. Additionally, no eligible families will pay more than 7 percent of their income on child care based on a sliding fee scale, regardless of the number of children they have—and many families will pay much less. Families earning below 75 percent SMI would pay nothing.” CLASP, [11/12/21]

Build Back Better Would Guarantee Child Care For 9 Out Of 10 Families With Children Under Age 6. “The Build Back Better Act provides a historic, transformative investment in child care and early education. [...] Under this legislation, 9 out of 10 families with children under age 6 could be eligible for guaranteed child care assistance. Eligible families include those who are income eligible—earning up to 2.5x state median income (SMI)—and who participate in a wide range of eligible activities including employment, job search, job training, education, health treatment, and family or medical leave, among others.” CLASP, [11/12/21]

Build Back Better Would Provide Child Care For 2.2 Million Children In California Between Ages 0 And 5. “The Build Back Better framework will: [...] Provide access to affordable child care. Child care is a major strain for families in California, where the average annual cost of a child care center for an infant is $17,384, meaning that a California family with two young children would on average spend 30% of their income on child care for one year. The lack of affordable options also makes it difficult for parents, and especially mothers, to remain in their jobs, contributing to the 26.2% gender gap in workforce participation between mothers and fathers in California. The Build Back Better framework will enable California to provide access to child care for over 2.2 million young children (ages 0-5) per year from families earning under 2.5 times the California median income (about $233,758 for a family of 4), and ensure these families pay no more than 7% of their income on high-quality child care. The plan will cover the families of 9 in 10 young children in the state.” White House, accessed [5/6/22]

Build Back Better Would Provide Universal Access To Pre-K For Every Three And Four Year Old

Build Back Better Would Provide Universal Access To Pre-K For Every Three And Four Year Old. “The Build Back Better Act provides a historic, transformative investment in child care and early education. [...] The proposal builds on existing state programs to provide federal dollars to support equitable, free, and inclusive access to high quality pre-K for every three- and four-year-old in child care programs, schools, Head Start centers, and family-based settings. It also includes support for raising wages for early educators.” CLASP, [11/12/21]

Build Back Better Would “Expand Access To Free, High-Quality Preschool To More Than 781,000 Additional 3- And 4-Year-Olds Per Year” In California. “The Build Back Better framework will: [...] Provide universal, high-quality, free preschool for every 3- and 4-year old in America. Today, only about 17% 3- and 4-year-olds in California have access to publicly-funded preschool, and it costs about $8,600 per year for those who can’t access a publicly-funded program. The Build Back Better framework will enable California to expand access to free, high-quality preschool to more than 781,000 additional 3- and 4-year-olds per year and increase the quality of preschool for children who are already enrolled. Parents will be able to send their children to the preschool setting of their choice—from public schools to child care providers to Head Start—leading to lifelong educational benefits, allowing more parents to go back to work, and building a stronger foundation for California’s future economic competitiveness.” White House, accessed [5/6/22]

Nov. 2021: Garcia Voted Against The ‘Build Back Better’ Budget Reconciliation Bill. In November 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the fiscal 2022 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, that would provide approximately $2 trillion in investments and tax cuts to address climate change and child care, health care, education, housing and other social policies intended to support families. It would establish a child care and early learning entitlement program, providing approximately $100 billion for the program through fiscal 2024. It would provide $18 billion through fiscal 2024 for a free universal preschool program. It would extend through 2022 the expanded child tax credit provided by prior coronavirus relief law (PL 117-2) and provide $5 billion to administer the credit. It would establish a paid family and medical leave benefit for up to four weeks per year, beginning in 2024. It would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a “maximum fair price” for insulin and select Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition. It would require manufacturers to provide rebates for single-source drugs under Medicare Parts B and D for which prices increase faster than inflation. For Medicare Part D, it would cap annual out-of-pocket limit at $2,000 beginning in 2024. It would establish or extend expanded eligibility for certain tax credits toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums through 2025. It would establish or expand a number of tax credits to incentivize actions by businesses and individuals to mitigate climate change, including to expand credits for renewable energy production and facilities, carbon capture facilities, use of alternative fuels and energy efficiency improvements at residential properties; and to establish individual credits for the purchase of electric vehicles. It would raise royalty rates and fees for oil and gas drilling leases and cancel or ban certain offshore leases. It would provide $29 billion to support the deployment of low- and zero-emission technologies, more than $20 billion for federal climate resiliency and environmental conservation activities and $9 billion for federal procurement of electric vehicles and related infrastructure. It would provide $65 billion for public housing improvements, $24 billion for rental assistance housing vouchers and $15 billion for down payment assistance and loan programs for first-generation homebuyers. It would provide $9.8 billion for local transit projects to support mobility and affordable housing access disadvantaged communities and $9 billion for lead remediation and water line replacement projects. It would forgive all debt owed by the National Flood Insurance Program's debt, for a total of $20.5 billion. It would provide such sums as necessary for the USDA to forgive farm loan debt for economically distressed farmers and ranchers. It would provide $6.6 billion to the Small Business Administration and Minority Business Development Agency to help underrepresented individuals with business development. It would provide $20 billion for Labor and Education department workforce development programs and $1.9 billion for Labor Department worker protection agencies. It would allow individuals who entered the United States prior to Jan. 1, 2011, to receive a grant of parole allowing them to remain temporarily in the country for a period of five years, but no later than Sept. 30, 2021. It would temporarily increase from $10,000 to $80,000 the annual cap on the deduction for state and local taxes for tax years 2021 through 2030. To offset costs, it would establish or modify various taxes on corporations and high-income individuals, including to establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with an annual income exceeding $1 billion; a one percent tax on stock buybacks by public companies; and an additional five percent tax on individual income over $10 million and further three percent tax on income over $25 million. It would provide $78.9 billion to improve IRS operations and tax enforcement.” Passed by a vote of 220-213. HR 5376, [Vote #385, 11/19/21, CQ 11/19/21]

The House Version Of The Build Back Better Act Included Four Weeks Of Paid Leave For All Workers

The House Version Of The Build Back Better Act Included A National Paid Leave Program That Would Give All Workers At Least Four Weeks Of Paid Leave. “The Build Back Better Act [...] includes federal investments in a first-ever permanent national paid family and medical leave program. A national commitment to paid family and medical leave would set a floor, guaranteeing paid leave for the first time to an estimated 18.5 million workers each year who do not have paid family or medical leave through their jobs to care for a new child, a seriously ill or injured loved one, or address their own serious health condition. [...] The House proposal includes four work weeks, or 20 working days, of paid leave benefits for providing or receiving care in a year. The time can be used all at once or intermittently (banked in one-hour increments called a ‘caregiving hour’). A minimum of four caregiving hours in any given week is required in order to receive a benefit for that week.” New America, [11/12/21]

New America Stated That Paid Leave Would Help Working Families “Defray The High Cost Of Infant Care”

New America: Paid Leave Would Help Working Families “Defray The High Cost Of Infant Care.” “Infant care is the most expensive kind of child care, because it requires more teachers with smaller groups of babies and more one-on-one care than does care for older children. The Care Index found that center-based infant care costs, on average, 12 percent more than care for older children. The Index also found that the average cost of center-based care for infants is more than the cost of in-state tuition at a four-year college in 33 states. [...] Paid leave could help address these issues, and more, by helping families to defray the high cost of infant care and making it easier to combine breadwinning and caregiving responsibilities without penalty.” New America, accessed [6/1/22]

July 2020: Garcia Voted Against HR 2. “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would reauthorize federal-aid highway, public transit, and surface transportation safety and research programs for five years, through fiscal 2025. It would authorize approximately $1.5 trillion for infrastructure projects, including $494 billion for federal highway and surface transportation programs, $100 billion for grants to upgrade facilities for schools with high percentages of low-income students, and over $100 billion for affordable housing development. It would appropriate $100 billion to expand broadband access, particularly for underserved areas and low-income individuals. It would transfer more than $145 billion from the Treasury general fund to the Highway Trust Fund, including $38.6 billion for mass transit. Of funds authorized for surface transportation, it would authorize $257.4 billion for federal-aid highway programs and over $29 billion for Amtrak, through 2025. It would also authorize $40 billion through fiscal 2025 for an Environmental Protection Agency revolving fund that provides grants to states for water infrastructure projects; $25 billion until expended to modernize U.S. Postal Service infrastructure and operations; and $10 billion through fiscal 2025 to upgrade hospital infrastructure, prioritizing projects that emphasize public health emergency preparedness or cybersecurity. It would authorize $20 billion from the aviation trust fund and appropriate an additional $17.5 billion for airport improvement projects, through fiscal 2025. Among other provisions, it would establish a number of grant programs for “green” transportation technologies, including for the procurement of zero emission buses and other vehicles, purchase and installation of zero emission equipment at U.S. ports, and development of electric vehicle charging and hydrogen fueling infrastructure. It would authorize $700 million annually through fiscal 2025 for Energy Department electric grid modernization and security projects. It would reinstate "Build America" bonds to provide subsidies for state and local bond issuers to offer lower interest rates for infrastructure investments. It would provide a number of tax incentives for infrastructure investment, including to expand the low-income housing tax credit program by increasing its base allocation to states and establishing a permanent minimum 4% credit rate for projects financed using tax-exempt bonds. As amended, the bill would require the Transportation Department to expand certain safety protections to passenger, freight, and cargo transportation workers with high exposure risk during the COVID-19 pandemic; grant Transportation Security Administration employees the same collective bargaining rights as other federal employees; and require contractors and subcontractors for certain projects funded by the bill to meet prevailing wage requirements for laborers and mechanics; and prohibit the use of funds for contracts or funding to any entity connected to a foreign company based in certain countries subject to existing trade restrictions, tariffs, and sanctions, including China. Passed 233-188. HR 2 Would Have Invested Over $100 Billion Into Our Nation's Affordable Housing Infrastructure To Create Or Preserve 1.8 Million Affordable Homes. "H.R. 2, the Moving Forward Act, is a more than $1.5 trillion plan to rebuild American infrastructure—not only our roads, bridges, and transit systems, but also our schools, housing, broadband access, and so much more. [...] Invests over $100 billion into our nation's affordable housing infrastructure to create or preserve 1.8 million affordable homes, helping to reduce housing inequality, create jobs, and stimulate the broader economy, increase community and household resiliency in the face of natural disasters, improve hazardous living conditions, and increase the environmental sustainability of our housing stock. - Increases federal investment in low-income housing through a robust expansion of the Low-Income Housing Tax Credit with new, targeted housing incentives for rural and tribal communities and individuals at risk of homelessness. - Establishes a new Neighborhood Investment tax credit that would subsidize certain development costs to encourage the rehabilitation of vacant homes or construction of new homes in distressed areas. The credit requires homes to be owner-occupied and contains other limits meant to maintain affordable housing prices in these communities." ## Garcia Opposed Biden's Proposal For A $500 Million Increase In Homeless Assistance Grants

April 2021: House Republicans Objected To Biden's Proposal For A $500 Million Increase In Homeless Assistance Grants. "Republican appropriators raised objections to a Biden administration push for more aid for the homeless in the coming fiscal year. Biden's discretionary spending request for fiscal 2022 calls for a $500 million increase in homelessness assistance grants, bringing total funding for the program to $3.5 billion. But at a hearing Wednesday of the House Transportation-HUD Appropriations Subcommittee, Republicans questioned Housing and Urban Development Secretary Marcia L. Fudge on why the increase is needed." [CQ Budget Tracker, 4/23/21]

- Garcia Claimed That The $500 Million Increase Was Unnecessary Because The Federal Government Had Already Spent $9 Billion In Homeless Aid Since March 2020. "Only about 6 percent of the $4 billion provided through a March 2020 pandemic relief package (PL 116-136) has been spent so far, said Rep. Mike Garcia, R-Calif. And the relief measure Biden signed last month (PL 117-2) provided an additional $5 billion in homelessness aid. 'If I do the math, 585,000 homeless, if we were to purchase a home for each one of those folks at $250,000 per home, that comes out to $145 billion, which is a small fraction of what we are actually already spending on these programs,' Garcia said." - The Build Back Better Deal Lowered Drug Prices For Seniors By Reducing Co-Pays And Establishing A $2,000 Out-Of-Pocket Limit in Medicare Part D. “Pelosi celebrated the drug-pricing agreement: ‘For a generation, House Democrats have been fighting to deliver real drug price negotiations that will lower costs. With today’s agreement on strong lower drug price provisions for the Build Back Better Act, Democrats have a path forward to make good on this transformational agenda for our seniors.’ She said the deal will lower drug prices for seniors, reduce their out-of-pocket co-pays and establish a $2,000 out-of-pocket limit for seniors’ expenses in Medicare Part D. The bill would also halt price hikes above inflation, which would affect all Americans, she said.” NBC News, [11/2/21]

- The Build Back Better Act Would Cap Insulin Prices At $35 Per Month. “President Biden, citing the “outrageously expensive” cost of insulin and other prescription drugs in the U.S., called on Congress Monday to pass his Build Back Better bill, which contains provisions to lower drug prices. In brief remarks at the White House, the president pointed to the cost of insulin needed to treat Type 1 diabetes, which Biden says affects some 1.5 million Americans, who pay anywhere from $375 to $1,000 per month for the drug. The House-passed measure would cap insulin prices at $35 per month.” NPR, [12/6/21]

June 2020: Garcia Voted Against The State Health Care Premium Reduction Act, Which Would Authorize Maximum Price Negotiations For Prescription Drugs Under Medicare

June 2020: Garcia Voted Against The State Health Care Premium Reduction Act, Which Would Expand Enrollment In And Reduce Consumer Costs For State-And-Federally Operated Affordable Care Act Health Insurance Marketplace; Incentivize Medicaid Expansion By States; And Authorized Maximum Price Negotiations For Prescription Drugs Under Medicare. In June 2020, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would include a number of provisions to expand enrollment in and reduce consumer costs for state- and federally-operated Affordable Care Act health insurance marketplaces; incentivize Medicaid expansion by states; and authorize maximum price negotiations for prescription drugs under Medicare. Title I of the bill would expand eligibility for federal tax subsidies toward insurance premiums and increase the percentage of premiums such subsidies would cover. It would provide $10 billion annually beginning in fiscal 2022 to help states lower costs of ACA plans, including to provide reinsurance payments to health insurance issuers and subsidies to individuals. It would provide $200 million for grants to states to establish and operate state-based ACA health insurance marketplaces; $100 million annually for Health and Human Services Department consumer outreach related to ACA marketplace plans; $100 million annually for the HHS “navigator” program, which helps individuals enroll in qualified plans; and $200 million annually through fiscal 2024 for grants to states to encourage plan enrollment. It would also prohibit implementation of August 2018 regulations related to health insurance plans that are not required to meet ACA patient protection requirements, including short-term, limited-duration plans. Title II of the bill would provide for full federal reimbursement of state Medicaid expansion costs for new enrollees for three years, then gradually decrease the federal medical assistance cost-share to 90% for those enrollees. It would authorize HHS to reduce the federal cost-share percentage for states that do not expand their Medicaid programs by 0.5% quarterly beginning in fiscal 2023, and by 10% beginning July 2027. It would permanently authorize funding for the Children’s Health Insurance Program. It would require Medicaid and CHIP programs to provide at least 12 continuous months of coverage for qualifying individuals and provide one year of coverage for women after the end of a pregnancy. It would allow states to expand eligibility for Medicaid and CHIP programs to include children whose family income exceeds certain amounts, and it would make citizens of the Freely Associated States residing in the U.S. eligible for Medicaid. Title III of the bill would establish a fair price negotiation program under which the Health and Human Services Department would enter into agreements with drug manufacturers to negotiate a “maximum fair price” for insulin and up to 250 other Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition and account for high levels of spending. It would require the department to negotiate the maximum price of at least 25 drugs for 2023 and at least 50 drugs in each subsequent year, with maximum prices not exceeding 120% of a drug’s average international price or 85% of the average manufacturer price for that year. It would subject manufacturers who do not reach a negotiated agreement for a drug to excise taxes based on gross sales of that drug. It would require manufacturers to offer negotiated prices to private health insurers. It would authorize a total of $3 billion through fiscal 2023 for implementation of the price negotiation program. As amended, the bill would authorize $2 billion for National Institutes of Health cancer research and make Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program recipients eligible to enroll in ACA marketplace health plans.” The bill passed 200-179.HR 1425, [Vote #124, 6/29/20; CQ, 6/29/20]

---

2019: Garcia Said That He Was In Favor Of Repealing The Affordable Care Act. “Another Republican in the contest is former Navy combat pilot Mike Garcia of Santa Clarita, now an executive at Raytheon. Like Knight, Garcia opposes abortion and new restrictions on guns, and he supports repeal of the Affordable Care Act. Underwood Jacobs, a bank executive, says she’ll champion fiscal restraint, border security and military strength.” [LA Times, 11/16/19]

2020: Garcia Supported Repealing The Affordable Care Act. “One Democratic ad interspersed the president’s statements downplaying the coronavirus with news accounts of its spread and footage of Garcia extolling Trump’s performance as president. Another said Garcia would fail to protect people with preexisting conditions -- a reference to a statement he made last summer favoring repeal of the Affordable Care Act – ‘and hike up costs for lifesaving drugs.’” [Los Angeles Times, 5/10/20]

Repealing The ACA Would Increase The Cost Of Prescription Drugs By $1,000 Per Year For 5 Million California Seniors While Giving Pharmaceutical Companies An Additional $2.8 Billion. “Striking down the ACA would also transfer billions of dollars from seniors to pharmaceutical companies. Eliminating the ACA’s branded drug fee would cut taxes for pharmaceutical companies by $2.8 billion each year. At the same time, at least 5 million seniors would pay at least $1,000 more per year, on average, for prescription drugs because eliminating the ACA would reopen the Medicare ‘donut hole’: a range of beneficiaries’ drug spending where the Medicare prescription drug benefit initially provided no coverage, requiring beneficiaries to pay 100 percent of the costs.” Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, [11/4/19]

Garcia Voted Against Preventing Sequestration Cuts To Medicare And Providing The Senate With Procedures To Increase The Debt Limit. In December 2021 Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would extend from Dec. 31, 2021, to March 31, 2022, a temporary suspension of the 2 percent annual sequester of Medicare payments, and provide for payment reductions of 1 percent for the period of April 1 through June 30, 2022. As an offset, it would increase sequestration percentages above 2 percent in fiscal 2030. It would also require budget year debit for 2022 to be rolled over to the 2033 scorecards under statutory pay-as-you-go requirements, thus delaying spending cuts to Medicare and other mandatory programs subject to sequestration that would otherwise be triggered in January. It would delay a number of other Medicare payment reductions and policies, including to extend a temporary increase in payment amounts for physicians to provide a 3 percent increase for services furnished in 2022; delay for one year a provision that would phase in payment reductions for clinical diagnostic laboratory tests, prohibiting any reductions for 2021 and 2022 and prohibiting reductions greater than 15 percent for 2023 through 2025; and delay through 2022 the implementation of the Medicare radiation oncology model. It would decrease from $165 million to $101 million funding that may be expended from the Medicare Improvement Fund for fiscal 2021. Finally, the bill would establish procedures to expedite Senate consideration of a joint resolution to increase the debt limit by a specific dollar amount. Specifically, it would provide for a non-debatable motion to proceed to the joint resolution and, if the motion is agreed to, up to 10 hours of debate on the measure with no amendments or other motions in order, immediately followed by a vote on passage. Such procedures would be valid for consideration of one joint resolution by Jan. 16, 2022.” Passed by a vote of 222-212. S 610, [Vote #404, 12/07/21; CQ, 12/07/21]

It would establish a child care and early learning entitlement program, providing approximately $100 billion for the program through fiscal 2024. It would provide $18 billion through fiscal 2024 for a free universal preschool program. It would extend through 2022 the expanded child tax credit provided by prior coronavirus relief law (PL 117-2) and provide $5 billion to administer the credit. It would establish a paid family and medical leave benefit for up to four weeks per year, beginning in 2024. It would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a "maximum fair price" for Insulin and select Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition. It would require manufacturers to provide rebates for single-source drugs under Medicare Parts B and D for which prices increase faster than inflation. For Medicare Part D, it would cap annual out-of-pocket limit at $2,000 beginning in 2024. It would establish or extend expanded eligibility for certain tax credits toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums through 2025. It would establish or expand a number of tax credits to incentivize actions by businesses and individuals to mitigate climate change, including to expand credits for renewable energy production and facilities, carbon capture facilities, use of alternative fuels and energy efficiency improvements at residential properties; and to establish individual credits for the purchase of electric vehicles. It would raise royalty rates and fees for oil and gas drilling leases and cancel or ban certain offshore leases. It would provide $29 billion to support the deployment of low- and zero-emission technologies, more than $20 billion for federal climate resiliency and environmental conservation activities and $9 billion for federal procurement of electric vehicles and related infrastructure. It would provide $65 billion for public housing improvements, $24 billion for rental assistance housing vouchers and $15 billion for down payment assistance and loan programs for first-generation homebuyers. It would provide $9.8 billion for local transit projects to support mobility and affordable housing access disadvantaged communities and $9 billion for lead remediation and water line replacement projects. It would forgive all debt owed by the National Flood Insurance Program’s debt, for a total of $20.5 billion. It would provide such sums as necessary for the USDA to forgive farm loan debt for economically distressed farmers and ranchers. It would provide $6.6 billion to the Small Business Administration and Minority Business Development Agency to help underrepresented individuals with business development. It would provide $20 billion for Labor and Education department workforce development programs and $1.9 billion for Labor Department worker protection agencies. It would allow individuals who entered the United States prior to Jan. 1, 2011, to receive a grant of parole allowing them to remain temporarily in the country for a period of five years, but no later than Sept. 30, 2021. It would temporarily increase from $10,000 to $80,000 the annual cap on the deduction for state and local taxes for tax years 2021 through 2030. To offset costs, it would establish or modify various taxes on corporations and high-income individuals, including to establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with an annual income exceeding $1 billion; a one percent tax on stock buybacks by public companies; and an additional five percent tax on individual income over $10 million and further three percent tax on income over $25 million. It would provide $78.9 billion to improve IRS operations and tax enforcement.” Passed by a vote of 220-213. HR 5376, [Vote #385, 11/19/21, CQ 11/19/21]

Coverage for hearing care would include hearing rehabilitation and treatment services by qualified audiologists, and hearing aids. Hearing aids would be available once per ear, every 5 years, to individuals diagnosed with moderately severe, severe, or profound hearing loss. Hearing services would be subject to the Medicare Part B deductible and 20% coinsurance. Hearing aids would be covered similar to other Medicare prosthetic devices and would also be subject to the Part B deductible and 20% coinsurance. For people in traditional Medicare who have other sources of coverage such as Medigap or Medicaid, their cost sharing for these services might be covered. Payment for hearing aids would only be on an assignment-related basis. As with other Medicare-covered benefits, Medicare Advantage plans would be required to cover these hearing benefits.” Kaiser Family Foundation, [11/23/21]

June 2021: Garcia Voted Against The Protecting Older Workers Against Discrimination Act

June 2021: Garcia Voted Against Protecting Older Workers Against Discrimination Act Of 2021. In June 2021, Garcia Voted Against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would specify a that adverse actions by an employer in which age was a motivating factor shall be considered unlawful under federal employment law regarding age discrimination. It would specify that a complaining party under such law would not be required to demonstrate that age was the sole motivating factor of an adverse action, thus effectively reversing the 2009 Supreme Court decision in Gross v. FBL Financial Services, Inc. It would establish the same standard of proof in the case of employment discrimination based on disability or retaliation against an employee who opposes unlawful employment practices or participates in investigations or litigations related to such practices. In age-based employment discrimination cases where a court determines that an adverse action would have been taken in the absence of age-based motivation, the bill would allow courts to grant declaratory or injunctive relief and attorneys fees, but prohibit courts from awarding damages or ordering reparative actions by the respondent. As amended, it would require the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to submit reports to Congress on the number of age discrimination in employment claims brought under the bill's provisions; disparities faced by individuals with characteristics protected under existing anti-discrimination law in pursuing employment discrimination relief under the mixed-motive evidentiary standard; and the number of pending or filed claims by women impacted by age-based employment discrimination.” The bill passed, 247-178. June 2020: Garcia Voted To Keep A Betsy Devos Education Department Rule That Narrowed The Requirements To Receive Student Loan Forgiveness

---

June 2020: Garcia Voted Against Overriding President Trump's Veto Of Legislation Disapproving Of Education Department's New Rule On Federal Student Loan Forgiveness. In June 2020, Garcia voted against: “Passage, over President Donald Trump's May 29, 2020 veto, of the joint resolution that would provide for congressional disapproval of a September 2019 Education Department rule establishing new policies related to federal student loan forgiveness for borrowers who attended schools that committed fraud or any type of institutional misrepresentation, requiring such borrowers to demonstrate financial harm as a result of the fraud to receive complete or partial cancellation of student loan debt. The rule would also allow for mandatory arbitration agreements related to such claims and require borrowers to file claims within three years of leaving an institution. The rule is currently scheduled to go into effect on July 1, 2020. Under the provisions of the joint resolution, the 2019 rule would have no force or effect, and October 2016 rules that provide for complete cancellation of federal student loan debt for defrauded borrowers would be effectively maintained..” The bill was rejected by a vote of 210-173. - House Democrats Failed To Override Trump's Veto Of A Bill To Overturn The Secretary Of Education's New Rule That Narrowed The Requirements To Receive Student Loan Forgiveness. “The House of Representatives failed to override President Donald Trump's veto of a major student loan forgiveness bill. In a big win for Education Secretary Betsy DeVos, House Democrats failed to override Trump's veto of a major student loan forgiveness bill by a vote of 238-173. A two-thirds majority is required to override a presidential veto. Last month, Trump vetoed congressional legislation that would have overturned a key student loan forgiveness rule drafted by DeVos and the U.S. Education Department. In March, the U.S. Senate voted 53-42 to overturn a new student loan forgiveness rule that critics say would limit student loan forgiveness for students when a college closes due to fraud. [...] DeVos rewrote the rules —which were drafted during the Obama administration — to narrow the requirements to receive student loan forgiveness.” Forbes, [6/27/20]

Garcia Voted Against Measures To Help Veterans

Garcia Voted For GOP Debt Ceiling Legislation That Cut Government Spending By 22%

Garcia Voted For Suspending The Debt Limit Through March 2024 Or Until $1.5 Trillion Has Been Reached And Capping Federal Spending For FY 2024 At 2022 Levels With A Capped 1% Per Year Growth. In April 2023, Garcia voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would suspend the statutory limit on federal debt through March 31, 2024, or until an additional $1.5 trillion has been borrowed — whichever occurs first. It would also include a range of provisions to limit federal spending, as well as the text of a previously passed energy and permitting policy package. The bill would set base discretionary spending limits through fiscal 2033, capping spending for fiscal 2024 at the fiscal 2022 level of $1.47 trillion — a reduction from current spending levels — and raising the cap by 1 percent annually through fiscal 2033. It would also include similar annual cap adjustments for specified programs, including for wildfire suppression, disability reviews and redeterminations, health care fraud and abuse control, and disaster reemployment services and eligibility assessments. The bill would rescind unobligated amounts from various funds provided by the fiscal 2022 reconciliation package (PL 117-169) for COVID-19 relief, IRS enforcement, and certain climate- and infrastructure-focused initiatives, as well as all unobligated funding from the March 2021 coronavirus relief reconciliation package (PL 117-2) and earlier coronavirus response laws. The bill would expand or establish work requirements for Medicaid beneficiaries aged 19 to 55 and raise from 49 to 55 the oldest age at which existing work requirements would apply for Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program beneficiaries. It would also modify various work standards for the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program, including to update the baseline for calculating certain state workforce participation standards and require states to collect certain data related to work outcomes for TANF participants. To limit regulatory spending, the bill would nullify pending executive actions suspending student loan payments and prohibit the Education Department from implementing any substantially similar actions without congressional approval. It would also establish a process to require congressional approval of all “major” federal rules that would have an annual impact of at least $100 million, cause a major increase in prices, or cause significant adverse effects to economic competitiveness. Among energy- and climate-focused provisions, the bill would repeal, phase out or narrow a variety of climate-focused tax credits under the fiscal 2022 reconciliation package, including repealing new credits for solar and wind projects, sustainable aviation fuel and clean fuel production. It would also include the full text of the House-passed energy and permitting package (HR 1) that would require a number of actions to boost the domestic production of fossil fuels and certain critical minerals and accelerate the construction of natural gas pipelines and other energy infrastructure, while reversing or repealing certain presidential actions taken and laws enacted during the Biden administration related to energy policy and climate change.” The bill passed by a vote of 217-215. - New York Times: The Republican Debt Limit Bill Did Not Include Many Specifics On What Government Spending Would Be Cut. “Their bill, which would raise the country’s borrowing limit for a year in exchange for a decade of spending reductions, does not include many specifics. It achieves most of its savings with spending caps for discretionary spending — the part of the budget allocated annually by Congress that is not automatic like Social Security payments — but it doesn’t say what discretionary programs should be cut and which ones should be spared.” New York Times, [5/8/23]
- The House Republican Debt Limit Plan Was Expected To Force 22% In Cuts Across The Federal Government. “The legislation Congressional Republicans introduced sets overall appropriations for Fiscal Year 2024 at the same level as FY 2022. At this level, all appropriated funding—including both defense and domestic programs—would be cut deeply. However, Congressional Republicans have indicated that they are not willing to cut defense funding at all, which means that everything else in annual appropriations—from cancer research, to education, to veterans’ health care—would be cut by much more. The math is simple, but unforgiving. At their proposed topline funding level—and with defense funding left untouched as Republicans have proposed—everything else is forced to suffer enormous cuts. In fact, their bill would force a cut of 22 percent—cuts that would grow deeper and deeper with each year of their plan.” The White House, [4/20/23]

The Legislation Would Have Cut Billions In VA Funding Resulting In Less Outpatient VA Visits And More Vulnerable Vets

Cutting Federal Spending By 22% Meant 31 Million Fewer Veteran Outpatient Visits And 81,000 Layoffs Across The Veterans Health Administration, Leaving Vets Vulnerable. “Cutting funding by 22 percent would mean 30 million fewer veteran outpatient visits, and 81,000 jobs lost across the Veterans Health Administration—leaving veterans unable to get appointments for care including wellness visits, cancer screenings, mental health services, and substance use disorder treatment.” The White House, [4/20/23]

Recouping Unspent Pandemic Aid Was Expected To Take Away Billions From The VA That Would Limit The Availability Of Healthcare Services For Veterans. “Democrats are jumping on the House GOP plan to recoup unspent pandemic aid in their debt limit bill, charging that the move will harm agencies counting on that funding, including the Department of Veterans Affairs. [...] But few issues carry the political resonance as potential cuts to veterans benefits, and Democrats have been aiming their fire particularly at over $2 billion sitting in VA health accounts that the debt limit bill would cancel. Rescinding that money would “dramatically limit the ability for VA to provide healthcare services both within and outside of VA by clawing back needed funding for medical care,” according to the Democrats’ memo.” Roll Call, [4/25/23]

Sept. 2021: Garcia Voted Against Strengthening Consumer Protections Related To Medical Debt And Credit Reporting For Service Members

Sept. 2021: Garcia Voted Against An Amendment That Would Strengthen Service Member Consumer Protections Related To Medical Debt And Credit Reporting. In September 2021, Garcia voted against: “Tlaib, D-Mich., amendment no. 11 that would strengthen servicemember consumer protections with regard to medical debt collections and credit reporting, including by prohibiting the collection of medical debt for two years after a first payment is due and prohibiting debt arising from medically necessary procedures from ever appearing on servicemember credit reports.” The amendment was adopted 222 to 203. ### Garcia Twice Voted Against Investing Veterans’ Administration Construction

July 2020: Garcia Voted Against $115.5 Billion For The Veterans Affairs Department, Military Construction, And Related Agencies

Garcia Voted Against $115.5 billion For The Veterans Affairs Department, Military Construction, And Related Agencies. In July 2020, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the fiscal 2021 State-Foreign Operations, Agriculture, Military Construction-VA, and Interior-Environment appropriations package, as amended, that would provide $259.5 billion in discretionary funding for four of the twelve fiscal 2021 appropriations bills, including $65.9 billion for the State Department and related agencies, $24 billion for the Agriculture Department and related agencies, $115.5 billion for the Veterans Affairs Department, military construction, and related agencies, and $36.8 billion for the Interior Department, Environmental Protection Agency, and related agencies. Within total funding, the bill would provide $8.35 billion in overseas contingency operations funding and $37.5 billion in emergency funding related to the COVID-19 pandemic, veterans’ healthcare, and infrastructure projects, not subject to discretionary spending caps.” The motion passed 224 to 189. June 2020: Garcia Voted Against $3.4 Billion In Additional Funding For Veterans Affairs Construction

---

Garcia Voted Against Providing For Consideration Of H.R. 2, A $1.5 Trillion Infrastructure Package As Well As $3.4 Billion In Additional Funding For VA Construction, And Increasing Funding For The Forest Service And DOT Research Projects. In June 2020, Garcia voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 1028) that would provide for House floor consideration of the $1.5 trillion infrastructure package (HR 2). It would provide for automatic adoption of a DeFazio, D-Ore., manager’s amendment that would, among other provisions, require contractors and subcontractors for certain projects funded by the bill to meet federal prevailing wage requirements for laborers and mechanics; authorize $3.4 billion for Veterans Affairs Department construction and maintenance efforts; grant Transportation Security Administration employees the same collective bargaining rights as other federal employees; double the cap for the U.S. Forest Service reforestation trust fund to $60 million per fiscal year; and authorize $30 million annually from fiscal 2022 through 2025 for the Transportation Department to establish a demonstration program for advanced transportation technologies in small- and mid-sized communities. The rule would also provide for floor consideration of a total of 170 amendments to the measure, including 167 amendments contained in six en bloc packages and three standalone amendments.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 222-183. ### Garcia Has Improperly Failed To Disclose Financial Assets While Funneling Personal Wealth Into His Own Congressional Campaign

Garcia Traded Up To $50,000 Of Boeing Stock A Month Before A Committee He Sat On Published A Damning Report On Boeing – Garcia’s Stock Trading Habits Have Been Notably Shady

Garcia Traded Up To $50,000 Of Boeing Stock A Month Before A Committee He Sat On Released A Damning Report On Boeing, Then Garcia Failed To Report The Trade Until After The Election He Narrowly Won. “The congressional stock trading scandal of 2020 claimed its share of political victims, but one member’s curiously well-timed trades that year flew under the radar—because he appears to have broken the law about disclosing them. In August 2020, Rep. Mike Garcia (R-CA) sold up to $50,000 in shares of aerospace giant Boeing, weeks before his committee released the damning results of its investigation into deadly crashes involving the company’s 737 Max airliner. But while other incumbent campaigns were dogged by blockbuster stock scandals that year, the Garcia campaign never had to answer for this trade. That’s because Garcia blew the mandated deadline to report the transaction, only filing the paperwork on Nov. 23—more than two months after the 45-day reporting window had closed. When he finally did disclose the sale, it was two weeks after the 2020 general election votes were cast, and three days after Garcia declared victory. He won by 333 votes.” Daily Beast, [12/13/23]

- Ethics Experts Called The Trade A Blatant Violation Of Congressional Ethics Rules. “Legal experts called the delay an ‘egregious’ ethics violation, and they said the circumstances of the stock sale raise concerns about whether Garcia was using his government position to trade on privileged inside information. Delaney Marsco, senior counsel for ethics at nonpartisan watchdog Campaign Legal Center, called Garcia’s reporting ‘just a blatant violation’ of congressional ethics rules. ‘You can’t file transaction reports after that period,’ Delaney told The Daily Beast. ‘When members file late, this is the cost—it deprives voters of the information to assess it themselves.” Daily Beast, [12/13/23]

- The STOCK Act Required Members Of Congress To Report Stock Transactions Within 45 Days. “In addition, the Representative Louise McIntosh Slaughter Stop Trading on Congressional Knowledge Act (STOCK Act) amended the EIGA to add a requirement for Members, officers, and certain employees of the House to report certain securities transactions over $1,000 within 30 days of notice of the transaction, but in no case later than 45 days after the transaction. These STOCK Act filings are known as Periodic Transaction Reports (PTRs).” House Committee on Ethics, [CY 2020]

Garcia Also Failed To Report Owning Any Boeing Stock On His Previous Financial Disclosures. “But it’s unclear how Garcia was selling those stocks in the first place. That’s because neither of his annual reports—one as a candidate in 2019 and the other as a member in June 2020—listed any individual stocks at all, which Marsco and Libowitz cited as another apparent violation. As a result, voters who carried Garcia to victory in the special election in May would have had the impression that Garcia didn’t own any stocks. The public could only have learned that Garcia actually held stakes in Apple, Boeing, Starbucks, Tesla, Uber, UBS, and VanEck Vectors Oil Services from PTRs that Garcia filed later in 2020, which reported sales of those holdings. And Garcia appears to have withheld some of that crucial information until after the election.” Daily Beast, [12/13/23]

The House Committee On Transportation And Infrastructure Released A Report Critical Of Boeing Safety And Design Of Their 737 MAX Planes

On September 16th, 2020, The House Committee On Transportation And Infrastructure Released Its Final Report On Its Boeing 737 MAX Investigation. “Today, Chair of the House Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure Peter DeFazio (D-OR) and Chair of the Subcommittee on Aviation Rick Larsen (D-WA) released the Committee’s final report on the Boeing 737 MAX. This report, prepared by Majority Staff, lays out the serious flaws and missteps in the design, development, and certification of the aircraft, which entered commercial service in 2017 before suffering two deadly crashes within five months of each other that killed a total of 346 people, including eight Americans. The Committee’s 238-page report, which points to repeated and serious failures by both The Boeing Company (Boeing) and the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), contains five central themes and includes more than six dozen investigative findings.” House Transportation And Infrastructure Democrats, [9/16/20]

- The Report Claimed Boeing Withheld Crucial Information From The FAA, Its Customers, And 737 MAX Pilots About Safety Flaws. “Culture of Concealment. Boeing withheld crucial information from the FAA, its customers, and 737 MAX pilots, including internal test data that revealed it took a Boeing test pilot more than 10 seconds to diagnose and respond to uncommanded MCAS activation in a flight simulator, a condition the pilot described as ‘catastrophic.’ Federal guidelines assume pilots will respond to this condition within four seconds.” House Transportation And Infrastructure Democrats, [9/16/20]
- The Report Also Claimed Boeing Made Faulty Design And Performance Assumptions About Its 737 MAX Aircraft. “Faulty Design and Performance Assumptions. Boeing made fundamentally faulty assumptions about critical technologies on the 737 MAX, most notably with MCAS, the software designed to automatically push the airplane’s nose down in certain conditions. Boeing also expected that pilots, who were largely unaware that MCAS existed, would be able to mitigate any potential malfunction.” House Transportation And Infrastructure Democrats, [9/16/20]

Two Watchdog Organizations Filed Ethics Complaints Against Garcia, Calling For Investigations Into His Stock Trades

Two Ethics Complaints Were Filed Against Garcia, Calling For Investigations Into His Well-Timed Stock Trades. “Several lawmakers had to answer for well-timed stock trades amid the 2020 pandemic, but newly elected Rep. Mike Garcia (R-CA) was not one of them—until now. On Wednesday, watchdog group Citizens for Responsibility and Ethics in Washington filed a complaint with the Office of Congressional Ethics, accusing Garcia of breaking disclosure laws and the STOCK Act when he failed to properly report multiple transactions in the run-up to the 2020 election—including the sale of Boeing stock weeks before a committee he sat on released a damning report about the firm’s role in deadly crashes involving its 737 MAX airliner. The CREW filing is the second complaint against Garcia in a week, prompted by The Daily Beast’s reporting on the transactions last Wednesday, following a complaint from Democratic transparency advocacy organization End Citizens United last Friday, alleging that Garcia broke multiple ethics rules, violated the STOCK Act, and potentially engaged in insider trading with the Boeing sale.” The Daily Beast, [12/20/23]

June 2021: Mike Garcia Purchased GameStop Stock, Several Months After Investigations Began Into Market Manipulation Surrounding The Stock

February-March 2021: Federal Prosecutors And The House Financial Services Committee Investigated Possible Market Manipulation After A Surge In GameStop Trading

February 2021: Federal Prosecutors Launched An Investigation Into Market Manipulation After A Surge In GameStop Trading. “Federal prosecutors are investigating whether market manipulation or other types of criminal misconduct fueled the rapid rise last month in prices of stocks such as GameStop Corp. and AMC Entertainment Holdings Inc., according to people familiar with the matter. The Justice Department’s fraud section and the San Francisco U.S. attorney’s office have sought information about the activity from brokers and social-media companies that were hubs for the trading frenzy, the people said. Prosecutors have subpoenaed information from brokers such as Robinhood Markets Inc., the popular online brokerage that many individual investors used to trade GameStop and other shares, the people said.” Wall Street Journal, [2/11/21]

February 2021: The House Financial Services Committee Held Its First Hearing About The GameStop Controversy. “The ‘meme stock’ saga that began with wild swings in the price of GameStop stock last month opened a new chapter today: a House Financial Services Committee hearing with questioning of players involved in major aspects of the story. [...] ‘The market volatility surrounding GameStop has highlighted how many people feel that the cards are stacked against them,’ said Committee Chairwoman Maxine Waters. Waters titled the hearing titled ‘Game Stopped? Who Wins and Loses When Short Sellers, Social Media, and Retail Investors Collide.’” NPR, [2/18/21]

March 2021: The House Financial Services Committee Held Its Second Hearing Surrounding The Trading Of GameStop’s Stock. “The House Financial Services Committee’s second hearing on the January stock market frenzy surrounding GameStop again focused on the practice that had given rise to commission-free trading apps and allowed trading by individual investors to boom.” New York Times, [3/17/21]

Garcia Used “Ballot Harvesting” To Help Win His Congressional Seat, But Then Criticized The Practice After He Was Elected

Garcia Used “Ballot Harvesting” To Help Him Win Election To Congress In 2020

2020 Special Election: Garcia “Successfully” Used Ballot Harvesting, Whereby Ballots Could Be Picked Up By Third Parties And Dropped Off At Election Sites On Behalf Of Consenting Voters

2020: Garcia Planned To Deploy “Ballot Harvesting,” In Which Ballots Can Be Picked Up From Voters By Campaigns And Dropped Off At Election Sites, During The 2020 Election. “At the tavern, Garcia told his supporters his path to victory includes energizing new voters such as evangelicals who have been sitting out elections, along with driving a strong turnout in Republican-rich Simi Valley. He also plans to deploy widespread

‘ballot harvesting’ that was used by Democrats with great effect in 2018, in which ballots can be picked up from voters by campaigns and dropped off at election sites, much like a piece of mail.” [NBC - 10 WLSL, 2/2/20]

Washington Examiner: Garcia “Successfully” Used Ballot Harvesting, Which Involved A Third Party Collecting And Casting Ballots For Consenting Voters Who Already Filled Out Their Own Ballots, During The 2020 Special Election. “After losing seven seats in the last midterm election, California Republicans have built up their get-out-the-vote operations to avoid another wipeout. This included establishing a ‘ballot harvesting’ or ‘ballot collection’ operation to compete with Democrats, who have proven better at the campaign, which involves a third party collecting and casting ballots for consenting voters who already filled out their own ballots. This process became legal in the state in 2016, and the Garcia campaign used it successfully during the special election. According to Garcia, their campaign followed all regulations during their own ballot collection deployments.” [Washington Examiner, 5/14/20]

Garcia: Ballot Harvesting Is “Legal Because It’s Legal”

Garcia: Ballot Harvesting Is “Legal Because It’s Legal.” ““In the wake of stay-at-home orders, we’ve been very focused on staying compliant, and so we [had] not been doing the door-to-door canvassing, but we were in a position to do so, and that was obviously a lesson learned from 2018,” Garcia told the Washington Examiner in an interview Monday, just before he beat Democratic Assemblywoman Christy Smith to serve out the remainder of the term of former Rep. Katie Hill, a Democrat who resigned in November. ‘The value of the volunteers is that you do have an army to help you now go door to door. You have an army to make phone calls to get the vote out,’ Garcia said. ‘So the bottom line is, it’s legal, and because it’s legal, we need to be able to operate on that coordinate system on that playing field just as well as the Democrats have been able to do it in previous elections.’” [Washington Examiner, 5/14/20]

---

Nunes: “Even Though We Don’t Like” Ballot Harvesting “We Are Forced To Have To Ballot Harvest Because It’s The Only Way To Win.” “Mr. Trump pointed to California, which allows a practice known as ‘ballot harvesting’ in which volunteers can collect other people’s absentee ballots, as a prime example. Rep. Devin Nunes said on Wednesday that Democrats have forced the GOP to adopt the tactic or get left behind. ‘Even though we don’t like it, we don’t want to, but we are forced to have to ballot harvest because it’s the only way to win,’ the California Republican said on Fox News.” [Washington Times, 5/15/20]

- Nunes: Garcia Was In Good Shape To Win Re-Election In 2020 If He Had A Good Ballot Harvesting Operation. “Republican Mike Garcia defeated Democrat Christy Smith in a special congressional election in California this week that was conducted largely by mail. ‘As long as we have a robust ballot harvesting operation in November, and I hate saying that because it’s illegal in 49 states, I think Mike Garcia is in good shape to hold onto that seat,’ Mr. Nunes said.” [Washington Times, 5/15/20]

2021: Garcia Criticized The Practice Of “Ballot Harvesting” Soon After He Was Elected To Congress

---

April 2021: Garcia Claimed Ballot Harvesting Eroded Californians’ Trust In The Election Process

---

April 2021: Garcia Said “California’s Failed Election Policies” Including “Ballot Harvesting” Had Of “Eroded The Public’s Trust In The Election Process.” “One of Garcia’s top priorities in Congress is working to restore election integrity as he has seen how California’s failed election policies, such as no I.D. required to vote, same day voter registration, and ballot harvesting have eroded the public’s trust in the election process. H.R. 1 would upload California’s failed election policies to the federal level and would also use taxpayer dollars to fund political campaigns. Garcia is committed to working to provide real solutions to election integrity and stopping policies like H.R. 1, which further erode American's confidence in the election process." Rep. Mike Garcia, Press Release, [4/6/21]

July 2021: Garcia Praised The Supreme Court's Decision Upholding Arizona's Ban On "Ballot Harvesting" And Referenced His Work "Co-Chairing The Election Integrity Caucus"

I'm co-chairing the Election Integrity Caucus in Congress because it is imperative that we safeguard our elections and ensure states are able to... administer their own electoral systems. Garcia Took Campaign Cash From Political Committees Associated With High-Profile Figures Implicated In Sexual Misconduct

Garcia Accepted Money From A Steve Wynn-Funded Joint Fundraising Committee After Wynn Was Accused Of A Decades-Long Pattern Of Sexual Misconduct

Multiple Republican Politicians Returned Campaign Contributions From Casino Mogul Steve Wynn After He Was Accused Of A Decades-Long Pattern Of Sexual Misconduct, Including Pressuring Employees To Perform Sex Acts. “When billionaire casino mogul and top Republican donor Steve Wynn was accused of a decades-long pattern of sexual misconduct in the midst of the #MeToo movement, elected officials across the country quickly distanced themselves from him. The news broke in January 2018, and some Republicans immediately called on their colleagues to return donations from Wynn, who was accused of pressuring employees to perform sex acts. Sen. Susan Collins told CNN, ‘I don't even think it's a close call to return the money.’ Sen. Lindsey Graham also chimed in: ‘We should do of ourselves what we ask of the Democratic Party. So I don't think we should have a double standard for ourselves.’” [Los Angeles Times, 5/5/21]

- Garcia Accepted Campaign Contributions From A Wynn-Funded Joint Fundraising Committee During The 2020 Election Cycle. “Within months, Wynn started to donate again, and by 2020, he was once again a major GOP donor, giving millions of dollars to conservative super PACs, President Trump's reelection campaign, candidates and state Republican parties across the nation. This year, Wynn gave more than three-quarters of a million dollars to a joint fundraising committee aimed at helping Republicans retake control of the U.S. House of Representatives, and that group donated to dozens of incumbents across the country, including nearly every member of California's GOP delegation to Congress. The recipients include Reps. Mike Garcia of Santa Clarita and David Valadao of Hanford, whose seats will be hotly contested in next year's midterm elections because they are key to GOP hopes to retake control of the House.” [Los Angeles Times, 5/5/21]

Garcia Refused To Donate $2,000 His Campaign Received From Matt Gaetz’s Campaign To Charity After Allegations Surfaced That Gaetz Broke Federal Sex Trafficking Laws, Saying He Would Only Donate The Money If Gaetz Was “Indicted Or Resigns”

Garcia Accepted $2,000 In Campaign Contributions From Matt Gaetz During The 2020 Election Cycle

Garcia Accepted $2,000 In Campaign Contributions From Matt Gaetz During The 2020 Election Cycle. “The New York Times reported last week that Gaetz is under investigation by the Department of Justice over whether he had a sexual relationship with a 17-year-old and paid for her to travel with him. It is against federal laws to transport minors across state lines to engage in sex in exchange for money or something of value. [...] Valadao isn't the only California congressman who received money from Gaetz. Reps. Mike Garcia, R-Santa Clarita, Doug LaMalfa, R-Richvale, and Darrell Issa, R-San Marcos, also each received $2,000 donations from Friends of Matt Gaetz in the 2020 election.” [Fresno Bee, 4/5/21] investigation related to allegations that he broke federal sex trafficking laws. Rep. David Valadao, R-Hanford, said Friday he would be donating any contributions given to him by Gaetz, R-Florida, to a Fresno organization that supports victims of domestic abuse. ‘The Valadao for Congress Campaign has donated the contributions to the Marjaree Mason Center in Fresno to support victims of domestic abuse,’ said Andrew Renteria, spokesman for Valadao's campaign.” [Fresno Bee, 4/5/21]

April 2021: Garcia Said He Would Donate Matt Gaetz’s Campaign Contributions To A Women’s Shelter If Gaetz Was “Indicted Or Resigns.” “Rep. John Katko (R-N.Y.) on Thursday told Forbes he donated a $2,000 campaign contribution from the campaign committee of scandal-plagued Rep. Matt Gaetz (R-Fla.) to a local charity, the third House Republican to do so – though others indicated they have no plans to return their donations. [...] But others have said they won’t give away the money while a Department of Justice probe into Gaetz is ongoing, including Reps. Maria Salazar (R-Fla.), Brian Mast (R-Fla.) and Mike Garcia (R-Calif.), who told Forbes Gaetz ‘deserves due process’ but that if he’s indicted or resigns, he will donate the money to a women’s shelter.” Forbes, [4/15/21]

The debate actually matters. The policies matter.’ A full House vote was not expected Friday, but Garcia said if the nominee was within 20 votes it could move to the floor quickly to pressure holdouts. ‘In the end, I think the great equalizer is the floor, and the great clarifier is the floor, the lights, the pressure and the public opinion.’ Garcia acknowledged Jordan’s pugnacious style and hard right conservative politics might make him less palatable to moderates and members in swing districts. His district voted for Biden in 2020. ‘I can tell you [my constituents] priority is that we have a functioning government. And if that means that I support someone that may be more conservative than me and may be a political lightning rod, but I’m willing to do that, especially if he’s the only candidate.’” WBUR, [10/13/23]

Headline: “Orphaned By McCarthy, California Republicans Stand Alone.” “Rep. Kevin McCarthy’s unceremonious ouster and the ensuing weeks of morass landed a one-two blow to California Republicans representing Biden-won House districts. Not only did the half-dozen GOP members in swing seats lose their loyal patron, but each also voted to install, as McCarthy’s replacement, a hardliner in Ohio Republican Jim Jordan. He fell way short and gave up on the speakership, but not before California’s GOP delegation all put themselves on the record with a vote Democrats are salivating to use in next year’s elections. ” Politico, [10/24/23]

Garcia Supported Impeaching President Biden

Garcia On Biden Impeachment: “I Think We’ve Got Enough Substantiation For It To Move Forward, We’ve Got Critical Mass.” “‘I think we’ve got enough substantiation for it to move forward, we’ve got critical mass,’ said Rep. Mike Garcia (R-Calif.), who represents a district Biden carried by nearly 13 points in 2020. ‘What I tell my constituents is we seek clarity, right, I think that’s what most Americans want is clarity. So let’s go get all the facts and data behind it. We’ve gotten some but not everything that we want to see.’” The Hill, [9/12/23]

- Garcia Initially Declined To Comment On Biden’s Impeachment. “House Speaker Kevin McCarthy said Tuesday that he is directing a House committee to open an impeachment inquiry into President Biden. But the GOP’s narrow majority in the House is at risk in the 2024 election, and the move toward impeaching Biden — especially without compelling evidence of high crimes or misdemeanors — will put the chamber’s most vulnerable Republicans in a tough spot. Impeachment is unpopular in the 18 districts that Biden won in 2020 that are held by House Republicans, according to an August poll commissioned by the Congressional Integrity Project, a Democratic-aligned nonprofit. Five of those districts are in California, represented by John Duarte of Modesto, Young Kim of La Habra, David Valadao of Hanford, Michelle Steel of Seal Beach and Mike Garcia of Santa Clarita. [...] California’s five most vulnerable GOP incumbents don’t seem to want to discuss impeachment. Their offices all declined to comment or did not respond when The Times reached out last week to ask about it.” LA Times, [9/12/23]

Garcia Said He Would Have Voted For An Impeachment Inquiry. “Yet moderate Republicans representing districts that Biden won in 2020 over Trump and who are most at risk in next year’s election generally were supportive of McCarthy’s decision to launch the impeachment probe. ‘I would have voted for it,’ Rep. Mike Garcia, R-Calif., said about the impeachment inquiry. Garcia said, ‘There’s smoke there so we have a requirement to go investigate that and see if there’s fire there.’ Rep. Nick LaLota of New York, another one of the Republicans from districts Biden won, said he wasn’t worried about any backlash back home. ‘I think my constituents deserve some answers,’ he said.” Spectrum News, [9/13/22]

Garcia Claimed That His Electoral Victories Were Evidence That Impeaching Biden Was Not Unpopular With Swing Voters. “For months, House Republicans were split on whether to pursue impeachment against President Biden. Some of the most outspoken GOP opponents of impeachment came from the most competitive House districts that could decide control of the House in 2024. But after House Speaker Kevin McCarthy announced an impeachment inquiry was happening, many of these lawmakers said they support the probe. NPR congressional correspondent Deirdre Walsh reports. [...] MIKE GARCIA: There’s smoke there, right? So we have a requirement to go investigate that to see if there’s actually fire there. WALSH: But the three committees who have been investigating the president and his family for months have not found any direct link between the president's son's business income and the president. Garcia pushes back at the idea that investigating the president without first showing that link is a bad idea politically. (SOUNDBITE OF ARCHIVED RECORDING) GARCIA: There seems to be this national narrative that people in swing districts don't want accountability and truth, right? That's not the case. There's a reason why I still win in a district that Biden won in 13%. WALSH: The head of the House Republicans' campaign arm, Richard Hudson, who has been arguing impeachment wasn't a top-tier issue with voters, agrees now it's OK to move ahead with it." Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez, Ilhan Omar, and Rashida Tlaib; mused that a space laser aligned with Jewish financial interests caused devastating wildfires in California; and aligned herself with QAnon, a baseless belief about an anti-Trump ‘deep state’ that engages in child sex trafficking and satanism.” Roll Call, [2/4/21]

Garcia Voted Against Stripping Marjorie Taylor Greene Of Her Congressional Committee Posts. “The Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee [...] rolled out a television and digital ad Monday in English and Spanish tying Valadao to lightning-rod GOP Rep. Garcia Voted Against Censuring Rep. Paul Gosar, R-Arizona And Condemning “Threats Of Violence.” In November 2021 Garcia voted against: “Agreeing to the resolution, as amended, that would censure Rep. Paul Gosar R-Ariz., and remove him from his assignments on the House Oversight and Reform and Natural Resources committees for posting a manipulated video on his social media accounts depicting himself killing Rep. Ocasio-Cortez D-N.Y., and attacking President Joe Biden. It would require Gosar to present himself in the well of the House for the pronouncement of censure. The resolution would condemn ‘threats of violence’ against members of Congress and the president, stating that ‘depictions of violence can foment actual violence and jeopardize the safety of elected officials.’” Passed by a vote of 223-207. Ocasio-Cortez And Attacking President Biden. “The House of Representatives voted Wednesday to approve a resolution that censures Rep. My dad immigrated here from Mexico when he was nine years old. I had the opportunity to serve my country in the US Navy, flying the most powerful strike fighter jets in the world the F 18 off aircraft carriers and combat operations. And now I’m sitting here as a member of Congress on the on the lawn of the White House. I’d like to just echo the President’s comments that now is the time where we need to unite as Americans and really realize what this fight is all about. It’s about freedom. It’s about liberties. It’s about fighting like it’s 1776 all over again. That’s how real this fight is. So I’m proud to be here. I’m proud to be serving my country again at this most critical time in our nation’s history. #### March 2021: Garcia Voted Against Closing The Charleston Loophole

March 2021: Garcia Voted Against Extending The Timeframe For FBI Notification On Background Checks To 20 Days, From Three Days Under Current Law. In March 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would require a licensed gun dealer to wait up to 20 business days, as opposed to three under current law, for notification from the FBI regarding an individual’s background check before completing the sale or transfer of a firearm. Specifically, it would allow a prospective gun purchaser to petition the Justice Department to complete the sale after 10 days if no determination on their eligibility has been made through the National Instant Criminal Background Check System and allow the dealer to complete the transaction an additional 10 days after the petition is submitted. It would also require the Government Accountability Office, FBI and Justice Department to submit a number of reports regarding the bill’s effectiveness and implementation, including on the number of petitions not adjudicated within the second 10-day period and the bill’s effect on the safety of victims of domestic violence and sexual assault.” The bill passed by a vote of 219-210. H.R. 8 would expand background checks on individuals seeking to purchase or transfer firearms, and the Enhanced Background Checks Act of 2021 would close the ‘Charleston loophole,’ a gap in federal law that lets gun sales proceed without a completed background check if three businesses days have passed [...] The other bill passed Thursday, H.R. 1446, is linked to a shooting in 2015 in Charleston, South Carolina, where a white supremacist used the loophole to obtain firearms he used to kill nine Black people during a Bible study at Mother Emanuel AME Church.” USA Today, [3/11/21]

March 2021: Garcia Voted Against Expanding Background Checks To Include Most Gun Sales, Including Those Between Private Parties. In March 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would require most purchasers of firearms to undergo a background check through the FBI National Instant Criminal Background Check System. Specifically, beginning 180 days after enactment, it would require any individual seeking to transfer a firearm to first bring the firearm to a licensed dealer. It would require the dealer to take possession of the firearm, complete a background check on the transferee, and return the firearm to its original owner if the transaction is denied. The bill would make a number of exceptions to the requirement, including for loans or gifts between family members; temporary transfers for hunting, use on a shooting range, or pest control by farmers; temporary transfers to prevent imminent death or bodily harm, including self-harm; and transfers to law enforcement personnel, private security professionals, or members of the armed forces, if associated with official duties.” The bill passed by a vote of 227-203. - HR 8 Would Expand The Cases Where A Background Check Is Required For Gun Sales, Closing The “Gun Show Loophole.” “H.R. 8, a background checks package meant to enhance reviews of those seeking firearms, would not create a registry or other federal mechanisms for review. Instead, the legislation would expand the cases in which a background check is required for the sale or transfer of a firearm, including for private individuals and groups, closing the ‘Gun Show Loophole.’ The requirements would apply to online sales. The bill would make it illegal for anyone who is not a licensed firearm importer, manufacturer or dealer to trade or sell firearms to another person; current federal law requires background checks only for licensed gun dealers.” USA Today, [3/11/21]

There’s no age limit. You can be a 40-year-old convicted felon and you fell under the auspices of the Hope and DREAM Act and that’s one of the problems. They create these acts and they use the language and it’s a political thing, right, so probably both parties are guilty of it in the same way. You give it a name that sounds like what everyone wants-- the American Promise Act or the PATRIOT Act. And that’s one of the problems we’re seeing on that right now. An amendment to stop my colleagues across the aisle from cutting funding for our border wall. We still have a crisis on our southern border, and we need to stop illegal drugs from entering our country. An amendment to support innovation in the gas industry. American energy is clean, affordable, and efficient. We must capitalize on our American energy dominance to rebuild our economy, expand trade, and create stable jobs. And an amendment to make sure our police remain funded. We cannot let our liberal colleagues defund the police. This overcorrection will lead our country to a dark place. Our police officers protect our communities and keep us safe. I am proud to support our police.” Congressional Record, [7/23/20]

Aug. 2019: Garcia Supported “Fully” Funding Building A Wall “Across The Entire” The U.S.-Mexico Border

Aug. 2019: Garcia Said He Was In Favor Of Fully Funding The Construction Of A Southern Wall “ACROSS THE ENTIRE BORDER.” “I visited the US Mexico border and border patrol facilities near Yuma, Arizona in July. I wanted to see the situation on the ground first hand and get the facts and data straight from the experts. This video is focused on the border barrier itself. (See full video on Facebook @ElectMikeGarcia) I was surprised to learn that there are 4 different types of ‘walls’ within a few miles on the border. The old structures are ineffective. But I was encouraged to see the new 3 layer system making good progress: This section of the border has yet to be penetrated with the new system in place. Wherever the triple layered fence has been built, illegal drug traffic has dropped to ZERO. THIS NEEDS TO BE FULLY FUNDED AND COMPLETED ACROSS THE ENTIRE BORDER! @repkatiehill is for open borders and turning California into a sanctuary state. I firmly stand behind securing the border and enforcing our laws!" mikegarcia2020, Instagram, [8/26/19]

When Trump Threatened To Cut Federal Funding For So-Called Sanctuary Cities, Funding For Law Enforcement Was Imperiled

---

Trump’s Executive Order Withheld Federal Funds From The Department Of Justice And Homeland Security For So-Called “Sanctuary Cities.” “Trump’s Jan. 25 executive order asked the Departments of Justice and Homeland Security to withhold ‘federal funds, except as mandated by law’ from sanctuary cities. This unclear wording that puzzled elected officials and municipal attorneys. Homeland Security funds could include money allocated to cities for counterterrorism.” Washington Post, [1/18/17]

What’s at stake? [...] New York received about $53 million from the Justice Department in fiscal 2017, according to city officials. That’s a small fraction of its total budget. The bulk of the funds went to the police and corrections departments for crime lab equipment, drug and gang task forces, crime prevention and domestic violence programs. #### Garcia Co-Sponsored A Bill Allowing Crime Victims In A Sanctuary City To Sue The City If An Undocumented Immigrant Committed The Crime And The City Ignored A Detainer Request

Garcia Co-Sponsored A Bill Allowing Crime Victims In A Sanctuary City To Sue The City If An Undocumented Immigrant Committed The Crime And The City Ignored A Detainer Request. “A congressman representing parts of northern Los Angeles County announced today he is co-sponsoring a bill that would allow victims of crimes committed by immigrants in the country without legal permission in Los Angeles and other so-called ‘sanctuary cities’ to sue the city if it did not honor an immigration detainer request from the U.S. Department of Homeland Security. Rep. Mike Garcia, R-Santa Clarita, said in a statement he is co-sponsoring the Justice for Victims of Sanctuary Cities Act to hold cities ‘accountable for their inactions.’ The bill was first introduced in the Senate by Sen. Thom Tillis, R-North Carolina, in July 2019.” [City News Service, 2/8/21]

- Sanctuary Cities Limited Local Authorities’ Cooperation With Federal Law Enforcement On Immigration Enforcement. “The term sanctuary city generally applies to municipalities that limit cooperation with federal authorities on immigration enforcement. California has been a sanctuary state since 2017, when then-Gov. Jerry Brown signed a bill stopping local and state agencies from cooperating with Immigration and Customs Enforcement regarding undocumented immigrants who have committed misdemeanors.” [City News Service, 2/8/21]

- A Department Of Homeland Security Detainer Request Called For Local Authorities To Detain An Undocumented Immigrant Before Deciding Whether To Take The Person Into Federal Custody. “Victims would be able to sue a sanctuary city if it ignored an immigration detainer from DHS. A detainer, or ‘immigration hold’ is used by ICE agents to apprehend immigrants in the country without legal permission who come into contact with local law enforcement agencies. It is a written request for a local jail or agency to detain a person for an additional 48 hours to give ICE agents time to decide if they will take the person into federal custody, according to the American Civil Liberties Union.” [City News Service, 2/8/21]
- Garcia’s Bill Would Deny Certain Federal Grants To States Who Did Not Allow Individuals To Sue Sanctuary Cities In Federal Court. “Because the U.S. Constitution’s 11th Amendment is often interpreted as preventing individuals from suing states in federal court without consent, the bill would require states and their political subdivisions to give consent for being sued as a condition of receiving certain federal grants, according to the National Immigration Forum, an immigrant advocacy group based in Washington, D.C.” [City News Service, 2/8/21]

Garcia Voted Against Condemning The Performance Of Unwanted And Unnecessary Medical Procedures In ICE Detention Centers After A Group Of Women Alleged They Were Subject To Nonconsensual Gynecological Procedures While In Custody

Garcia Voted Against Condemning The Performance Of Unwanted And Unnecessary Medical Procedures On Individuals Without Their Full, Informed Consent – Particularly With Regard To ICE’s Detention Center In Ocilla, Ga. In October 2020, Garcia voted against: “Agreeing to the resolution that would express that the House of Representatives condemns the performance of unwanted and unnecessary medical procedures on individuals without their full, informed consent -- particularly with regard to the Immigration and Customs Enforcement’s Irwin County Detention Center in Ocilla, Ga. It would express that ‘everyone deserves to control their own reproductive choices and make informed choices about their bodies’ and that further accountability and transparency is necessary to protect people in custody of ICE. The resolution would call on the Homeland Security Department to pause the removal of individuals who experienced any medical procedure at the Irwin County Detention Center; allow individuals who may have experienced an unnecessary or nonconsensual procedure to have immediate access to appropriate medical treatment; comply with investigation and records requests related to the detention center; ensure that impacted individuals are able to participate in investigations; and hold individuals involved accountable.” The resolution passed 232-157. A complaint filed Monday in the U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Georgia cites sworn testimony from at least 35 detainees at Irwin County Detention Center, who say they were subject to nonconsensual and invasive procedures by Mahendra Amin, a physician in Ocilla, Ga.” Washington Post, [12/22/20]

Garcia Voted Against The NO BAN Act, Which Would Terminate A Number Of Trump’s Executive Orders And Proclamations Restricting Access Into The U.S. From Certain Muslim-Majority Countries

Garcia Voted Against The NO BAN Act, Prohibiting The President From Banning Individuals Seeking Immigrant Visas Based On Their Religion. In April 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would explicitly prohibit discrimination based on religion with regard to individuals seeking immigrant visas, nonimmigrant visas or other entry into the United States. It would limit the president’s ability to restrict entry of a class of foreign nationals, including to require that such restrictions be temporary, narrowly tailored and subject to a State Department determination that they are in the interest of U.S. public safety or international stability. It would require the State and Homeland Security departments to notify Congress prior to the issuance of any such restriction and provide information regarding its justification and planned duration; brief Congress within 48 hours of its issuance; and report Congress every 30 days during the restriction on its continued justification and how visa applicants are impacted. It would terminate the restriction, absent intervening congressional action, if the briefing or reports are not provided. The bill would allow individuals present in the United States who are harmed by entry restrictions in violation of the bill's provisions to seek declaratory or injunctive relief through a U.S. district court. It would also require the State and Homeland Security departments to submit a report to Congress describing the implementation of proclamations by former President Donald Trump that restricted the entry of individuals from certain countries, including the number of refugees admitted and the number of visa applicants admitted or rejected, disaggregated by country and visa category.” The bill passed 218 to 208. Garcia Voted Against The NO BAN Act, Terminating A Number Of Executive Orders And Proclamations By The President Restricting Access Into The U.S. From Certain Muslim-Majority Countries. In July 2020, Garcia voted against: “Jayapal, D-Wash., motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill with a further House amendment comprising Title I of the bill. Title I would terminate a number of executive orders and proclamations by the president restricting entry into the United States from certain countries, including Iran, Iraq, Libya, Somalia, Sudan, Syria and Yemen. It would explicitly prohibit discrimination based on religion with regard to individuals seeking entry into the United States. It would limit the president's ability to restrict entry of a class of foreign nationals, including to require that such restrictions be temporary, narrowly tailored and subject to a State Department determination that they are in the interest of U.S. public safety or international stability. It would allow individuals present in the United States who are harmed by entry restrictions in violation of the bill's provisions to seek relief. Title I would also prohibit drug manufacturers from engaging in ‘product hopping’ in which drug manufacturers make small changes to a drug so as to receive a new period of patent protection and impede the entry of generic or biosimilar products. It would authorize the Federal Trade Commission to impose penalties or bring suit against manufacturers in violation of the prohibition. It would also restrict the practice of ‘patent thickening’ in which manufacturers file additional unused patents that they assert are being infringed by generic and biosimilar products, by limiting the number of such patents a manufacturer may file.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 233-183. - The NO BAN Act Would Vacate Trump’s Existing Travel Bans On Countries His Administration Deemed To Be Threats To National Security And Put Measures In Place To Prevent Similar Bans In The Future. “The No Ban Act would vacate Trump’s existing travel bans on countries his administration deems to be threats to national security, as well as put in place measures to prevent future such bans. Under the first version of Trump’s travel ban, unveiled in January 2017, citizens of seven majority-Muslim countries, including those who held US green cards and dual US citizenship, were held for questioning for many hours at airports across the country and were denied entry to the US. A de facto ‘Muslim ban,’ the policy appeared to be the execution of Trump’s call on the campaign trail for a ‘total and complete shutdown’ of Muslims entering the US and sparked widespread protests throughout the country. [...] The No Ban Act would dial back the president’s authority to issue such bans under the Immigration and Nationality Act, which was ‘not intended to provide carte blanche authority to the president to ban large categories of individuals without justification, or to rewrite immigration laws with which he disagrees,’ Chair Jerrold Nadler said on the House floor Wednesday.” Vox, [7/22/20]

- The NO BAN Act Would Amend Current Law To Require That Any Travel Ban Be Temporary, Based On Credible Evidence, Subject To Congressional Oversight, And Be Created Only In Response To Specific Actions Foreign Entities Have Taken To Threaten The U.S. “The No Ban Act would amend the current law to require that any travel ban be temporary, based on credible evidence, subject to congressional oversight, and be created only in response to specific actions foreign entities have taken to threaten the US. The bill also states that a ban must also advance a compelling government interest in the least restrictive way possible.” Vox, [7/22/20]

Garcia Voted For Extreme Proposals That Would Have Cut Funding To Help Law Enforcement Keep Communities Safe And Fight Crime

Garcia Voted For A Continuing Resolution That Made Nearly 30% Cuts Across The Government

Garcia Voted For A Continuing Resolution With Republican Riders And Nearly 30% Cuts Across The Government. In September 2023, Garcia voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would provide funding for federal government operations and services through Oct. 31, 2023, with a 29.9 percent cut from fiscal 2023 levels for most programs. It would fund veterans’ programs, the Department of Homeland Security, national security programs and disaster assistance at full fiscal 2023 levels. It would also implement nearly all provisions of House Republicans’ border security and immigration bill (HR 2), which the House passed in May 2023. It would provide an increase in funding for the Defense Department at rates set forth in House Republicans’ fiscal 2024 defense appropriations bill (HR 4365), which would provide for a 3.6 percent funding increase over fiscal 2023. It would also provide funding increases for the Agriculture Department and provide an additional $220 million above fiscal 2023 levels for Energy Department nuclear programs. Among its border security and immigration provisions, it would require DHS, within seven days of enactment, to resume all activities related to “border wall” construction on the U.S.-Mexico border that were underway or planned prior to Jan. 20, 2021; require DHS to reopen or restore, no later than Sept. 30, 2023, the use of all Immigration and Customs Enforcement detention facilities that were in operation on Jan. 20, 2021; and require DHS to return all unaccompanied children to their country of origin, regardless of whether they are from a contiguous country to the U.S. In addition to provisions of HR 2, it would place limitations on the use of DHS funding provided by the bill, including prohibitions on removing existing U.S.-Mexico border barriers, transporting inadmissible adults into the U.S., and the use of Customs and Border Protection’s “CBP One” app to facilitate the parole of an individual into the U.S. It also would prohibit the use of funds provided by the bill to initiate or resume any project or activity not funded during fiscal 2023 and would establish a congressional fiscal commission tasked with identifying policies to “improve the fiscal situation.” The bill was rejected by a vote of 198-232. Garcia Voted For The Default On America Act That Cut Billions For Border Security

April 2023: Garcia Voted For Suspending The Debt Limit Through March 2024 Or Until $1.5 Trillion Has Been Reached And Capping Federal Spending For FY 2024 At 2022 Levels With A Capped 1% Per Year Growth. In April 2023, Garcia voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would suspend the statutory limit on federal debt through March 31, 2024, or until an additional $1.5 trillion has been borrowed — whichever occurs first. It would also include a range of provisions to limit federal spending, as well as the text of a previously passed energy and permitting policy package. The bill would set base discretionary spending limits through fiscal 2033, capping spending for fiscal 2024 at the fiscal 2022 level of $1.47 trillion — a reduction from current spending levels — and raising the cap by 1 percent annually through fiscal 2033. It would also include similar annual cap adjustments for specified programs, including for wildfire suppression, disability reviews and redeterminations, health care fraud and abuse control, and disaster reemployment services and eligibility assessments. The bill would rescind unobligated amounts from various funds provided by the fiscal 2022 reconciliation package (PL 117-169) for COVID-19 relief, IRS enforcement, and certain climate- and infrastructure-focused initiatives, as well as all unobligated funding from the March 2021 coronavirus relief reconciliation package (PL 117-2) and earlier coronavirus response laws. The bill would expand or establish work requirements for Medicaid beneficiaries aged 19 to 55 and raise from 49 to 55 the oldest age at which existing work requirements would apply for Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program beneficiaries. It would also modify various work standards for the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program, including to update the baseline for calculating certain state workforce participation standards and require states to collect certain data related to work outcomes for TANF participants. To limit regulatory spending, the bill would nullify pending executive actions suspending student loan payments and prohibit the Education Department from implementing any substantially similar actions without congressional approval. It would also establish a process to require congressional approval of all “major” federal rules that would have an annual impact of at least $100 million, cause a major increase in prices, or cause significant adverse effects to economic competitiveness. Among energy- and climate-focused provisions, the bill would repeal, phase out or narrow a variety of climate-focused tax credits under the fiscal 2022 reconciliation package, including repealing new credits for solar and wind projects, sustainable aviation fuel and clean fuel production. It would also include the full text of the House-passed energy and permitting package (HR 1) that would require a number of actions to boost the domestic production of fossil fuels and certain critical minerals and accelerate the construction of natural gas pipelines and other energy infrastructure, while reversing or repealing certain presidential actions taken and laws enacted during the Biden administration related to energy policy and climate change.” The bill passed by a vote of 217-215. - New York Times: The Republican Debt Limit Bill Did Not Include Many Specifics On What Government Spending Would Be Cut. “Their bill, which would raise the country’s borrowing limit for a year in exchange for a decade of spending reductions, does not include many specifics. It achieves most of its savings with spending caps for discretionary spending — the part of the budget allocated annually by Congress that is not automatic like Social Security payments — but it doesn’t say what discretionary programs should be cut and which ones should be spared.” New York Times, [5/8/23]
- The House Republican Debt Limit Plan Was Expected To Force 22% In Cuts Across The Federal Government. “The legislation Congressional Republicans introduced sets overall appropriations for Fiscal Year 2024 at the same level as FY 2022. At this level, all appropriated funding—including both defense and domestic programs—would be cut deeply. However, Congressional Republicans have indicated that they are not willing to cut defense funding at all, which means that everything else in annual appropriations—from cancer research, to education, to veterans’ health care—would be cut by much more. The math is simple, but unforgiving. At their proposed topline funding level—and with defense funding left untouched as Republicans have proposed—everything else is forced to suffer enormous cuts. In fact, their bill would force a cut of 22 percent—cuts that would grow deeper and deeper with each year of their plan.” The White House, [4/20/23]

The Default On America Cut Would Have Cut $3.8 Billion From CBP And $2 Billion From ICE. “The GOP Default on America Act’s 22% spending cut would slash nearly $17 billion in funding for federal law enforcement, courts, and prisons that support public safety. Republicans are gambling with Americans’ safety by threatening to not raise the debt limit. [...] After endless rhetoric about the border, the GOP plan guts funding for border security. The bill cuts over $3.8 billion in funding for U.S. Customs and Border Protection and almost $2 billion from U.S. Immigrations and Customs Enforcement. The DOA would reject President Biden’s $4.7 billion proposed investment to strengthen security at the Southwestern Border. This plan shrinks investments in the science and technology that make the Department of Homeland Security more effective by almost $200 million.” Joint Economic Committee, Press Release, [4/26/23]

Garcia Twice Voted Against The George Floyd Justice In Policing Act, Which Would Overhaul Policing Laws

March 2021: Garcia Voted Against The George Floyd Justice In Policing Act

March 2021: Garcia Voted Against The George Floyd Justice In Policing Act, Which Overhauled Policing Laws. In March 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would establish reporting and oversight requirements related to policing data and restrict the use of certain policing practices by federal law enforcement agencies and state and local agencies receiving certain federal policing grants. It would restrict a number of policing practices by federal law enforcement agencies and state and local agencies that receive federal funding, including to prohibit the use of “no-knock warrants” to execute searches in drug cases; the use of deadly force, including chokeholds, except as a “last resort” to prevent imminent injury to an officer or another person; and the use of deadly or “less lethal” force before exhausting reasonable alternatives, including deescalation tactics. It would prohibit racial profiling by law enforcement, authorize lawsuits regarding violations of the prohibition, and require agencies to implement racial profiling training and oversight procedures. It would eliminate “qualified immunity” protections for law enforcement officers by prohibiting legal defenses based on an officer acting “in good faith” or the purported absence of “clearly established” law. It would require federal law enforcement officers to use body cameras and dashboard cameras and require state and local agencies to use certain grant funding to purchase body cameras and develop protocols for their use. It would make it a crime for an officer to engage in a sexual act with an individual under custody. It would require the Justice Department to establish a national police misconduct registry, and it would establish a number of reporting requirements for law enforcement agencies, including on use of force, racial profiling, officer misconduct records and routine policing practices -- with data disaggregated by demographics of officers and civilians involved. Among other provisions, it would require the Justice Department to analyze and recommend updates to law enforcement agency accreditation standards. It would authorize $750 million annually through fiscal 2024 for grants to support independent investigations into police use of deadly force, including to create civilian review boards. It would authorize subpoenas by the Justice Department or state attorneys general for evidence related to potential violations of constitutional rights by law enforcement and authorize grants to states to support such investigations. It would authorize grant funding for activities related to community-based policing practices and non-police public safety initiatives. It would limit the transfer of military equipment from the Defense Department to state and local law enforcement agencies.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 220 - 212. It would ban no-knock warrants in federal drug cases, mandate data collection on police encounters and create a nationwide police misconduct registry to help hold problematic officers accountable. The bill would also prohibit racial and religious profiling and redirect funding to community-based policing programs.” NPR, [4/21/21]

June 2020: Garcia Voted Against The George Floyd Justice In Policing Act, To Establish Reporting And Requirements Related To Police Data And Restrict Multiple Police Practices By Federal Law Enforcement And State And Local Agencies That Receive Federal Funding. In June 2020, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would establish reporting and oversight requirements related to policing data and restrict the use of certain policing practices by federal law enforcement agencies and state and local agencies receiving certain federal policing grants. It would restrict a number of policing practices by federal law enforcement agencies and state and local agencies that receive federal funding, including to prohibit the use of “no-knock warrants” to execute searches in drug cases; the use of deadly force, including chokeholds, except as a “last resort” to prevent imminent injury to an officer or another person; and the use of deadly or “less lethal” force before exhausting reasonable alternatives, including deescalation tactics. It would authorize grant funding for activities related to community-based policing practices and non-police public safety initiatives. It would limit the transfer of military equipment from the Defense Department to state and local law enforcement agencies.” The bill passed 208-181. HR 7120, [Vote #119, 6/25/20; CQ, 6/25/20]

- The Justice In Policing Act Would Reform Qualified Immunity And Revise Federal Law On Prosecuting Police Misconduct. “The new bill would change one very significant word in federal law when it comes to prosecuting police: ‘willful.’ That word means prosecutors charging police have to demonstrate there was willful intent on the part of the police officer to kill or harm someone — which can be extremely difficult to prove and successfully prosecute. The bill would change that word to the phrase ‘knowingly or with reckless disregard.’ It would also define a ‘death resulting’ as any act that was a ‘substantial factor contributing to the death’ of an individual. In addition, the bill changes something called qualified immunity, which courts have interpreted to give police officers and other public officials broad immunity from being sued in civil court if they have violated the constitutional rights of an individual. The bill would make it easier for plaintiffs to recover damages against police officers if the officer is sued and found guilty.” Vox, [6/25/20]
- The Justice In Policing Act Would Create Federal Bans On Chokeholds And No-Knock Warrants. “The Democratic bill would ban these kinds of no-knock warrants in federal drug cases, but also condition federal funding for state and local law enforcement agencies on prohibiting their use as well [...] The legislation would put a federal ban in place on the use of police chokeholds, which is defined by the bill as an act putting pressure on an individual’s throat or windpipe that impedes their ability to breathe. Such bans have already been supported by localities across the country including, most recently, Minneapolis. A federal chokehold ban would further condemn the use of this tactic by police and give the Justice Department more power to levy charges against law enforcement officers who use this maneuver.” Vox, [6/25/20]

- The Justice In Policing Act Would Establish A National Registry Of Misconduct By Law Enforcement Officers. “There’s currently very little data available about police misconduct, making it difficult to pin down past offenders and ensure that they don’t receive jobs in new places. According to a USA Today report, punishment for misconduct also varies at the state level, with some requiring police to decertify while others are far less punitive. Creating a national registry about misconduct would enable lawmakers to better understand its frequency and craft targeted responses to combat it.” Vox, [6/25/20]
- The Justice In Policing Act Would Require States To Report Use Of Force To The Justice Department, And Require That Deadly Force Be Used Only As A Last Resort. “Similarly, little is currently known about the frequency with which police officers currently use force, something the bill is striving to change. By mandating state documentation of use of force, law enforcement agencies can begin to determine how often police engage in such actions [...] The bill would change the use-of-force standard for federal officers from ‘reasonableness’ to only when it is necessary to either prevent death or ‘serious bodily injury.’ It would require federal officers to use deescalation techniques and only resort to force as a last resort, and would condition federal funds to state and local agencies on their adoption of the same standard.” Vox, [6/25/20]
- The Justice In Policing Act Would Require Police To Increase The Use Of Body And Dashboard Cameras. “The bill would require federal police officers to wear body cameras and put dashboard cameras on all federal police vehicles. It requires state and local departments to use existing federal funds to increase body camera use, which has been on the rise since the 2014 shooting death of Michael Brown in Ferguson, Missouri. However, research has shown that more cameras aren’t the whole story; police don’t always turn them on or review the footage while writing an incident report, and footage is not always made public.” Vox, [6/25/20]

Garcia Opposed Decriminalizing Marijuana And Expunging All Non-Violent Marijuana Related Convictions

Garcia Voted Against Decriminalizing The Use And Possession Of Marijuana At The Federal Level

Garcia Voted Against Decriminalizing The Use And Possession Of Cannabis At The Federal Level, Provide For The Expungement Of All Previous Cannabis-Related Arrests, And Establish The Cannabis Justice Office At The Department Of Justice, Among Other Provisions. In December 2020, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would decriminalize the use and possession of marijuana at the federal level. It would remove marijuana from the federal controlled substances list, eliminate federal criminal penalties for cannabis offenses and provide for the expungement of all previous arrests and convictions for non-violent federal cannabis offenses. It would create a federal excise tax on cannabis products manufactured in or imported into the United States, set at 5% for two years and gradually increasing to 8%. It would also create an annual ‘occupational tax’ of $1,000 for each cannabis production or export warehouse facility. It would establish a Treasury Department trust fund from tax proceeds, from which 40% would be available for Small Business Administration loan and licensing programs for the cannabis industry and 60% would be available for programs of a new Cannabis Justice Office within the Justice Department. The new office would administer a community reinvestment grant program for nonprofits to administer services for individuals adversely impacted by the war on drugs, including job training, reentry services, literacy programs, legal aid and substance use disorder services. Among other provisions, it would establish federal bonding, permitting and operational requirements for cannabis businesses. It would prohibit SBA programs from declining services to a business solely because it is a cannabis-related business and prohibit the denial of any federal public benefits to an individual on the basis of cannabis use or possession. It would require the Labor Statistics Bureau to compile and publish demographic data on cannabis industry business owners and employees. It would require the Government Accountability Office to conduct a study on the societal impacts of recreational cannabis legalization by states. It would strike references of ‘marihuana’ and ‘marijuana’ in existing law and replace them with ‘cannabis.’” The bill passed 228 to 164. HR 3884, [Vote #235, 12/4/20; CQ, 12/4/20]

Garcia Opposed The Marijuana Opportunity Reinvestment And Expungement (MORE) Act, Which Would Decriminalize Marijuana And Expunge All Non-Violent Marijuana Related Convictions

Garcia Voted Against Considering The Marijuana Opportunity Reinvestment and Expungement (MORE) Act. In December 2020, Garcia voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 1244) that would provide for floor consideration of the Marijuana Opportunity Reinvestment and Expungement (MORE) Act (HR 3884). The rule would provide for up to one hour of general debate on the bill and automatic adoption of a Nadler, D-N.Y., manager’s amendment to the bill. The manager’s amendment would maintain the authority of the Transportation Department and Coast Guard to regulate and screen for the use of marijuana along with other controlled substances; specify that the expungement of federal cannabis offenses under the bill applies to non-violent offenses; specify that individuals who received increased sentences for organizing or leading criminal activity related to a cannabis offense would not be eligible for expungement; and require a Government Accountability Office study on the societal impact of recreational cannabis legalization by states to include uses of marijuana related to the health, including the mental health, of veterans.” The Rule was adopted by a vote of 225 to 160. In an op-ed published by the Fox News website, Garcia included ‘dope on the table’ photos and characterized the black market as being a problem caused by ‘Democrats’ [...] He mentioned neither the federal illegality of weed, which is the main reason such grow operations exist to begin with, nor high taxes in California, which is why they continue to thrive. When prosecutors wait for violent or other serious crimes to occur before charging these criminals, our constituents pay the price.’” [Big Bear Grizzly, 5/17/21]

Garcia Blamed The Biden Administration’s Supposed Failure To Secure The Border For The Rise Of Illegal Marijuana Growing Operations In Southern California

Garcia Blamed The Biden Administration’s Supposed Failure To Secure The Border For The Rise Of Illegal Marijuana Growing Operations In Southern California. “In Southern California’s high desert, there are thousands of large-scale illegal marijuana grows run by transnational criminal organizations and worked by indentured servants and illegal immigrants. These grows are bad for the environment, wasting natural resources, not regulated or taxed, funneling money to foreign nations, and a threat to citizens’ livelihoods. [...] Currently, we have a presidential administration that fails to address the crisis at the border, a state that fails to enforce laws, and a reckless call by the radical Left to defund the police — a recipe for disaster. The lack of manpower paired with open borders allowing for the transnational criminal organization leaders to expand their workforce through human trafficking is only causing the illegal activity in Southern California to grow and more people to suffer.”

Garcia Voted Against The Elimination Of The Federal Sentencing Disparity Between Crack And Powder Cocaine. In September 2021 Garcia voted against: “Nadler, D-N.Y., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would eliminate the federal sentencing disparity between crack cocaine and powder cocaine by repealing a law that authorizes higher penalties for crack cocaine offenses compared to powder cocaine offenses, with the repeal effective retroactively. It would authorize sentencing courts to impose reduced sentences under the new guidelines for individuals convicted prior to the bill's enactment.” The motion passed by a vote of 361-66. - The Harsher Sentences For Crack Cocaine Have Disproportionately Impacted Low-Income Communities And Communities Of Color. “Crack cocaine, which is typically smoked, tends to be less expensive than powder cocaine, which is snorted in through the nose. The lower price of crack cocaine made it more easily accessible to people in lower-income communities, which subsequently meant that members of marginalized groups were more likely to face longer prison sentences compared to the lower ones for powder cocaine offenses. ‘The burden has disproportionately fallen on African American communities,’ said Rep. Hakeem Jeffries (D-N.Y.), the House Democratic caucus chairman and chief author of the bill. The Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1986, a law signed by then-President Reagan as part of the ‘War on Drugs,’ established a five-year minimum sentence for possessing at least five grams of crack, while an individual would have to possess at least 500 grams of powder cocaine to receive the same sentence.” The Hill, [9/28/21]

Feb. 2021: Garcia Voted Against Passage Of The American Rescue Plan Act. In February 2021, Garcia voted against: "Passage of the fiscal 2021 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, comprising a coronavirus relief package that would provide roughly $1.9 trillion in funding to further address the health and economic effects of COVID-19, including approximately $350 billion in direct aid to state and local governments; $47.8 billion for testing and contact tracing; $168 billion to assist educational institutions; and $50 billion to assist small businesses. It would extend and increase federal unemployment compensation benefits for 24 weeks and increase the weekly amount to $400; provide tax rebates of $1,400 for individuals with incomes of $75,000 or less; extend or expand a number of employer and individual tax credits, including credits to subsidize health insurance premiums; and gradually increase the federal minimum wage to $15 per hour. Among other provisions, the bill would provide $195.3 billion for direct assistance to states and $130.2 billion for local governments; $128.6 billion through fiscal 2023 for an Education Department elementary and secondary school emergency relief fund and $39.6 billion for grants to higher education institutions, including to provide emergency financial aid; and continue the 15% increase in Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program benefits through September 2021. It would provide $47.8 billion for COVID-19 testing and contact tracing; $7.5 billion for vaccine administration and distribution; and $6.1 billion for vaccine and therapeutic development, manufacturing and procurement. It would require Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program to fully cover the cost of COVID-19 vaccines. It would expand eligibility in 2021 and 2022 for federal tax subsidies toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums, including to fully cover premium costs for individuals earning up to 150% of the federal poverty level and cap premiums at 8.5% of household income. It would provide $50 billion for small business assistance, including $25 billion for restaurants. It would provide $30.5 billion for transit, $18 billion for airline and aviation manufacturing industry payroll support; and $4 billion for Agriculture Department pandemic-related assistance. It would incrementally increase the federal minimum wage annually to reach $15 per hour in 2025, including for tipped workers, teens and workers with disabilities. It would create a program to provide financial assistance to multiemployer pension plans." The bill passed by a vote of 219-212. HR 1319, [Vote #49, 2/27/21; CQ, 2/27/21]

The American Rescue Plan Provided $1,400 Direct Payments, Aid To State And Local Governments, Schools, And Small Businesses, An Expanded Child Tax Credit, And Vaccine Distribution Funds. "President Biden signed the $1.9 trillion American Rescue Plan Act into law on Thursday, finalizing an early policy victory that will send much-needed aid to millions of Americans still struggling from the COVID-19 pandemic. [...] The American Rescue Plan provides $1,400 direct payments to individuals making up to $75,000 annually, $350 billion in aid to state and local governments and $14 billion for vaccine distribution. The bill also provides $130 billion to elementary, middle and high schools to assist with safe reopening. [...] It includes an additional $300 billion in weekly jobless benefits through September and an expanded tax credit of up to $3,600 per child, initially distributed in monthly installments. The child tax credit could raise 4 million children out of poverty, according to an analysis by the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities. More than $50 billion will be distributed to small businesses, including $7 billion for the Paycheck Protection Program. The bill also provides $25 billion for relief for small and mid-sized restaurants, which have suffered significantly during the pandemic." CBS News, [3/12/21]

Individuals In California Received Over $29.6 Billion In Third Round Economic Impact Payments Of Up To $1,400 Through The American Rescue Plan. California received $29.6 billion in Third Round Economic Impact Payments through The American Rescue Plan Act: "The U.S. Department of the Treasury and the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) released state-by-state data through early June for the 163.5 million Economic Impact Payments (EIPs) totaling nearly $390 billion received by individuals through the American Rescue Plan Act. With this round of payments, the IRS and the Bureau of the Fiscal Service (BFS) have delivered more EIPs and more total direct relief than in any previous round of direct relief. All 50 states saw more total relief with this round of payments than in previous rounds. [...] The EIPs under the American Rescue Plan included payments of up to $1,400 per qualifying dependent, a significant increase over the $500 and $600 per qualifying child from the first and second rounds of payments, respectively." The American Rescue Plan Provided $350 Billion In State And Local Funding To Hire Law Enforcement Officials, Pay Overtime For Community Policing, And Restore Law Enforcement To Pre-Pandemic Levels. "Today, the Treasury Department is highlighting that communities experiencing a surge in gun violence as a result of the pandemic may use the American Rescue Plan's $350 billion in state and local funding for purposes such as: Hiring law enforcement officials – even above pre-pandemic levels – or paying overtime where the funds are directly focused on advancing community policing strategies in those communities experiencing an increase in gun violence associated with the pandemic. [...] In addition, the Treasury Department is clarifying that any community may use ARP state and local aid for the above strategies and any other public safety programs, up to the level of revenue loss the jurisdiction experienced during the pandemic. And any community may use ARP funds to rehire police officers and other public servants to restore law enforcement and courts to their pre-pandemic levels.” White House, Press Release, [6/23/21]

Department Of The Treasury: “There Are Many Ways In Which The State And Local Fiscal Recovery Funds [...] Can Support Communities Working To Reduce And Respond To Increased Violence.” “Under Treasury’s Interim Final Rule, there are many ways in which the State and Local Fiscal Recovery Funds (“Funds”) under the American Rescue Plan Act can support communities working to reduce and respond to increased violence due to the pandemic. [...] In all communities, recipients may use resources to rehire police officers and other public servants to restore law enforcement and courts to their pre-pandemic levels. [...] In communities where an increase in violence or increased difficulty in accessing or providing services to respond to or mitigate the effects of violence, is a result of the pandemic they may use funds to address that harm. This spending may include: Hiring law enforcement officials – even above pre-pandemic levels – or paying overtime where the funds are directly focused on advancing community policing strategies in those communities experiencing an increase in gun violence associated with the pandemic o Community Violence Intervention (CVI) programs, including capacity building efforts at CVI programs like funding and training additional intervention workers.” Department of the Treasury, [7/19/21]

Biden: “The American Rescue Plan, Which We Passed In The First 100 Days Of My Administration, Is Providing Much-Needed, Historic Relief To Bring Back Those Law Enforcement Jobs.” President Biden: “The American Rescue Plan, which we passed in the first 100 days of my administration, is providing much-needed, historic relief to bring back those law enforcement jobs and social service jobs. Much of this relief has already arrived. The rest is on its way. And we’re now providing more guidance on how they can use the $350 billion nationally that the American Rescue Plan has available to help reduce crime and address the root causes. For example, cities experiencing an increase in gun violence were able to use the American Rescue Plan dollars to hire police officers needed for community policing and to pay their overtime. Mayors will also be able to buy crime-fighting technologies, like gunshot detection systems, to better see and stop gun violence in their communities. They can use the funding to scale up wraparound services for the residents as well, including substance abuse and mental health services that we know will make a difference in prevention of crime.” White House, [6/23/21]

Garcia Opposed The HEROES Act, Which Would Have Provided Nearly $1 Trillion For State And Local Governments, Another Round Of Direct Payments To Individuals And Families, And Hazard Pay For Essential Workers

Garcia Claimed That The HEROES Act Would “Give Money To Illegal Immigrants And Defund The Police.” “Garcia has gotten a front-row seat to that logjam in the five months since his stunning special election win over Smith in May to fill out the remainder of Hill’s term. [...] Even while railing against partisan toxicity and his intention to not put party over patriotism, he points to House Speaker Nancy Pelosi as the reason. ‘She’s wanting to give money to illegal immigrants and defund the police ... in this latest HERO’s version,’ he said, referring to federal aid legislation the Democrats have put on the table. ‘There’s some true poison pills that aren’t good for the country and frankly are being added for political showmanship rather than actually helping anyone. She’s catering to her base rather than the care of the nation.’” [Daily News of Los Angeles, 10/12/20]

Garcia Opposed The HEROES Act Because It Contained “Too Many Extras.” “Garcia favors an infrastructure bill, but not an increase in the federal gas tax. He favors another COVID relief package, but in the range of $750 billion to $1 trillion, not the $3 trillion package supported by House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, which he said has ‘too many extras’ in it. Garcia also favors another round of Paycheck Protection Loans for businesses now feeling the strain of supply chain disruptions during the pandemic.” [San Gabriel Valley Tribune, Editorial, 9/17/20]

May 2020: The House Of Representatives Passed The HEROES Act Which Proposed $3 Trillion To Address The Economic Impacts Of The Coronavirus. “House Democrats on Friday passed a $3 trillion tax cut and spending bill aimed at addressing the devastating economic fallout from the coronavirus outbreak by directing huge sums of money into all corners of the economy. But the White House and Senate Republicans have decried the measure’s design and said they will cast it aside, leaving uncertain what steps policymakers might take as the economy continues to face severe strains. The HEROES Act Would Provide $3 Trillion In Funding To Further Address The Health And Economic Effects Of COVID-19. According to Congressional Quarterly, the HEROES Act “would provide roughly $3 trillion in funding to further address the health and economic effects of COVID-19, including almost $1 trillion for direct aid to state and local governments; $200 billion for a fund to provide hazard pay for essential workers; $75 billion for a national testing program; and funding for state and federal response related to health care, education, housing, and food supply. Garcia Voted Against $200 Billion In Housing Relief In Response To The COVID-19 Pandemic

Garcia Voted Against The Emergency Housing Protections And Relief Act, Appropriating Over $200 Billion In Housing Relief In Response To The COVID-19 Pandemic. In June 2020 Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would authorize a number of housing assistance grants and programs in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. It would authorize $100 billion for Housing and Urban Development Department emergency housing assistance grants to support state and local rental assistance programs for individuals at risk of homelessness. It would authorize $75 billion for a Treasury Department homeowner assistance fund to support state housing finance agency assistance to help homeowners avoid mortgage defaults, foreclosures and loss of utility services. It would prohibit all tenant evictions through March 2021, prohibit all foreclosures for six months after enactment and allow any homeowner facing financial hardship to request mortgage forbearance. It would also require the Federal Reserve to establish a program to provide low-cost loans to residential rental property owners. The bill would authorize over $24 billion for a number of HUD housing and homelessness assistance programs, including $11.5 billion for HUD grants supporting state and local homeless assistance activities; $3 billion for a tenant-based rental assistance program that subsidizes rent for low-income families; $2 billion for a public housing operating fund; $715 million for supportive housing programs for elderly individuals, individuals with disabilities and individuals with AIDS; $100 million for housing counseling services; and $14 million for programs and grants related to fair housing initiatives. It would also authorize $309 million for Agriculture Department rural rental assistance.” The bill passed by a vote of 232-180. HR 7301, [Vote #128, 6/29/20; CQ, 6/29/20]

Maxine Waters (D-CA), who is the Chairwoman of the U.S. House Committee on Financial Services, is sounding the alarm on what she says will be an eviction crisis in the U.S. after the COVID-19 pandemic. [...] But the resulting economic shutdown has led to over 40 million people filing for unemployment — over 20 percent of the U.S. labor force. On June 29, nearly 60 days ago, Rep. Waters introduced H.R. 7301, the Emergency Housing Protections and Relief Act of 2020. However, typical of the state of play with a U.S. House run by Democrats and a U.S. Senate run by Republicans, Waters' legislation remains stalled by Republican Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell. Speaking on the House floor, Waters said, 'this bill includes several provisions that were included in the Heroes Act and independently led by a number of Members of the Financial Services Committee. Some people hearing about this bill won't understand what we are trying to do in this bill today. As I said, this was part of the Heroes Act that passed this House, but we have been waiting on the Senate to take up the Heroes Act. They are not taking it up, they don't seem to care, they don't seem to understand that there are people out there who are going to be evicted, and so we have pulled it out of the Heroes Act and we are taking it up independently so that we can send a message to the Senate that we want this measure heard and so we have a number of Members who participated in putting this legislation together and who had independent bills to do so.'" The legislation is cosponsored by 55 members of the House. ### ...But Voted To Cut Funding For The Department Of The Interior, Which Oversees Wildfire Suppression Operations, Fire Facilities, And Provides Rural Fire Assistance

Garcia Voted For An Amendment Aimed At Reducing Discretionary Funding For The Departments Of The Interior And Environment By 5%. “At the end of division C (before the short title), insert the following: Sec. _____. Each amount made available by this Act (other than an amount required to be made available by a provision of law) is hereby reduced by 5 percent. The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1060, the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. Allen) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Georgia. Mr. ALLEN. Madam Speaker, this bill that we are debating here is a partisan travesty and spends entirely more than this government can afford. That is why I rise again today to offer an amendment to cut spending to the Interior and Environment portion of the bill. In addition to its overspending, this bill attempts to delegitimize President Trump's replacement for the Obama administration's overreaching WOTUS rule. The farmers and landowners in my district will tell you how devastating that would be.” H.Amdt. 849, No. [62, Vote #162, 6/24/20]

Garcia Said That He Believed That Human Activity Had “Some Implications” On Climate Change.

GARCIA: “I think there are some implications of manmade products, um, to the climate. And again, this is one of those issues where maybe I’m not as far right as you would think. I think what it boils down to is we need to keep looking at it, we need to keep analyzing the data. When you look at 10, 20, 30 years, the margin of error on our predictions is off the chart. The bottom line is that I don’t think we should do anything that derails our economy. The Green New Deal is, I mean good lord, that would have torpedoed our economy. I think that short-sighted sort of pandering is completely useless. But I do think we have to keep an eye on it, and continue to gather the information.” [Talk of Santa Clarita, 8/8/19] [AUDIO]

Garcia Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of The Protecting American Energy Production Act, Which Would Prohibit The President From Declaring A Moratorium On Fracking Without Congressional Authorization. In June 2021, Garcia voted against: “DeSaulnier D-Calif., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment) on the rule (H Res 508) that would provide for floor consideration of a total of 149 amendments to a five-year surface transportation and ten-year water infrastructure authorization bill (HR 3684).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Jeff Duncan stated: “Madam Speaker, I rise in opposition to the previous question, so that we can amend the rule to immediately consider H.R. 751, the Protecting American Energy Production Act. Now, my bill is straightforward. It prohibits the President from declaring a moratorium on the use of hydraulic fracturing, or fracking, unless Congress authorizes the moratorium. It further expresses the sense of Congress that States should maintain authority for the regulation of oil and natural gas production on State and private lands.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 219 to 188. [...] Other policy riders approved through a series of en bloc amendments would block the implementation, administration and enforcement of the White House Council on Environmental Quality's overhaul of National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) regulations as well as preventing funds from being used for the centralization process established in EPA's update to its Freedom of Information Act regulations published in the Federal Register June 26, 2019.” [InsideEPA, 7/24/20]

Trump Proposed Overhauling National Environmental Policy Act Regulations To Make It Faster And Easier To Approve Construction Of Pipelines And Highways. “President Trump announced a ‘top to bottom overhaul’ of the regulations that govern one of the nation's most significant environmental laws. The aim is to speed up approval for major projects like pipelines and highways [...] The administration's new regulations are expected to reduce the types and number of projects that will be subject to review under the NEPA, shorten the timeline for reviews, and drop a requirement that agencies consider the cumulative environmental effects of projects, such as their contribution to climate change.” NPR, [7/15/20]

- Buccino: Trump’s Regulatory Overhaul Would Deny Communities Who Have Been Most Impacted By Pollution A Say In What Projects Get Built In Their Neighborhoods. “But environmental groups warn the new rules will sideline the environmental effects of pipelines, highways and other projects. ‘What the Trump administration is doing is fundamentally changing those regulations and really gutting them,’ says Sharon Buccino, a senior attorney at the Natural Resources Defense Council. What's more, Buccino says the law was designed to give a voice to communities long hurt by pollution from highways, pipelines and chemical plants that are disproportionately located in their neighborhoods. ‘NEPA gives poor and communities of color a say in the projects that will define their communities for decades to come. Rather than listen, the Trump administration's plan aims to silence such voices,’ says Buccino.” NPR, [7/15/20]

Garcia Voted Against An Amendment To Defund A Trump Administration EPA Rule On Air Quality Standards For Particulate Matter. In July 2020, Garcia voted against: “Tonko, D-N.Y., for Blunt Rochester, D-Del., amendment no. 67 that would prohibit the use of funds provided by the bill to enforce an April 30, 2020, EPA rule related to air quality standards for particulate matter.” The amendment was adopted 233-176. - The Amendment Would Defund The Trump Administration’s EPA Rule That Would Maintain Existing Particulate Quality Standards Rather Than Enforce Greater Emissions Cuts. “Among the provisions voted on is a prohibition on EPA’s use of funds to finalize, implement or enforce the agency’s proposal to maintain the existing particulate matter (PM) national ambient air quality standards (NAAQS) instead of tightening it to force greater PM emissions cuts. The amendment says the proposal ‘fails to protect, within an adequate margin of safety, communities of color from harmful air pollution during a global public health pandemic, where those communities are experiencing a disproportionately high death rate made worse by decades of exposure to toxic pollution.’ The amendment, sponsored by Rep. Paul Tonko (D-NY), appeared to prevail on a voice vote, but Tonko requested a recorded vote that had not yet occurred at press time.” [InsideEPA, 7/24/20]

Garcia Voted Against Reinstating The Obama Administration’s Methane Emission Standards

Garcia Voted Against Congressional Disapproval Of The Trump Administration’s Methane Rule And Reinstating The Obama Administration’s Methane Emission Standards

Garcia Voted Against Congressional Disapproval Of The Trump Administration’s Methane Rule And Reinstating The Obama Administration’s Methane Emission Standards. In June 2021, Garcia Voted Against: “Passage of the joint resolution that would provide for congressional disapproval of a September 2020 Environmental Protection Agency rule that reversed 2012 and 2016 rules establishing emission standards -- or new source performance standards -- to limit the amount of methane and volatile organic compounds that can be released in the production, processing, transportation and storage of oil and natural gas. Specifically, the 2020 rule rescinded the methane-specific standards and rescinded the applicability of all standards to transportation and storage activities. The rule also required the EPA, before promulgating new air pollutant standards, to determine that the pollutant causes or contributes significantly to dangerous air pollution. The rule took effect on September 14, 2020. Under the provisions of the joint resolution, the 2020 rule would have no force or effect, and the Obama-era emission standards would be effectively reinstated.” The resolution passed, 229-191. It would raise royalty rates and fees for oil and gas drilling leases and cancel or ban certain offshore leases. It would provide $29 billion to support the deployment of low- and zero-emission technologies, more than $20 billion for federal climate resiliency and environmental conservation activities and $9 billion for federal procurement of electric vehicles and related infrastructure. It would provide $65 billion for public housing improvements, $24 billion for rental assistance housing vouchers and $15 billion for down payment assistance and loan programs for first-generation homebuyers. It would provide $9.8 billion for local transit projects to support mobility and affordable housing access disadvantaged communities and $9 billion for lead remediation and water line replacement projects. It would provide $6.6 billion to the Small Business Administration and Minority Business Development Agency to help underrepresented individuals with business development. It would provide $20 billion for Labor and Education department workforce development programs and $1.9 billion for Labor Department worker protection agencies. It would allow individuals who entered the United States prior to Jan. 1, 2011, to receive a grant of parole allowing them to remain temporarily in the country for a period of five years, but no later than Sept. 30, 2021. It would temporarily increase from $10,000 to $80,000 the annual cap on the deduction for state and local taxes for tax years 2021 through 2030. It would codify a Commerce Department agreement limiting importation of uranium from Russia. It would provide for a dispute resolution process with regard to eminent domain for surveying land to be used for natural gas pipelines.” The bill passed 229 to 187. [...] Unfortunately, as a result of our recent abandonment, Afghanistan will also ultimately suffer the same fate that Ukraine will experience imminently. “Representative Mike Garcia (CA-25) released the following statement in response to Russian President Vladimir Putin’s military operation against Ukraine: [...] ‘For over a year, I have been stating that President Biden has been giving hope to the ‘bad guys.’ Tonight, one of the most dangerous leaders on the planet, Vladimir Putin, is taking advantage of our weaknesses. [...] This new war started by Putin is a product of the Biden administration not creating a stronger deterrence and failing to demonstrate to the world that the United States and our allies are to be respected. Garcia Voted Against The America COMPETES Act, A Bill To Hold China Accountable For Unfair Trade Practices And Make The U.S. More Competitive Against Them

---

Feb. 2022: Garcia Voted Against The America COMPETES Act

Garcia Voted Against The America COMPETES Act, Aimed At Increasing The U.S.’s Global Competitiveness. In February 2022 Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, comprising a package of provisions related to scientific research and development and international competitiveness, including provisions to authorize more than $135 billion over five years for federal investment in scientific research and development programs; provide more than $52 billion in supplemental appropriations for the U.S. semiconductor industry; and require various actions related to U.S. technological competitiveness and foreign policy, particularly with regard to countering Chinese influence. Among provisions related to science and technology research and development, it would authorize $78 billion through fiscal 2026 for National Science Foundation activities, including $13.3 billion for a new NSF Directorate for Science and Engineering Solutions to support use-inspired research and development that addresses societal challenges such as climate change, global competitiveness in critical technologies, cybersecurity, national security, social and economic inequality, and education and workforce development in science and technology. It would authorize $50.2 billion through fiscal 2026 for Energy Department science activities, including research and development related to climate issues, alternative energy sources and quantum technologies. It would authorize $8 billion through fiscal 2026 for the National Institute of Standards and Technology and expand NIST functions to include information security and cybersecurity research and development activities. Among supply chain provisions, it would provide $52.7 billion through fiscal 2026 in supplemental appropriations to fund a program to incentivize research, development and workforce development related to the production of semiconductors, established by the fiscal 2021 defense authorization law. It would establish a Commerce Department office to lead federal efforts to strengthen supply chains and domestic manufacturing in critical industries, and it would authorize $45 billion through fiscal 2027 for grants and loans under the office. It would appropriate $1.5 billion through fiscal 2031 to support 5G wireless network development. Among foreign policy provisions, it would require the president and State Department to develop diplomatic engagement strategies to address global economic and security development, particularly with regard to countering Chinese influence and economic coercion. It would authorize more than $2 billion in bilateral and regional foreign assistance and $1.25 billion for diplomatic engagement in the Indo-Pacific region for fiscal 2022, as well as over $1 billion through fiscal 2026 for foreign military financing and security programs in the region. It would include various provisions related to global action on climate change, including to establish an interagency task force to monitor climate change in relation to national security risks and authorize $8 billion through fiscal 2023 for contributions to the U.N. Green Climate Fund. It would extend a wide range of duty reductions and suspensions; update certain trade policies to include standards related to environmental, labor, human rights and intellectual property protections; and establish a U.S. Trade Representative committee to review and potentially block overseas investments in foreign adversary nations that could impact U.S. critical capabilities. Among workforce and economic development provisions, the bill would reauthorize and expand the Labor Department national apprenticeship system; authorize several new or expanded NSF programs related to expanding science, technology, engineering and mathematics education, workforce development and participation of underrepresented groups in STEM; create a new class of nonimmigrant ‘W’ visas for entrepreneurs associated with U.S. start-up companies; and reauthorize and expand the Trade Adjustment Assistance program to support individuals and communities that have been adversely impacted by international trade.” The bill passed by a vote of 222-210. ### The America COMPETES Act Would Invest In U.S. Manufacturing To Decrease Our Reliance On Chinese Goods

---

The America COMPETES Act Authorized $45 Billion To Bolster The Supply Chain And Increase U.S. Manufacturing Of “Critical” Goods. “The House bill would provide $45 billion over six years in grants and loans to improve the nation's supply chains and to boost American manufacturing of goods deemed critical for national security and the US economy -- like products for public health, communications technology and food -- according to a summary of the bill provided by House Democrats. Similar to the Senate bill, it would create a new initiative within the Department of Commerce to help promote the resiliency of the nation's supply chains. The House bill would establish an office that would monitor supply chains, identify vulnerabilities and designate which products are critical. The agency would also be tasked with building up stockpiles to prevent shortages of goods in the event of a future supply chain shock.” CNN, [2/4/22]

The America COMPETES Act Invested $52 Billion In Domestic Manufacturing And Research Of Semiconductors To Decrease The U.S.’s Technological Dependence On Asia. “The House voted Friday to pass the America COMPETES Act, a bill that aims to increase U.S. competitiveness with China and to address the country’s shortage of semiconductors by strengthening the country’s supply chain. [...] The bill includes $52 billion to support domestic manufacturing and research of semiconductors, the chips that are used in electronic devices and have faced shortages throughout the pandemic, contributing to delays and increased costs. The incentives for semiconductor production come as the U.S. has increasingly relied on imports for computer chips. Twelve percent of the world's chips are made in the U.S., down from 37% in the 1990s, according to industry officials. About 80% are made in Asia.” USA Today, [2/4/22]

That amounted to a 25 percentage point drop since 2018, the year of the first National Defense Survey. [...] Mr. Garcia said Pentagon leadership is too interested in pushing forward a ‘woke’ liberal agenda, such as diversity and inclusivity training in the ranks, rather than focusing on defeating an enemy. ‘We know they should know better. What I want is for him to be little more upset about the fact that we have thousands of Americans stranded in Afghanistan—and we still do not know the exact number to this date. Aug. 2021: Garcia Claimed Biden’s Decision To Pull American Troops From Afghanistan Emboldened Terrorist Organizations And Called For Him To Resign

Garcia Claimed That Biden’s Decision To Pull American Troops From Afghanistan Emboldened Terrorist Organizations. “As the Taliban takes over Afghanistan with little resistance, California lawmakers, like many Americans, have watched, stunned at the rapid fall of a government the U.S. spent 20 years trying to stabilize. [...] Rep. Mike Garcia (R-Santa Clarita) [...] ‘As someone who has personally fought that mission and served in combat in the Middle East, I understand the situation at hand and why withdrawing our troops unconditionally with a set date was a reckless, deadly decision. I know the important role that our allies in Afghanistan played in protecting U.S. troops and journalists. I am heartbroken to see the devastation the ill-planned withdrawal has caused. Not only did the Biden administration’s decision cost lives and embolden terrorist organizations, but the administration has woefully failed to mitigate the foreseeable devastation the botched withdrawal caused.’” [Los Angeles Times, 8/20/21]

HEADLINE: “Afghanistan Catastrophe Cause For Biden To Resign, According To Congressman Mike Garcia.” “Rep. Mike Garcia demanded that President Biden resign over the crisis in Afghanistan. His comments came ahead of the explosions in Kabul on Thursday that led to an unknown number of casualties, but injured at least three U.S. Marines. [...] ‘There’s going to be blood on his hands that are Americans, the blood of our allies,’ Garcia told Fox News during a Tuesday interview that was not previously released. ‘We’re unfortunately likely not going to get everyone out, and the Taliban is going to take over and kill those folks that we do leave behind.’ ‘This falls on the commander in chief’s desk,’ the California Republican continued.” Fox News, [8/26/21]

Garcia Accused Biden Of Not Knowing How Many Americans Were Left To Evacuate From Afghanistan. “Lawmakers say the Biden administration does not know how many Americans are left to evacuate from Afghanistan as it nears the end-of-month deadline for a full troop withdrawal. The White House reported late Monday that the U.S. has evacuated approximately 48,000 people since full-scale evacuation efforts began from the Hamid Karzai International Airport in Kabul on Aug. 14. But some lawmakers question whether the administration grasps the total number left to evacuate. ‘I don’t think this administration knows, that’s part of the problem,’ Rep. Mike Garcia, California Republican, told The Washington Times. ‘I think part of what they are trying to do right now is characterize how many people are on the ground. We’re actively filling out spreadsheets, as members of Congress, to help sort of funnel all this data up into one story for the State Department. But the short answer is they don’t know.’” [Washington Times, 8/24/21]

Garcia Said That He Would Still Support The Iraq War Today Knowing What He Knew Now. HOST: “Knowing what you know now, though, would you support the war? Going into Iraq was a good idea?” GARCIA: “Yes, the timing is always debatable, the method of how you go in is always debatable, it’s easy to be a Monday morning quarterback and throw stones and critique the way the war was born. You can go back to Gettysburg and go, wow, General Lee, you really screwed that one up. Which he did, he screwed it up. It's easy to do that, we all do that. So, um, first of all, the thing I have a lot of respect for and am very cautious about is when someone asks you, why how do you feel about this, if you don't have access to the full picture and you can't see all of the data that went into that decision, it's interesting what you think and feel. Even me now, I obviously don't have all of the data that went into the president's decision matrix back in 2003. But, there's a lot of briefs at a lot of different levels, and that paints the full picture. That's why they're there to make those decisions. Sometimes they're right, sometimes they're wrong, and you know, it's a difficult call." [Talk of Santa Clarita, 8/8/19] (VIDEO)

Garcia Voted Against Prohibiting Arms Sales Or Transfers To Saudi Arabia For 120 Days

Garcia Voted Against Prohibiting For 120 Days, Any Arms Sale Or Transfer From The U.S. To The Government Of Saudi Arabia. In April 2021, Garcia voted against: "Meeks, D-N.Y., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would prohibit, for 120 days, the sale, licensing or transfer of any defense article or services from the U.S. to an intelligence, security or law enforcement agency of the government of Saudi Arabia. It would permit such activities to resume if the president certifies to Congress that Saudi Arabia, in the previous 120 days, has not forced the repatriation, intimidation or murder of dissidents in other countries; unjustly imprisoned U.S. citizens or permanent residents in Saudi Arabia; or tortured detainees in its custody. It would provide exceptions to the prohibition related to the defense of Saudi Arabia from external threats and the defense of U.S. personnel and facilities in Saudi Arabia. The bill would also require multiple reports to Congress related to intimidation or harassment of Saudi nationals in the United States, including on whether Saudi diplomatic officials in the U.S. used diplomatic credentials or facilities to facilitate harm to or monitoring, surveillance, or harassment of other Saudi nationals in the country; whether any Saudi official engaged in a consistent pattern of intimidation or harassment against journalist Jamal Khashoggi or other individuals in the U.S.; and whether and how the U.S. intelligence community fulfilled its duty to warn Khashoggi of threats against him." On Feb. 25, Garcia voted against the federal Equality Act to protect all Americans from discrimination based on sexual orientation and gender identity. The law would prohibit common forms of biased mistreatment, including harassment and discrimination, in education, employment, and housing. [...] But Garcia rejected the Equality Act, saying it poses ‘a detriment to other free citizens’ and ‘is contrary to American ideals.’ Huh? Let’s unpack that. Such abstract rhetoric seems to repeat a false talking point of extremist organizations. In supplemental appropriations and increased contract authority, the bill would provide $110 billion for roads, bridges and major surface transportation projects, including $47.3 for highway infrastructure and $40 billion for bridge construction and repair; $66 billion for rail, including $58 billion for Amtrak; and $39 billion for transit, including $5.3 billion for zero- and low-emission transit buses and $2 billion for accessibility improvements. It would provide $25 billion for airports and approximately $17 billion for ports and waterways, including $3.4 billion to modernize land ports of entry and $2.25 billion for water port upgrades, including resilience and electrification projects. It would provide approximately $11 billion for various transportation safety and research programs. It would provide $7.5 billion for electric vehicle charging infrastructure and $5 billion for zero- and low-emission school bus programs. It would establish requirements for many new and existing surface transportation programs to consider the environmental and equity impacts of funded activities and authorize a range of transportation programs related to emissions reduction and climate change resilience. It would provide $1 billion for activities to reconnect neighborhoods by removing or remediating the effects of transportation infrastructure construction in disadvantaged and underserved communities. The bill would provide approximately $65 billion for broadband, including $42.5 billion for grants to states to increase access in unserved areas and $14.2 billion to extend a program initially authorized in response to the coronavirus pandemic that provides stipends to help low-income families pay for internet services. It would provide approximately $62 billion for the Energy Department, including $21.5 billion for clean energy demonstration projects, $16.3 billion for energy efficiency and renewable energy programs, $8 billion for power grid resilience and other electricity projects, and $7.5 billion for fossil energy and carbon management. It would authorize or expand several programs to incentivize clean energy manufacturing, development and adoption. It would provide approximately $55 billion for water infrastructure and safety, including $30.7 billion for the Drinking Water State Revolving Fund, including $15 billion to replace lead service lines and $4 billion to address per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances and other emerging contaminants; and $12.7 billion for the Clean Water State Revolving Fund. Across various departments, the bill would provide funding for climate change response and environmental remediation, including; $11.3 billion for abandoned mine land and water reclamation projects, approximately $5.75 billion for wildfire management, $3.5 billion for the EPA hazardous substance superfund and $3.5 billion for FEMA flood mitigation. It would also provide more than $1.7 billion for cybersecurity resilience programs. The bill would include a number of provisions intended to offset spending, including by rescinding certain unobligated COVID-19 relief funding and establishing tax reporting requirements for cryptocurrency and other digital assets.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 228-206. It would fund veterans’ programs, the Department of Homeland Security, national security programs and disaster assistance at full fiscal 2023 levels. It would also implement nearly all provisions of House Republicans’ border security and immigration bill (HR 2), which the House passed in May 2023. It would provide an increase in funding for the Defense Department at rates set forth in House Republicans’ fiscal 2024 defense appropriations bill (HR 4365), which would provide for a 3.6 percent funding increase over fiscal 2023. It would also provide funding increases for the Agriculture Department and provide an additional $220 million above fiscal 2023 levels for Energy Department nuclear programs. Among its border security and immigration provisions, it would require DHS, within seven days of enactment, to resume all activities related to “border wall” construction on the U.S.-Mexico border that were underway or planned prior to Jan. 20, 2021; require DHS to reopen or restore, no later than Sept. 30, 2023, the use of all Immigration and Customs Enforcement detention facilities that were in operation on Jan. 20, 2021; and require DHS to return all unaccompanied children to their country of origin, regardless of whether they are from a contiguous country to the U.S. In addition to provisions of HR 2, it would place limitations on the use of DHS funding provided by the bill, including prohibitions on removing existing U.S.-Mexico border barriers, transporting inadmissible adults into the U.S., and the use of Customs and Border Protection’s “CBP One” app to facilitate the parole of an individual into the U.S. It also would prohibit the use of funds provided by the bill to initiate or resume any project or activity not funded during fiscal 2023 and would establish a congressional fiscal commission tasked with identifying policies to “improve the fiscal situation.” The bill was rejected by a vote of 198-232. Ventura County Fire Department Blamed California Resources Corp. For A 2019 Brush Fire Near Santa Paula Caused By A Failed Conductor On An Electrical Line Owned By The Company. "Investigations cited electrical equipment failure during windy, dry weather as the causes of two Southern California wildfires last year, a fire agency announced Thursday. The 1,800-acre Easy Fire, which threatened the Ronald Reagan Presidential Library and nearby Simi Valley homes, was ignited Oct. 30, 2019, when an insulator attached to a Southern California Edison high-voltage transmission line swung into a steel power pole, the Ventura County Fire Department said in a press release. The department also said the nearly 15.6-square-mile -- nearly 10,000 acres -- Maria Fire near Santa Paula was ignited Oct. 31, 2019, by failure of a conductor on an electrical distribution line owned by California Resources Corp." The Maria Fire erupted at around 6:15 p.m. on Halloween night, sending fast-moving flames down both sides of South Mountain toward Santa Paula, to the north, and Somis to the south. [...] The Maria Fire spurred the evacuation of thousands of residents and closed schools in the area, but in the end no injuries were reported. By Saturday, firefighters had gained the upper hand. More than 600 personnel continued to work the fire Monday. They are conducting mop-up and patrolling homes and other structures around the perimeter until the fire is completely out, officials said." The Maria fire broke out atop South Mountain, just south of Santa Paula, about 6:14 p.m. Thursday and quickly burned toward the small agricultural towns of Somis and Saticoy. [...] The fire has burned 9,400 acres and had no containment as of early Friday afternoon. Fire officials say at least two structures have been lost in the blaze. However, there have been reports of other properties damaged. [...] Roughly 2,300 structures are threatened, and 8,000 people have been evacuated. Mandatory evacuations remain in place for a swath of homes south of South Mountain Road, east of West Los Angeles Avenue, west of Balcom Canyon Road and north of the 118 Freeway. The latest in a spate of conflagrations that have kept California firefighters on the go for weeks roared to life on Thursday evening near the hilly farm community of Santa Paula, about 70 miles (112.65 km) northwest of Los Angeles. As the Maria fire raced across nearly 9,000 acres (3,642 hectares) of dry brush and chaparral, firefighters scrambled to protect tens of millions of dollars worth of citrus and avocado crops in harm's way, as well as nearby oil industry infrastructure. The blaze also threatened high-voltage power lines in the vicinity, along with radio and communications towers at the top of a large hill called South Mountain, where the flames originated, Ventura County fire officials said." ### Garcia Cited Debunked And Unsubstantiated Claims About “Constitutional Errors,” “Irregularities,” And “Voter Fraud” To Justify His Vote To Challenge The 2020 Electoral College Vote

Garcia Claimed That There Was “Evidence Of Compromised Processes And Break Downs In Election Integrity By Certain State Legislatures” In The 2020 Election. “Despite representing a purple-to-blue district, Garcia announced he would join a large group of House Republicans in objecting to Biden’s Electoral College victory, a move that has been condemned by other members of the GOP. In a statement released Monday, Garcia said, ‘I do believe there is enough evidence of compromised processes and break downs in election integrity by certain state legislatures that do in fact warrant a closer examination.’ ‘I have examined all available evidence in several states currently being disputed,’ the statement said, ‘and I have digested the constitutional arguments from both sides of this discussion. We are clearly in the midst of a constitutional collision.’” [San Francisco Chronicle, 1/4/21]

Garcia Claimed, Without Evidence, That “There Were Constitutional Errors In Some States” Voting Processes During The 2020 Election. “Only one of the four Republicans who recovered seats for the GOP actually voted for the objections from their party’s senators and House members. That was Mike Garcia of Santa Clarita, a former Navy fighter pilot who won last fall by just 333 votes out of more than 340,000 cast in the district running from Lancaster and Rosamond in the high desert of northern Los Angeles County over to Simi Valley in Ventura County. [...] With no evidence to back his assertion, Garcia explained his vote to cancel Arizona’s electors by asserting without offering any evidence that he ‘firmly believ(ed)’ there were constitutional errors in some states’ votes. This despite numerous court decisions finding there were no such errors, all the way up to the U.S.” [Daily Independent, 2/12/21]

Garcia Claimed There Were “Irregularities” In The 2020 Presidential Election Even Though Those Claims Were Debunked In No Fewer Than 60 Lawsuits. “Garcia, who was just elected in L.A. County’s swing 25th Congressional District, said allegations of election ‘irregularities’ — which have been debunked in no fewer than 60 lawsuits — were enough to get his objection. By Thursday morning, he said the objections had run their due course and acknowledged Biden as the lawfully elected president.” [Press Enterprise, 1/10/21]

Garcia Voted To Challenge The 2020 Electoral College Vote Even After The Jan. 6 Insurrection, Citing “Threats Of Fraud” And The Need To Resolve “Any Uncertainty” About The 2020 Election

Garcia Voted To Challenge The 2020 Electoral College Vote Even After The Jan. 6 Insurrection Because Of Unsubstantiated Claims Of Voter Fraud. “On Monday, Garcia announced he would join the effort to challenge the Electoral College vote, based on unsubstantiated claims of voter fraud. Some GOP senators changed their mind about supporting the objection after rioters breached the Capitol in a violent and chaotic scene on Wednesday. But eight senators and 139 representatives, including Garcia, still voted to object to election results in Arizona and Pennsylvania. ‘Americans have a right to free and fair elections. We must remember, the Presidency belongs not to Congress, it belongs to the American people. However, when threats of fraud arise regarding the results of the election, per the laws written in the Constitution, America’s elected Congressional Representatives must ensure that any uncertainty is resolved,’ read Garcia’s statement on Thursday.” [Ventura County Star, 1/8/21]

- ✓ Garcia’s District Voted 54% For Biden In the 2020 Election. “The Simi Valley Democratic Club noted that Garcia’s objection is ‘not representative’ of the views of the 25th Congressional district, which they estimate voted 54% for Biden.” [Ventura County Star, 1/8/21]

Garcia Claimed That He Voted To Challenge The 2020 Election Results Because He Wanted A Debate About Election Integrity, And Was Not Trying To Overturn The Election

Garcia Claimed That He Voted To Challenge The 2020 Election Results Because He Wanted A Debate About Election Integrity And Was Not Trying To Overturn The Election. “Garcia declined requests for an interview or to answer written questions from The Times. But in the op-ed in the Santa Clarita Valley Signal, he explained his actions in terms tailored for his purple district. He insisted he wanted an open debate about election integrity, not to overturn the election. (If the objection had been successful, it would have blocked the votes legitimately cast in Arizona and Pennsylvania.)” [Los Angeles, 2/8/21]

Local Media Outlets Criticized Garcia For Challenging The 2020 Election Results, Saying The Move Showed He Was “Unfit” To Hold Office

EDITORIAL: Garcia Sacrificed His “Conservative Principles” And “Credibility” When He Voted To Object To The 2020 Election Results. “What Trump wants his supporters to believe is that the courts, including judges appointed by Trump, all 50 states, including dozens governed by Republicans, and Trump’s own attorney general, all got everything wrong. This is nonsense. Yet this nonsense is what motivated the attack on the Capitol on Wednesday which left five people dead. This nonsense is what motivated a shameful number of Republican lawmakers to object to the certification of Electoral College votes. Rep. Ken Calvert, R-Corona, Rep. Mike Garcia, R-Santa Clarita, Rep. Darrell Issa, R-Temecula, and Rep. Jay Obernolte, R-Big Bear Lake all chose to sacrifice conservative principles and their credibility. They failed to show true leadership; they failed to do the right thing when it was the easiest thing to do.” [Monterey County Herald, Editorial, 1/10/21]

EDITORIAL: Garcia’s Vote To Challenge The Results Of The 2020 Presidential Election Showed That He Was “Unfit” To Hold His Office. “The members of Congress who conspired to overturn a legitimate presidential election revealed themselves as cynics and fools even before a mob took their position to its insane conclusion by raiding the U.S. Capitol. To continue to call such chaos down upon their country and themselves in the aftermath required still greater recklessness and treachery. And yet 147 Republican lawmakers - eight senators and 139 representatives - persisted in voting to reject the results of free and fair elections in Arizona and Pennsylvania even after a crowd incited by President Trump ran riot under the rotunda, forcing them and their colleagues to take cover as guns were drawn and fired. They included the House’s top Republican, Kevin McCarthy of Bakersfield, and six other members of California’s delegation: Ken Calvert, Mike Garcia, Darrell Issa, Doug LaMalfa, Devin Nunes and Jay Obernolte. The members of this antidemocratic caucus voted against the people and the republic even in the dark shadow of the alternative. They are unfit to hold their offices.” [San Francisco Chronicle, Editorial, 1/8/21]

Mike Garcia, who said Tuesday he would join in GOP challenges to some of the Electoral College due to what he called ‘breakdowns in election integrity’ in some states, issued a statement Wednesday condemning the violence at the Capitol. ‘In this great nation, we have the freedom to freely debate our different opinions and ideas, but this must be done through civil debate -- violence has no place in a democracy,’ Garcia said. This proposed bipartisan commission will be tasked with examining and reporting upon the terror attack upon our Capitol that occurred last Wednesday. The commission will be bipartisan in nature, modeled after the 9/11 Commission, and will fully be empowered to undertake a full investigation and make recommendations to the President and to Congress. I can think of no more appropriate path for Congress to follow than by ensuring a bipartisan commission reviews all evidence and reports back to us on this horrific event.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the resolution. The motion was agreed to, 221-205. It would require the commission to investigate facts and circumstances of the attack related to intelligence and law enforcement agency activities and factors contributing to the attack, including online platforms and foreign influence operations; identify and analyze the causes of and lessons learned from the attack with regard to law enforcement operations and security protocol at the Capitol; and submit to the president and Congress reports containing findings and recommendations for corrective measures that are agreed to by a majority of the commission. The commission would be composed of ten members, evenly chosen by the majority and minority parties, who have national recognition and significant experience in at least two subject areas related to the attack, such as law enforcement, intelligence, law, civil rights and counterterrorism. Among other provisions, the bill would authorize the commission to issue subpoenas and hold hearings and specify that the commission would submit its final report by the end of 2021 and terminate 60 days after submitting the report.” The bill passed 252-175. The resolution would authorize the speaker of the House to appoint 13 members to the committee, including five members after consultation with the minority leader. Among other provisions, it would authorize the committee chair to issue subpoenas, authorize such sums as may be necessary for committee expenses, and specify that the committee would terminate 30 days after filing its final report to Congress.” The bill passed 222 to 190. - The Select Committee Was Established After Senate Republicans Blocked A Vote On Creating A Bipartisan Outside Commission To Investigate The January 6th Insurrection. “In a largely party-line vote, the Democratic-controlled House of Representatives approved legislation on Wednesday to create a select committee to launch a new inquiry into the Jan. 6 attack on the U.S. Capitol. With a larger share of Republicans voting against the plan, it marks the latest turn in a partisan fight to investigate the riot [...] Last month, Senate Republicans blocked a move to vote on an outside commission, leaving Democratic leaders with plans to move forward with a House select committee instead. But some Republicans who supported the independent commission voted against the select committee.” NPR, [6/30/21]

Garcia Voted Against Referring Former Trump Chief Of Staff Mark Meadows To The Justice Department In Contempt Of Congress For Refusal To Comply With A Subpoena From The Select Committee Investigating The January 6th Attack On The U.S. Capitol. In December 2021 Garcia voted against: “Agreeing to the resolution, that would find Mark Meadows, former White House chief of staff to President Donald Trump, in contempt of Congress for refusal to comply with a subpoena issued by the Select Committee to Investigate the January 6 Attack on the United States Capitol. It would direct the speaker of the House to “take all appropriate action to enforce the subpoena” and certify the committee report (H Rept 117-216) accompanying the contempt resolution to the U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia for judicial action.” The motion passed by a vote of 222-208. Last week, Meadows backed away from cooperating with the panel just days after saying he would. He argued that the panel was pressuring him to discuss issues that the former president said are protected by executive privilege. However, Meadows had already produced thousands of documents for the panel, including text messages and emails related to the events of the day.” Washington Post, [12/15/21]

Garcia Voted Against Finding Steve Bannon In Contempt Of Congress For Not Complying With A Subpoena From The Committee Investigating The January 6th Insurrection. In October 2021 Garcia voted against: “Agreeing to the resolution that would find Stephen Bannon, adviser to former President Donald Trump, in contempt of Congress for refusal to comply with a subpoena issued by the Select Committee to Investigate the January 6 Attack on the United States Capitol. It would direct the speaker of the House to ‘take all appropriate action to enforce the subpoena’ and certify the committee report (H Rept 117-152) accompanying the contempt resolution to the U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia for judicial action.” The bill passed by a vote of 229-202. The resolution would state among its findings that Trump ‘widely advertised and broadly encouraged’ participation in the march on the U.S. Capitol on Wednesday, Jan. 6, which turned into a violent insurrectionary mob that resulted in 5 deaths following the storming of the Capitol building; did not appeal to his followers to exit the Capitol during the insurrection; refused to accept the results of the 2020 presidential election as legitimate; and made at least three attempts to intervene in the vote counting and certification process in the state of Georgia and to ‘coerce’ its state officials to declare him the winner of the state's electoral votes.” The resolution passed, 223-205. Garcia Voted Against Impeaching President Trump For Inciting The Jan. 6th Insurrection

Garcia Voted Against Impeaching President Trump For Incitement Of Insurrection. In January 2021, Garcia voted against “Adoption of the article of impeachment that would impeach President Donald Trump for incitement of insurrection by ‘inciting violence against the government of the United States.’ Specifically, it would state that Trump ‘repeatedly issued false statements’ asserting that the results of the 2020 presidential election were the product of widespread fraud and should not be accepted or certified. It would state that Trump made statements at a rally on Jan. 6, 2020, that ‘encouraged -- and foreseeably resulted in -- lawless action’ at the Capitol building during the certification of electoral college votes, during which protesters entered the Capitol, attacked law enforcement personnel, ‘menaced’ members of Congress and the vice president, and engaged in other ‘violent, deadly, destructive, and seditious acts.’ It would state that Trump's conduct on Jan. 6 followed prior efforts ‘to subvert and obstruct’ the certification of 2020 presidential election results, including during a Jan. 2 phone call during which he urged Georgia Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger to ‘find’ enough votes to overturn the state's presidential election results and ‘threatened Secretary Raffensperger if he failed to do so.’ It would state President Trump's ‘endangered the security of the United States and its institutions of government’ and that he ‘threatened the integrity of the democratic system, interfered with the peaceful transition of power, and imperiled a coordinate branch of government.’ Pursuant to the rule (H Res 41), upon adoption of the article of impeachment, the House agreed to the resolution (H Res 40) that would appoint and authorize the following impeachment trial managers to conduct the impeachment trial against President Donald Trump in the Senate: Reps. Raskin, D-Md., DeGette, D-Colo., Cicilline, D-R.I., Castro, D-Texas, Swalwell, D-Calif., Lieu, D-Calif., Plaskett, D-V.I., Neguse, D-Colo., and Dean, D-Pa.” The article of impeachment was adopted, 232-197. Unlike Fellow California Republican Rep. David Valadao, Garcia Voted Against Trump’s Second Impeachment. “Rep. David Valadao was the only one of California's 11 congressional Republicans who voted Wednesday to impeach President Donald Trump — the latest distinction setting him apart from the rest of the caucus. [...] The three other Republicans who represent swing districts — Mike Garcia in Simi Valley, and Young Kim and Michelle Steel in Orange County — voted against impeachment. But Kim tried to find middle ground with an unsuccessful resolution to censure Trump, which she said would ‘unite our country and chamber, rather than divide it.’” [CALmatters, 1/14/21]

Garcia Claimed That Trump’s Second Impeachment Was Hasty And Divisive

Garcia Opposed Trump’s Second Impeachment Because He Thought It Was Too Hasty. “Garcia declined requests for an interview or to answer written questions from The Times. But in the op-ed in the Santa Clarita

Valley Signal, he explained his actions in terms tailored for his purple district. He insisted he wanted an open debate about election integrity, not to overturn the election. (If the objection had been successful, it would have blocked the votes legitimately cast in Arizona and Pennsylvania.) He said he opposed Trump's impeachment because of its hastiness, but the op-ed did not address the charge that Trump incited violence." [Los Angeles, 2/8/21]

Garcia Claimed That Trump's Second Impeachment Was "No More Than Political Theater That Runs The Risk Of Further Dividing Us." "Republican Rep. Mike Garcia of Santa Clarita barely won reelection in a district that rejected President Trump and voted for Democrat Joe Biden. Yet the congressman last week voted to protect Trump from impeachment. [...] Garcia's explanation for his House vote was this: 'With only a few days left in the Trump administration, the vote to impeach the president is no more than political theater that runs the risk of further dividing us at a time when we need to come together. I urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to stop playing political games.'" [Los Angeles Times, 1/18/21]

When Asked About Efforts To Expel Reps. Cheney And Kinzinger From The House Republican Caucus, Garcia Said That We Needed "To Move On From That Whole Discussion." "The Republican National Committee's overwhelming voice vote to censure Reps. Liz Cheney of Wyoming and Adam Kinzinger of Illinois at its winter meeting in Salt Lake City culminated more than a year of vacillation, which started with party leaders condemning the Capitol attack and Trump's conduct, then shifted to downplaying and denying it. [...] The party's far-right flank has been agitating to boot Cheney and Kinzinger out of the House Republican Conference for months, a push that Rep. Kevin McCarthy of California, the minority leader, has tried to brush aside. And their formal censure is sure to stir up those efforts again. 'We need to move on from that whole discussion and, frankly, move forward and get the House back in 2022,' said Rep. Mike Garcia, R- Calif., who is facing a difficult reelection campaign in a newly configured district." [Baltimore Sun, 2/5/22]

Mike, have you heard about this?" GARCIA: "I just started hearing. There may have been a few others so it's not surprising that the guys that work in the uniformed personnel that work in that capacity are good folks. There's law enforcement that serves in that field. But the leadership is under the thumb of Pelosi. Just like every Democrat votes the same way on every piece of legislation because they fear her and her tyranny, the Capitol Police leadership does the same. NPR described the bill: "The [For The People Act] seeks 'to expand Americans' access to the ballot box, reduce the influence of big money in politics, strengthen ethics rules for public servants, and implement other anti-corruption measures for the purpose of fortifying our democracy, and for other purposes.' The bill's language calls for a complete overhaul of the current system, which varies widely by state and which critics say promotes unfair barriers to voting. Included in the act is mandatory automatic voter registration, restoring voting rights to people with completed felony sentences and a reversal of state voter ID laws that would allow citizens to make a sworn statement affirming their identity if they were unable to produce an ID. [...] in politics by requiring organizations to disclose large donors, and it creates a matching system for small donations." The motion was agreed to by a vote of 220 - 210. Under the vision of the bill's main sponsor, Rep. John Sarbanes (D-MD), the federal government would provide a voluntary 6-1 match for candidates for president and Congress, which means for every dollar a candidate raises from small donations, the federal government would match it six times over. The maximum small donation that could be matched would be capped at $200. The most substantial change to HR 1 is this program now won't be funded by taxpayer dollars as originally planned; instead, it will come from adding a 2.75 percent fee on criminal and civil fines, fees, penalties, or settlements with banks and corporations that commit corporate malfeasance (think Wells Fargo)." ### Garcia Accused Democrats Of Using Partisan Gerrymandering To Remain In Power...

Garcia Claimed That Partisan Redistricting In Blue States Like California Was Proof That Democrats Change Election Rules In Order To Maintain Power. GRANT: "Let me just ask you as we come up with the end of this segment. You're getting redistricted. We're facing this problem really across the country. And what I'm trying to issue is a wakeup call to Republicans that in Democrat blue states, this is where now the Democrats have a plot and scheme to keep the House of Representatives. We're seeing Republicans in New York get redistricted out of office. We're seeing Republicans in California get redistricted out of office quietly, these blue states are going to add more Democrat congress people to offset the losses they're going to have around the country." [...] GARCIA: "This is how Pelosi has been trying to maintain power. They change the rules, they change the way we have elections [...] They change the rules and then message it as pro-democracy, but it's actually for the continuation of their power [...] we can't fall for it." AM 870, The Morning Answer with Jen and Grant, [2/3/22] (AUDIO, 17:37)

Garcia Voted Against The For the People Act, Expanding Access To Voting And Overhauling Campaign Finance And Ethics Laws. In March 2021, Garcia voted against The For The People Act. NPR described the bill: "The [For The People Act] seeks 'to expand Americans' access to the ballot box, reduce the influence of big money in politics, strengthen ethics rules for public servants, and implement other anti-corruption measures for the purpose of fortifying our democracy, and for other purposes.' The bill's language calls for a complete overhaul of the current system, which varies widely by state and which critics say promotes unfair barriers to voting. Included in the act is mandatory automatic voter registration, restoring voting rights to people with completed felony sentences and a reversal of state voter ID laws that would allow citizens to make a sworn statement affirming their identity if they were unable to produce an ID. [...] in politics by requiring organizations to disclose large donors, and it creates a matching system for small donations." The motion was agreed to by a vote of 220 - 210. Garcia Opposed Efforts To Combat Discriminatory Voter Suppression And Supported Efforts To Make It Harder To Vote

Garcia Repeatedly Voted Against The John Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act, Which Would Allow The DOJ To Overturn Discriminatory State And Local Voter Suppression Laws

Jan. 12, 2022: Garcia Voted Against The Freedom To Vote: John R. Lewis Act. In January 2022 Garcia voted against: “Butterfield, D-N.C., motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill (HR 5746) with a further House amendment containing an election integrity and voting rights package. Among other provisions related to voter access and election security, the bill would require states to allow online and same-day registration, automatically register eligible voters, allow early voting at least 15 days before election day, carry out a program to track and confirm receipt of all absentee ballots, require voting via paper ballots, and accept certain alternate forms of voter identification. It would establish uniform criteria for states' congressional redistricting plans to prevent partisan gerrymandering and protect political participation of minority groups. It would prohibit any attempt to prevent an individual from registering to vote, prohibit certain practices related to voter intimidation and harassment of election workers, and prohibit states from restricting the provision of food and nonalcoholic beverages at polling locations. It would make Election Day a federal holiday and include provisions to improve voter access for individuals with disabilities. Among other provisions related to campaign finance, the bill would modify or establish public financing mechanisms for presidential and congressional election campaigns that would match 600% of each contribution of up to $200 for candidates whose campaigns do not accept contributions of more than $1,000 per individual donor and do not use more than $50,000 of the candidate's personal funds. It would create a public financing voucher pilot program in three states, under which each eligible voter could donate $25 in public funding credit to House candidates. It would expand disclosure requirements for large campaign contributions, require candidates and political committees to report foreign contacts to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and prohibit the creation of corporations to conceal foreign election contributions. Among other provisions to strengthen anti-discrimination enforcement authorities in relation to voting practices, the bill would effectively restore preclearance requirements under the Voting Rights Act for any changes to voting practices in states and localities with a history of voting rights violations in the previous 25 years. It would establish formulas to identify such jurisdictions, which would be required to submit proposed changes to the Justice Department for preclearance before implementation. It would require states and localities to review election practices to identify any practices that could impact the ability to vote based on race, color or language minority group and subject any such practices to federal preclearance. It would expand Justice Department authority to assign federal election observers to ensure compliance with federal voting rights protections. It would require states and localities to provide public notice regarding any changes to voting procedures made within 180 days of a federal election, and regarding updated demographic data following any electoral district boundary changes.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 220-203. Aug. 24, 2021: Garcia Voted Against The John Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act. In August 2021 Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would include a number of provisions to strengthen anti-discrimination enforcement authorities in relation to voting practices. The bill would effectively restore preclearance requirements under the Voting Rights Act for any changes to voting practices in states and localities with a history of voting rights violations within the previous 25 years. It would establish formulas to identify such jurisdictions, which would be required to submit proposed changes to the Justice Department for review and approval before they may be implemented. It would establish an "administrative bailout" provision allowing jurisdictions to apply for exemptions to preclearance requirements if they meet eligibility standards related to not implementing discriminatory practices in the previous 10 years. It would also require states and localities to review any newly enacted or adopted election practices to identify whether they include certain practices that could impact the ability to vote based on race, color or language minority group, such as changes to impose stricter voter identification requirements; changes to jurisdictional boundaries or voting locations in jurisdictions with large minority populations; and changes that prohibit the provision of food or drinks to individuals waiting to vote. It would require jurisdictions that adopt such practices to submit them for federal preclearance. It would codify or expand various requirements for court evaluation of "vote denial" and "vote dilution" discrimination claims and other voting rights violations, including to provide for violations in the case of voting practices that have the purpose or will have the effect of denying or abridging the right to vote on account of race or color, including rules that have not yet been implemented. It would expand certain voting rights enforcement authorities, including to allow courts to grant injunctions or require judicial preclearance for changes to voting practices in response to any federal voting rights law prohibiting racial or language discrimination. Among other provisions, it would expand Justice Department authority to assign federal election observers to ensure compliance with federal voting rights protections, including bilingual election requirements. It would require states and localities to provide public notice of any changes to voting procedures made within 180 days of a federal election and to provide public notice of updated demographic data within ten days of any change to electoral district boundaries. ## Garcia, Along With Trump And The RNC, Falsely Accused Democrats Of Trying To Steal The California 25th Congressional District’s Special Election In 2020, In Which Garcia Was Elected To Congress

Trump And The RNC Claimed That Governor Newsom And Other Democrats Were Trying To Steal The CA-25 Special Election By Opening Another In-Person Voting Site—Even Though It Was Requested By A Republican Mayor

May 12, 2020: Trump Claimed That Newsom And Other Democrats Were Trying To Steal The Election From Garcia By Allowing More In-Person Voting. “With a flood of tweets, President Trump has jumped into Tuesday’s runoff election for a California congressional seat, accusing Gov. Gavin Newsom and other Democrats of trying to rig the election by allowing more in-person voting. ‘Dems are trying to steal the Mike Garcia Congressional Race in California,’ Trump tweeted early Monday, the latest in a string of presidential outbursts that began Friday dealing with a special election for a seat representing parts of Los Angeles and Ventura counties.” [San Francisco Chronicle, 5/12/20]

- The In-Person Voting Site Was Opened In Lancaster Because Its Republican Mayor Requested It. “As with the Clausen-Grader contest 57 years earlier, the Smith-Garcia race drew national media and political attention and big infusions of political cash. Newsom decreed that it would be an all-mail election due to the coronavirus pandemic and Trump complained, without merit, that Democrats were trying to steal the election when an in-person voting site was opened in Lancaster at the behest of its Republican mayor.” [Mercury News, 5/20/20]

Republican National Committee Chairwoman Ronna McDaniel Claimed That Democrats Were Trying To Steal The Election From Garcia By Installing A Vote Center In Lancaster, California. “Following a request by the Los Angeles County Democratic Party, Los Angeles County Registrar-Recorder/County Clerk Dean Logan announced on Friday that an in-person polling site at the Lancaster Vote Center would be available to voters in the second weekend of voting in the special election. [...] Republican National Committee Chairwoman Ronna McDaniel accused Democrats attempting to ‘steal’ the election from their candidate, tweeting: ‘Democrats are trying to steal the #CA25 special. Corrupt election official @DCLogan waited until Friday evening before the election to announce a single new voting location in a Dem-heavy area. Why? Dems demanded one. Help @MikeGarcia2020 fight back!’” [Washington Examiner, 5/9/20]

Lancaster, California’s Republican Mayor, Rex Parris, Supported The Decision To Open A New Poll Site. “Lancaster is, in fact, not the ‘most Democrat area’ in California. The city’s mayor, Rex Parris, is a Republican. Lancaster is also represented by two Republicans in the state legislature, The Washington Post noted. [...] Parris, the Republican mayor, also supported the move. ‘This is something the county should fix immediately,’ Parris told a local news outlet last week. ‘There should not be even the appearance of affecting the outcome by limiting the ability to vote.’” [Salon, 5/11/20]

Lancaster Opened A New Poll Site Due To Concerns That The Absence Of An In-Person Voting Place Would Make It Harder For The City’s Black Population To Vote. “The move to open a new polling location came after Democrats raised concerns that the area, which has a large African-American population, ‘didn’t have an in-person voting place.’ They argued that ‘voters who were more likely to vote in person on Election Day’ were thus disenfranchised, according to the outlet.” [Salon, 5/11/20]

- Lancaster, California’s Population Was Nearly 22% African American. “What apparently triggered Trump's claim that Democrats ‘are trying to steal another election’ was that Los Angeles County election officials recently added a new in-person voting location in the city of Lancaster - described by Trump as ‘the most Democrat area in the State.’ This presumably is why the president has demanded these ballots cast by Americans ‘must not count.’ This is a jaw-dropping statement. The idea that a President would call for votes not to be counted simply because they are cast in a polling location that he believes favors the opposition party should alarm all Americans who believe in our democratic republic. Also deeply disturbing is that Trump is opposing making it easier for those in one of the most racially diverse cities in the district - Lancaster's population is nearly 22% African American - to cast their ballot.” [East Bay Times, 5/11/20]

Garcia Echoed Claims That Opening The New Poll Site Was Evidence That Smith And The Democrats Were Trying To Steal The Election

Garcia Echoed Trump’s Claim That Opening A New Poll Site In Lancaster, California Was Evidence That Smith And The Democrats Were Trying To Steal The Election. “The president complained on Twitter that California Gov. Gavin Newsom, a Democrat, opened up a new poll site in Lancaster, which lies just north of Los Angeles, despite calls from both parties to do so. ‘So in California, the Democrats, who fought like crazy to get all mail in only ballots, and succeeded, have just opened a voting booth in the most Democrat area in the State,’ Trump tweeted. ‘They are trying to steal another election. It's all rigged out there. These votes must not count. SCAM!’ [...] But Trump-backed Republican Navy veteran Mike Garcia seized on the president's baseless allegation, accusing Smith and ‘her liberal Dem allies’ of being ‘desperate and trying to change the rules to steal an election.’” [Salon, 5/11/20]

May 8, 2020: Garcia Accused Christy Smith Of “Trying To Change The Rules To Steal An Election” Because She Supported Installing A Voting Center In Lancaster, California. “The president tweeted his displeasure after county officials late Friday approved a request from Lancaster’s mayor to install a voting center in that city this weekend. The 25th Congressional District includes the Santa Clarita Valley, and portions of the northern San Fernando Valley, Antelope Valley and eastern Ventura County. [...] Garcia himself tweeted the following late Friday: ‘@ChristyforCA25 and her liberal Dem allies didn’t say anything for weeks even though the polling places were in full view of the public. Even after every voter received a ballot, they are desperate and trying to change the rules to steal an election. We can’t let them succeed!! The right to vote is sacred and something I fought to protect for nearly two decades. But our citizens should also expect a fair process free from political games.’” [Orange County Register, 5/10/20]

Lancaster’s Mayor, Who Supported Garcia, Requested The A Voting Center Because Another One Was Operating In A Neighboring City And Denied It Was Evidence Of A Rigged Election

Lancaster’s Mayor, Who Supported Trump And Garcia, Requested Setting Up A Voting Center Because Another One Was Operating In A Neighboring City. “In the wake of Trump’s tweet fury over the new center, Lancaster Mayor Rex Parris — who was the first L.A.-area dignitary to greet Trump on the LAX tarmac on the president’s Feb. 18 swing through L.A. — was taken aback Saturday by the Twitter feud. ‘Well, they should have called me, shouldn’t they?’ Parris said, adding that he is a strong Garcia supporter and welcomed Trump’s attention but was left in the dark about the decision to slam the new vote center in his city. Parris said that after he learned that a similar vote center was operating in neighboring Palmdale, he felt it was a good idea to have one in Lancaster, if for nothing else but for the the ‘appearance’ that the election was fair and accessible in his city, which is 48% Latino.” [Orange County Register, 5/10/20]

- Lancaster’s Mayor Denied That The Vote Center Was Evidence Of A Rigged Election. “Parris himself, in coordination with L.A County officials and Registrar Logan, wanted the vote center in the city. And it’s not rigged, he said. ‘I don’t see any indication of malicious intent,’ he said. “And I think you need that to have a rigged election.’” [Orange County Register, 5/10/20]

After Garcia Was Elected In A Nearly All-Mail 2020 Election, The Republican National Committee Claimed That Garcia First Won Despite Democrats' Supposed Attempts At Stealing The Election

Republican National Committee Chairwoman, Ronna McDaniel, Claimed Mail-In Voting Would Destroy Election Integrity Despite Garcia Winning A Nearly All-Mail Congressional Runoff Election. “GOP doubles down on fight against mail voting, despite California win: Republican Mike Garcia won a nearly all-mail congressional runoff election in California last week, but GOP leaders are nonetheless fighting efforts to expand voting by mail nationwide. On Monday, Ronna McDaniel, the chairwoman of the Republican National Committee, accused Democrats of using the coronavirus pandemic as an excuse to file lawsuits that would ‘destroy the integrity of our elections.’” [San Francisco Chronicle, 5/19/20]

The Republican National Committee Continued To Oppose Attempts To Expand Voting By Mail Even Though Garcia Won A Nearly All-Mail Congressional Runoff Election. “Republican Mike Garcia may have won a nearly all-mail congressional runoff election in California last week, but that's not stopping GOP leaders from fighting efforts to expand voting by mail in states across the country.” [San Francisco Chronicle, 5/19/20]

- Republican Leaders Claimed That Garcia Won Despite Supposed Attempts To Steal The Election Through Ballot Harvesting And Opening An In-Person Voting Center. “According to GOP leaders, Garcia's win came in the face of Democratic attempts to steal the election by allowing ballot harvesting and opening an in-person voting center at the last minute in a largely minority area of Lancaster Los Angeles County. Democrats pointed out that it was requested by Lancaster's mayor, a Republican, and that the decision to open the center was made by a nonpartisan county official. ‘Mike Garcia won despite the Democrats' best efforts to turn the election in their favor,’ said Mandi Merritt, a spokeswoman for the Republican National Committee. ‘These efforts were clearly done with partisan intentions, and underscore exactly why we are fighting back.’” [San Francisco Chronicle, 5/19/20]

Garcia Said He Wanted “The Churches,” “The Local Community Nonprofits,” And “Our Neighbors To Be The Safety Net” And Not The Federal Government. “[28:14] Garcia: Here’s where I land on all the programs. There should be safety nets, but I don’t want the federal government to be the safety net. I want the churches, I want the local community nonprofits, I want our neighbors to be the safety net because a dollar that’s spent at the federal government level on food stamps – by the time it gets to the level where someone’s actually using those stamps and getting merchandise as a result of that – the inefficiency lost through that whole process is staggering.” Talk of Santa Clarita, Mike Garcia Interview, [8/9/19] (AUDIO)

[...] This new VAWA bill has a lot of poison pills in it, but we can certainly chat about that more offline. No one supports violence against women, but we shouldn’t be using these types of bills to also encroach on others’ rights, especially 1st and 2nd Amendment rights which are prevalent in this one.” AM 870, The Morning Answer with Jen and Grant, [2/10/22] (AUDIO, 18:11)

Garcia Claimed Democrats Change Election Rules In Order To Maintain Power. GARCIA: “This is how Pelosi has been trying to maintain power. They change the rules, they change the way we have elections [...] They change the rules and then message it as pro-democracy, but it’s actually for the continuation of their power [...] we can’t fall for it.” AM 870, The Morning Answer with Jen and Grant, [2/3/22] (AUDIO, 17:37)

Garcia Said That He Voted Absentee In 2018 And 2014, But That His Ballots Were Not Counted Because They Were Processed Late. GARCIA: “I did vote in 2018 and 2014, but neither was counted. They were processed late because I voted by absentee ballot. Here’s the deal, I’m embarrassed but if you vote by mail, you won’t get a notification. If you send it in the day before or the day of the election, it might not be processed on time and they won’t notify you. I was as shocked as everyone else when I saw the records and I called in to see if they could give some kind of testimony [that I did vote] but they said no.” [Talk of Santa Clarita, 8/8/19] (VIDEO)

Garcia Said That He Supported The Iraq War “Given The Intelligence That The Administration Had At The Time” And Would Still Support It Today

Garcia Said That He Was In Favor Of The Iraq War “Given The Intelligence That The Administration Had At The Time.” GARCIA: “Yes, I think, given the state of affairs there, given the intelligence that the administration had at the time. For folks who aren’t aware, this was a weapon of mass destruction debate. Are there chemicals there, nukes there? Biochemical warfare...and, it was, a president acting on the information that he had.

And he's a human being, so, in the end...Sadam Hussein was a terrible person, right." [Talk of Santa Clarita, 8/8/19] (VIDEO)

Garcia Said That He Would Still Support The Iraq War Today Knowing What He Knew Now

Garcia Said That He Would Still Support The Iraq War Today Knowing What He Knew Now. HOST: "Knowing what you know now, though, would you support the war? Going into Iraq was a good idea?" GARCIA: "Yes, the timing is always debatable, the method of how you go in is always debatable, it's easy to be a Monday morning quarterback and throw stones and critique the way the war was born. You can go back to Gettysburg and go, wow, General Lee, you really screwed that one up. Which he did, he screwed it up. It's easy to do that, we all do that. So, um, first of all, the thing I have a lot of respect for and am very cautious about is when someone asks you, why how do you feel about this, if you don't have access to the full picture and you can't see all of the data that went into that decision, it's interesting what you think and feel. Even me now, I obviously don't have all of the data that went into the president's decision matrix back in 2003. But, there's a lot of briefs at a lot of different levels, and that paints the full picture. That's why they're there to make those decisions. Sometimes they're right, sometimes they're wrong, and you know, it's a difficult call." [Talk of Santa Clarita, 8/8/19] (VIDEO)

2019: Garcia Said That He Was In Favor Of Trump's Iran Policies After Iran Shot Down A U.S. Drone Over An "International Border"

Aug. 2019: Garcia: "I Actually Do Give The President Kudos For The Way Things Have Been Handled With Iran, So Far." GARCIA: "If things aren't done correctly, we could walk into a war with Iran. But I actually do give the president kudos for the way things have been handled with Iran, so far. When you have an asset that's shot down right over an international border, it can go either way, and the data, patience, and frankly the maturity level that he demonstrated during that, I believe was spot on." Garcia Said That The Operation To Kill General Soleimani Was "A Massive Success," And "Very Well Executed"

Garcia Said That The Operation To Kill General Soleimani Was "A Massive Success," And "Very Well Executed." GARCIA: "We have seen examples in the past whether it was Bin Laden or other high value targets, high leadership targets in these terrorist organizations, they don't stay put very long. When you have an opportunity to go after someone who is responsible and accountable for hundreds of American lives over the last two decades, which Soleimani was in multiple areas especially in Iraq he was responsible for 600 people, when there is opportunities like that, time is of the essence. The way this mission was carried out from what I understand from what has been public and I certainly don't have access to classified documents, but what I can see online and what I have read is that this was a very well executed surgical strike meaning they knew what was going on. They knew what the targets where and the fact that there was minimal risk of collateral damage was or loss of civilians on the ground, when you have the stars align for you as commander in chief you need to be able to make that call and be able to make that decision. The fact of the matter is this strike was a massive success. Not just because of the way it was executed but because of who the target was and the end result of the operation." GARCIA: “First of all, there wasn’t a law in the world that could have been written that would have prevented the shooting at Saugus High School. It was absolutely heartbreaking to watch the quad that I hung out, on watching kids have CPR performed on them real time on live TV, absolutely heartbreaking. We had friends that were involved in the shooting as victims as well. But unfortunately, there wasn’t a law that would have prevented that shooting.” [CBSLA, 1/9/20] (VIDEO)

Garcia Supported The 2017 Republican Tax Cuts

Garcia Said That He Was In Favor Of The Tax Cuts And Jobs Act. GARCIA: “I don’t think it was Obama hitting a home run and Trump running the bases. What I think the president has done is take off the handcuffs off of a lot of economic stimulus that was always there, levers that we could have been pulled. The Tax Cut and Jobs Act of 2018 (TCJA) was a big deal and it has translated into the lowest unemployment-- the highest GDP that we’ve seen in a long time.” Talk of Santa Clarita, 34:12, [8/8/19] (VIDEO)

Garcia Made False Claims About DACA

Garcia Complained There Was No “Age Stipulation” To DACA Or The Dream Act And That A “40 Year Old Convicted Felon” Could Be Protected Under DACA. GARCIA: “Yeah, DACA people are a subset, which is okay, let’s have a debate about that, but it goes beyond that. There’s no age limit. You can be a 40 year-old convicted felon and you fell under the auspices of the Hope and DREAM Act and that’s one of the problems. They create these acts and they use the language and it’s a political thing, right, so probably both parties are guilty of it in the same way. You give it a name that sounds like what everyone wants-- the American Promise Act or the PATRIOT Act. And that’s one of the problems we’re seeing on that right now. The House is writing bills that at first blush don’t look that offensive and the natural reaction is ‘Senator McConnell, why don’t you bring this up for debate,’ but when you read through it, you find Easter eggs. Things like no age stipulation. A 40 year old pedophile would fall under the act.” Talk of Santa Clarita, 1:03:00, [8/8/19] (VIDEO)

Garcia Wrote A Paper At The Naval Academy On A President's "Rights And Abilities" To Go To War "With" Or "Without" Congressional Approval

In College, Garcia Wrote A Paper At The Naval Academy On A President's "Rights And Abilities" To Go To War "With" Or "Without" Congressional Approval. GARCIA: "I did get to meet Bush Sr. at one point, I wrote a paper in college at the Naval Academy about President Bush, called 'President Bush and his Lovely Little War,' it was a paper about a president's rights and abilities to engage in warfare either with Congress or without Congress. All of that aside, he was coming to visit our campus one day, and I had just gotten the paper back that day, luckily I had gotten an A- on it that day. So, I had this paper about him, he comes and visits our campus., I come around the corner and I literally run into President Bush, and this is while Clinton is in office. So, he wasn't the sitting President. All of his guards are there, and I ask, Mr. President, do you mind signing this? And he looks at it, it was a cold day, his hands were shaking, and he goes, "You make me look like an a-hole son?" And I say no sir, so, I still have this paper from Bush one signed by him. Greatest -- I wouldn't say greatest -- both Bush's were good presidents, good leaders, good Americans." [Talk of Santa Clarita, 8/8/19] (VIDEO)

Garcia Said He Did Not Vote In The 2016 Election Because He Was Out Of Town On Business For The General Election And Did Not Make Provisions To Vote By Mail. “Garcia, endorsed by the Ventura County and Los Angeles County Republican parties, declared his candidacy long before Hill resigned and says his goal is to keep the nation from following the path of Democratic-controlled California. He said he supports the president and voted for Trump in the 2016 primary. But he was out of town on business for the general election and did not make provisions to vote by mail. ‘I’m ashamed of that,’ said Garcia who aimed his own bombshell at Knight. He said the day Hill announced her resignation, he reached out to Knight.” [Ventura County Star, 2/10/20]

Garcia Said He Voted For Stephen Knight For Congress In 2018 Through An Absentee Ballot That Was Not Counted

Garcia Said He Voted For Stephen Knight For Congress In 2018 Through An Absentee Ballot That Was Not Counted. “Garcia: They’re accusing me of not voting in three elections. Here’s the record. For the record, I did vote in 2018. I voted for [Stephen] Knight. I voted through an absentee ballot, and I did so in 2014. Neither of those were counted.” The Proclaimer Santa Clarita Valley, [8/9/19]

Garcia Said That He Voted Absentee In 2018 And 2014, But That His Ballots Were Not Counted Because They Were Processed Late

Garcia Said That He Voted Absentee In 2018 And 2014, But That His Ballots Were Not Counted Because They Were Processed Late. GARCIA: “I did vote in 2018 and 2014, but neither was counted. They were processed late because I voted by absentee ballot. Here’s the deal, I’m embarrassed but if you vote by mail, you won’t get a notification. If you send it in the day before or the day of the election, it might not be processed on time and they won’t notify you. I was as shocked as everyone else when I saw the records and I called in to see if they could give some kind of testimony [that I did vote] but they said no.” [Talk of Santa Clarita, 8/8/19] (VIDEO)

- Garcia Said The County Registrar Confirmed They Received His Ballots, But They Were Processed Late. “[Garcia:] I’ve spent a lot of hours with the county election offices and the county registrar’s office and they did confirm that the ballots are there. They were processed late, okay, so in the case of 2018, election day was [Nov. 8], my ballot was processed on [Nov. 17]. So voters out there, here’s the lesson learned. I’m embarrassed by it because I consider myself to be an educated realist, but here's the deal: if you vote by mail, you won't get a notification. If your signature doesn't match, they'll send you a letter that says, 'Your signature didn't match, redo the signature, make it look like what's on your driver's license, send it back in, your vote will count.' If you send it the day before the election, the day of the election, and even if it's there, it may not get processed in time. When that happens, they don't send you a notification that says, 'Your vote didn't get counted.' Until I was in this race and became subject to all this... I was as shocked as anyone else when I saw that record." The Proclaimer Santa Clarita Valley, [8/9/19]

We were operating in the northern part of Iraq. You’d get there, and you’d be lower on gas than you would need to fulfill your mission. So you’d tank and do some refueling, which in itself is a high risk. It was about 6 and a half months -- we were there from April to, I think we left in October. The Persian Gulf in October. Garcia Accepted Money From A Steve Wynn-Funded Joint Fundraising Committee After Wynn Was Accused Of A Decades-Long Pattern Of Sexual Misconduct

Multiple Republican Politicians Returned Campaign Contributions From Casino Mogul Steve Wynn After He Was Accused Of A Decades-Long Pattern Of Sexual Misconduct, Including Pressuring Employees To Perform Sex Acts. “When billionaire casino mogul and top Republican donor Steve Wynn was accused of a decades-long pattern of sexual misconduct in the midst of the #MeToo movement, elected officials across the country quickly distanced themselves from him. The news broke in January 2018, and some Republicans immediately called on their colleagues to return donations from Wynn, who was accused of pressuring employees to perform sex acts. Sen. Susan Collins told CNN, ‘I don't even think it's a close call to return the money.’ Sen. Lindsey Graham also chimed in: ‘We should do of ourselves what we ask of the Democratic Party. So I don't think we should have a double standard for ourselves.’” [Los Angeles Times, 5/5/21]

- Garcia Accepted Campaign Contributions From A Wynn-Funded Joint Fundraising Committee During The 2020 Election Cycle. “Within months, Wynn started to donate again, and by 2020, he was once again a major GOP donor, giving millions of dollars to conservative super PACs, President Trump's reelection campaign, candidates and state Republican parties across the nation. This year, Wynn gave more than three-quarters of a million dollars to a joint fundraising committee aimed at helping Republicans retake control of the U.S. House of Representatives, and that group donated to dozens of incumbents across the country, including nearly every member of California's GOP delegation to Congress. The recipients include Reps. Mike Garcia of Santa Clarita and David Valadao of Hanford, whose seats will be hotly contested in next year's midterm elections because they are key to GOP hopes to retake control of the House.” [Los Angeles Times, 5/5/21]

Los Angeles Times Editorial Board: Garcia Offered No Clear Platform When He Ran For Congress In 2020

EDITORIAL: Los Angeles Times: Garcia Did Not Offer “Much Of A Platform” Besides “The Usual Conservative Tropes Of Protecting Freedom, Reducing Taxes And Fighting The ‘Democrats’ Dangerous Socialist Agenda.” “By contrast, her opponent, Republican Mike Garcia, is woefully unprepared. The former Navy pilot and Raytheon executive has no experience in elective or appointed office. He doesn't offer much of a platform either, and relies instead on flogging the usual conservative tropes of protecting freedom, reducing taxes and fighting the ‘Democrats' dangerous socialist agenda.’ What Garcia does have on his side is the full support of the GOP, along with the propensity of Republican voters to turn out more reliably than Democratic ones. Republicans are desperate to take back this seat from Democrats after losing it to Hill in 2018, even if its means backing an unknown and untried candidate over the former congressman, Steve Knight of Palmdale, whom Hill unseated.” [Los Angeles Times, Editorial, 5/12/20]

EDITORIAL: Los Angeles Times: Garcia Had “No Political Experience And No Real Platform Of His Own” In 2020. “In February, The Times Editorial Board urged voters in Santa Clarita and Simi and Antelope valleys to choose Democratic Assemblywoman Christy Smith to replace Rep. Katie Hill (D-Santa Clarita) in the 25th Congressional District in the March primary. In our view, the experienced and centrist Smith was the best of several candidates hoping to lead this politically divided district. Months later, when the special election to fill Hill's unexpired term went to a runoff, we endorsed Smith again over Republican Mike Garcia, a former Navy pilot and Raytheon executive with no political experience and no real platform of his own.” [Los Angeles Times, Editorial, 9/10/20]

EDITORIAL: Los Angeles Times: Garcia Refused Multiple Invitations To Speak With The Los Angeles Times Editorial Board. “His campaign offered only broad statements about his strong support for the 2nd Amendment, President Trump's terrible border wall, reduced taxes and fewer government services, as well as his opposition to the 'dangerous' but undefined Democratic Party 'socialist agenda.' We hoped to plumb those statements for more details over the last year, but Garcia has ignored every invitation to talk to the editorial board." [Los Angeles Times, Editorial, 9/10/20]

EDITORIAL: Los Angeles Times: Garcia Was An Extremist “Who Has Described Himself As More Conservative Than Most Republicans.” “Indeed, if there is an extremist in the race, it's Garcia, who has described himself as more conservative than most Republicans. And his short tenure in Congress appears to support that. As a staunch abortion foe, one of his first actions was to support legislation to restrict access to legal abortions. Indeed, he's shown to be exactly the shallow, partisan loyalist that his campaign suggested he would be.” [Los Angeles Times, Editorial, 9/10/20]

Garcia Said That His Path To Victory In 2020 Depended On Energizing New Voters Such As Evangelicals Who Had Sat Out Previous Elections. “At the tavern, Garcia told his supporters his path to victory includes energizing new voters such as evangelicals who have been sitting out elections, along with driving a strong turnout in Republican-rich Simi Valley. He also plans to deploy widespread ‘ballot harvesting’ that was used by Democrats with great effect in 2018, in which ballots can be picked up from voters by campaigns and dropped off at election sites, much like a piece of mail.” [NBC - 10 WLSL, 2/2/20]

Garcia Was Out Of Touch With His District, Running As A Moderate, Then Moving To The Right Once He Was Elected

Garcia Ran As A Moderate In 2020...

Garcia Said He Ran For Congress Because Katie Hill “Did Not Represent Our Moderate District”

Garcia Said He Ran For Congress Because Katie Hill “Did Not Represent Our Moderate District.” “Garcia is a former Navy pilot who said he was inspired to vie for the post because Hill ‘did not represent our moderate district. I have the choice to stand on the sidelines and see what happens but that is not in my DNA. This is an extension of my desire to serve, this time to fight for my district.’” [City News Service, 11/3/20]

Garcia Pledged To Represent All Of His Constituents And Bring House Members Of Both Parties Together

Dec. 1, 2020: Garcia Pledged To Represent “All Constituents In CA-25.” “The political divide in the district did not appear to elude Garcia on Monday. ‘My focus is on representing all constituents in CA-25,’ he said. ‘In the short term, this means pushing to get federal relief to those who are most impacted by COVID (individuals and small businesses).’” [Mercury News, 12/1/20]

McCarthy Claimed That Garcia Was A Uniter Who Could Bring The House Together. “Garcia was introduced by a COVID-ready, mask-and-glove-wearing Rep. Brad Sherman, a Democrat who represents the south-neighboring 30th Congressional District in the San Fernando Valley, and by House Minority Leader Kevin McCarthy, a Republican who represents the neighboring 23rd District, to the north. McCarthy cited Garcia’s qualities as a uniter, and a new member of Congress who could help unify the politically polarized body during a tumultuous time.” [Daily News of Los Angeles, 5/20/20]

Garcia Wanted To Bring Bipartisanship To Washington D.C. [47:39] “Yeah I’m looking forward to leading and being a part of the solution and not the problem in Washington D.C. To bring a level of bipartisan support to make sure we’re bringing answers, especially in this time of need.” CA-25 Candidate Forum, [4/24/20]

...But He Moved Right When He Entered Congress To Become A Power Player In Washington

Garcia Voted Against Reauthorizing The Violence Against Women Act, Permanent Residency For DREAMers, And Certifying The 2020 Election Results

Lancaster Mayor R. Rex Parris: Garcia Had “To Take Positions That I Think Sometimes Are Not Supported By His District” To Become More Powerful In Washington. “A Republican who supports Garcia doesn't agree with some of his votes but thinks the congressman is positioning himself to be a rising star if the GOP takes control of the House and he wins reelection. ‘Let's be honest about it - he's between a rock and a hard place. In order to be effective in D.C., he's got to take positions that I think sometimes are not supported by his district,’ said R. Rex Parris, the GOP mayor of Lancaster. ‘He's walking that tightrope more than any other man in Congress right now.’” [Los Angeles Times, 7/5/21]

- ✓ Parris: Garcia Voted Against Reauthorizing The Violence Against Women Act, Permanent Residency For DREAMers, And Certifying The 2020 Election Results “To Become A Power In The House.” “Parris disagrees with Garcia's opposition to issues such as a path for permanent residency for young people brought into this country illegally, the reauthorization of the Violence Against Women Act and the certification of the electoral college results in Arizona and Pennsylvania. ‘I think he was recognizing in order for him to become a power in the House, there were certain things he had to do, and he did them, and I think the district will benefit as a result,’ he said. ‘A lot of people have a bad taste in their mouth because of it, but I would much rather have someone in there who can help the district in things that matter. And that's money.” [Los Angeles Times, 7/5/21]

- ✓ Stephen Daniels: Garcia Ran In 2020 As Someone Above Partisanship, But “He Has Voted As A Trump Acolyte Continually” Since Entering Congress. ““He doesn't care about his district. He cares about his base,’ said Stephen Daniels, host of the Talk of Santa Clarita podcast. Daniels is among the locals who say that Garcia has changed since he first ran for office in a campaign that leaned heavily on his biography as a native son of the district whose parents were Mexican immigrants. He was a fighter jet pilot who flew dozens of combat missions during the Iraq War and later worked in the defense industry. Daniels found the candidate likable despite their opposing political views when they taped a podcast together early in his 2020 run. ‘He struck me as a really nice guy, someone who is more about logic and looking at the facts than partisanship.’ Daniels said, adding they developed a friendship and exchanged texts for a period. ‘That's changed completely. He has voted as a Trump acolyte continually.’” [Los Angeles Times, 7/5/21]

Katie Hill: California’s 25th Congressional District, Which Biden Won By 10%, Should Not Be Represented By Someone As Conservative As Garcia. “Katie Hill has faced deep lows since after nude images of her were disseminated around the globe without her consent. She feared for her physical safety during her divorce; she had suicidal ideation, nightmares, mounting legal debt and anxiety about being recognized. [...] Then there's the possibility of running for Congress again. The district she briefly represented has fallen back into GOP hands, ‘I mean it's really the question that kind of hovers in the back of my mind all the time, and especially when I see Mike Garcia and the stuff that he does,’ Hill said. ‘I won by almost 9 points; Biden won the district by 10 points. It's not a district that should be represented by somebody who's that conservative.’” [Los Angeles Times, 6/10/21]

- Airline Stocks Like Boeing Experienced Volatility During The Pandemic, Including In Summer 2020 As Congress Debated COVID-19 Relief Aid For The Airlines And Aircraft Producers. “More than a dozen Republican senators on Wednesday backed $25 billion in additional federal aid for the airline industry as a spike in coronavirus cases in the U.S. in recent weeks derailed a nascent recovery in travel demand. The news sent shares sharply higher Wednesday afternoon. American Airlines’ stock closed up 9.5%, after trading as much as 12% higher on the day. United Airlines and Delta Air Lines added more than 4% and 3%, respectively. [...] The senators also urged Congress to consider support for other aviation-related businesses like concessionaires and aircraft producers. ‘Such businesses and their workers are uniquely tethered to air travel and have been and will continued to be significantly impacted by the decline in air travel,’ they wrote. ### Garcia Praised McCarthy's Leadership

Garcia Said That McCarthy Had The "Courage" And "Chops" To Lead. "McCarthy (R-Bakersfield) commanded the floor for 8 hours and 32 minutes [...] while stalling passage of a $1.7-trillion social spending bill. [...] The 'magic minute' House rule allows party leaders to speak for an unlimited amount of time during debate. House Republicans said that they had no idea McCarthy would speak nearly as long as he did but that they were in awe of how well he highlighted the flaws they see in the bill and showed the differences between the two parties. 'What he's proving is that he's got not only the chops to do the job, but he's got the courage to actually get out there in front and lead,' Rep. Mike Garcia (R-Santa Clarita) said in an interview. 'I think what the leader did last night was necessary and was glad to be there. I was there from the beginning until the very end.'" [Los Angeles Times, 11/20/21]

Marjorie Taylor Greene

Garcia Voted Against Removing Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene From Her Committee Assignments For Endorsing Violence Against Democrats And Trafficking In Unfounded, Antisemitic, And Islamophobic Conspiracy Theories

Garcia Voted Against Removing Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene From Her Committee Assignments. In February 2021, Garcia voted against: "Agreeing to the resolution that would remove Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene, R-Ga., from the House Budget and Education and Labor committees. It would state that, under the rules of the House, members and employees must 'behave at all times in a manner that shall reflect creditably on the House' and that Rep. Greene should be removed 'in light of conduct she has exhibited.'" The resolution passed 230 to 199. H Res 72, [Vote #25, 2/4/21; CQ, 2/4/21]

- Greene Was Stripped Of Her Committee Assignments For Endorsing Violence Against Democrats And Trafficking In Unfounded, Antisemitic, And Islamophobic Conspiracy Theories. "Prior to her election to Congress last year, Greene expressed support on social media for the assassination of Speaker Nancy Pelosi; agreed with those who said the mass shooting at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in Parkland, Fla., in 2018 was a 'false flag' operation; questioned whether a plane hit the Pentagon on 9/11; said President Barack Obama was Muslim; posted a photo of herself on Facebook holding a gun to images of Democratic Reps. Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez, Ilhan Omar, and Rashida Tlaib; mused that a space laser aligned with Jewish financial interests caused devastating wildfires in California; and aligned herself with QAnon, a baseless belief about an anti-Trump ‘deep state’ that engages in child sex trafficking and satanism.” Roll Call, [2/4/21]

Garcia Voted Against Stripping Marjorie Taylor Greene Of Her Congressional Committee Posts. “The Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee [...] rolled out a television and digital ad Monday in English and Spanish tying Valadao to lightning-rod GOP Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene of Georgia, who has espoused violent conspiracy theories. Valadao, like Garcia and most Republicans, voted against stripping Greene of her congressional committee posts.” [Los Angeles Times, 2/8/21]

Garcia Voted For Marjorie Taylor Greene’s Repeated Motions To Adjourn The House In Protest Of Democratic Legislation

Garcia Voted For Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene’s Motion To Prematurely Adjourn The House In Protest Of Democratic Legislation. In March 2021, Garcia voted for: Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene’s motion to prematurely adjourn the House. Newsweek described the motion: “A group of 18 House Republicans has voted against Georgia Representative Marjorie Taylor Greene's most recent attempt to prematurely adjourn the House—her third such attempt over the last six days. Each of Greene's attempts has been in protest of Democratic legislation and comments introduced in the lower congressional chamber. Each of her attempts has also disrupted congressional work by forcing House members to return to the floor to vote on the matter. ‘I rise today to inform Democrats the radical path you're taking will cause you to lose in 2022,’ Greene said before asking the chamber to adjourn on Wednesday, according to Washington Post congressional reporter Paul Kane.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 182 - 222. [Vote #56, 3/3/21; CQ, 3/3/21; Newsweek, 3/3/21]

- Garcia Voted For Adjourning The House. In February 2021, Garcia voted for: “Greene, R-Ga., motion to adjourn.” The motion was rejected 214 to 202. [Vote #33, 2/24/21; CQ, 2/24/21]
- Rep. Greene’s Repeated Attempts To Adjourn The House Infuriated “Democrats And, Increasingly, Members Of Her Own Party.” “One day after Democrats made an unprecedented move to strip Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene of her committee assignments, the Georgia Republican countered that she’d now have plenty of time to obstruct her opponents’ ‘far-leftist’ proposals and push her GOP colleagues harder to the right. Greene, an ardent supporter of former president Donald Trump, has kept her promise. Her repeated motions to adjourn legislative debate over the past several weeks have forced members to scramble to the House floor and vote to remain in session, a move that is infuriating Democrats and, increasingly, members of her own party.” Washington Post, [3/10/21]

Matt Gaetz

Garcia Did Not Donate The $2,000 His Campaign Received From Matt Gaetz To Charity After Allegations Surfaced That Gaetz Broke Federal Sex Trafficking Laws

Garcia Accepted $2,000 In Campaign Contributions From Matt Gaetz During The 2020 Election Cycle. “The New York Times reported last week that Gaetz is under investigation by the Department of Justice over whether he had a sexual relationship with a 17-year-old and paid for her to travel with him. It is against federal laws to transport minors across state lines to engage in sex in exchange for money or something of value. [...] Valadao isn't the only California congressman who received money from Gaetz. Reps. Mike Garcia, R-Santa Clarita, Doug LaMalfa, R-Richvale, and Darrell Issa, R-San Marcos, also each received $2,000 donations from Friends of Matt Gaetz in the 2020 election.” [Fresno Bee, 4/5/21]

- Fellow California Republican Rep. Valadao Donated The Money He Received From Gaetz To Charity After Allegations That Gaetz Broke Federal Sex Trafficking Laws Surfaced. “A California Republican congressman donated campaign contributions given to him by Rep. Matt Gaetz, who is reportedly under investigation related to allegations that he broke federal sex trafficking laws. Rep. David Valadao, R-Hanford, said Friday he would be donating any contributions given to him by Gaetz, R-Florida, to a Fresno organization that supports victims of domestic abuse. ‘The Valadao for Congress Campaign has donated the contributions to the Marjaree Mason Center in Fresno to support victims of domestic abuse,’ said Andrew Renteria, spokesman for Valadao's campaign.” [Fresno Bee, 4/5/21]

---

April 2021: Garcia Said He Would Donate Matt Gaetz’s Campaign Contributions To A Women’s Shelter If Gaetz Was “Indicted Or Resigns.” “Rep. John Katko (R-N.Y.) on Thursday told Forbes he donated a $2,000 campaign contribution from the campaign committee of scandal-plagued Rep. Matt Gaetz (R-Fla.) to a local charity, the third House Republican to do so – though others indicated they have no plans to return their donations. [...] But others have said they won’t give away the money while a Department of Justice probe into Gaetz is ongoing, including Reps. Maria Salazar (R-Fla.), Brian Mast (R-Fla.) and Mike Garcia (R-Calif.), who told Forbes Gaetz ‘deserves due process’ but that if he’s indicted or resigns, he will donate the money to a women’s shelter.” Forbes, [4/15/21]

NOTE: As of May 2022, Matt Gaetz has not resigned or been indicted.

Paul Gosar

Garcia Voted Against Censuring Rep. Paul Gosar And Removing Him From His Committee Assignments

Garcia Voted Against Censuring Rep. Paul Gosar, R-Arizona And Condemning “Threats Of Violence.” In November 2021 Garcia voted against: “Agreeing to the resolution, as amended, that would censure Rep. Paul Gosar R-Ariz., and remove him from his assignments on the House Oversight and Reform and Natural Resources committees for posting a manipulated video on his social media accounts depicting himself killing Rep. Ocasio-Cortez D-N.Y., and attacking President Joe Biden. It would require Gosar to present himself in the well of the House for the pronouncement of censure. The resolution would condemn ‘threats of violence’ against members of Congress and the president, stating that ‘depictions of violence can foment actual violence and jeopardize the safety of elected officials.’” Passed by a vote of 223-207. Garcia Signed An Amicus Brief Asking The Supreme Court To Uphold Mississippi's 15-Week Abortion Ban, Which Would Effectively Overturn Roe V. Wade

Garcia Signed A Republican Amicus Brief Asking The Supreme Court To Uphold Mississippi's Law Banning Abortion After The First 15 Weeks Of Pregnancy. “The Mississippi congressional delegation and the House Pro-Life Caucus today led more than 200 members of Congress in filing an amicus brief supporting the State of Mississippi in Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization and urging the U.S. Supreme Court to uphold Mississippi's law protecting life. [...] In the amicus brief, the lawmakers ask ‘the Court uphold Mississippi's law as effectuating important state interests, or, alternatively, return this case to the lower courts for consideration on a full evidentiary record, recognizing that certain precedents [Roe v. Wade and Planned Parenthood v. Casey] may be reconsidered and, where necessary, be wholly or partially overruled.’ [...] The State of Mississippi in 2018 enacted the Gestational Age Act, a state law prohibiting abortion after 15 weeks' gestation, except in cases of medical emergency. [...] In addition to the House sponsors, Representatives signing the brief include: [...] Mike Garcia (Calif.-25).” Sen. Roger Wicker, Press Release, [7/29/21]

- Upholding Mississippi's 15-Week Abortion Ban Would Overturn Planned Parenthood V. Casey's Prohibition On Banning Abortions Before The Fetus Becomes Viable Outside Of The Womb. “Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization, which the Supreme Court will hear on Wednesday, is the single greatest threat to abortion rights since Roe v. Wade was handed down in 1973. It involves a Mississippi law that prohibits nearly all abortions after the 15th week of pregnancy, a law which violates the Supreme Court's holding in Planned Parenthood v. Casey (1992) that ‘a State may not prohibit any woman from making the ultimate decision to terminate her pregnancy before viability.’ ‘Viability’ refers to the moment when a fetus can live outside of the womb, which typically occurs around the 24th week of pregnancy.” Vox, [11/29/21]
- Mississippi Presented The Supreme Court Case Surrounding Its 15-Week Abortion Ban As A Direct Challenge To Roe V. Wade. “The state of Mississippi begins its brief in Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization with a bold claim: The case for overruling Roe v. Wade (1973) and Planned Parenthood v. Casey (1992), two seminal Supreme Court decisions protecting the right to an abortion, is ‘overwhelming.’ Dobbs, which the Court will hear this fall, concerns a Mississippi law that prohibits nearly all abortions after 15 weeks of pregnancy. [...] And abortion opponents have every reason to be optimistic that the Court's new majority will use Dobbs to undo the right to an abortion. That probably explains why Mississippi's brief, which argues that ‘the Constitution does not protect a right to abortion or limit States' authority to restrict it,’ breaks with the tactics anti-abortion lawyers have used to defend restrictions on reproductive freedom.” Vox, [7/24/21]

Dr. John Downing: The Life At Conception Act Would Reclassify Common Forms Of Birth Control As “Weapons Of Murder” Because They Prevent A Fertilized Egg From Implanting In A Uterus. “In my recent Profile of Senator Rand Paul, Dr. John Downing, the Senator’s friend and former medical partner, expressed his worries about Paul’s sponsorship of the Life at Conception Act, also known as the personhood law. The bill would ban abortion and grant the unborn all the legal protections of the Fourteenth Amendment, beginning at ‘the moment of fertilization.’ [...] Downing’s concern was that common forms of emergency contraception—Plan B, which is sold over the counter, Ella, and others—as well as intrauterine devices (I.U.D.s), a common form of birth control, could be banned if the Life at Conception Act became law.* Echoing the views of many opponents of personhood laws, Downing argued that these birth-control methods prevented a fertilized egg from implanting in a woman’s uterus and so, under Paul’s proposal, could instantly be reclassified as weapons of murder.” New Yorker, [10/8/14]

Garcia Voted Against The Women’s Health Protection Act, Which Was Intended To Codify Abortion Rights Amid Restrictive State Laws Challenging Roe v. Wade

Garcia Voted Against The Women’s Health Protection Act. In September 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would statutorily establish that health care providers have a right to provide and patients have a right to receive abortion services, and it would prohibit certain restrictions related to abortion services. The bill would specify that rights established by the bill may not be restricted by certain requirements or limitations related to abortion services, including prohibitions on abortion prior to fetal viability, or after fetal viability if a provider determines that continuation of a pregnancy would pose a risk to a patient’s life or health; requirements that patients disclose reasons for seeking an abortion or make medically unnecessary in-person appointments; requirements that providers provide medically inaccurate information or perform specific medical tests or procedures in connection with the provision of abortion services; limitations on providers' ability to prescribe drugs based on good-faith medical judgment, provide services via telemedicine or provide immediate services when a delay would pose a risk to a patient's health; and requirements for facilities and personnel that would not apply to facilities providing medically comparable procedures. It would also prohibit requirements or limitations that are similar to those established by the bill or that impede access to abortion services and expressly or implicitly single out abortion services, providers or facilities. It would specify factors that courts may consider to determine whether a requirement or limitation impedes access to abortion services, including whether it interferes with providers' ability to provide services; poses a risk to patients' health; is likely to delay or deter patients in accessing services or necessitate in-person visits that would not otherwise be required; is likely to result in a decreased availability of services in a state or region; is likely to result in increased costs of providing or obtaining services; or imposes penalties that are not imposed on other health care providers for comparable conduct. It would require a party defending a requirement or limitation to establish that it significantly advances the safety of abortion services or patient health and that such goals cannot be advanced by a less restrictive alternative measure. It would authorize the Justice Department, health care providers and private individuals and entities to bring a civil action in U.S. district court for injunctive relief against any state or government official charged with implementing or enforcing a requirement or limitation challenged as a violation of rights established by the bill. It would authorize district courts to award appropriate equitable relief, including temporary, preliminary or permanent injunctive relief, and to award costs of litigation to a prevailing plaintiff. It would require courts to "liberally construe" provisions of the bill to effectuate its purposes." The bill passed by a vote of 218-211. HR 3655, [Vote #295, 9/24/21; CQ, 9/24/21]

- Passage Of The Women’s Health Protection Act Was In Response To A Restrictive Texas Abortion Law. “Passage of the Women's Health Protection Act is a response to a Texas law that essentially bans abortion after six weeks, before most people realize they are pregnant. The U.S. Supreme Court refused to block the law from taking effect, although the decision leaves the door open for future challenges.” NPR, [9/24/21]
- The Women’s Health Protection Act Would Codify Abortion Rights And Overturn “Laws In 19 States That Have Sought To Severely Curb Access To Abortion Or Ban It Altogether.” “The Senate on Monday took its first ever vote on the Women’s Health Protection Act, a bill aimed at codifying the right to an abortion. [...] The Women’s Health Protection Act would enshrine into federal law the right to access and perform an abortion, and it would supersede state laws on the issue. That’s notable because it would effectively neutralize laws in 19 states that have sought to severely curb access to abortion or ban it altogether.” Vox, [2/28/22]

I called about HR 3755 last year. He doesn't believe we have rights to our own bodies. He views women as chattel. #GOPWarOnWomen

Thank you for contacting me regarding your opinion on H.R. 3755, the "Women's Health Protection Act". I appreciate hearing from you on this bill as Congress debates these important issues.

H.R. 3755 was introduced to the House on June 8th, 2021 and was passed on September 24th, 2021. I understand how contentious and divisive this issue is, and after considering the bill on its merits I decided to vote against this legislation. I believe that life begins at conception and that Congress should pass legislation that protects the lives of unborn children, rather than making abortion available on demand at any stage of pregnancy. H.R. 3755 would repeal all current and future pro-life laws at the state and federal level. This means that late term abortion for any reason, a concept opposed by 80% of the American public, would be legal in every U.S. state. This is unfathomable. Children have an irrevocable and God-given right to life, and it is our duty as a nation to protect these rights.

Once again, thank you for reaching out to me on this important issue. It is an honor to serve as your representative in the U.S. Congress.

Sincerely,

Mike Garcia
Member of Congress
California's 25th District

The NRA Opposed Reauthorizing The Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) Because It Closed The “Boyfriend Loophole” Convicted Of Domestic Abusers And Stalkers From Purchasing And Owning Guns

March 2021: The National Rifle Association (NRA) Opposed Reauthorizing VAWA Because It Banned Convicted Abusers And Stalkers From Purchasing Or Owning Guns. “The U.S. House voted 244-172 Wednesday to reauthorize the expired Violence Against Women Act with a gun-reform provision by Michigan U.S. Rep. Debbie Dingell that has drawn the ire of the National Rifle Association [...] It aims to close the so-called ‘boyfriend’ loophole by amending federal law to prohibit convicted abusers of current or former dating partners from purchasing or owning firearms. Currently, those convicted of domestic abuse can lose their weapons only if their victim is their current or former spouse, or they have a child with the victim. Dingell's provision also would prohibit firearm ownership by people convicted of misdemeanor stalking. The NRA opposes the legislation over the provision, arguing there are no ‘loopholes’ for domestic violence or stalking, and that the legal system has sufficient protections to prohibit dangerous individuals from possessing firearms. The gun owners group has said ‘former dating partners’ is a subjective term that could be abused and noted that some misdemeanor stalking offenses don't include violent or threatening behavior or even personal contact. The NRA also fought the Dingell provision when the House reauthorized the bill in 2019, when the legislation died in the Republican-led Senate.” Detroit News, [3/17/21]

The Original Violence Against Women Act Helped Decrease The Rate Of Intimate Partner Violence And Improved Care For Sexual Assault Victims

In The 15 Years After VAWA Passed, The Rate Of Serious Intimate Partner Violence Nationally Declined 72 Percent. “Between 1994 and 2011, the rate of serious intimate partner violence against women declined 72 percent, from 5.9 to 1.6 victimizations per 1,000 women. The annual rate of rape and sexual assault perpetrated against girls and women older than age 11 declined nearly 60 percent from 1995 to 2010. While these declines are likely the product of multiple causes, evidence tells us that declines in rape and sexual assault are linked to VAWA. A study examining rape and aggravated assault data from over 10,000 jurisdictions over a seven-year period found that VAWA funding, specifically those funds most likely to support local law enforcement, was associated with reductions in these violent crimes, even after controlling for general decreasing crime rates and other justice-related funding.” Urban Institute, [2/9/17]

VAWA Funding Prevented Sexual Assault Victims From Having To Pay For Their Forensic Exams. “If a person seeks medical attention within four days of an assault, they may also undergo a sexual assault medical forensic exam (SAMFE). This exam collects and preserves important evidence—like DNA—that could identify a suspect and provide invaluable corroborating evidence to support the victim’s account of the crime. Before VAWA, victims could be billed by the health care provider that conducted their exam. No victim of any other crime is expected to pay for the collection and preservation of evidence. VAWA has supported programs in every state to end this practice. Our research shows that these programs have nearly reversed the billing of victims for collecting forensic evidence from their own bodies.” Urban Institute, [2/9/17]

VAWA Funding Helped Train Sexual Assault Nurse Examiners, Who Improve Both Quality Of Health Care For Survivors And The Chance Of A Successful Conviction. “Sexual assault nurse examiners (SANEs) are specially trained medical personnel who conduct the SAMFE, providing care and treatment for victims of sexual assault and rigorously collecting evidence for use during investigation and prosecution. VAWA resources support many state and local SANE programs. Exams conducted by SANEs are associated with increases in successful prosecution, even when compared with exams conducted by traditional emergency room personnel. The SANE training equips providers with the skills to create a more thorough record of all medical forensic evidence and to preserve crucial, fragile DNA evidence. Studies show that SANE programs improve the quality of health care delivered to survivors, the quality of forensic evidence, and the chances of obtaining a conviction. Eliminating VAWA would almost certainly reduce the number of SANEs available to treat sexual assault survivors, limiting important victim services and the availability of quality evidence to convict those who commit these crimes.” Urban Institute, [2/9/17]

It would authorize $328 million annually through fiscal 2026 for new and existing programs, including $26 million for grants to state coalitions to support local and culturally specific violence prevention efforts; $14 million for the National Domestic Violence Hotline and $4 million for a new National Native American Domestic Violence Hotline; $10 million for new grants to organizations serving underserved populations; and $3.5 million for research and evaluation activities. Among other provisions, it would prohibit discrimination based on sexual orientation or gender identity in programs funded by state formula grants. It would require the Government Accountability Office to conduct a study and issue a report, within two years of enactment, on federal programs for violence survivors, including to analyze gaps in such programs and steps taken to ensure survivors have access to programs that

Equal Pay

April 2021: Garcia Voted Against The Paycheck Fairness Act, Which Aimed “To Eliminate The Gender Pay Gap And Strengthen Workplace Protections For Women”

April 2021: Garcia Voted Against The Paycheck Fairness Act

April 2021: Garcia Voted Against The Paycheck Fairness Act. In April 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would narrow the legal defense an employer may use in a lawsuit alleging pay discrimination on the basis of sex. Specifically, it would require employers to demonstrate that a difference in pay between employees is based on a business-related ‘bona fide factor other than sex, such as education, training, or experience’ as opposed to being based on ‘any factor other than sex.’ It would prohibit employers from retaliating against employees involved in lawsuits under fair labor standards law; prohibit employers from relying on a prospective employee's wage history for hiring or wage determinations; increase employers' liability for compensatory or punitive damages related to pay discrimination violations; and provide for automatic inclusion of all affected individuals in class action lawsuits related to pay discrimination. Among other provisions, the bill would authorize a new Labor Department grant program for public and private entities to carry out negotiation skills training programs to address pay disparities. It would establish an annual national award for an employer that made a ‘substantial effort to eliminate pay disparities between men and women.’ It would require the Labor Department to conduct a number of studies on sex-based pay disparities and require the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to collect compensation data disaggregated by employees' sex, race and national origin. It would require the Labor Department and EEOC to provide technical assistance for small businesses to comply with the bill's provisions. It would add a definition of ‘sex’ with respect to federal fair labor standards law, which would include sexual orientation or gender identity.” According to CNBC, the Paycheck Fairness Act “aims to eliminate the gender pay gap and strengthen workplace protections for women.” The bill passed 217 to 210. - The Paycheck Fairness Act Aimed “To Eliminate The Gender Pay Gap And Strengthen Workplace Protections For Women.” “The Paycheck Fairness Act, which aims to eliminate the gender pay gap and strengthen workplace protections for women, passed the House of Representatives on Thursday in a 217-210 vote [...] Biden added that a full passage of the Paycheck Fairness Act by Congress would address the wage gap by ‘closing loopholes that have allowed employers to justify gender pay disparities, strengthening provisions for holding employers accountable for systemic pay discrimination, and helping level the playing field for women and people of color by making it easier for workers to challenge pay disparities as a group. Additionally, he said the Paycheck Fairness Act would make it illegal for employers to ask employees about their salary history in the hiring process and promote pay transparency by requiring more employers to report pay data to the government. Right now, at least 18 states already have laws in place that ban employers from asking about salary history.” CNBC, [4/16/21]

Garcia Voted Against An Amendment To Direct The Labor Secretary To Study The Gender Wage Gap Among Young Workers And Establish A Task Force To Coordinate Efforts To Enforce Equal Pay Laws. In April 2021, Garcia voted against: “Scott, D-Va., en bloc amendments no. 1 that would modify a requirement for the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to provide for annual collection of disaggregated compensation data from employers to make collection of additional employment data optional; require employers to inform employees of their rights under the bill's provisions through physical and electronic postings; direct the Labor secretary to establish a program to award contracts and grants for the purpose of training employers about the role that salary negotiation and other wage-setting practices can have on bias in compensation; require the Labor secretary to undertake research and commission additional studies on the gender wage gap among younger workers; and establish the National Equal Pay Enforcement Task Force to coordinate interagency efforts in enforcing equal pay laws.” The amendment was adopted 216 to 207. April 2021: Garcia Voted For An Amendment Granting A “Safe Harbor” For Employers Facing Legal Action For Pay Discrimination If They Took “Reasonable Steps” To Correct The Disparities. In April 2021, Garcia voted for: “Miller-Meeke, R-Iowa, for Stefanik, R-N.Y., substitute amendment no. 4 that would, among other provisions, provide a safe harbor such that employers would not be liable in legal action related to pay discrimination if the employer conducted a voluntary audit of its pay practices within the previous three years and took ‘reasonable steps’ to correct any compensation disparities found by the audit that may have violated fair labor law. It would prohibit employers from requesting or relying on the wage history of a prospective employee for consideration of employment, unless a prospective employee voluntarily discloses such information. It would make it unlawful for employers to prohibit employees from inquiring about, discussing or disclosing wages but allow employers to limit the time, place and circumstances during which employees may do so.” The amendment was rejected 183 to 244. Equal Rights Amendment*March 2021: Garcia Voted Against Removing The Deadline For Ratification Of The Equal Rights Amendment

March 2021: Garcia Voted Against Removing The Deadline For Ratification Of The Equal Rights Amendment. In March 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the joint resolution that would remove the deadline for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment to the Constitution, which would state that “equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.” The ERA was proposed to the states in 1972, with a seven-year deadline for ratification, which was subsequently extended through June 1982. The joint resolution would make the proposed constitutional amendment valid as part of the Constitution whenever ratified by three-fourths of the states.” The resolution passed by a vote of 222-204. H J Res 17, [Vote #82, 3/17/21; CQ, 3/17/21]

- Removing The 1982 Ratification Deadline Would Enshrine The Equal Rights Amendment Into The Constitution Since Enough States Have Voted To Ratify It. “The House voted Wednesday to eliminate the long-passed deadline for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment. [...] The House voted 222-204 to pass the proposal, sponsored by California Democrat Jackie Speier, which would remove the 1982 deadline for state ratification. [...] The amendment then needed the approval of three-fourths of the state legislatures before 1979, a deadline set by Congress. More than half of the states ratified the amendment within the first year, and 35 states ratified it before 1977. Congress then extended the deadline for another three years to 1982, but no additional states voted to ratify, leaving the amendment three state legislatures short of the three-fourths requirement. But in recent years, the ERA has gained new life. Illinois and Nevada both voted to ratify it, and in 2020, Virginia became the 38th state to do so — ostensibly reaching the required three-fourths threshold for the 28th Amendment to the Constitution.” Roll Call, [3/17/21]

Do you believe in that?” GARCIA: I believe in social security, for sure.” HOST: “What about food stamps?” GARCIA: “Food stamps at a low level I think is, you know, as a purist I would say no. I think everyone should have to figure out how to fend for themselves.” HOST: “Medicare?” GARCIA: “At some levels yes, as well.” HOST: “Medicaid?” GARCIA: “Again, I’d have to look at the level of that. I’m not a big fan of that. Social security is not one of those things though, right. Social Security is absolutely something we need to protect. Those are investments that we as citizens have invested in. We’ve put that money in and it’s a contract with the government.” Talk of Santa Clarita, Mike Garcia Interview, [8/9/19]

Garcia On Federal Assistance Programs: “There Should Be Safety Nets, But I Don’t Want The Federal Government To Be The Safety Net.” “Garcia: Here’s where I land on all the programs. There should be safety nets, but I don’t want the federal government to be the safety net. I want the churches, I want the local community nonprofits, I want our neighbors to be the safety net because a dollar that’s spent at the federal government level on food stamps – by the time it gets to the level where someone’s actually using those stamps and getting merchandise as a result of that – the inefficiency lost through that whole process is staggering. There’s organizations like the local Veterans Collaborative group out here. I know that when we put money into that, that money pivots right away to someone who needs that safety net. Healthcare becomes a bigger problem because of the cost and the magnitude of it.” Santa Clarita Valley Proclaimer, [8/9/19]

Meat Industry Regulations

Garcia Was One Of Five Republicans Opposed To The EATS Act Which Would Have Limited Meat Industry Regulations

Garcia Signed A Letter Opposing A Farm Bill Provision That Would Block California’s Pork Production Restrictions. “A large contingent of Democrats and a handful of Republicans came out against a Farm Bill provision that would block California's pork production restrictions. A Monday letter to House Agriculture Committee Chairman Glenn ‘GT’ Thompson (R-PA) and ranking member David Scott (D-GA) came out strongly against the Ending Agricultural Trade Suppression Act, which would combat laws like California's Proposition 12, which put arduous restrictions on pork producers. ‘The EATS Act could harm America’s small farmers, threaten numerous state laws, and infringe on the fundamental rights of states to establish laws and regulations within their own borders,’ the letter led by Reps. Earl Blumenauer (D-OR) and Brian Fitzpatrick (R-PA) states. Fitzpatrick was joined by four fellow Republicans: Reps. Mike Lawler (R-NY), Mike Garcia (R-CA), Chris Smith (R-NJ), and Lori Chavez-DeRemer (R-OR). Some Democratic signatories include most of the members of far-left ‘Squad’ like Reps. Rashida Tlaib (D-MI), Cori Bush (D-MO), Ilhan Omar (D-MN), Ayanna Pressley (D-MA), Jamaal Bowman (D-NY), Greg Casar (D-TX), and Summer Lee (D-PA). Proposition 12 requires all pork producers in America who want to sell into California to provide 24 square feet of space per sow, which has been estimated at an additional $3,500 in cost-per-sow to comply. It also includes provisions for egg and veal production.” Washington Examiner, [8/21/23]

Garcia Was One Of Five Republicans Who Opposed Legislation To Limit States Rights To Regulate How Animals Are Farmed For Meat. “The federal bill that would gut states’ rights to regulate the way animals are farmed for meat, is facing strong opposition. 171 U.S. Representatives and delegates and 30 Senators have signed a letter opposing the EATS Act, arguing that it is ‘particularly draconian’ and would override countless laws, harm states’ rights and threaten American family farms. The EATS Act, short for Ending Agriculture Trade Suppression Act, is a federal bill that would prevent states from regulating agricultural products. It is broadly believed to be a response to the Supreme Court in National Pork Producers Council v. Ross, which upheld California’s Prop 12 — the 2018 democratic ballot initiative that increased the confinement space of many farmed pigs, cows and chickens. Now, these 201 politicians join the growing ranks of lawyers, academics, activists and lawmakers who have expressed disapproval of the controversial legislation. A list of 171 Representatives have signed the letter opposing the EATS act — 163 Democrats, 5 Republicans and two Democratic delegates from Washington D.C. and the Northern Mariana Islands. The five Republican lawmakers who signed the letter are Mike Garcia (CA-27), Chris Smith (NJ-4), Mike Lawler (NY-17), Lori Chavez-DeRemer (OR-5) and Brian Fitzpatrick (PA-01).”

Garcia Voted Against Certifying Pennsylvania And Arizona’s Electoral Votes And Opposed Trump’s Second Impeachment. “Rep. Mike Garcia [...] whose district includes northern Los Angeles County, omitted other parts of his record: Voting against the certification of electoral votes in Pennsylvania and Arizona that helped cement Joe Biden’s presidential victory. Opposing the impeachment of President Trump for his role in the Jan. 6 insurrection.” [Los Angeles Times, 7/5/21]

Garcia Cited Debunked And Unsubstantiated Claims About “Constitutional Errors,” “Irregularities,” And “Voter Fraud” To Justify His Vote To Challenge The 2020 Electoral College Vote

Garcia Claimed That There Was “Evidence Of Compromised Processes And Break Downs In Election Integrity By Certain State Legislatures” In The 2020 Election. “Despite representing a purple-to-blue district, Garcia announced he would join a large group of House Republicans in objecting to Biden’s Electoral College victory, a move that has been condemned by other members of the GOP. In a statement released Monday, Garcia said, ‘I do believe there is enough evidence of compromised processes and break downs in election integrity by certain state legislatures that do in fact warrant a closer examination.’ ‘I have examined all available evidence in several states currently being disputed,’ the statement said, ‘and I have digested the constitutional arguments from both sides of this discussion. We are clearly in the midst of a constitutional collision.’” [San Francisco Chronicle, 1/4/21]

Garcia Claimed, Without Evidence, That “There Were Constitutional Errors In Some States” Voting Processes During The 2020 Election. “Only one of the four Republicans who recovered seats for the GOP actually voted for the objections from their party’s senators and House members. That was Mike Garcia of Santa Clarita, a former Navy fighter pilot who won last fall by just 333 votes out of more than 340,000 cast in the district running from Lancaster and Rosamond in the high desert of northern Los Angeles County over to Simi Valley in Ventura County. [...] With no evidence to back his assertion, Garcia explained his vote to cancel Arizona’s electors by asserting without offering any evidence that he ‘firmly believ(ed)’ there were constitutional errors in some states’ votes. This despite numerous court decisions finding there were no such errors, all the way up to the U.S.” [Daily Independent, 2/12/21]

Garcia Claimed There Were “Irregularities” In The 2020 Presidential Election Even Though Those Claims Were Debunked In No Fewer Than 60 Lawsuits. “Garcia, who was just elected in L.A. County’s swing 25th Congressional District, said allegations of election ‘irregularities’ — which have been debunked in no fewer than 60 lawsuits — were enough to get his objection. By Thursday morning, he said the objections had run their due course and acknowledged Biden as the lawfully elected president.” [Press Enterprise, 1/10/21]

Garcia Voted To Challenge The 2020 Electoral College Vote Even After The Jan. 6 Insurrection, Citing “Threats Of Fraud” And The Need To Resolve “Any Uncertainty” About The 2020 Election

Garcia Voted To Challenge The 2020 Electoral College Vote Even After The Jan. 6 Insurrection Because Of Unsubstantiated Claims Of Voter Fraud. “On Monday, Garcia announced he would join the effort to challenge the Electoral College vote, based on unsubstantiated claims of voter fraud. Some GOP senators changed their mind about supporting the objection after rioters breached the Capitol in a violent and chaotic scene on Wednesday. But eight senators and 139 representatives, including Garcia, still voted to object to election results in Arizona and Pennsylvania. ‘Americans have a right to free and fair elections. We must remember, the Presidency belongs not to Congress, it belongs to the American people. However, when threats of fraud arise regarding the results of the election, per the laws written in the Constitution, America's elected Congressional Representatives must ensure that any uncertainty is resolved,’ read Garcia's statement on Thursday.” [Ventura County Star, 1/8/21]

✓ Garcia’s District Voted 54% For Biden In the 2020 Election. “The Simi Valley Democratic Club noted that Garcia's objection is ‘not representative’ of the views of the 25th Congressional district, which they estimate voted 54% for Biden.” [Ventura County Star, 1/8/21]

Garcia Claimed That He Voted To Challenge The 2020 Election Results Because He Wanted A Debate About Election Integrity, And Was Not Trying To Overturn The Election

Garcia Claimed That He Voted To Challenge The 2020 Election Results Because He Wanted A Debate About Election Integrity And Was Not Trying To Overturn The Election. “Garcia declined requests for an interview or to answer written questions from The Times. But in the op-ed in the Santa Clarita Valley Signal, he explained his actions in terms tailored for his purple district. He insisted he wanted an open debate about election integrity, not to overturn the election. (If the objection had been successful, it would have blocked the votes legitimately cast in Arizona and Pennsylvania.)” [Los Angeles, 2/8/21]

Local Media Outlets Criticized Garcia For Challenging The 2020 Election Results And Accused Him Of Being “Unfit” To Hold His Office

EDITORIAL: Garcia Sacrificed His “Conservative Principles” And “Credibility” When He Voted To Object To The 2020 Election Results. “What Trump wants his supporters to believe is that the courts, including judges appointed by Trump, all 50 states, including dozens governed by Republicans, and Trump’s own attorney general, all got everything wrong. This is nonsense. Yet this nonsense is what motivated the attack on the Capitol on Wednesday which left five people dead. This nonsense is what motivated a shameful number of Republican lawmakers to object to the certification of Electoral College votes. Rep. Ken Calvert, R-Corona, Rep. Mike Garcia, R-Santa Clarita, Rep. Darrell Issa, R-Temecula, and Rep. Jay Obernolte, R-Big Bear Lake all chose to sacrifice conservative principles and their credibility. They failed to show true leadership; they failed to do the right thing when it was the easiest thing to do.” [Monterey County Herald, Editorial, 1/10/21]

EDITORIAL: Garcia’s Vote To Challenge The Results Of The 2020 Presidential Election Showed That He Was “Unfit” To Hold His Office. “The members of Congress who conspired to overturn a legitimate presidential election revealed themselves as cynics and fools even before a mob took their position to its insane conclusion by raiding the U.S. Capitol. To continue to call such chaos down upon their country and themselves in the aftermath required still greater recklessness and treachery. And yet 147 Republican lawmakers - eight senators and 139 representatives - persisted in voting to reject the results of free and fair elections in Arizona and Pennsylvania even after a crowd incited by President Trump ran riot under the rotunda, forcing them and their colleagues to take cover as guns were drawn and fired. They included the House's top Republican, Kevin McCarthy of Bakersfield, and six other members of California's delegation: Ken Calvert, Mike Garcia, Darrell Issa, Doug LaMalfa, Devin Nunes and Jay Obernolte. The members of this antidemocratic caucus voted against the people and the republic even in the dark shadow of the alternative. They are unfit to hold their offices.” [San Francisco Chronicle, Editorial, 1/8/21]

April 6, 2021: Garcia Founded The Election Integrity Caucus To “Focus On Addressing Election Security And Restoring Faith In The U.S. Election System.” “Congressman Mike Garcia (CA-25) announced today the creation of the Election Integrity Caucus in Congress, which will be co-chaired by Congresswoman Claudia Tenney (NY-22). The caucus will focus on addressing election security and restoring faith in the U.S. election system. Garcia and Tenney will serve as Co-Chairs of the caucus. The Election Integrity Caucus will proactively educate and inform the American public about issues related to election security and activity, drive commonsense policy solutions to restore faith in the democratic process, and improve the administration of elections. The caucus will ensure Americans in every state and territory have confidence in free, fair, accurate, and transparent elections.” Rep. Mike Garcia, Press Release, [4/6/21]

- Garcia Identified A Lack Of Voter I.D. Laws, Same Day Voter Registration, And Public Campaign Financing As “Threats” To Election Integrity. “One of Garcia’s top priorities in Congress is working to restore election integrity as he has seen how California’s failed election policies, such as no I.D. required to vote, same day voter registration, and ballot harvesting have eroded the public’s trust in the election process. H.R. 1 would upload California’s failed election policies to the federal level and would also use taxpayer dollars to fund political campaigns. Garcia is committed to working to provide real solutions to election integrity and stopping policies like H.R. 1, which further erode American’s confidence in the election process.” [Rep. Republican lawmakers say they've performed an extensive analysis of election day data and they've found 'troubling' discrepancies. According to State Rep. Frank Ryan (R-Lebanon), 17 lawmakers sponsored and participated in the analysis. Ryan, who is a certified public accountant, says they discovered discrepancies between the numbers of total votes counted and total number of voters who voted in the 2020 General Election. [...] According to Ryan, the analysis compared official county election results to the total number of voters who voted Nov. 3, as recorded by the Department of State. Ryan says they found that 6,962,607 total ballots were reported as being cast, while DoS/SURE system records indicated that only 6,760,230 total voters actually voted." WJAC-TV, [12/28/20]

State and federal judges have sifted through hundreds of pages of unsubstantiated and false allegations and found no evidence of fraud or illegal voting. [...] This obvious misinformation put forth by Rep. Ryan and others is the hallmark of so many of the claims made about this year's presidential election. When exposed to even the simplest examination, courts at every level have found these and similar conspiratorial claims to be wholly without basis. To put it simply, this so-called analysis was based on incomplete data.'" WJAC-TV, [12/28/20]

Garcia Issued A Statement Condemning The Violence At The Capitol On Jan. 6th, But “Remained Silent On Trump’s Role In The Insurrection”. “Santa Clarita-area Republican Rep. Mike Garcia, who said Tuesday he would join in GOP challenges to some of the Electoral College due to what he called ‘breakdowns in election integrity’ in some states, issued a statement Wednesday condemning the violence at the Capitol. ‘In this great nation, we have the freedom to freely debate our different opinions and ideas, but this must be done through civil debate -- violence has no place in a democracy,’ Garcia said. Jan. 13, 2021: Garcia Voted Against Blocking A Resolution Establishing A Bipartisan 9/11-Style Commission To Investigate The January 6th Attack On The U.S. Capitol. In January 2021, Garcia voted against a “McGovern, D-Mass., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment) on the rule (H Res 41).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Cole stated: “Mr. Speaker, if we defeat the previous question, I will offer an amendment to the rule to immediately bring up a resolution establishing a bipartisan national commission on the domestic terrorist attack on the United States Capitol. This proposed bipartisan commission will be tasked with examining and reporting upon the terror attack upon our Capitol that occurred last Wednesday. The commission will be bipartisan in nature, modeled after the 9/11 Commission, and will fully be empowered to undertake a full investigation and make recommendations to the President and to Congress. I can think of no more appropriate path for Congress to follow than by ensuring a bipartisan commission reviews all evidence and reports back to us on this horrific event.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the resolution. The motion was agreed to, 221-205. May 19, 2021: Garcia Voted Against A Bill Establishing A Bipartisan Commission To Investigate The January 6th, 2021 Attack On The U.S. Capitol. In May 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would establish a national commission to investigate facts and causes related to the Jan. 6, 2021, “domestic terrorist attack” on the U.S. Capitol; examine and evaluate evidence developed by relevant federal, state and local governmental agencies; and build upon the investigations of other entities. It would require the commission to investigate facts and circumstances of the attack related to intelligence and law enforcement agency activities and factors contributing to the attack, including online platforms and foreign influence operations; identify and analyze the causes of and lessons learned from the attack with regard to law enforcement operations and security protocol at the Capitol; and submit to the president and Congress reports containing findings and recommendations for corrective measures that are agreed to by a majority of the commission. The commission would be composed of ten members, evenly chosen by the majority and minority parties, who have national recognition and significant experience in at least two subject areas related to the attack, such as law enforcement, intelligence, law, civil rights and counterterrorism. Among other provisions, the bill would authorize the commission to issue subpoenas and hold hearings and specify that the commission would submit its final report by the end of 2021 and terminate 60 days after submitting the report.” The bill passed 252-175. H R 3233, [Vote #154, 5/19/21; CQ, 5/19/21]

It would require the committee to investigate facts and circumstances of the attack related to intelligence and law enforcement agency activities and factors contributing to the attack, including online platforms and foreign influence operations; identify and analyze the causes of and lessons learned from the attack with regard to law enforcement operations and security protocol at the Capitol; and submit to Congress reports including findings and conclusions of its investigations, legislative recommendations, and recommendations for corrective measures. The resolution would authorize the speaker of the House to appoint 13 members to the committee, including five members after consultation with the minority leader. Among other provisions, it would authorize the committee chair to issue subpoenas, authorize such sums as may be necessary for committee expenses, and specify that the committee would terminate 30 days after filing its final report to Congress.” The bill passed 222 to 190. It would direct the speaker of the House to “take all appropriate action to enforce the subpoena” and certify the committee report (H Rept 117-216) accompanying the contempt resolution to the U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia for judicial action.” The motion passed by a vote of 222-208. Last week, Meadows backed away from cooperating with the panel just days after saying he would. He argued that the panel was pressuring him to discuss issues that the

The resolution would state among its findings that Trump ‘widely advertised and broadly encouraged’ participation in the march on the U.S. Capitol on Wednesday, Jan. 6, which turned into a violent insurrectionary mob that resulted in 5 deaths following the storming of the Capitol building; did not appeal to his followers to exit the Capitol during the insurrection; refused to accept the results of the 2020 presidential election as legitimate; and made at least three attempts to intervene in the vote counting and certification process in the state of Georgia and to ‘coerce’ its state officials to declare him the winner of the state's electoral votes.” The resolution passed, 223-205. Garcia Voted Against Impeaching President Trump For Inciting The Jan. 6th Insurrection

Garcia Voted Against Impeaching President Trump For Incitement Of Insurrection. In January 2021, Garcia voted against “Adoption of the article of impeachment that would impeach President Donald Trump for incitement of insurrection by ‘inciting violence against the government of the United States.’ Specifically, it would state that Trump ‘repeatedly issued false statements’ asserting that the results of the 2020 presidential election were the product of widespread fraud and should not be accepted or certified. It would state that Trump made statements at a rally on Jan. 6, 2020, that ‘encouraged -- and foreseeably resulted in -- lawless action’ at the Capitol building during the certification of electoral college votes, during which protesters entered the Capitol, attacked law enforcement personnel, ‘menaced’ members of Congress and the vice president, and engaged in other ‘violent, deadly, destructive, and seditious acts.’ It would state that Trump's conduct on Jan. 6 followed prior efforts ‘to subvert and obstruct’ the certification of 2020 presidential election results, including during a Jan. 2 phone call during which he urged Georgia Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger to ‘find’ enough votes to overturn the state's presidential election results and ‘threatened Secretary Raffensperger if he failed to do so.’ It would state President Trump's ‘endangered the security of the United States and its institutions of government’ and that he ‘threatened the integrity of the democratic system, interfered with the peaceful transition of power, and imperiled a coordinate branch of government.’ Pursuant to the rule (H Res 41), upon adoption of the article of impeachment, the House agreed to the resolution (H Res 40) that would appoint and authorize the following impeachment trial managers to conduct the impeachment trial against President Donald Trump in the Senate: Reps. Raskin, D-Md., DeGette, D-Colo., Cicilline, D-R.I., Castro, D-Texas, Swalwell, D-Calif., Lieu, D-Calif., Plaskett, D-V.I., Neguse, D-Colo., and Dean, D-Pa.” The article of impeachment was adopted, 232-197. Unlike Fellow California Republican Rep. David Valadao, Garcia Voted Against Trump’s Second Impeachment. “Rep. David Valadao was the only one of California's 11 congressional Republicans who voted Wednesday to impeach President Donald Trump — the latest distinction setting him apart from the rest of the caucus. [...] The three other Republicans who represent swing districts — Mike Garcia in Simi Valley, and Young Kim and Michelle Steel in Orange County — voted against impeachment. But Kim tried to find middle ground with an unsuccessful resolution to censure Trump, which she said would ‘unite our country and chamber, rather than divide it.’” [CALmatters, 1/14/21]

Garcia Opposed Trump’s Second Impeachment Because He Thought It Was Too Hasty. “Garcia declined requests for an interview or to answer written questions from The Times. But in the op-ed in the Santa Clarita Valley Signal, he explained his actions in terms tailored for his purple district. He insisted he wanted an open debate about election integrity, not to overturn the election. (If the objection had been successful, it would have blocked the votes legitimately cast in Arizona and Pennsylvania.) He said he opposed Trump's impeachment because of its hastiness, but the op-ed did not address the charge that Trump incited violence.” [Los Angeles, 2/8/21]

Garcia Claimed That Trump’s Second Impeachment Was “No More Than Political Theater That Runs The Risk Of Further Dividing Us.” “Republican Rep. Mike Garcia of Santa Clarita barely won reelection in a district that rejected President Trump and voted for Democrat Joe Biden. Yet the congressman last week voted to protect Trump from impeachment. [...] Garcia's explanation for his House vote was this: ‘With only a few days left in the Trump administration, the vote to impeach the president is no more than political theater that runs the risk of further dividing us at a time when we need to come together. I urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to stop playing political games.’” [Los Angeles Times, 1/18/21]

When Asked About Efforts To Expel Reps. Cheney And Kinzinger From The House Republican Caucus, Garcia Said That We Needed “To Move On From That Whole Discussion.” “The Republican National Committee's overwhelming voice vote to censure Reps. Liz Cheney of Wyoming and Adam Kinzinger of Illinois at its winter meeting in Salt Lake City culminated more than a year of vacillation, which started with party leaders condemning the Capitol attack and Trump's conduct, then shifted to downplaying and denying it. [...] The party's far-right flank has been agitating to boot Cheney and Kinzinger out of the House Republican Conference for months, a push that Rep. Kevin McCarthy of California, the minority leader, has tried to brush aside. And their formal censure is sure to stir up those efforts again. ‘We need to move on from that whole discussion and, frankly, move forward and get the House back in 2022,’ said Rep. Mike Garcia, R- Calif., who is facing a difficult reelection campaign in a newly configured district.” [Baltimore Sun, 2/5/22]

Mike, have you heard about this?” GARCIA: “I just started hearing. There may have been a few others so it's not surprising that the guys that work in the uniformed personnel that work in that capacity are good folks. There's law enforcement that serves in that field. But the leadership is under the thumb of Pelosi. Just like every Democrat votes the same way on every piece of legislation because they fear her and her tyranny, the Capitol Police leadership does the same. Trump, Garcia, And Other Republicans Accused Democrats Of Trying To Steal The California 25th Congressional District’s Special Election In 2020

Trump And The RNC Claimed That Governor Newsom And Other Democrats Were Trying To Steal The CA-25 Special Election By Opening Another In-Person Voting Site—Even Though It Was Requested By A Republican Mayor

May 12, 2020: Trump Claimed That Newsom And Other Democrats Were Trying To Steal The Election From Garcia By Allowing More In-Person Voting. “With a flood of tweets, President Trump has jumped into Tuesday’s runoff election for a California congressional seat, accusing Gov. Gavin Newsom and other Democrats of trying to rig the election by allowing more in-person voting. ‘Dems are trying to steal the Mike Garcia Congressional Race in California,’ Trump tweeted early Monday, the latest in a string of presidential outbursts that began Friday dealing with a special election for a seat representing parts of Los Angeles and Ventura counties.” San Francisco Chronicle, [5/12/20]

- The In-Person Voting Site Was Opened In Lancaster Because Its Republican Mayor Requested It. “As with the Clausen-Garcia contest 57 years earlier, the Smith-Garcia race drew national media and political attention and big infusions of political cash. Newsom decreed that it would be an all-mail election due to the coronavirus pandemic and Trump complained, without merit, that Democrats were trying to steal the election

when an in-person voting site was opened in Lancaster at the behest of its Republican mayor.” [Mercury News, 5/20/20]

Republican National Committee Chairwoman Ronna McDaniel Claimed That Democrats Were Trying To Steal The Election From Garcia By Installing A Vote Center In Lancaster, California. “Following a request by the Los Angeles County Democratic Party, Los Angeles County Registrar-Recorder/County Clerk Dean Logan announced on Friday that an in-person polling site at the Lancaster Vote Center would be available to voters in the second weekend of voting in the special election. [...] Republican National Committee Chairwoman Ronna McDaniel accused Democrats attempting to ‘steal’ the election from their candidate, tweeting: ‘Democrats are trying to steal the #CA25 special. Corrupt election official @DCLogan waited until Friday evening before the election to announce a single new voting location in a Dem-heavy area. Why? Dems demanded one. Help @MikeGarcia2020 fight back!’” [Washington Examiner, 5/9/20]

Lancaster, California’s Republican Mayor, Rex Parris, Supported The Decision To Open A New Poll Site. “Lancaster is, in fact, not the ‘most Democrat area’ in California. The city’s mayor, Rex Parris, is a Republican. Lancaster is also represented by two Republicans in the state legislature, The Washington Post noted. [...] Parris, the Republican mayor, also supported the move. ‘This is something the county should fix immediately,’ Parris told a local news outlet last week. ‘There should not be even the appearance of affecting the outcome by limiting the ability to vote.’” [Salon, 5/11/20]

Lancaster Opened A New Poll Site Due To Concerns That The Absence Of An In-Person Voting Place Would Make It Harder For The City’s Black Population To Vote. “The move to open a new polling location came after Democrats raised concerns that the area, which has a large African-American population, ‘didn’t have an in-person voting place.’ They argued that ‘voters who were more likely to vote in person on Election Day’ were thus disenfranchised, according to the outlet.” [Salon, 5/11/20]

- Lancaster, California’s Population Was Nearly 22% African American. “What apparently triggered Trump’s claim that Democrats ‘are trying to steal another election’ was that Los Angeles County election officials recently added a new in-person voting location in the city of Lancaster - described by Trump as ‘the most Democrat area in the State.’ This presumably is why the president has demanded these ballots cast by Americans ‘must not count.’ This is a jaw-dropping statement. The idea that a President would call for votes not to be counted simply because they are cast in a polling location that he believes favors the opposition party should alarm all Americans who believe in our democratic republic. Also deeply disturbing is that Trump is opposing making it easier for those in one of the most racially diverse cities in the district - Lancaster’s population is nearly 22% African American - to cast their ballot.” [East Bay Times, 5/11/20]

Garcia Echoed Claims That Opening The New Poll Site Was Evidence That Smith And The Democrats Were Trying To Steal The Election

Garcia Echoed Trump’s Claim That Opening A New Poll Site In Lancaster, California Was Evidence That Smith And The Democrats Were Trying To Steal The Election. “The president complained on Twitter that California Gov. Gavin Newsom, a Democrat, opened up a new poll site in Lancaster, which lies just north of Los Angeles, despite calls from both parties to do so. ‘So in California, the Democrats, who fought like crazy to get all mail in only ballots, and succeeded, have just opened a voting booth in the most Democrat area in the State,’ Trump tweeted. ‘They are trying to steal another election. It’s all rigged out there. These votes must not count. SCAM!’ [...] But Trump-backed Republican Navy veteran Mike Garcia seized on the president’s baseless allegation, accusing Smith and ‘her liberal Dem allies’ of being ‘desperate and trying to change the rules to steal an election.’” [Salon, 5/11/20]

May 8, 2020: Garcia Accused Christy Smith Of “Trying To Change The Rules To Steal An Election” Because She Supported Installing A Voting Center In Lancaster, California. “The president tweeted his displeasure after county officials late Friday approved a request from Lancaster’s mayor to install a voting center in that city this weekend. The 25th Congressional District includes the Santa Clarita Valley, and portions of the northern San Fernando Valley, Antelope Valley and eastern Ventura County. [...] Garcia himself tweeted the following late Friday: ‘@ChristyforCA25 and her liberal Dem allies didn’t say anything for weeks even though the polling places were in full view of the public. Even after every voter received a ballot, they are desperate and trying to change the rules to steal an election. We can’t let them succeed!! The right to vote is sacred and something I fought to protect for nearly two decades. But our citizens should also expect a fair process free from political games.’” [Orange County Register, 5/10/20]

Lancaster’s Mayor, Who Supported Garcia, Requested The A Voting Center Because Another One Was Operating In A Neighboring City And Denied It Was Evidence Of A Rigged Election

Lancaster’s Mayor, Who Supported Trump And Garcia, Requested Setting Up A Voting Center Because Another One Was Operating In A Neighboring City. “In the wake of Trump’s tweet fury over the new center, Lancaster Mayor Rex Parris — who was the first L.A.-area dignitary to greet Trump on the LAX tarmac on the president’s Feb. 18 swing through L.A. — was taken aback Saturday by the Twitter feud. ‘Well, they should have called me, shouldn’t they?’ Parris said, adding that he is a strong Garcia supporter and welcomed Trump’s attention but was left in the dark about the decision to slam the new vote center in his city. Parris said that after he learned that a similar vote center was operating in neighboring Palmdale, he felt it was a good idea to have one in Lancaster, if for nothing else but for the the ‘appearance’ that the election was fair and accessible in his city, which is 48% Latino.” [Orange County Register, 5/10/20]

- Lancaster’s Mayor Denied That The Vote Center Was Evidence Of A Rigged Election. “Parris himself, in coordination with L.A County officials and Registrar Logan, wanted the vote center in the city. And it’s not rigged, he said. ‘I don’t see any indication of malicious intent,’ he said. “And I think you need that to have a rigged election.” [Orange County Register, 5/10/20]

Republican National Committee Chairwoman, Ronna McDaniel, Claimed Mail-In Voting Would Destroy Election Integrity Despite Garcia Winning A Nearly All-Mail Congressional Runoff Election. “GOP doubles down on fight against mail voting, despite California win: Republican Mike Garcia won a nearly all-mail congressional runoff election in California last week, but GOP leaders are nonetheless fighting efforts to expand voting by mail nationwide. On Monday, Ronna McDaniel, the chairwoman of the Republican National Committee, accused Democrats of using the coronavirus pandemic as an excuse to file lawsuits that would ‘destroy the integrity of our elections.’” [San Francisco Chronicle, 5/19/20]

The Republican National Committee Continued To Oppose Attempts To Expand Voting By Mail Even Though Garcia Won A Nearly All-Mail Congressional Runoff Election. “Republican Mike Garcia may have won a nearly all-mail congressional runoff election in California last week, but that’s not stopping GOP leaders from fighting efforts to expand voting by mail in states across the country.” [San Francisco Chronicle, 5/19/20]

- Republican Leaders Claimed That Garcia Won Despite Supposed Attempts To Steal The Election Through Ballot Harvesting And Opening An In-Person Voting Center. “According to GOP leaders, Garcia’s win came in the face of Democratic attempts to steal the election by allowing ballot harvesting and opening an in-person voting center at the last minute in a largely minority area of Lancaster Los Angeles County. Democrats pointed out that it was requested by Lancaster’s mayor, a Republican, and that the decision to open the center was made by a nonpartisan county official. ‘Mike Garcia won despite the Democrats’ best efforts to turn the election in their favor,’ said Mandi Merritt, a spokeswoman for the Republican National Committee. ‘These efforts were clearly done with partisan intentions, and underscore exactly why we are fighting back.’” [San Francisco Chronicle, 5/19/20]

Build Back Better Act

Garcia Voted Against The Build Back Better Act, Which Would Invest In Child-Care, Healthcare, Clean Energy, And Lower Prescription Drug Prices

Garcia Voted Against The Build Back Better Act. In November 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the fiscal 2022 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, that would provide approximately $2 trillion in investments and tax cuts to address climate change and child care, health care, education, housing and other social policies intended to support families. It would establish a child care and early learning entitlement program, providing approximately $100 billion for the program through fiscal 2024. It would provide $18 billion through fiscal 2024 for a free universal preschool program. It would extend through 2022 the expanded child tax credit provided by prior coronavirus relief law (PL 117-2) and provide $5 billion to administer the credit. It would establish a paid family and medical leave benefit for up to four weeks per year, beginning in 2024. It would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a "maximum fair price" for insulin and select Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition. It would require manufacturers to provide rebates for single-source drugs under Medicare Parts B and D for which prices increase faster than inflation. For Medicare Part D, it would cap annual out-of-pocket limit at $2,000 beginning in 2024. It would establish or extend expanded eligibility for certain tax credits toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums through 2025. It would establish or expand a number of tax credits to incentivize actions by businesses and individuals to mitigate climate change, including to expand credits for renewable energy production and facilities, carbon capture facilities, use of alternative fuels and energy efficiency improvements at residential properties; and to establish individual credits for the purchase of electric vehicles. It would raise royalty rates and fees for oil and gas drilling leases and cancel or ban certain offshore leases. It would provide $29 billion to support the deployment of low- and zero-emission technologies, more than $20 billion for federal climate resiliency and environmental conservation activities and $9 billion for federal procurement of electric vehicles and related infrastructure. It would provide $65 billion for public housing improvements, $24 billion for rental assistance housing vouchers and $15 billion for down payment assistance and loan programs for first-generation homebuyers. It would provide $9.8 billion for local transit projects to support mobility and affordable housing access disadvantaged communities and $9 billion for lead remediation and water line replacement projects. It would forgive all debt owed by the National Flood Insurance Program's debt, for a total of $20.5 billion. It would provide such sums as necessary for the USDA to forgive farm loan debt for economically distressed farmers and ranchers. It would provide $6.6 billion to the Small Business Administration and Minority Business Development Agency to help underrepresented individuals with business development. It would provide $20 billion for Labor and Education department workforce development programs and $1.9 billion for Labor Department worker protection agencies. It would allow individuals who entered the United States prior to Jan. 1, 2011, to receive a grant of parole allowing them to remain temporarily in the country for a period of five years, but no later than Sept. 30, 2021. It would temporarily increase from $10,000 to $80,000 the annual cap on the deduction for state and local taxes for tax years 2021 through 2030. To offset costs, it would establish or modify various taxes on corporations and high-income individuals, including to establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with an annual income exceeding $1 billion; a one percent tax on stock buybacks by public companies; and an additional five percent tax on individual income over $10 million and further three percent tax on income over $25 million. It would provide $78.9 billion to improve IRS operations and tax enforcement.” The bill passed by a vote of 220-213. HR 5376, [Vote #385, 11/19/21; CQ, 11/19/21]

- Roosevelt Institute: The Build Back Better Act Would Invest In Child Care, Creating Jobs And Allow Parents To Get Back To Work. “Convenient, affordable childcare is a major obstacle for working parents, illuminated even more so by school and daycare closures during the COVID-19 pandemic, which has disproportionately impacted women’s labor force participation. Increasing the capacity of industries in order to curb inflation of specific prices requires increasing the supply of labor. The Build Back Better Act invests in existing and new childcare facilities in underserved areas and provides subsidies to make childcare more affordable for qualifying households. Together, these investments would increase the supply of childcare, create new jobs, and allow parents to get back to work. Roosevelt Institute, Fact Sheet, [9/28/21]

Specifically, proposed investments in clean electricity and energy efficiency will make energy costs more affordable, saving the average household approximately $500 a year in reduced energy costs. This much-needed investment in clean energy would come at a time when energy prices have pushed up inflation for consecutive months.” Center for American Progress, [11/16/21]

Funding And Budgets

Garcia Supported A 30% Cut Across The Government

Garcia Voted For A Continuing Resolution With Republican Riders And Nearly 30% Cuts Across The Government. In September 2023, Garcia voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would provide funding for federal government operations and services through Oct. 31, 2023, with a 29.9 percent cut from fiscal 2023 levels for most programs. It would fund veterans’ programs, the Department of Homeland Security, national security programs and disaster assistance at full fiscal 2023 levels. It would also implement nearly all provisions of House Republicans’ border security and immigration bill (HR 2), which the House passed in May 2023. It would provide an increase in funding for the Defense Department at rates set forth in House Republicans’ fiscal 2024 defense appropriations bill (HR 4365), which would provide for a 3.6 percent funding increase over fiscal 2023. It would also provide funding increases for the Agriculture Department and provide an additional $220 million above fiscal 2023 levels for Energy Department nuclear programs. Among its border security and immigration provisions, it would require DHS, within seven days of enactment, to resume all activities related to “border wall” construction on the U.S.-Mexico border that were underway or planned prior to Jan. 20, 2021; require DHS to reopen or restore, no later than Sept. 30, 2023, the use of all Immigration and Customs Enforcement detention facilities that were in operation on Jan. 20, 2021; and require DHS to return all unaccompanied children to their country of origin, regardless of whether they are from a contiguous country to the U.S. In addition to provisions of HR 2, it would place limitations on the use of DHS funding provided by the bill, including prohibitions on removing existing U.S.-Mexico border barriers, transporting inadmissible adults into the U.S., and the use of Customs and Border Protection’s “CBP One” app to facilitate the parole of an individual into the U.S. It also would prohibit the use of funds provided by the bill to initiate or resume any project or activity not funded during fiscal 2023 and would establish a congressional fiscal commission tasked with identifying policies to “improve the fiscal situation.” The bill was rejected by a vote of 198-232. ---

Dec. 2021: Garcia Voted Against Short-Term Continued Government Funding Through February 18, 2022.

In December 2021 Garcia voted against: “Passage of the fiscal 2022 further continuing resolution that would provide funding for federal government operations and services through Feb. 18, 2022, at fiscal 2021 levels and provide $7 billion in emergency funding for Afghan evacuee assistance, as well as $1.6 billion for the Health and Human Services Department to provide shelter and services to unaccompanied minors who have crossed the U.S. border. Within funding to support Afghan evacuees, it would provide $4.3 billion for Defense Department assistance to refugees on U.S. military installations; $1.3 billion for Health and Human Services Department resettlement and support services for Afghan arrivals and refugees; and $1.3 billion for the State Department, including $1.2 billion for resettlement and support services for Afghans in the United States and $80.3 million for related diplomatic activities and additional evacuations. It would require the Office of Management and Budget to submit a report on the strategy and transition plan for concluding Afghan resettlement initiatives. Senate Republicans blocked an initial funding package on Monday over its inclusion, refusing to give the majority party any of the votes needed to move ahead on a bill to avert a first-ever federal default in the coming weeks. The new estimate from Yellen raises the risk that the United States could default on its debt in a matter of weeks if Washington fails to act. A default would likely be catastrophic, tanking markets and the economy, and delaying payments to millions of Americans. ‘It is uncertain whether we could continue to meet all the nation’s commitments after that date,’ Yellen wrote in a letter, adding the projection is based on estimated tax payments.” CNN, [9/28/21]

Government Shutdowns Cost Taxpayers Billions Of Dollars, Lead To Higher Unemployment And Lower Economic Growth, And Disrupt Important Government Services

Sept. 2019: The Senate Permanent Subcommittee On Investigations Found That The Past Three Government Shutdowns Cost Taxpayers Nearly $4 Billion At Minimum. “It may be counterintuitive, but government shutdowns are expensive. A government shutdown pauses programs and government operations, only for them to eventually start up again, and that has costs. [...] A report issued in September 2019 by the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations found that the ‘last three government shutdowns cost taxpayers nearly $4 billion — at least $3.7 billion in back pay to furloughed federal workers, and at least $338 million in other costs associated with the shutdowns, including extra administrative work, lost revenue, and late fees on interest payments.’ That assessment is an underestimate because it excluded substantial costs associated with several government agencies (including the Department of Defense), which were unable to provide complete estimates to the Subcommittee.” Peter G. Peterson Foundation, [10/28/19]

Government Shutdowns Can Increase Unemployment And Decrease The Growth In Gross Domestic Product (GDP). “Government shutdowns can harm economic growth and certainty. A 2013 Macroeconomic Advisors paper found that government shutdowns can impose costs on the economy such as increased unemployment rate, lowering the growth in gross domestic product (GDP), and raising the cost of borrowing. The Bureau of Economic Analysis estimated that the government shutdown in October 2013 reduced fourth-quarter GDP that year by 0.3 percentage points. An S&P Global analysis found that a government shutdown in 2017 could have reduced real fourth-quarter GDP growth by $6.5 billion per week. The Congressional Budget Office estimated that the partial government shutdown that lasted from December 22, 2018 until January 25, 2019 reduced real GDP by $11 billion over the fourth quarter of 2018 and the first quarter of 2019 (although they assumed that much of that reduction would have been made up later in the year).” Peter G. Peterson Foundation, [10/28/19]

Government Shutdowns Have Disrupted “Disrupted Scientific Research, Services For Veterans And Seniors, And Health And Safety Inspections” By The FDA And Other Government Agencies. “While programs such as Social Security and Medicare would remain largely unaffected by a government shutdown, other programs and services could be interrupted by the temporary furlough of ‘nonessential’ government staff. In 2013, OMB showed that the shutdown that year disrupted scientific research, services for veterans and seniors, and health and safety inspections by the Food and Drug Administration, the Federal Aviation Administration, and the National Transportation Safety Board, among other programs.” Peter G. - The Rule Pertained To Federal Employee Status And Protections When Federal Employees Change Positions. “The Office of Personnel Management (OPM) is proposing a rule to reinforce and clarify longstanding civil service protections and merit system principles, codified in law, as they relate to the movement of Federal employees and positions from the competitive service to the excepted service, or from one excepted service schedule to another. First, it clarifies that, upon such a move, an employee retains the status and civil service protections they had already accrued by law, unless the employee relinquishes such rights or status by voluntarily encumbering a position that explicitly results in a loss of, or different, rights. Second, it interprets ‘confidential, policy-determining, policy-making, or policy-advocating’ and ‘confidential or policy-determining’ to describe positions, generally excepted from civil service protections, in accordance with statutory text, legislative history for that text, and congressional intent, to reinforce the interpretation that this term was intended to mean noncareer, political appointments. Third, it provides specific additional procedures that apply when moving positions from the competitive service to the excepted service, or from one excepted service schedule to another, for the purposes of good administration, to add transparency, and to provide employees with a right of appeal to the Merit Systems Protection Board (MSPB or Board) to the extent any such move purportedly strips employees of their civil service status and protections.” [Federal Register, [9/18/23]

Debt Limit

- Congress Passed A Debt Limit Increase Early The Day The Debt Limit Would Have Been Reached. “Congress early Wednesday voted to raise the nation's debt limit by $2.5 trillion, officially staving off default and the economic peril that would come if the U.S. were unable to pay its bills. [...] Lawmakers managed to get the measure passed just in time to avoid an economic scare. Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen told lawmakers she estimated the United States would reach its debt ceiling by Wednesday. If lawmakers didn't address the debt limit by then, the U.S. would have defaulted on its debts for the first time, which could lead to a global recession, Treasury Department officials and experts said.” USA Today, [12/15/21]

Burgess said, “Mr. Speaker, if we defeat the previous question, Republicans will amend the rule to immediately consider an amendment to the Democrats' fiscal year 2022 budget resolution to replace the socialist $5 trillion tax-and-spend reconciliation instructions with new instructions for authorizing committees to produce legislation to reduce the deficit to combat runaway inflation currently fueling the highest price spike in 40 years and to get Americans back to work.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 220-212. It would provide $28.6 billion in supplemental appropriations for natural disaster relief, including $10 billion for the Agriculture Department to cover agricultural losses; $5.7 billion for Army Corps of Engineers flood and storm damage response; $5 billion for disaster-related community development block grants; $2.6 billion to reimburse states and territories for damage to roads and bridges; $1.36 billion for the Forest Service and $636 million for the Interior Department, including for wildfire response; $1.2 billion for Small Business Administration disaster loans; $895 million for Navy and Air Force facility repairs; $345 million for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, including $200 million for fishery disaster response; and $22 million for the National Institute of Standards and Technology to investigate building collapses. It would provide $6.3 billion in supplemental appropriations to support Afghan evacuees, including $2.2 billion for Defense Department assistance to Afghans under the special immigrant visa program and on U.S. military installations; $1.7 billion for Health and Human Services Department resettlement and support services for Afghan arrivals and refugees; and $1.8 billion for the State Department, including $277 million for evacuation and related services, $1.1 billion for resettlement and support services for Afghans in the United States, and $415 million for migration and refugee assistance. ## Failure To Raise The Debt Limit Would Spark A “Cataclysmic” Economic Crisis Destroying Up To 6 Million Jobs And $15 Trillion In Household Wealth

Moody’s Analytics: If Congress Failed To Raise The Debt Limit, The U.S. Economy Would Lose 6 Million Jobs And $15 Trillion In Household Wealth And The Unemployment Rate Would Surge To 9 Percent. “The United States could plunge into an immediate recession if Congress fails to raise the debt ceiling and the country defaults on its payment obligations this fall, according to one analysis released Tuesday. Mark Zandi, chief economist at Moody’s Analytics, found that a prolonged impasse over the debt ceiling would cost the U.S. economy up to 6 million jobs, wipe out as much as $15 trillion in household wealth, and send the unemployment rate surging to roughly 9 percent from around 5 percent.” Washington Post, [9/21/21]

- Washington Post: Failing To Raise The Debt Limit Threatened $20 Billion In Social Security Payments For Seniors. “If Congress fails to increase the debt limit, Treasury would be unable to pay debts as they come due. Treasury Secretary Janet L. Yellen said earlier this week that such a default would be unprecedented in U.S. history. Moody’s ‘best estimate’ is that this date is Oct. 20, although Treasury has not given a more precise day. At that point, Treasury officials would face excruciating choices, such as whether to fail to pay $20 billion owed to seniors on Social Security, or to fail to pay bondholders of U.S. debt — a decision that could undermine faith in U.S. credit and permanently drive federal borrowing costs higher.” Washington Post, [9/21/21]

Cut Funding For Space Programs

Garcia Signed A Letter Urging NASA To Reverse Its Decision To Proactively Cut Funding For Space Programs That Cost California Hundreds Of Jobs. “Lawmakers from both parties are taking aim at NASA’s recent decision to cut funding for its own mission to bring Martian samples back to Earth, calling the move ‘short-sighted and misguided’ and claiming it will cost jobs in California. [...] ‘This short-sighted and misguided decision by NASA will cost hundreds of jobs and a decade of lost science, and it flies in the face of congressional authority,’ the lawmakers wrote in a letter obtained by POLITICO. ‘We are mystified by NASA’s rash decision to suggest at this stage of the appropriations process that any cuts would be necessary.’ The letter, addressed to NASA Administrator Bill Nelson, was led by California Rep. Adam Schiff and Sen. Alex Padilla, both Democrats, and signed by Democrats Rep. Judy Chu and Sen. Laphonza Butler. Reps. Mike Garcia and Young Kim, both Republicans, also signed on.” Politico, [11/22/23]

- The Cuts Were Caused By Uncertainty Over Whether Congress Could Pass Full Year Appropriations. “The goal of the Mars Sample Return mission is to bring rocks and dust collected by the Perseverance rover on the Martian surface back to Earth in 2033. But the program’s cost estimates have skyrocketed, and uncertainty over whether Congress can agree to a full-year budget prompted the space agency in early November to slow down the program. That didn’t sit well with six California lawmakers, who urged the space agency to reverse its decision to proactively cut funding to the program and instead wait for the appropriations picture to be sorted out before they adjust.” Politico, [11/22/23]

Garcia Said He Supported COVID-19 Relief Initiatives, But Also Said That They Were A “Two Month Trial Subscription To Socialism”

Garcia Referred To The Government Response To COVID-19 As A “Two Month Trial Subscription To Socialism” That Was “Ugly.” “And we can't blame the youth, right? Because they haven't seen firsthand how these things evolve. They've started to see a glimpse of it. I think we had a two month trial subscription to socialism during COVID-19. And it was ugly and none of us liked it. I don't think so. It's up to the parents. It's up to the parents to instill the values and explain why capitalism is good. Garcia Said He Supported The COVID-19 Initiatives That Added $3 Trillion To The Debt, Even Though It Was A “Pill” To “Unfortunately, Swallow.” “Yeah, and unfortunately, you know, we were we were compelled to aggravate that, obviously with the COVID-19 case. And in that environment, I obviously supported the initiatives that the addition of $3 trillion was it was a pill we had, unfortunately, swallow. Look it to me the besides the two bears outside of the 10th that we were talking about the national debt is probably our Achilles tendon more than anything else. If we don't start addressing that, in some form or fashion and take the time to mitigate it and ultimately eradicate the debt, it will be the bane of us. And in some form or fashion, we can't just keep pushing this off. Specifically, it would require information on any program disbursements of over $2 million, including to identify recipients and lenders or intermediaries and to describe the decision-making process for such disbursements. It would also require information on the amount of assistance provided to small businesses owned by socially and economically disadvantaged individuals, women, and veterans. The bill would also effectively separate the authorization cap for the Paycheck Protection Program from other SBA 7(a) small business loan guarantee programs.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 269 to 147. ## Garcia Opposed The HEROES Act, Which Was A $3 Trillion COVID Relief Bill

Garcia Claimed That The HEROES Act Would “Give Money To Illegal Immigrants And Defund The Police.” “Garcia has gotten a front-row seat to that logjam in the five months since his stunning special election

win over Smith in May to fill out the remainder of Hill's term. [...] Even while railing against partisan toxicity and his intention to not put party over patriotism, he points to House Speaker Nancy Pelosi as the reason. 'She's wanting to give money to illegal immigrants and defund the police ... in this latest HERO's version,' he said, referring to federal aid legislation the Democrats have put on the table. 'There's some true poison pills that aren't good for the country and frankly are being added for political showmanship rather than actually helping anyone. She's catering to her base rather than the care of the nation.'" [Daily News of Los Angeles, 10/12/20]

Garcia Opposed The HEROES Act Because It Contained "Too Many Extras." "Garcia favors an infrastructure bill, but not an increase in the federal gas tax. He favors another COVID relief package, but in the range of $750 billion to $1 trillion, not the $3 trillion package supported by House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, which he said has 'too many extras' in it. Garcia also favors another round of Paycheck Protection Loans for businesses now feeling the strain of supply chain disruptions during the pandemic." [San Gabriel Valley Tribune, Editorial, 9/17/20]

It would provide $47.8 billion for COVID-19 testing and contact tracing; $7.5 billion for vaccine administration and distribution; and $6.1 billion for vaccine and therapeutic development, manufacturing and procurement. It would require Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program to fully cover the cost of COVID-19 vaccines. It would provide $50 billion for small business assistance, including $25 billion for restaurants. It would provide $30.5 billion for transit, $18 billion for airline and aviation manufacturing industry payroll support; and $4 billion for Agriculture Department pandemic-related assistance. It would incrementally increase the federal minimum wage annually to reach $15 per hour in 2025, including for tipped workers, teens and workers with disabilities. - JEC Analysis Showed The CTC Had Dramatically Reduced Food Insecurity And Financial Hardship, And Was Expected To Inject Nearly $19.3 Billion Into Local Economies Each Month. “JEC analysis of data from the Census Bureau show the expanded CTC is already having a major impact on family budgets, with dramatic declines in food insufficiency and financial hardship, and the JEC estimates that monthly CTC payments will inject nearly $19.3 billion into local economies each month. The expanded CTC will generate nearly $19.3 billion in spending in local economies across the U.S. each month. Family finances improved significantly following the first monthly expanded CTC payments in July. Data from the Census Bureau show that following the July payments, there were significant declines in the share of households with children reporting financial hardship and food insufficiency. Families are using the expanded CTC payments to meet the needs of their household. Among those who responded to the Census Bureau’s survey: 47% spent their CTC payment on food, 28% spent it on internet and other utilities, 26% spent it on school expenses, and 17% of those with at least one child under age 5 spent it on child care.” Joint Economic Committee, [9/9/21]

[...] Eligible families received a payment of up to $300 per month for each child under age 6 and up to $250 per month for each child age 6 to 17. This tax relief is having a real impact on the lives of America’s children. According to the Census Bureau’s Household Pulse Survey data released earlier this week, parents reported having less trouble covering the costs of food and other household expenses after receiving their first CTC payment. The share of families reporting that they sometimes or often did not have enough to eat in the past week dropped to the lowest percentage since the pandemic began. ### Coronavirus State And Local Fiscal Recovery Funds – Law Enforcement

The American Rescue Plan Provided $350 Billion In State And Local Funding To Hire Law Enforcement Officials, Pay Overtime For Community Policing, And Restore Law Enforcement To Pre-Pandemic Levels. “Today, the Treasury Department is highlighting that communities experiencing a surge in gun violence as a result of the pandemic may use the American Rescue Plan’s $350 billion in state and local funding for purposes such as: Hiring law enforcement officials – even above pre-pandemic levels – or paying overtime where the funds are directly focused on advancing community policing strategies in those communities experiencing an increase in gun violence associated with the pandemic. [...] In addition, the Treasury Department is clarifying that any community may use ARP state and local aid for the above strategies and any other public safety programs, up to the level of revenue loss the jurisdiction experienced during the pandemic. And any community may use ARP funds to rehire police officers and other public servants to restore law enforcement and courts to their pre-pandemic levels.” White House, Press Release, [6/23/21]

Department Of The Treasury: “There Are Many Ways In Which The State And Local Fiscal Recovery Funds [...] Can Support Communities Working To Reduce And Respond To Increased Violence.” “Under Treasury’s Interim Final Rule, there are many ways in which the State and Local Fiscal Recovery Funds (“Funds”) under the American Rescue Plan Act can support communities working to reduce and respond to increased violence due to the pandemic. [...] In all communities, recipients may use resources to rehire police officers and other public servants to restore law enforcement and courts to their pre-pandemic levels. [...] In communities where an increase in violence or increased difficulty in accessing or providing services to respond to or mitigate the effects of violence, is a result of the pandemic they may use funds to address that harm. This spending may include: Hiring law enforcement officials – even above pre-pandemic levels – or paying overtime where the funds are directly focused on advancing community policing strategies in those communities experiencing an increase in gun violence associated with the pandemic o Community Violence Intervention (CVI) programs, including capacity building efforts at CVI programs like funding and training additional intervention workers.” Department of the Treasury, [7/19/21]

Biden: “The American Rescue Plan, Which We Passed In The First 100 Days Of My Administration, Is Providing Much-Needed, Historic Relief To Bring Back Those Law Enforcement Jobs.” President Biden: “The American Rescue Plan, which we passed in the first 100 days of my administration, is providing much-needed, historic relief to bring back those law enforcement jobs and social service jobs. Much of this relief has already arrived. The rest is on its way. And we’re now providing more guidance on how they can use the $350

billion nationally that the American Rescue Plan has available to help reduce crime and address the root causes. For example, cities experiencing an increase in gun violence were able to use the American Rescue Plan dollars to hire police officers needed for community policing and to pay their overtime. Mayors will also be able to buy crime-fighting technologies, like gunshot detection systems, to better see and stop gun violence in their communities. They can use the funding to scale up wraparound services for the residents as well, including substance abuse and mental health services that we know will make a difference in prevention of crime.” White House, [6/23/21]

Garcia Voted Against The Child Care For Economic Recovery Act, A Program That Would Extend “Grants For States To Provide Family Care For Essential Workers” In Response To The COVID-19 Pandemic

Garcia Voted Against The “Child Care For Economic Recovery Act,” A Program To Extend “Grants For States To Provide Family Care For Essential Workers.” In July 2020, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would make emergency fiscal 2020 supplemental appropriations in response to the COVID-19 public health emergency for grants to support family care services and infrastructure and expand certain tax credits for individuals and employers related to child and dependent care. The bill would provide $850 million for Health and Human Services Department social services block grants for states to provide family care for essential workers, including to pay family care providers, set up temporary government-operated care services or reimburse workers for the costs of care. It would also provide $10 billion in emergency appropriations for HHS child care infrastructure grants to states to construct or improve child care facilities, prioritizing facilities that primarily serve low-income populations, children under five years of age and children of essential workers, as well as facilities that closed during the COVID-19 pandemic and cannot reopen without making required safety modifications. It would require the department to conduct immediate and long-term needs assessments on the condition of child care facilities as a result of the pandemic. The bill would make fully refundable the child and dependent care tax credit, increase from 35% to 50% the maximum percentage of costs that may be claimed, and increase the maximum income level at which individuals may claim the maximum percentage. It would more than double the amount individuals may deposit into flexible spending accounts for dependent care. It would allow child care facilities that lost revenue because of suspended operations due to the COVID-19 pandemic to claim payroll tax credits for 50% of quarterly operating costs. It would provide a refundable payroll tax credit of 30% for employer-subsidized dependent care. It would also provide $5 million for an Internal Revenue Service grant program for organizations that provide free tax preparation services for underserved individuals.” HR 7327, Vote #172 [7/29/20, CQ 7/29/20]

Garcia Voted Against The Child Care Is Essential Act, Which Would Create A $50 Billion Child Care Stabilization Fund To Provide Grant Funding To Child Care Providers

Garcia Voted Against The Child Care Is Essential Act. In July 2020, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would establish and provide $50 billion in emergency appropriations for Health and Human Services Department child care stabilization block grants to states. It would require HHS to award such funds to states within 30 days of the bill’s enactment. Under the bill’s provisions, state agencies that administer existing child care block grants would make subgrants to child care providers affected by the COVID-19 public health emergency to cover payroll and other operating costs, including to reimburse costs prior to the award and to account for increased costs due to the emergency, such as implementation of practices related to social distancing, limited group sizes and sanitization. The bill would require subgrant recipients to certify that their operations were impacted by the public health emergency; provide full compensation and benefits to all employees; implement federal and state health guidances; provide relief from copayments and tuition for enrolled families; and prioritize providing care to children whose parents are essential workers or students, homeless children, children with disabilities, foster children and children at risk of abuse or neglect. It would also require agencies to prioritize subgrants to providers that operate during non-traditional hours; operate in communities with a low supply of child care; or serve certain populations, including dual language learners, infants and toddlers, and low-income families.” The bill passed by a vote of 249-163. ### Garcia Voted Against $200 Billion In Housing Relief In Response To The COVID-19 Pandemic

Garcia Voted Against The Emergency Housing Protections And Relief Act, Appropriating Over $200 Billion In Housing Relief In Response To The COVID-19 Pandemic. In June 2020 Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would authorize a number of housing assistance grants and programs in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. It would authorize $100 billion for Housing and Urban Development Department emergency housing assistance grants to support state and local rental assistance programs for individuals at risk of homelessness. It would authorize $75 billion for a Treasury Department homeowner assistance fund to support state housing finance agency assistance to help homeowners avoid mortgage defaults, foreclosures and loss of utility services. It would prohibit all tenant evictions through March 2021, prohibit all foreclosures for six months after enactment and allow any homeowner facing financial hardship to request mortgage forbearance. It would also require the Federal Reserve to establish a program to provide low-cost loans to residential rental property owners. The bill would authorize over $24 billion for a number of HUD housing and homelessness assistance programs, including $11.5 billion for HUD grants supporting state and local homeless assistance activities; $3 billion for a tenant-based rental assistance program that subsidizes rent for low-income families; $2 billion for a public housing operating fund; $715 million for supportive housing programs for elderly individuals, individuals with disabilities and individuals with AIDS; $100 million for housing counseling services; and $14 million for programs and grants related to fair housing initiatives. - The Emergency Housing Protections And Relief Act Was Spearheaded By Rep. Maxine Waters To Provide Housing And Rental Relief To Those Most Affected By The Pandemic Economic Downturn. “Rep. Maxine Waters (D-CA), who is the Chairwoman of the U.S. House Committee on Financial Services, is sounding the alarm on what she says will be an eviction crisis in the U.S. after the COVID-19 pandemic. [...] But the resulting economic shutdown has led to over 40 million people filing for unemployment — over 20 percent of the U.S. labor force. On June 29, nearly 60 days ago, Rep. Waters introduced H.R. 7301, the Emergency Housing Protections and Relief Act of 2020. However, typical of the state of play with a U.S. House run by Democrats and a U.S. Senate run by Republicans, Waters’ legislation remains stalled by Republican Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell. Speaking on the House floor, Waters said, ‘this bill includes several provisions that were included in the Heroes Act and independently led by a number of Members of the Financial Services Committee. Some people hearing about this bill won’t understand what we are trying to do in this bill today. As I said, this was part of the Heroes Act that passed this House, but we have been waiting on the Senate to take up the Heroes Act. They are not taking it up, they don’t seem to care, they don’t seem to understand that there are people out there who are going to be evicted, and so we have pulled it out of the Heroes Act and we are taking it up independently so that we can send a message to the Senate that we want this measure heard and so we have a number of Members who participated in putting this legislation together and who had independent bills to do so.’” Seattle Medium, [8/28/20]

Garcia Claimed That Vaccine Mandates Were “Based On Unpublished Studies That Have Not Been Subjected To Peer Review” And “Simply Not Warranted.” “In L.A. County, the war shifted weeks ago. The decision to revive masking indoors sparked pushback from many, however. ‘With the success of Operation Warp Speed, we’ve seen an immense decrease in rates of serious illness and death,’ said Rep. Mike Garcia, R-Saugus, earlier in the week. ‘Sweeping government mandates on vaccination and mask wearing, like those we’ve seen from Sacramento, the city of Los Angeles and the CDC, based on unpublished studies that have not been subjected to peer review are simply not warranted — especially when it could cost Americans their jobs and livelihoods. When will it end?’” [San Gabriel Valley Tribune, 7/31/21]

August 18, 2021: Garcia Said That “No Government Entity Should Ever Mandate The Vaccine” And Said That Public Health Officials Had A “Myopic” Approach. “The current COVID death rates in LA & Ventura County are now at or below death rates associated with the seasonal flu. We cannot afford to cannibalize our economy again & kill more small businesses forcing more Californians to leave our beautiful state...As the county officials deliberate which next steps and protocols LA and Ventura County will be taking, I’m calling on the County Supervisors to consider all elements that go in to this decision and not rely solely on the inputs of the public health officials. Their...perspective is myopic and doesn't account for the mental health, economic health and overall condition of our nation that suffers as a result of mask and vaccine mandates. No government entity should ever mandate the vaccine. From day one, our elected officials have given...too much authority and power to the CDC (federal level) and the Public Health Department (county level) and have not cared enough about the impacts on business owners, workers, parents, children and our Constitution. The elected officials have a responsibility to weigh all...elements and do the right thing accordingly. Operation Warp Speed was very successful, and as a result, the COVID death rates are extremely low. I encourage everyone to have a discussion with their doctors about the vaccine. Get the facts from medical professionals, not...social media or word of mouth." Mike Garcia, Twitter, [8/18/21]

We need to balance how much power we give to health care officials making these unwarranted mandates. While there is a safe and effective vaccine available thanks to #operationwarpspeed, which I received after consulting with my doctor, I will continue to advocate for individual choice & support our local business community. Garcia Held Rallies Without Masks During The 2020 Election. “With a resurgent coronavirus raging across California and anti-racism rallies and protests a near-daily occurrence, there's a brand-new focus as candidates gear up for the fall campaign.[...] Assemblywoman Christy Smith, D-Santa Clarita (Los Angeles County), argued in a fundraising email last month that with Trump and GOP Rep. “Congressman Steve Chabot (R-OH), a senior member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and Congressman Gerry Connolly (D-VA), President of the NATO Parliamentary Assembly, reintroduced the Global Health Security Act. The legislation, which passed the House in September 2020, reaffirms the United States’ commitment to promoting global health security and is crucial to combatting the current coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak. The legislation is cosponsored by 55 members of the House. The Global Health Security Act seeks to address two main issues – that U.S. global health security staffing and activities are largely reliant on an executive order and not specifically supported in law, and that the U.S. needs a permanent designated official responsible for coordinating the interagency response to a global health security emergency. ## U.S. Postal Service (USPS) Funding

Garcia Opposed Spending $25 Billion To Help The U.S Postal Service Deal With Increased Volume During The Coronavirus Pandemic

Garcia Opposed Spending $25 Billion To Help The U.S Postal Service Deal With Increased Volume During The Coronavirus Pandemic. “The U.S. Postal Service has come under scrutiny in recent weeks after a series of media reports describing challenges it faces in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic. Such challenges include delays in mail delivery due to increased volume, salary cutbacks for postal workers and the dismantling of infrastructure like the decommissioning of mail sorting machines and the removal of blue mailboxes. Meanwhile, Republicans like Rep. Mike Garcia, R-Santa Clarita, whose congressional district includes Simi Valley and borders Brownley's, oppose the emergency funding. Congress is set to vote Saturday on providing $25 billion in relief funding for the Postal Service, as well as demanding the agency revert back to service levels equivalent to Jan. 1.” [Ventura County Star, 8/22/20]

“House Vote 182 Postal Service Operations and Supplemental Appropriations — Passage Passage of the bill, as amended, that would provide $25 million in supplemental fiscal 2020 appropriations for the U.S. Postal Service, including $15 million for the Postal Service office of the inspector general. It would prohibit the Postal Service from implementing or approving any change to its operations or service levels as in effect on Jan. 1, 2020, before the later of Jan. 31, 2021 or the last day of the COVID-19 public health emergency, including restrictions on overtime pay for Postal Service employees or removing mail collection boxes or sorting machines. It would direct the Postal Service to reverse any initiative or action that is causing a delay in mail processing or delivery. It would require the Postal Service to postmark and provide same-day processing for election mail, such as voter registration forms and mail-in ballots, and to treat such mail as first class mail. Passed 257-150. Note: A "nay" was a vote in support of the president's position. Delays In Mail Delivered By The USPS Threatened Mail In Voting In November. “Delays in mail delivered by the United States Postal Service have impacted veterans waiting to receive their medication and threatened mail-in voting in November. They’re also hurting America’s small businesses. The Postal Service has tried to reduce costs in recent months with changes such as cutting staff hours and eliminating overtime pay. The moves have resulted in mail delays around the country. President Donald Trump has also said he opposes much-needed funding for the agency because he doesn’t want to see it used for mail-in voting in the November elections. The delays have been devastating to small businesses that have come to rely on the post office to get their products to consumers. The Postal Service is the most commonly-used delivery carrier among businesses with fewer than five employees, according to the National Small Business Association, a trade group. A Postal Service Inspector General report in 2019, found that 70% of businesses with fewer than 10 employees said they had used the Postal Service in the prior six months.” CNN, [8/20/20]

Last month, Trump vetoed congressional legislation that would have overturned a key student loan forgiveness rule drafted by DeVos and the U.S. Education Department. In March, the U.S. Senate voted 53-42 to overturn a new student loan forgiveness rule that critics say would limit student loan forgiveness for students when a college closes due to fraud. The bill would require subgrant recipients to certify that their operations were impacted by the public health emergency; provide full compensation and benefits to all employees; implement federal and state health guidances; provide relief from copayments and tuition for enrolled families; and prioritize providing care to children whose parents are essential workers or students, homeless children, children with disabilities, foster children and children at risk of abuse or neglect. It would establish a child care and early learning entitlement program, providing approximately $100 billion for the program through fiscal 2024. Build Back Better Would Cap Child Care Costs And Ensure Universal Access To Child Care

Build Back Better Would Ensure That Eligible Families Paid No More Than 7% Of Their Income On Child Care. “The Build Back Better Act provides a historic, transformative investment in child care and early education. [...] In 32 states, a typical family’s child care costs would be lowered by $5-$6,000, and about 5 million families would pay nothing. Additionally, no eligible families will pay more than 7 percent of their income on child care based on a sliding fee scale, regardless of the number of children they have—and many families will pay much less. Families earning below 75 percent SMI would pay nothing.” CLASP, [11/12/21]

Build Back Better Would Guarantee Child Care For 9 Out Of 10 Families With Children Under Age 6. “The Build Back Better Act provides a historic, transformative investment in child care and early education. [...] Under this legislation, 9 out of 10 families with children under age 6 could be eligible for guaranteed child care assistance.

Eligible families include those who are income eligible—earning up to 2.5x state median income (SMI)—and who participate in a wide range of eligible activities including employment, job search, job training, education, health treatment, and family or medical leave, among others.” CLASP, [11/12/21]

Build Back Better Would Provide Child Care For 2.2 Million Children In California Between Ages 0 And 5.

“The Build Back Better framework will: [...] Provide access to affordable child care. Child care is a major strain for families in California, where the average annual cost of a child care center for an infant is $17,384, meaning that a California family with two young children would on average spend 30% of their income on child care for one year. The lack of affordable options also makes it difficult for parents, and especially mothers, to remain in their jobs, contributing to the 26.2% gender gap in workforce participation between mothers and fathers in California. The Build Back Better framework will enable California to provide access to child care for over 2.2 million young children (ages 0-5) per year from families earning under 2.5 times the California median income (about $233,758 for a family of 4), and ensure these families pay no more than 7% of their income on high-quality child care. The plan will cover the families of 9 in 10 young children in the state.” White House, accessed [5/6/22]

Build Back Better Would Provide Universal Access To Pre-K For Every Three And Four Year Old

Build Back Better Would Provide Universal Access To Pre-K For Every Three And Four Year Old. “The Build Back Better Act provides a historic, transformative investment in child care and early education. [...] The proposal builds on existing state programs to provide federal dollars to support equitable, free, and inclusive access to high quality pre-K for every three- and four-year-old in child care programs, schools, Head Start centers, and family-based settings. It also includes support for raising wages for early educators.” CLASP, [11/12/21]

Build Back Better Would “Expand Access To Free, High-Quality Preschool To More Than 781,000 Additional 3- And 4-Year-Olds Per Year” In California. “The Build Back Better framework will: [...] Provide universal, high-quality, free preschool for every 3- and 4-year old in America. Today, only about 17% 3- and 4-year-olds in California have access to publicly-funded preschool, and it costs about $8,600 per year for those who can’t access a publicly-funded program. The Build Back Better framework will enable California to expand access to free, high-quality preschool to more than 781,000 additional 3- and 4-year-olds per year and increase the quality of preschool for children who are already enrolled. Parents will be able to send their children to the preschool setting of their choice—from public schools to child care providers to Head Start—leading to lifelong educational benefits, allowing more parents to go back to work, and building a stronger foundation for California’s future economic competitiveness.” White House, accessed [5/6/22]

Garcia Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of The Parents Bill Of Rights Act To Increase Transparency And Parental Involvement In Education

Garcia Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of The Parents Bill Of Rights Act To Increase Transparency And Parental Involvement In Education. In December 2021 Garcia voted against: “Agreeing to the Torres, D-Calif., motion to order the previous question (thus limiting debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Cole said, “If we defeat the previous question, I will offer an amendment on the rule to immediately bring up H.R. 6056, the Parents Bill of Rights Act.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 218-209. - The Bill’s Sponsors Said That It Would Reinforce Parents’ “Right To Be Heard,” “Right To See Curriculums,” And “Right To Be Updated On Any Violent Activity That Happens On Their Children’s Campus.” “House Republicans understand that not only do parents matter, but their involvement is critical to a child’s academic success. That is why today, Education and Labor Committee Republican Leader Virginia Foxx (R-NC), House Republican Leader Kevin McCarthy (R-CA), Rep. Julia Letlow (R-LA), Rep. Burgess Owens (R-UT), and Republican Study Committee Chairman Jim Banks (R-IN), officially rolled out a Parents Bill of Rights to ensure parents have the influence and transparency they deserve. The Members stated: [...] ‘Our Parents Bill of Rights will protect parental involvement by reinforcing their right to be heard, their right to see curriculums, and their right to be updated on any violent activity that happens on their children’s campus. America’s parents should never be made to feel powerless – they should be empowered and protected when it comes to having an influence in their own children’s education.’” House Committee on Education and Labor Republicans, [11/17/21]

The Cato Institute Claimed That The Parents’ Bill Of Rights Act Was Unconstitutional Because The Constitution Did Not Grant The Federal Government Power Over Education Policy

---

Cato Institute: That The Parents’ Bill Of Rights Act Was Unconstitutional Because The Constitution Did Not Grant The Federal Government Power Over Education Policy. “Parents are having a moment. With the Virginia gubernatorial race seen as having turned on Democratic candidate Terry McAuliffe pronouncing, “I don’t think parents should be telling schools what they should teach,” and parent indignation-filled school board meetings making headlines nationwide, it feels like parents are mad as hell and not going to take it anymore. Enter the congressional GOP’s Parents Bill of Rights Act (PBORA). [...] Overall, the PBORA has some nice ideas, some fluff, and some stuff that seems awfully specific. (Two mandated parent-teacher meetings each year?) But before considering any of that, it suffers from a fundamental flaw: It is not constitutional. Look at the specific, enumerated powers given to the feds, and you won’t see anything about education, much less authorizing library transparency and parent-teacher conference mandates.” Cato Institute, [11/18/21]

For The People Act

Garcia Opposed The For The People Act And Said He Was Committed To Stopping Policies Like It

Garcia Voted Against The For the People Act, Expanding Access To Voting And Overhauling Campaign Finance And Ethics Laws. In March 2021, Garcia voted against The For The People Act. NPR described the bill: “The [For The People Act] seeks ‘to expand Americans’ access to the ballot box, reduce the influence of big money in politics, strengthen ethics rules for public servants, and implement other anti-corruption measures for the purpose of fortifying our democracy, and for other purposes.’ The bill’s language calls for a complete overhaul of the current system, which varies widely by state and which critics say promotes unfair barriers to voting. Included in the act is mandatory automatic voter registration, restoring voting rights to people with completed felony sentences

and a reversal of state voter ID laws that would allow citizens to make a sworn statement affirming their identity if they were unable to produce an ID. [...] in politics by requiring organizations to disclose large donors, and it creates a matching system for small donations.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 220 - 210. Garcia Said He Was Committed To “Stopping Policies Like H.R. 1, Which Further Erode American’s Confidence In The Election Process.” “One of Garcia’s top priorities in Congress is working to restore election integrity as he has seen how California’s failed election policies, such as no I.D. required to vote, same day voter registration, and ballot harvesting have eroded the public’s trust in the election process. H.R. 1 would upload California’s failed election policies to the federal level and would also use taxpayer dollars to fund political campaigns. Garcia is committed to working to provide real solutions to election integrity and stopping policies like H.R. 1, which further erode American’s confidence in the election process.” Rep. Mike Garcia, Press Release, [4/6/21]

- The For The People Act Established A Match Program For Candidates Who Raised Money From Small Dollar Donors, Funded By A Fee On Criminal And Civil Fines By Banks And Corporations. “Establishing public financing of campaigns, powered by small donations. Under the vision of the bill’s main sponsor, Rep. John Sarbanes (D-MD), the federal government would provide a voluntary 6-1 match for candidates for president and Congress, which means for every dollar a candidate raises from small donations, the federal government would match it six times over. The maximum small donation that could be matched would be capped at $200. The most substantial change to HR 1 is this program now won’t be funded by taxpayer dollars as originally planned; instead, it will come from adding a 2.75 percent fee on criminal and civil fines, fees, penalties, or settlements with banks and corporations that commit corporate malfeasance (think Wells Fargo).” Vox, [3/8/19]
- The For The People Act Supported An End To Citizens United And Increased Disclosure Of The Funders Of “Dark Money” Groups And Online Political Ads. “Supporting a constitutional amendment to end Citizens United. Passing the DISCLOSE Act, pushed by Rep. David Cicilline and Sen. Sheldon Whitehouse, both Democrats from Rhode Island. This would require Super PACs and ‘dark money’ political organizations to make their donors public. Passing the Honest Ads Act, championed by Sens. Amy Klobuchar (MN) and Mark Warner (VA) and introduced by Rep. Derek Kilmer (WA) in the House, which would require Facebook and Twitter to disclose the source of money for political ads on their platforms and share how much money was spent.” Vox, [3/8/19]
- The For The People Act Created National Automatic Voter Registration, Made Election Day A Federal Holiday, Ended Partisan Gerrymandering, And Increased Election Security. “Creating new national automatic voter registration that asks voters to opt out rather than opt in, ensuring more people will be signed up to vote. Early voting, same-day voter registration, and online voter registration would also be promoted. Making Election Day a holiday for federal employees and encouraging private sector businesses to do the same [...] Ending partisan gerrymandering in federal elections and prohibiting voter roll purging. The bill would stop the use of non-forwardable mail being used as a way to remove voters from rolls. Beefing up election security, including requiring the director of national intelligence to do regular checks on foreign threats. Recruiting and training more poll workers ahead of the 2020 election to cut down on long lines at the polls.” Vox, [3/8/19]

Garcia Attacked Partisan Gerrymandering In Blue States While Voting Against Legislation That Would Have Outlawed It Nationwide

Garcia Accused Democrats Of Using Partisan Gerrymandering To Remain In Power...

Garcia Claimed That Partisan Redistricting In Blue States Like California Was Proof That Democrats Change Election Rules In Order To Maintain Power. GRANT: “Let me just ask you as we come up with the end of this segment. You're getting redistricted. We're facing this problem really across the country. And what I'm trying to issue is a wakeup call to Republicans that in Democrat blue states, this is where now the Democrats have a plot and scheme to keep the House of Representatives. We're seeing Republicans in New York get redistricted out of office. We're seeing Republicans in California get redistricted out of office quietly, these blue states are going to add more Democrat congress people to offset the losses they're going to have around the country.” [...] GARCIA: “This is how Pelosi has been trying to maintain power. They change the rules, they change the way we have elections [...] They change the rules and then message it as pro-democracy, but it's actually for the continuation of their power [...] we can't fall for it.” AM 870, The Morning Answer with Jen and Grant, [2/3/22] (AUDIO, 17:37)

Lewis Act. In January 2022 Garcia voted against: “Butterfield, D-N.C., motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill (HR 5746) with a further House amendment containing an election integrity and voting rights package. Among other provisions related to voter access and election security, the bill would require states to allow online and same-day registration, automatically register eligible voters, allow early voting at least 15 days before election day, carry out a program to track and confirm receipt of all absentee ballots, require voting via paper ballots, and accept certain alternate forms of voter identification. It would establish uniform criteria for states' congressional redistricting plans to prevent partisan gerrymandering and protect political participation of minority groups. It would prohibit any attempt to prevent an individual from registering to vote, prohibit certain practices related to voter intimidation and harassment of election workers, and prohibit states from restricting the provision of food and nonalcoholic beverages at polling locations. It would make Election Day a federal holiday and include provisions to improve voter access for individuals with disabilities. Among other provisions related to campaign finance, the bill would modify or establish public financing mechanisms for presidential and congressional election campaigns that would match 600% of each contribution of up to $200 for candidates whose campaigns do not accept contributions of more than $1,000 per individual donor and do not use more than $50,000 of the candidate's personal funds. It would create a public financing voucher pilot program in three states, under which each eligible voter could donate $25 in public funding credit to House candidates. It would expand disclosure requirements for large campaign contributions, require candidates and political committees to report foreign contacts to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and prohibit the creation of corporations to conceal foreign election contributions. Among other provisions to strengthen anti-discrimination enforcement authorities in relation to voting practices, the bill would effectively restore preclearance requirements under the Voting Rights Act for any changes to voting practices in states and localities with a history of voting rights violations in the previous 25 years. It would establish formulas to identify such jurisdictions, which would be required to submit proposed changes to the Justice Department for preclearance before implementation. It would require states and localities to review election practices to identify any practices that could impact the ability to vote based on race, color or language minority group and subject any such practices to federal preclearance. It would expand Justice Department authority to assign federal election observers to ensure compliance with federal voting rights protections. It would require states and localities to provide public notice regarding any changes to voting procedures made within 180 days of a federal election, and regarding updated demographic data following any electoral district boundary changes.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 220-203. Aug. 24, 2021: Garcia Voted Against The John Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act. In August 2021 Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would include a number of provisions to strengthen anti-discrimination enforcement authorities in relation to voting practices. The bill would effectively restore preclearance requirements under the Voting Rights Act for any changes to voting practices in states and localities with a history of voting rights violations within the previous 25 years. It would establish formulas to identify such jurisdictions, which would be required to submit proposed changes to the Justice Department for review and approval before they may be implemented. It would establish an "administrative bailout" provision allowing jurisdictions to apply for exemptions to preclearance requirements if they meet eligibility standards related to not implementing discriminatory practices in the previous 10 years. It would also require states and localities to review any newly enacted or adopted election practices to identify whether they include certain practices that could impact the ability to vote based on race, color or language minority group, such as changes to impose stricter voter identification requirements; changes to jurisdictional boundaries or voting locations in jurisdictions with large minority populations; and changes that prohibit the provision of food or drinks to individuals waiting to vote. It would require jurisdictions that adopt such practices to submit them for federal preclearance. It would codify or expand various requirements for court evaluation of "vote denial" and "vote dilution" discrimination claims and other voting rights violations, including to provide for violations in the case of voting practices that have the purpose or will have the effect of denying or abridging the right to vote on account of race or color, including rules that have not yet been implemented. It would expand certain voting rights enforcement authorities, including to allow courts to grant injunctions or require judicial preclearance for changes to voting practices in response to any federal voting rights law prohibiting racial or language discrimination. Among other provisions, it would expand Justice Department authority to assign federal election observers to ensure compliance with federal voting rights protections, including bilingual election requirements. It would require states and localities to provide public notice of any changes to voting procedures made within 180 days of a federal election and to provide public notice of updated demographic data within ten days of any change to electoral district boundaries. It would provide for up to one hour of general debate each on HR 4 and on a motion to concur in the Senate amendment to HR 3684. It would require the House to consider the motion to concur in the Senate amendment to HR 3684 on Sept. 27, 2021, if the motion is not offered prior to that date. It would also provide for automatic adoption of a Nadler, D-N.Y., manager's amendment to HR 4 that would, among other provisions, clarify and expand considerations related to court evaluation of voting rights violations, including to require that courts consider whether a voting practice was designed to and does advance a "valid and substantiated" state interest. The manager's amendment would specify that a provision related to violations in the case of voting practices that have not yet been implemented would apply to practices enacted on or after Jan. 1, 2021, and it would add an "administrative bailout" provision allowing political subdivisions to apply for exemptions to the bill's preclearance requirements for changes to voting practices if they meet certain eligibility standards related to not implementing discriminatory practices in the previous 10 years." ## Garcia Voted Against The Protecting Our Democracy Act, Which Would Strengthen Protections Against Foreign Interference In American Elections

Garcia Voted Against The Protecting Our Democracy Act. In December 2021 Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would include a number of provisions to strengthen checks on presidential powers and the executive branch and prohibit foreign influence. Among provisions related to presidential and executive branch accountability and oversight, the bill would void any pardon the president issues to himself or herself. If the president grants a pardon for offenses arising from investigations involving the president or their family members, administration members or campaign employees, it would require the Justice Department to share all materials related to the investigation with Congress. It would exempt the duration of a president or vice president's tenure from the statute of limitations for any federal offense committed by that person prior to or during their tenure. It would include various provisions to limit national emergency powers, including to automatically terminate emergency declarations after 20 congressional session days unless Congress passes a joint resolution of approval and to specify that the president's national emergency powers may not be used to authorize or fund any activity not authorized or funded by Congress. It would require the Justice Department to maintain a log of communications between DOJ and White House officials relating to civil or criminal investigations and require the department's inspector general to review the log for any improper communications. It would specify a list of causes for which the president or an agency head may remove an inspector general. It would strengthen enforcement and penalties under the Hatch Act, which prohibits federal employees from engaging in partisan political activities, including to authorize the Office of Special Counsel to investigate potential violations without first receiving an allegation and clarify that White House senior officials are subject to the Hatch Act. It would expand federal whistleblower protections, including to prohibit retaliation against federal employees who disclose waste, fraud and abuse. Among provisions relating to spending and other Congressional powers, the bill would require appropriated funding to be made available for obligation no later than 90 days before its availability would expire, and prohibit the rescission or deferral of funds in such 90-day period. It would require executive agencies to make public documents used in apportioning appropriations and add congressional notification and reporting requirements related to spending activity. It would statutorily require witnesses subpoenaed by Congress to testify and provide the requested information unless prohibited by federal law or the Constitution. It would affirm Congress' ability to enforce subpoenas through civil lawsuits and require courts to expedite such lawsuits. Among provisions related to elections and foreign influence, it would require major-party candidates for president and vice president to submit their tax returns from the past 10 years to the Federal Election Commission, require the FEC to make such returns public and require the same disclosures annually for the sitting president and vice president. It would require political committees to notify the FBI within one week of any foreign contact by a candidate, or a candidate's family members or employees. It would prohibit political campaigns from accepting opposition research, polling or other non-public information relating to a candidate from a foreign entity. It would expressly prohibit federal officers, including the president and vice president, from accepting gifts from foreign entities without Congressional authorization. It establish disclosure requirements for internet and digital political advertising and prohibit the use of deepfakes, or materially deceptive audio or visual media, of a federal election candidate.” Passed by a vote of 220-208. ### Garcia Cosponsored Legislation That Would Impose Nationwide Voter I.D. Laws And Prohibit Automatic Voter Registration

Garcia Cosponsored A Bill To Impose Nationwide Voter I.D. Laws And Prohibit Automatic Voter Registration For Federal Elections

Garcia Co-Sponsored The So-Called Save Democracy Act. “Representative Mike Garcia (CA-25) co-sponsored the Save Democracy Act, which would enhance federal election integrity by addressing key issues, including voter registration, the casting of ballots, and tabulation of ballots. ‘The integrity of our elections is crucial to maintaining the sanctity of our democracy,’ said Garcia. ‘It is imperative that we have free, fair, and accurate elections so that everyone’s voice can be heard. That is why I am proud to co-sponsor the Save Democracy Act, which would protect our federal republic. We must restore the public’s faith in our election system and uphold the sanctity of our voting process. This is something that all citizens in the United States should want regardless of party. By requiring more authentication checks we will ensure that the voting process stays fair and reputable.’” Rep. Mike Garcia, Press Release, [3/3/21]

- The Save Democracy Act, Among Other Provisions, Would Impose Nationwide Voter I.D. Laws And Prohibit Automatic Voter Registration For Federal Elections. “Background on the Save Democracy Act: [...] Requires a voter I.D. for registration and voting. [...] Prohibits automatic voter registration for federal elections. [...] Prohibits states from sending out unrequested absentee ballots for federal elections. [...] Maintains current protections for military and overseas voters. [...] Requires that at least two representatives of each Presidential campaign in a general election be permitted to observe polls and vote counting operations.” Rep. Mike Garcia, Press Release, [3/3/21]

2021: Garcia Also Wanted To Take Florida’s Voter Suppression Laws Nationwide

Garcia Praised A Florida Law Instituting Voter ID And Limiting Drop Boxes And Mail-In Ballots And Said It All Needed To Be Done At The National Level. “While progressive DC politicians are looking to eliminate voter ID & secure public funding for their campaigns, @GovRonDeSantis's Florida bill ensures election integrity for the state by making sure voter ID is enforced & banning ballot harvesting... This needs to be done at the national level. That’s why I support the Save Democracy Act.” Twitter, Mike Garcia, [5/6/21]

Ballot Harvesting Hypocrisy

Garcia Engaged In “Ballot Harvesting” When He Ran For Congress In 2020

2020 Special Election: Garcia “Successfully” Used Ballot Harvesting, Whereby Ballots Could Be Picked Up By Third Parties And Dropped Off At Election Sites On Behalf Of Consenting Voters

2020: Garcia Planned To Deploy “Ballot Harvesting,” In Which Ballots Can Be Picked Up From Voters By Campaigns And Dropped Off At Election Sites, During The 2020 Election. “At the tavern, Garcia told his supporters his path to victory includes energizing new voters such as evangelicals who have been sitting out elections, along with driving a strong turnout in Republican-rich Simi Valley. He also plans to deploy widespread ‘ballot harvesting’ that was used by Democrats with great effect in 2018, in which ballots can be picked up from voters by campaigns and dropped off at election sites, much like a piece of mail.” [NBC - 10 WSLs, 2/2/20]

Washington Examiner: Garcia “Successfully” Used Ballot Harvesting, Which Involved A Third Party Collecting And Casting Ballots For Consenting Voters Who Already Filled Out Their Own Ballots, During The 2020 Special Election. “After losing seven seats in the last midterm election, California Republicans have built up their get-out-the-vote operations to avoid another wipeout. This included establishing a ‘ballot harvesting’ or ‘ballot collection’ operation to compete with Democrats, who have proven better at the campaign, which involves a third party collecting and casting ballots for consenting voters who already filled out their own ballots. This process became legal in the state in 2016, and the Garcia campaign used it successfully during the special election. According to Garcia, their campaign followed all regulations during their own ballot collection deployments.” [Washington Examiner, 5/14/20]

Garcia: Ballot Harvesting Is “Legal Because It’s Legal”

Garcia: Ballot Harvesting Is “Legal Because It’s Legal.” ““In the wake of stay-at-home orders, we’ve been very focused on staying compliant, and so we [had] not been doing the door-to-door canvassing, but we were in a position to do so, and that was obviously a lesson learned from 2018,” Garcia told the Washington Examiner in an interview Monday, just before he beat Democratic Assemblywoman Christy Smith to serve out the remainder of the term of former Rep. Katie Hill, a Democrat who resigned in November. ‘The value of the volunteers is that you do have an army to help you now go door to door. You have an army to make phone calls to get the vote out,’ Garcia said. ‘So the bottom line is, it’s legal, and because it’s legal, we need to be able to operate on that coordinate system on that playing field just as well as the Democrats have been able to do it in previous elections.’” [Washington Examiner, 5/14/20]

In May 2020, Rep. Devin Nunes Said Garcia Was In “Good Shape To Hold Onto” His Seat “As Long As We Have A Robust Ballot Harvest Operation In November”

Nunes: “Even Though We Don’t Like” Ballot Harvesting “We Are Forced To Have To Ballot Harvest Because It’s The Only Way To Win.” “Mr. Trump pointed to California, which allows a practice known as ‘ballot harvesting’ in which volunteers can collect other people’s absentee ballots, as a prime example. Rep. Devin Nunes said on Wednesday that Democrats have forced the GOP to adopt the tactic or get left behind. ‘Even though we don’t like it, we don’t want to, but we are forced to have to ballot harvest because it’s the only way to win,’ the California Republican said on Fox News.” [Washington Times, 5/15/20]

- Nunes: Garcia Was In Good Shape To Win Re-Election In 2020 If He Had A Good Ballot Harvesting Operation. “Republican Mike Garcia defeated Democrat Christy Smith in a special congressional election in California this week that was conducted largely by mail. ‘As long as we have a robust ballot harvesting operation in November, and I hate saying that because it’s illegal in 49 states, I think Mike Garcia is in good shape to hold onto that seat,’ Mr. Nunes said.” [Washington Times, 5/15/20]

---

April 2021: Garcia Said “California’s Failed Election Policies” Including “Ballot Harvesting” Had Of “Eroded The Public’s Trust In The Election Process.” “One of Garcia’s top priorities in Congress is working to restore election integrity as he has seen how California’s failed election policies, such as no I.D. required to vote, same day voter registration, and ballot harvesting have eroded the public’s trust in the election process. H.R. 1 would upload California’s failed election policies to the federal level and would also use taxpayer dollars to fund political campaigns. Garcia is committed to working to provide real solutions to election integrity and stopping policies like H.R. 1, which further erode American’s confidence in the election process.” Rep. Mike Garcia, Press Release, [4/6/21]

Garcia Claimed That Biden’s Executive Order Promoting Voter Registration Was A “Blatant Overreach”

Garcia Signed A GOP Letter Asking OPM To Look Into Biden’s Executive Order To Promote Voter Registration, Which They Called A “Blatant Overreach.” "More than two dozen House Republicans are urging the Acting Director of the Office of Management and Budget to provide documents related to an executive order issued by President Joe Biden that could require federal officials to participate in electioneering activities. The executive order, issued March 7, 2021, requires all executive department and agency heads to 'evaluate ways in which the agency can, as appropriate and consistent with applicable law, promote voter registration and voter participation.' The order lists the distribution of voter registration materials, application assistance, and the promotion of third-party organizations as potential options for agency heads. The Republicans, led by North Carolina Rep. Ted Budd, question the need for the effort and argue that it is an infringement on the rights of states to conduct their own elections. 'It makes no sense for agencies that do not enforce federal voting laws to engage in election-related activities. Commanding every federal agency to develop a plan to engage in this kind of election activity is a blatant overreach of power and authority,' they write." Daily Caller, [1/19/22]

Garcia Said He Believed Human Activity Had Only “Some Implications” On Climate Change

Garcia Said That He Believed That Human Activity Had “Some Implications” On Climate Change.

GARCIA: “I think there are some implications of manmade products, um, to the climate. And again, this is one of those issues where maybe I’m not as far right as you would think. I think what it boils down to is we need to keep looking at it, we need to keep analyzing the data. When you look at 10, 20, 30 years, the margin of error on our predictions is off the chart. The bottom line is that I don’t think we should do anything that derails our economy. The Green New Deal is, I mean good lord, that would have torpedoed our economy. I think that short-sighted sort of pandering is completely useless. But I do think we have to keep an eye on it, and continue to gather the information.” [Talk of Santa Clarita, 8/8/19] [AUDIO]

Garcia Blamed Forest Fires In California On Poor Forest Management Rather Than Climate Change.

“Climate change is real,” said Smith, linking the issue to the spate of blazes. “What we are experiencing here in California, everything from sea level rise to the significant wildfires where there is devastating property damage, has a real economic impact. And we are at a huge loss if we don't begin to address the root causes, as well as the possible solutions.” Garcia accused his opponent of ‘burying her head in the sand’ by attributing the fires to climate change. [...] ‘What we're experiencing here is the end result of Sacramento, and frankly, the federal government, not investing in deforestation programs, not getting rid of the dead brush and the leaves that have been accumulating over the last 40 years,’ Garcia said.” [Los Angeles Times, 10/30/20]

- Garcia Called For Deforestation In Response To Wildfires Even Though He Admitted That Climate Change Was Real. “Garcia [...] said that the planet is warming and that he drives an electric car to reduce emissions, but also called for deforestation in response to the wildfires. ‘What we're experiencing here is the end result of Sacramento, and frankly, the federal government, not investing in deforestation programs, not getting rid of the dead brush and the leaves that have been accumulating over the last 40 years,’ Garcia said.” [Los Angeles Times, 10/30/20]

May 2020: Garcia Said He Would Soon Unveil A Plan To Help “Bolster” Efforts To Fight Wildfires In California. “While I believe being on the front lines in D.C. is important, my primary focus is here in Southern California helping our small businesses and their workers, working with our local community leaders ensuring they are receiving all the federal assistance available during this pandemic, helping California secure the necessary federal resources during wildfire season and protecting our national security. Getting people access to their federal representative is critical, which is why I am quickly establishing offices in each of the district’s valleys – Antelope, Santa Clarita and Simi. Wildfire season for California is quickly approaching. Our federal government must do more to aide our battle against these wildfires, and I will soon unveil a plan that will bolster our efforts on that front.” Santa Clarita Valley Signal, Garcia Editorial, [5/23/20]

...But Voted To Cut Funding For The Department Of The Interior, Which Oversees Wildfire Suppression Operations, Fire Facilities, And Provides Rural Fire Assistance

Garcia Voted For An Amendment Aimed At Reducing Discretionary Funding For The Departments Of The Interior And Environment By 5%. “At the end of division C (before the short title), insert the following: Sec. _____. Each amount made available by this Act (other than an amount required to be made available by a provision of law) is hereby reduced by 5 percent. The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1060, the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. Allen) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Georgia. Mr. ALLEN. Madam Speaker, this bill that we are debating here is a partisan travesty and spends entirely more than this government can afford. That is why I rise again today to offer an amendment to cut spending to the Interior and Environment portion of the bill. In addition to its overspending, this bill attempts to delegitimize President Trump's replacement for the Obama administration's overreaching WOTUS rule. The farmers and landowners in my district will tell you how devastating that would be.” H.Amdt. 849, No. [62, Vote #162, 6/24/20]

Garcia Voted Against An Amendment To Require The Defense Department To Provide Training To Medical Providers On PFAS. In September 2021, Garcia voted against: “Slotkin, D-Mich., amendment no. 15 that would require the Defense Department to provide department medical providers with mandatory training with respect to the potential health effects of per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances.” The amendment was adopted 236 to 186. ### July 2021: Garcia Voted Against Revising Environmental Laws And Requiring The EPA To Regulate PFAS

Garcia Voted Against The PFAS Action Act, Authorizing The EPA To Address The Impacts Of Per- And Polyfluoroalkyl Substances (PFAS) On Drinking Water. In February 2015, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would require the Environmental Protection Agency to take a number of regulatory actions and establish grant programs to address the impacts of per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances, or PFAS. Specifically, it would require the EPA to designate certain PFAS -- perfluorooctanoic acid and its salts, as well as perfluorooctane sulfonic acid and its salts -- as hazardous chemicals under the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act and determine whether all PFAS should be designated as such within five years of

enactment. It would require the EPA to issue a national primary drinking water regulation for maximum contaminant levels of certain PFAS, within two years of enactment, and issue health advisories for PFAS not subject to the regulation. It would authorize $500 million annually through fiscal 2026 for an EPA infrastructure assistance grant program for community water systems affected by PFAS to implement water treatment technologies that can remove all detectable amounts of PFAS from drinking water. It would require the EPA to establish effluent limits and pretreatment standards for PFAS in wastewater and authorize $200 million annually through fiscal 2026 for an EPA grant program to help publicly owned treatment works implement such standards. It would authorize $100 million annually through 2026 for an EPA grant program to test for and install and maintain water filtration systems to address PFAS in school drinking water. Among other provisions, it would require the EPA to add certain PFAS to lists of hazardous air pollutants under the Clean Air Act; issue rules to require toxicity testing on all PFAS by manufacturers; create a public risk-communication strategy regarding PFAS hazards; update voluntary labeling requirements for certain consumer products, including cooking implements, carpets and clothing, to certify that they do not contain any PFAS; and issue guidance on reducing the use of firefighting foam and related products that contain PFAS by first responders.” The bill passed 241 to 183. Scientists Found Links Between PFASs And Kidney And Testicular Cancer, Thyroid Disease, Liver Damage, High Cholesterol, And Other Diseases. “Because of their widespread use, release and disposal over the decades, PFASs show up virtually everywhere: in soil, surface water, the atmosphere, the deep ocean—and even the human body. The U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention’s Web site says that the agency has found PFASs in the blood of nearly everyone it has tested for them, ‘indicating widespread exposure to these PFAS in the U.S. population.’ Scientists have found links between a number of the chemicals and many health concerns—including kidney and testicular cancer, thyroid disease, liver damage, developmental toxicity, ulcerative colitis, high cholesterol, pregnancy-induced preeclampsia and hypertension, and immune dysfunction.” Scientific American, [1/22/21]

Garcia Voted Against Congressional Disapproval Of The Trump Administration’s Methane Rule And Reinstating The Obama Administration’s Methane Emission Standards

Garcia Voted Against Congressional Disapproval Of The Trump Administration’s Methane Rule And Reinstating The Obama Administration’s Methane Emission Standards. In June 2021, Garcia Voted Against: “Passage of the joint resolution that would provide for congressional disapproval of a September 2020 Environmental Protection Agency rule that reversed 2012 and 2016 rules establishing emission standards -- or new source performance standards -- to limit the amount of methane and volatile organic compounds that can be released in the production, processing, transportation and storage of oil and natural gas. Specifically, the 2020 rule rescinded the methane-specific standards and rescinded the applicability of all standards to transportation and storage activities. The rule also required the EPA, before promulgating new air pollutant standards, to determine that the pollutant causes or contributes significantly to dangerous air pollution. The rule took effect on September 14, 2020. Under the provisions of the joint resolution, the 2020 rule would have no force or effect, and the Obama-era emission standards would be effectively reinstated.” The resolution passed, 229-191. - In 2016, The EPA Adopted A Rule That Required Oil And Gas Companies To Limit Methane Leaks And Emissions, Which Was Later Reversed By The Trump Administration. “This is a really encouraging step because methane is such an important greenhouse gas to reduce,’ Drew Shindell, an earth science professor at Duke University, said of Wednesday’s vote. ‘It sends a signal that the administration is serious about this.’ In 2016, the Environmental Protection Agency adopted a rule requiring oil and gas companies to curb methane leaks and emissions from their operations. ---

Garcia Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of The Protecting American Energy Production Act, Which Would Prohibit The President From Declaring A Moratorium On Fracking Without Congressional Authorization. In June 2021, Garcia voted against: “DeSaulnier D-Calif., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment) on the rule (H Res 508) that would provide for floor consideration of a total of 149 amendments to a five-year surface transportation and ten-year water infrastructure authorization bill (HR 3684).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Jeff Duncan stated: “Madam Speaker, I rise in opposition to the previous question, so that we can amend the rule to immediately consider H.R. 751, the Protecting American Energy Production Act. Now, my bill is straightforward. It prohibits the President from declaring a moratorium on the use of hydraulic fracturing, or fracking, unless Congress authorizes the moratorium. It further expresses the sense of Congress that States should maintain authority for the regulation of oil and natural gas production on State and private lands.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 219 to 188. [...] Other policy riders approved through a series of en bloc amendments would block the implementation, administration and enforcement of the White House Council on Environmental Quality’s overhaul of National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) regulations as well as preventing funds from being used for the centralization process established in EPA’s update to its Freedom of Information Act regulations published in the Federal Register June 26, 2019.” [InsideEPA, 7/24/20]

The Trump Administration Proposed An Overhaul Of National Environmental Policy Act Regulations To Make It Faster And Easier To Approve The Construction Of Pipelines And Highways

Trump Proposed Overhauling National Environmental Policy Act Regulations To Make It Faster And Easier To Approve Construction Of Pipelines And Highways. “President Trump announced a ‘top to bottom overhaul’ of the regulations that govern one of the nation’s most significant environmental laws. The aim is to speed up approval for major projects like pipelines and highways [...] The administration’s new regulations are expected to reduce the types and number of projects that will be subject to review under the NEPA, shorten the timeline for reviews, and drop a requirement that agencies consider the cumulative environmental effects of projects, such as their contribution to climate change.” NPR, [7/15/20]

- Buccino: Trump’s Regulatory Overhaul Would Deny Communities Who Have Been Most Impacted By Pollution A Say In What Projects Get Built In Their Neighborhoods. “But environmental groups warn the new rules will sideline the environmental effects of pipelines, highways and other projects. ‘What the Trump administration is doing is fundamentally changing those regulations and really gutting them,’ says Sharon Buccino, a senior attorney at the Natural Resources Defense Council. What’s more, Buccino says the law was designed to give a voice to communities long hurt by pollution from highways, pipelines and chemical plants that are disproportionately located in their neighborhoods. ‘NEPA gives poor and communities of color a say in the projects that will define their communities for decades to come. Rather than listen, the Trump administration’s plan aims to silence such voices,’ says Buccino.” NPR, [7/15/20]

EPA

Garcia Voted To Cut EPA Funding By $564 Million

Garcia Voted For An Amendment Decreasing EPA Funding By $564 Million. In July 2020, Garcia voted for: “Smith, R-Mo., amendment no. 102 that would decrease by $564 million funding for EPA environmental programs and management expenses including travel expenses, hire of passenger motor vehicles, operation of aircraft, purchase of library memberships and other administrative costs.” The motion failed 155 to 256. ### Garcia Voted To Preserve The Trump Administration’s EPA Rule That Would Maintain Existing Particulate Quality Standards Rather Than Enforce Greater Emissions Cuts

Garcia Voted Against An Amendment To Defund A Trump Administration EPA Rule On Air Quality Standards For Particulate Matter. In July 2020, Garcia voted against: “Tonko, D-N.Y., for Blunt Rochester, D-Del., amendment no. 67 that would prohibit the use of funds provided by the bill to enforce an April 30, 2020, EPA rule related to air quality standards for particulate matter.” The amendment was adopted 233-176. H R 7608, [Vote #163, 7/23/20; CQ, 7/23/20]

- The Amendment Would Defund The Trump Administration’s EPA Rule That Would Maintain Existing Particulate Quality Standards Rather Than Enforce Greater Emissions Cuts. “Among the provisions voted on is a prohibition on EPA's use of funds to finalize, implement or enforce the agency's proposal to maintain the existing particulate matter (PM) national ambient air quality standards (NAAQS) instead of tightening it to force greater PM emissions cuts. The amendment says the proposal ‘fails to protect, within an adequate margin of safety, communities of color from harmful air pollution during a global public health pandemic, where those communities are experiencing a disproportionately high death rate made worse by decades of exposure to toxic pollution.’ The amendment, sponsored by Rep. Paul Tonko (D-NY), appeared to prevail on a voice vote, but Tonko requested a recorded vote that had not yet occurred at press time.” [InsideEPA, 7/24/20]

The rule would provide for 90 minutes of general debate and floor consideration of 98 amendments for HR 4447 and one hour of general debate for HR 6270. It would also provide for one hour of general debate on a continuing resolution (HR 8319) to provide short-term appropriations through Dec. 11, 2020, which is not expected to be considered after the House passed a similar measure (HR 8337) under suspension of the rules Tuesday, Sept. 22. Finally, it would provide for automatic adoption of a Pallone, D-N.J., manager's amendment to HR 4447. Among other provisions, the amendment would authorize, through fiscal 2025, $65 million annually for the Labor and Energy departments to implement two energy industry workforce development programs, including $50 million for grants to fund wages of individuals receiving training. It would expand eligibility for and authorize $32 million annually through fiscal 2025 for an Energy Department loan guarantee program for projects using new technologies to reduce air pollutants or greenhouse gas emissions. It would modify Energy Department programs related to methane hydrates reauthorized under the bill, including to limit development activities and add public notice and comment and reporting requirements for research. It would require the EPA to develop a proposal to assess and address cumulative public health risks associated with multiple environmental stressors, such as impacts associated with climate change. It would strike language requiring revenues from wind or solar energy leases on public lands to be paid to states and counties and to a renewable energy resource conservation fund for federal lands. It would codify a Commerce Department agreement limiting importation of uranium from Russia. It would provide for a dispute resolution process with regard to eminent

---

Garcia Voted Against The ‘Build Back Better’ Budget Reconciliation Bill. In November 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the fiscal 2022 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, that would provide approximately $2 trillion in investments and tax cuts to address climate change and child care, health care, education, housing and other social policies intended to support families. It would establish a child care and early learning entitlement program, providing approximately $100 billion for the program through fiscal 2024. It would provide $18 billion through fiscal 2024 for a free universal preschool program. It would extend through 2022 the expanded child tax credit provided by prior coronavirus relief law (PL 117-2) and provide $5 billion to administer the credit. It would establish a paid family and medical leave benefit for up to four weeks per year, beginning in 2024. It would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a “maximum fair price” for insulin and select Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition. It would temporarily increase from $10,000 to $80,000 the annual cap on the deduction for state and local taxes for tax years 2021 through 2030. To offset costs, it would establish or modify various taxes on corporations and high-income individuals, including to establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with an annual income exceeding $1 billion; a one percent tax on stock buybacks by public companies; and an additional five percent tax on individual income over $10 million and further three percent tax on income over $25 million. Specifically, proposed investments in clean electricity and energy efficiency will make energy costs more affordable, saving the average household approximately $500 a year in reduced energy costs. ## Drought

April 2021: Garcia And Other California Republicans Attacked Gov. Newsom For Not Declaring A Statewide Drought Emergency

April 21, 2021: Gov. Newsom Declared A Drought Emergency For Mendocino And Sonoma Counties. “On Wednesday, Gov. Gavin Newsom declared a drought emergency for Mendocino and Sonoma counties, both in Northern California. Kern County lawmakers and farmers asked the governor to declare a statewide drought emergency two weeks ago, which would trigger new flexibility in how California's limited water supply is distributed. Following Newsom's Wednesday announcement, some local and regional lawmakers commented on the matter.” [The Bakersfield Californian, 4/21/21]

- Garcia And Other California Republicans Attacked Gov. Newsom For Not Declaring A Statewide Drought Emergency. “Governor Newsom's irresponsible decision to declare a state of emergency in only two counties is an absolute outrage. Mendocino and Sonoma face drought conditions that warrant State action. But far more than two counties in California are in desperate need of water. The Central Valley is responsible for putting food on the table for the rest of the nation, and farmers and ranchers simply cannot grow the food we need without reliable access to water. Our local economies are crippled by water scarcity, and by ignoring the needs of the Central Valley, the lack of action by Governor Newsom in addressing this crisis is a failure to lead. Agriculture groups, farmers, elected officials, and community leaders at every level on both sides of the aisle have repeatedly requested Governor Newsom issue a statewide declaration of emergency due to the dire drought conditions, and he has made it clear that he is not listening.’ — Joint statement from Rep. David Valadao, R-Hanford, Rep. Kevin McCarthy, R-Bakersfield, and fellow state Republicans Ken Calvert, Mike Garcia, Darrell Issa, Young Kim, Doug LaMalfa, Devin Nunes and Michelle Steel.” [The Bakersfield Californian, 4/21/21]

June 2021: Garcia Voted Against Protecting Older Workers Against Discrimination Act Of 2021. In June 2021, Garcia Voted Against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would specify a that adverse actions by an employer in which age was a motivating factor shall be considered unlawful under federal employment law regarding age discrimination. It would specify that a complaining party under such law would not be required to demonstrate that age was the sole motivating factor of an adverse action, thus effectively reversing the 2009 Supreme Court decision in Gross v. FBL Financial Services, Inc. It would establish the same standard of proof in the case of employment discrimination based on disability or retaliation against an employee who opposes unlawful employment practices or participates in investigations or litigations related to such practices. In age-based employment discrimination cases where a court determines that an adverse action would have been taken in the absence of age-based motivation, the bill would allow courts to grant declaratory or injunctive relief and attorneys fees, but prohibit courts from awarding damages or ordering reparative actions by the respondent. As amended, it would require the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to submit reports to Congress on the number of age discrimination in employment claims brought under the bill's provisions; disparities faced by individuals with characteristics protected under existing anti-discrimination law in pursuing employment discrimination relief under the mixed-motive evidentiary standard; and the number of pending or filed claims by women impacted by age-based employment discrimination.” The bill passed, 247-178. It would require all school districts and colleges that receive federal education funding to designate an employee to oversee compliance with Title VI requirements and investigate complaints of noncompliance. #### April 2021: Garcia Voted Against The Paycheck Fairness Act

April 2021: Garcia Voted Against The Paycheck Fairness Act. In April 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would narrow the legal defense an employer may use in a lawsuit alleging pay discrimination on the basis of sex. Specifically, it would require employers to demonstrate that a difference in pay between employees is based on a business-related ‘bona fide factor other than sex, such as education, training, or experience’ as opposed to being based on ‘any factor other than sex.’ It would prohibit employers from retaliating against employees involved in lawsuits under fair labor standards law; prohibit employers from relying on a prospective employee's wage history for hiring or wage determinations; increase employers' liability for compensatory or punitive damages related to pay discrimination violations; and provide for automatic inclusion of all affected individuals in class action lawsuits related to pay discrimination. Among other provisions, the bill would authorize a new Labor Department grant program for public and private entities to carry out negotiation skills training programs to address pay disparities. It would establish an annual national award for an employer that made a ‘substantial effort to eliminate pay disparities between men and women.’ It would require the Labor Department to conduct a number of studies on sex-based pay disparities and require the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to collect compensation data disaggregated by employees' sex, race and national origin. It would require the Labor Department and EEOC to provide technical assistance for small businesses to comply with the bill's provisions. It would add a definition of ‘sex’ with respect to federal fair labor standards law, which would include sexual orientation or gender identity.” According to CNBC, the Paycheck Fairness Act “aims to eliminate the gender pay gap and strengthen workplace protections for women.” The bill passed 217 to 210. provisions for holding employers accountable for systemic pay discrimination, and helping level the playing field for women and people of color by making it easier for workers to challenge pay disparities as a group. Additionally, he said the Paycheck Fairness Act would make it illegal for employers to ask employees about their salary history in the hiring process and promote pay transparency by requiring more employers to report pay data to the government. Right now, at least 18 states already have laws in place that ban employers from asking about salary history.” CNBC, [4/16/21]

It would prohibit employers from requesting or relying on the wage history of a prospective employee for consideration of employment, unless a prospective employee voluntarily discloses such information. The House Version Of The Build Back Better Act Included Four Weeks Of Paid Leave For All Workers

---

The House Version Of The Build Back Better Act Included A National Paid Leave Program That Would Give All Workers At Least Four Weeks Of Paid Leave. “The Build Back Better Act [...] includes federal investments in a first-ever permanent national paid family and medical leave program. A national commitment to paid family and medical leave would set a floor, guaranteeing paid leave for the first time to an estimated 18.5 million workers each year who do not have paid family or medical leave through their jobs to care for a new child, a seriously ill or injured loved one, or address their own serious health condition. [...] The House proposal includes four work weeks, or 20 working days, of paid leave benefits for providing or receiving care in a year. The time can be used all at once or intermittently (banked in one-hour increments called a ‘caregiving hour’). A minimum of four

caregiving hours in any given week is required in order to receive a benefit for that week.” New America, [11/12/21]

Equal Rights Amendment

March 2021: Garcia Voted Against Removing The Deadline For Ratification Of The Equal Rights Amendment

March 2021: Garcia Voted Against Removing The Deadline For Ratification Of The Equal Rights Amendment. In March 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the joint resolution that would remove the deadline for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment to the Constitution, which would state that “equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.” The ERA was proposed to the states in 1972, with a seven-year deadline for ratification, which was subsequently extended through June 1982. The joint resolution would make the proposed constitutional amendment valid as part of the Constitution whenever ratified by three-fourths of the states.” The resolution passed by a vote of 222-204. - Removing The 1982 Ratification Deadline Would Enshrine The Equal Rights Amendment Into The Constitution Since Enough States Have Voted To Ratify It. “The House voted Wednesday to eliminate the long-passed deadline for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment. [...] The House voted 222-204 to pass the proposal, sponsored by California Democrat Jackie Speier, which would remove the 1982 deadline for state ratification. [...] The amendment then needed the approval of three-fourths of the state legislatures before 1979, a deadline set by Congress. More than half of the states ratified the amendment within the first year, and 35 states ratified it before 1977. Congress then extended the deadline for another three years to 1982, but no additional states voted to ratify, leaving the amendment three state legislatures short of the three-fourths requirement. But in recent years, the ERA has gained new life. Illinois and Nevada both voted to ratify it, and in 2020, Virginia became the 38th state to do so — ostensibly reaching the required three-fourths threshold for the 28th Amendment to the Constitution.” Roll Call, [3/17/21]

June 2021: Garcia Voted To Weaken The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) By Diverting Limited EEOC Resources Away From Combating Discrimination And Delayed Cases

Garcia Voted Against Reversing A Trump Administration Rule That Changed What Information The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission Would Share With Companies Accused Of Discrimination. In June 2021, Garcia Voted Against: “Passage of the joint resolution that would provide for congressional disapproval of a January 2021 rule modifying requirements for the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission conciliation process, by which the agency is required to attempt to settle unfair employment practice claims with an employer prior to taking legal action against the employer, including through an agreement that the employer will eliminate the practice and provide affirmative relief. The rule went into effect on Feb. 16, 2021, and requires the EEOC to present employers with certain information related to a claim, including to provide a written summary of the legal basis for its determination that there is reasonable cause to believe an unlawful practice occurred; identify individuals who filed the claim unless they requested anonymity; and explain its decision-making related to the basis for affirmative relief and the legal designation for the case. Under the provisions of the joint resolution, the January 2021 rule would have no force or effect.” The resolution passed, 219-210. SJ Res 13, [Vote #183, 6/24/21; CQ, 6/24/21]

- The Trump Administration Rule Required The EEOC To Provide Information To Employers When Initiating A Settlement Process Including A Summary Of The Case Facts, Identities Of Witnesses And Victims, And The Legal Basis For Discrimination Findings. “The January rule would have required the

EEOC to provide information to employers upon initiating the settlement, or "conciliation," process, including a summary of the facts of a case, the identities of witnesses and alleged victims, and the legal basis for a finding that discrimination has occurred. It would require, within 30 days of enactment, an election for two senators and one representative for the state in Congress. It would then require the president to issue a proclamation announcing the election results, at which point the state would be admitted into the Union. The bill would define the territory and boundaries of a revised District of Columbia, which would remain under federal control -- including the White House, Capitol building, Supreme Court, and federal office buildings located adjacent to the National Mall and Capitol. All other territory of the current district would be part of the new state. It would provide that district executive, legislative and judicial officers at the time of admission would serve in the respective offices of the state; the state would be considered the legal successor to the district in continued judicial proceedings; and the federal government would retain control of lands currently held for defense or Coast Guard purposes. It would prohibit federal law enforcement agencies from enforcing state laws without state authorization. It would also allow residents of the new federal district to vote in federal elections by absentee ballot in their last state of residence and provide for the repeal of the 23rd amendment to the Constitution, which granted District of Columbia residents the right to vote in presidential elections." ### June 2021: Garcia Voted Against Disapproving The Trump Administration’s Third-Party Lending Rule, Which Left Consumers Vulnerable To Predatory “Rent-A-Bank” Schemes

June 2021: Garcia Voted Against Congressional Disapproval Of The Trump Administration’s Third-Party Lending Rule. In June 2021, Garcia Voted Against: “Passage of the joint resolution that would provide for congressional disapproval of an October 2020 Office of the Comptroller of the Currency rule stating that national banks are considered the ‘true lender’ of a loan if, at the date of the loan’s origination, the bank funds the loan or is named as lender in the loan agreement, including in the case of loans issued in partnerships between banks and third parties, such as online financial firms. The rule went into effect on Dec. 29, 2020, and effectively allows nonbank lenders to offer loans not subject to higher state interest rate caps by originating loans in partnership with a national bank in another state. Under the provisions of the joint resolution, the October 2020 rule would have no force or effect.” The resolution passed, 218-208. SJ Res 15, [Vote #181, 6/24/21; CQ, 6/24/21]

- Opponents Of The Rule Argued That It Left Consumers Vulnerable To Predatory “Rent-A-Bank” Schemes That Exploited Regulatory Loopholes. “But Democrats — along with a coalition of consumer protection and faith groups — have fiercely opposed the rule, claiming it leaves customers vulnerable to predatory ‘rent-a-bank’ schemes. ‘States are taking measures to protect their constituents their consumers against these end-runs around their laws designed to prohibit these predatory practices. But last October, in the middle of the pandemic, when many working families were plunged into economic uncertainty and turmoil, the Trump administration gave these rent-a-bank schemes a free pass to exploit these loopholes,’ said Sen. Chris Van Hollen (D-Md.), sponsor of the resolution to repeal the rule.” The Hill, [5/11/21]
- “Rent-A-Bank” Schemes Were When “A Lender Temporarily Partners With A Bank To Evade Interest Rate Caps And Then Severs The Partnership After Taking Ownership Of The Loan.” “The OCC clamped down during the 2000s on rent-a-bank schemes, in which a lender temporarily partners with a bank to evade interest rate caps and then severs the partnership after taking ownership of the loan. Critics of the true lender rule say it will allow such schemes to flourish, particularly as nonbank online lenders make up a larger portion of the financial system.” The Hill, [5/11/21]

May 2021: Garcia Voted Against The Comprehensive Debt Collection Improvement Act

May 2021: Garcia Voted Against Passage Of The Comprehensive Debt Collection Improvement Act. In May 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would make numerous modifications to existing law related to consumer protections against debt collection practices, including to extend protections related to electronic communications by debt collectors, student loan and medical debt, debt collection from servicemembers and debt collection by government contractors. The bill would prohibit debt collectors from contacting consumers by email, text message or social media without the consumer's consent. It would authorize the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau to issue rules requiring debt collectors to allow consumers to opt out of any method of communication and prohibit the agency from issuing rules allowing debt collectors to send unlimited electronic communications to consumers. It would require lenders to discharge private education loans when a student borrower dies or is permanently disabled, including for any cosigners of the loan. It would prohibit attempts to collect debt arising from medical services until two years after the date the first payment is due and prohibit the inclusion of debt arising from a medically necessary procedure on a credit report. It would prohibit debt collectors from using certain aggressive debt collection tactics against active-duty or recently discharged servicemembers, including threatening a servicemember with a reduction in rank, having their security clearance revoked or prosecuting them under the military justice system. It would extend existing prohibitions on unfair or excessive debt collection tactics to apply to debt collectors hired as contractors by federal, state or local governments; require federal agencies to wait at least 90 days after a debt becomes delinquent and notify consumers at least three times before transferring or selling such debt to a debt collector; and prohibit the Treasury Department from contracting debt collectors to recoup Federal Emergency Management Agency aid overpayments, unless they occurred because of fraud or deceit of the recipient. It would increase civil penalties and authorize courts to award injunctive relief for violations of debt collection practices law; specify that such law applies to entities engaging in non-judicial foreclosures; and restrict the use of written agreements in connection with commercial loans or other credits that include a confession of judgment or other waiver of rights in relation to a legal suit. Among other provisions, it would require numerous Government Accountability Office studies and reports to Congress, including on debt collection practices experienced by servicemembers and debt collection practices during the COVID-19 pandemic. The bill would take effect 180 days after its enactment.” The bill passed 215 to 207. H R 2547, [Vote #141, 5/13/21; CQ, 5/13/21]

- The Comprehensive Debt Collection Improvement Act Banned Debt Collectors From Threatening Servicemembers’ Livelihoods. “H.R. 2547 enhances consumers’ rights and increases the accountability of debt collectors. Specifically, the Comprehensive Debt Collection Improvement Act amends the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA) and other federal laws to [...] Protect Servicemembers [...] Prohibits debt collectors from threatening a servicemember with reducing their rank, revoking their security clearance, or prosecuting them under the Uniform Code of Military Justice.” [Rep. ## Ukraine/Russia

Garcia Vocally Opposed Aid For Ukraine And Claimed Global International Conflicts Were President Biden’s Fault

Garcia Said In A Press Release He Would No Support Any More Aid For Ukraine Until A Number Of Conditions Are Met Including The Passage And Signing Of The Partisan Republican Immigration Legislation. “‘The nation of Ukraine remains sovereign, and President Volodymyr Zelensky is alive and well, as a result of American taxpayer support over the last 20 months,’ said Rep. Garcia. ‘The fighting spirit of Ukraine’s warfighters and their progress against Putin’s forces have been impressive, commendable, and inspiring. It is undeniably in the interest of the United States and our global allies that Russia is beaten back to its original lands east of the Ukraine-Russia border and held accountable for its aggression against a sovereign nation. [...] ‘I supported the early tranche of investments – which generated significant national security and geopolitical returns, as mentioned above – but I cannot support sending another taxpayer dollar to Ukraine unless the following conditions are met: [...] President Biden must sign H.R. 2, Secure the Border Act into law – we should not be fighting to secure another nation’s border with more fervor and resources than our own.’ Congressman Mike Garcia, Press Release, [9/21/23]

Mr. President, the goal is to avoid and deter wars. These wars were avoidable if you had established a meaningful deterrence on the global stage and didn’t endlessly appease Iran and Russia.

Bragging about visiting war-torn nations isn’t courageous. It’s a sign you’re not doing your job as the leader of the preeminent superpower that we should be. No wars is the goal.

The result: a 14-page report that demanded answers from the White House on the strategy, objectives and cost projections surrounding the war against Russia, which will enter its third year come February. Without that information, Garcia said in a Nov. 2 interview at his office, the Biden administration would fail to ‘get guys like me on board’ moving forward. Jan. 2022: Garcia Claimed That Biden’s Failure “To Demonstrate The Fortitude To Act As A Meaningful Deterrent To Putin” Led To Russia’s Aggression Towards Ukraine. “What is happening in the Ukraine is the product of Democratic nations failing to establish and maintain adequate strategic partnerships for three decades in the wake of the Cold War AND the current administration in our White House now failing to demonstrate the fortitude to act as a meaningful deterrent to Putin as he seeks to invade Ukraine. [...] Unfortunately, as a result of our recent abandonment, Afghanistan will also ultimately suffer the same fate that Ukraine will experience imminently. This is what Crimea also experienced in 2014 when Putin annexed that nation. The conquering of nations by leaders like Putin is the end state of neglect and weakness by leaders of democracies. Biden called Putin Tuesday, but in a surprise move, offered him something of a concession, a legitimizing summit between the two leaders, with the U.S. leader betting on his own ability to change his counterpart's aggressive behavior in a one-on-one setting. [...] Rep. Mike Garcia (R-Santa Clarita) [...] ‘As someone who has personally fought that mission and served in combat in the Middle East, I understand the situation at hand and why withdrawing our troops unconditionally with a set date was a reckless, deadly decision. I know the important role that our allies in Afghanistan played in protecting U.S. troops and journalists. I am heartbroken to see the devastation the ill-planned withdrawal has caused. Garcia Accused Biden Of Not Knowing How Many Americans Were Left To Evacuate From Afghanistan. “Lawmakers say the Biden administration does not know how many Americans are left to evacuate from Afghanistan as it nears the end-of-month deadline for a full troop withdrawal. The White House reported late Monday that the U.S. has evacuated approximately 48,000 people since full-scale evacuation efforts began from the Hamid Karzai International Airport in Kabul on Aug. 14. But some lawmakers question whether the administration grasps the total number left to evacuate. ‘I don’t think this administration knows, that’s part of the problem,’ Rep. Mike Garcia, California Republican, told The Washington Times. ‘I think part of what they are trying to do right now is characterize how many people are on the ground. Two years ago, the Biden administration allowed the Taliban to take over Kabul. This began two weeks of chaos that ended with the loss of 13 precious service members and Americans and our Afghan allies stranded under Taliban rule. This botched withdrawal was an embarrassment for America and served as a signal of weakness to our enemies. I fought to secure the rescue of over 100 Americans and Afghan allies, and I’m fighting every day to restore our position on the world stage and keep our nation safe.

Mike Garcia, R-Calif., reflected on the strategic and tactical ‘failures’ by President Biden’s administration that left 13 U.S. service members dead. On ‘Sunday Night in America,’ Garcia pointed to several missteps he argues were apparent during the ‘flawed’ operation as host Trey Gowdy called the process ‘embarrassing’ and ‘unfit for a superpower.’ ‘The fact that we communicated the withdrawal in advance, and gave them a prescribed date with an unconditional withdrawal commitment, the fact that we abandoned Bagram in the middle of the night, leaving our Afghan partners completely off kilter and unaware that we were doing that, releasing hundreds, if not thousands of prisoners,’ Garcia said. ‘The fact that we pulled the troops out before we pulled American civilians out, and the fact that we left hundreds, if not thousands of Americans behind, were very self-evident at the time, but this more subtle lesson learned, that we were so hell-bent to make sure that this was a diplomatic mission that we didn’t put the resources on the ground necessary to truly protect our troops.’” Fox News, [8/28/23]

Garcia Said That He Would Still Support The Iraq War Today Knowing What He Knew Now. HOST: "Knowing what you know now, though, would you support the war? Going into Iraq was a good idea?" GARCIA: "Yes, the timing is always debatable, the method of how you go in is always debatable, it's easy to be a Monday morning quarterback and throw stones and critique the way the war was born. You can go back to Gettysburg and go, wow, General Lee, you really screwed that one up. Which he did, he screwed it up. It's easy to do that, we all do that. So, um, first of all, the thing I have a lot of respect for and am very cautious about is when someone asks you, why how do you feel about this, if you don't have access to the full picture and you can't see all of the data that went into that decision, it's interesting what you think and feel. Even me now, I obviously don't have all of the data that went into the president's decision matrix back in 2003. But, there's a lot of briefs at a lot of different levels, and that paints the full picture. That's why they're there to make those decisions. Sometimes they're right, sometimes they're wrong, and you know, it's a difficult call." [Talk of Santa Clarita, 8/8/19] (VIDEO)

Garcia Said That The Operation To Kill General Soleimani Was "A Massive Success," And "Very Well Executed." GARCIA: "We have seen examples in the past whether it was Bin Laden or other high value targets, high leadership targets in these terrorist organizations, they don't stay put very long. When you have an opportunity to go after someone who is responsible and accountable for hundreds of American lives over the last two decades, which Soleimani was in multiple areas especially in Iraq he was responsible for 600 people, when there is opportunities like that, time is of the essence. The way this mission was carried out from what I understand from what has been public and I certainly don't have access to classified documents, but what I can see online and what I have read is that this was a very well executed surgical strike meaning they knew what was going on. They knew what the targets were and the fact that there was minimal risk of collateral damage was or loss of civilians on the ground, when you have the stars align for you as commander in chief you need to be able to make that call and be able to make that decision. The fact of the matter is this strike was a massive success. Not just because of the way it was executed but because of who the target was and the end result of the operation." It would also prohibit funds made available pursuant to the bill from being used to promote or endorse the ideology of the Boycott, Divestment, Sanctions movement against Israel or to promote or endorse a 'Muslim ban,' such as former President Trump's order restricting travel from certain Muslim-majority countries." ## Background Checks And Loopholes

March 2021: Garcia Voted Against Closing The Charleston Loophole

March 2021: Garcia Voted Against Extending The Timeframe For FBI Notification On Background Checks To 20 Days, From Three Days Under Current Law. In March 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would require a licensed gun dealer to wait up to 20 business days, as opposed to three under current law, for notification from the FBI regarding an individual’s background check before completing the sale or transfer of a firearm. Specifically, it would allow a prospective gun purchaser to petition the Justice Department to complete the sale after 10 days if no determination on their eligibility has been made through the National Instant Criminal Background Check System and allow the dealer to complete the transaction an additional 10 days after the petition

is submitted. It would also require the Government Accountability Office, FBI and Justice Department to submit a number of reports regarding the bill's effectiveness and implementation, including on the number of petitions not adjudicated within the second 10-day period and the bill's effect on the safety of victims of domestic violence and sexual assault." H.R. 8 would expand background checks on individuals seeking to purchase or transfer firearms, and the Enhanced Background Checks Act of 2021 would close the ‘Charleston loophole,’ a gap in federal law that lets gun sales proceed without a completed background check if three business days have passed [...] The other bill passed Thursday, H.R. 1446, is linked to a shooting in 2015 in Charleston, South Carolina, where a white supremacist used the loophole to obtain firearms he used to kill nine Black people during a Bible study at Mother Emanuel AME Church.” USA Today, [3/11/21]

March 2021: Garcia Voted Against Closing The Gun Show Loophole

March 2021: Garcia Voted Against Expanding Background Checks To Include Most Gun Sales, Including Those Between Private Parties. In March 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would require most purchasers of firearms to undergo a background check through the FBI National Instant Criminal Background Check System. Specifically, beginning 180 days after enactment, it would require any individual seeking to transfer a firearm to first bring the firearm to a licensed dealer. It would require the dealer to take possession of the firearm, complete a background check on the transferee, and return the firearm to its original owner if the transaction is denied. The bill would make a number of exceptions to the requirement, including for loans or gifts between family members; temporary transfers for hunting, use on a shooting range, or pest control by farmers; temporary transfers to prevent imminent death or bodily harm, including self-harm; and transfers to law enforcement personnel, private security professionals, or members of the armed forces, if associated with official duties.” The bill passed by a vote of 227-203. HR 8, [Vote #75, 3/11/21; CQ, 3/11/21]

- HR 8 Would Expand The Cases Where A Background Check Is Required For Gun Sales, Closing The “Gun Show Loophole.” “H.R. 8, a background checks package meant to enhance reviews of those seeking firearms, would not create a registry or other federal mechanisms for review. Instead, the legislation would expand the cases in which a background check is required for the sale or transfer of a firearm, including for private individuals and groups, closing the ‘Gun Show Loophole.’ The requirements would apply to online sales. The bill would make it illegal for anyone who is not a licensed firearm importer, manufacturer or dealer to trade or sell firearms to another person; current federal law requires background checks only for licensed gun dealers.” USA Today, [3/11/21]

Affordable Care Act (ACA)

Garcia Repeatedly Expressed Support For Repealing The Affordable Care Act

Garcia Believed That Getting The ACA “Off The Books” Would Create A “Forcing Function For Collectors To Go Out And Do Something”

Aug. 2019: Garcia Said That He Was In Favor Of Getting The ACA “Off The Books” To Create A “Forcing Function For Collectors To Go Out And Do Something.” GARCIA: “So does Katie Hill, she calls it a marker. She says we’re putting these markers out-- but you gotta progress toward these markers. That’s the case if it’s a start, then where’s the next evolution? What have you done? No one has the answer, if anybody says they do, they’re lying. But you’ve gotta have some evolution. I think the ACA or the ‘Unaffordable Care Act’ is flawed enough to start over, so if you get it off the books, you’re creating a forcing function for collectors to go out and do something.” [Talk of Santa Clarita, 8/8/19]

... And Gut Protections For The More Than 6 Million Non-Elderly Adult Californians With Pre-Existing Conditions

Repeal Of The ACA Would Deny Coverage To People With Pre-Existing Conditions. “As many as 133 million Americans — roughly half the population under the age of 65 — have pre-existing medical conditions that could disqualify them from buying a health insurance policy or cause them to pay significantly higher premiums if the health law were overturned, according to a government analysis done in 2017. An existing medical condition includes such common ailments as high blood pressure or asthma, any of which could require someone buying insurance on their own to pay much more for a policy, if they could get one at all. Under the A.C.A., no one can be denied coverage under any circumstance, and insurance companies cannot retroactively cancel a policy unless they find evidence of fraud. The Kaiser Family Foundation estimated that 52 million people have conditions serious enough that insurers would outright deny them coverage if the A.C.A. were not in effect, according to an analysis it did two years ago. Its estimates are based on the guidelines insurers had in place about whom to cover before the federal law was enacted.” New York Times, [7/9/19]

Garcia Voted Against The State Health Care Premium Reduction Act, Which Would Expand Enrollment In And Reduce Consumer Costs For State-And-Federally Operated Affordable Care Act Health Insurance Marketplace; Incentivize Medicaid Expansion By States; And Authorized Maximum Price Negotiations For Prescription Drugs Under Medicare. In June 2020, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would include a number of provisions to expand enrollment in and reduce consumer costs for state- and federally-operated Affordable Care Act health insurance marketplaces; incentivize Medicaid expansion by states; and authorize maximum price negotiations for prescription drugs under Medicare. Title I of the bill would expand eligibility for federal tax subsidies toward insurance premiums and increase the percentage of premiums such subsidies would cover. It would provide $10 billion annually beginning in fiscal 2022 to help states lower costs of ACA plans, including to provide reinsurance payments to health insurance issuers and subsidies to individuals. It would provide $200 million for grants to states to establish and operate state-based ACA health insurance marketplaces; $100 million annually for Health and Human Services Department consumer outreach related to ACA marketplace plans; $100 million annually for the HHS "navigator" program, which helps individuals enroll in qualified plans; and $200 million annually through fiscal 2024 for grants to states to encourage plan enrollment. It would also prohibit implementation of August 2018 regulations related to health insurance plans that are not required to meet ACA patient protection requirements, including short-term, limited-duration plans. Title II of the bill would provide for full federal reimbursement of state Medicaid expansion costs for new enrollees for three years, then gradually decrease the federal medical assistance cost-share to 90% for those enrollees. It would authorize HHS to reduce the federal cost-share percentage for states that do not expand their Medicaid programs by 0.5% quarterly beginning in fiscal 2023, and by 10% beginning July 2027. It would permanently authorize funding for the Children's Health Insurance Program. It would require Medicaid and CHIP programs to provide at least 12 continuous months of coverage for qualifying individuals and provide one year of coverage for women after the end of a pregnancy. It would allow states to expand eligibility for Medicaid and CHIP programs to include children whose family income exceeds certain amounts, and it would make citizens of the Freely Associated States residing in the U.S. eligible for Medicaid. Title III of the bill would establish a fair price negotiation program under which the Health and Human Services Department would enter into agreements with drug manufacturers to negotiate a "maximum fair price" for insulin and up to 250 other Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition and account for high levels of spending. It would require the department to negotiate the maximum price of at least 25 drugs for 2023 and at least 50 drugs in each subsequent year, with maximum prices not

exceeding 120% of a drug's average international price or 85% of the average manufacturer price for that year. It would subject manufacturers who do not reach a negotiated agreement for a drug to excise taxes based on gross sales of that drug. It would require manufacturers to offer negotiated prices to private health insurers. It would authorize a total of $3 billion through fiscal 2023 for implementation of the price negotiation program. As amended, the bill would authorize $2 billion for National Institutes of Health cancer research and make Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program recipients eligible to enroll in ACA marketplace health plans.” The bill passed 200-179. Garcia Voted Against Passage Of The American Rescue Plan Act. In February 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the fiscal 2021 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, comprising a coronavirus relief package that would provide roughly $1.9 trillion in funding to further address the health and economic effects of COVID-19, including approximately $350 billion in direct aid to state and local governments; $47.8 billion for testing and contact tracing; $168 billion to assist educational institutions; and $50 billion to assist small businesses. It would extend and increase federal unemployment compensation benefits for 24 weeks and increase the weekly amount to $400; provide tax rebates of $1,400 for individuals with incomes of $75,000 or less; extend or expand a number of employer and individual tax credits, including credits to subsidize health insurance premiums; and gradually increase the federal minimum wage to $15 per hour. Among other provisions, the bill would provide $195.3 billion for direct assistance to states and $130.2 billion for local governments; $128.6 billion through fiscal 2023 for an Education Department elementary and secondary school emergency relief fund and $39.6 billion for grants to higher education institutions, including to provide emergency financial aid; and continue the 15% increase in Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program benefits through September 2021. It would provide $47.8 billion for COVID-19 testing and contact tracing; $7.5 billion for vaccine administration and distribution; and $6.1 billion for vaccine and therapeutic development, manufacturing and procurement. It would require Medicaid and the Children’s Health Insurance Program to fully cover the cost of COVID-19 vaccines. It would expand eligibility in 2021 and 2022 for federal tax subsidies toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums, including to fully cover premium costs for individuals earning up to 150% of the federal poverty level and cap premiums at 8.5% of household income. It would provide $50 billion for small business assistance, including $25 billion for restaurants. It would provide $30.5 billion for transit, $18 billion for airline and aviation manufacturing industry payroll support; and $4 billion for Agriculture Department pandemic-related assistance. It would incrementally increase the federal minimum wage annually to reach $15 per hour in 2025, including for tipped workers, teens and workers with disabilities. The American Rescue Plan Enabled People With Incomes Up To 150% Of The Federal Poverty Line To “Get Silver Plans For Zero Premium With Vastly Reduced Deductibles”

The American Rescue Plan Enabled People With Incomes Up To 150% Of The Federal Poverty Line To “Get Silver Plans For Zero Premium With Vastly Reduced Deductibles.” “Under ARP, ACA marketplace premium subsidies are substantially enhanced for people at every income level and, for the first time, offered to those with income above 4 times the federal poverty level (FPL). People up to 150% FPL can now get silver plans for zero premium with vastly reduced deductibles. Previously, marketplace premium subsidies were partial; no matter how poor, people had to contribute something toward the cost of the benchmark silver plan (i.e., the second lowest cost silver plan in their area). [...] Now under ARP, the benchmark marketplace plan will be fully subsidized for people earning up to 150% FPL. Cost sharing subsidies were already most generous at this income level (the average silver plan deductible for people at 150% FPL is $177 this year). As a result, low income people now can qualify for premium-free silver plans with modest deductibles for covered health benefits.” Kaiser Family Foundation, [3/17/21]

It would establish a child care and early learning entitlement program, providing approximately $100 billion for the program through fiscal 2024. It would provide $18 billion through fiscal 2024 for a free universal preschool program. It would extend through 2022 the expanded child tax credit provided by prior coronavirus relief law (PL 117-2) and provide $5 billion to administer the credit. It would establish a paid family and medical leave benefit for up to four weeks per year, beginning in 2024. It would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a “maximum fair price” for insulin and select Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition. It would require manufacturers to provide rebates for single-source drugs under Medicare Parts B and D for which prices increase faster than inflation. For Medicare Part D, it would cap annual out-of-pocket limit at $2,000 beginning in 2024. It would establish or extend expanded

It would provide such sums as necessary for the USDA to forgive farm loan debt for economically distressed farmers and ranchers. It would provide $6.6 billion to the Small Business Administration and Minority Business Development Agency to help underrepresented individuals with business development. It would allow individuals who entered the United States prior to Jan. 1, 2011, to receive a grant of parole allowing them to remain temporarily in the country for a period of five years, but no later than Sept. 30, 2021. It would temporarily increase from $10,000 to $80,000 the annual cap on the deduction for state and local taxes for tax years 2021 through 2030. To offset costs, it would establish or modify various taxes on corporations and high-income individuals, including to establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with an annual income exceeding $1 billion; a one percent tax on stock buybacks by public companies; and an additional five percent tax on individual income over $10 million and further three percent tax on income over $25 million. I’d like to see a little more detail on how that functions and the devil is in the details. And make sure that we’re not short-shifting folks and that it actually leads to more inefficiencies. Block grants, block chain technologies usually do work if they’re tended to well. But you know again the execution on that matters. So it’s not necessarily a bad idea, it’s all about execution and what exactly the construct of it looks like.” KHTS, Eye on the Valley, 42:00, [4/23/20] (AUDIO)

Block Granting Would Cap Federal Medicaid Spending And Give “States A Set Amount Of Money For Their Medicaid Programs.” “Congressional Republicans have consistently tried to alter the current Medicaid payment structure; two of their long-standing proposals have been to adopt a block grant and a per-capita cap structure. [...] A block grant program would cap total federal spending on the program and fix federal funding to a preset formula determined by previous cost estimates that include projected growth and inflation. [...] Both the proposed block grant program and per-capita caps undermine funding guarantees, giving states a set amount of money for their Medicaid programs while also likely weakening the programs’ benefits and eligibility requirements.” Center for American Progress, [8/17/19]

March 6, 2020: The Commonwealth Fund Estimated That Block Granting Would Cut Medicaid Funding For The Median State By 10.5% By 2025. “States that take up the block grant would see substantial reductions in Medicaid funding. Under our baseline scenario, the median state would face a reduction of 5.7 percent in fiscal year (FY) 2021; 14.6 percent in FY 2025; and 10.5 percent over the 2021–2025 period. The five-year median reduction in funding would be significantly larger if per enrollee spending growth is 1 percentage point above projections (13.9%), if enrollment grows at recent historical levels rather than projections (19.7%), or if a state reduces expenditures to capture “shared savings” (27.6%). Under all scenarios, the vast majority of Medicaid savings resulting from the funding reductions accrue to the federal government.” Commonwealth Institute, [3/6/20]

These Medicaid Funding Cuts “Would Require States To Cut Coverage, Reduce Benefits, Increase Cost-Sharing, Lower Provider Payment Rates, Or Otherwise Reduce Medicaid Expenditures.” “Consistent with the fundamental ‘bargain’ of all block grant proposals, our estimates show that states would receive significantly less federal funding and be subject to increased financial risks if they take up the block grant option. The magnitude of the cuts would vary based largely on each state’s recent expenditure growth, but the basic picture is the same across the country: the caps would require states to cut coverage, reduce benefits, increase cost-sharing, lower provider payment rates, or otherwise reduce Medicaid expenditures as compared to current law spending levels or expected spending levels for states implementing new expansions.” Commonwealth Institute, [3/6/20]

Garcia Voted Against Incentivizing Medicaid Expansion By States

June 2020: Garcia Voted Against The State Health Care Premium Reduction Act, Which Incentivized Medicaid Expansion By States

June 2020: Garcia Voted Against The State Health Care Premium Reduction Act, Which Would Expand Enrollment In And Reduce Consumer Costs For State-And-Federally Operated Affordable Care Act Health Insurance Marketplace; Incentivize Medicaid Expansion By States; And Authorized Maximum Price Negotiations For Prescription Drugs Under Medicare. In June 2020, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would include a number of provisions to expand enrollment in and reduce consumer costs for state- and federally-operated Affordable Care Act health insurance marketplaces; incentivize Medicaid expansion by states; and authorize maximum price negotiations for prescription drugs under Medicare. Title I of the bill would expand eligibility for federal tax subsidies toward insurance premiums and increase the percentage of premiums such subsidies would cover. It would provide $10 billion annually beginning in fiscal 2022 to help states lower costs of ACA plans, including to provide reinsurance payments to health insurance issuers and subsidies to individuals. It would provide $200 million for grants to states to establish and operate state-based ACA health insurance marketplaces; $100 million annually for Health and Human Services Department consumer outreach related to ACA marketplace plans; $100 million annually for the HHS “navigator” program, which helps individuals enroll in qualified plans; and $200 million annually through fiscal 2024 for grants to states to encourage plan enrollment. It would also prohibit implementation of August 2018 regulations related to health insurance plans that are not required to meet ACA patient protection requirements, including short-term, limited-duration plans.

Title II of the bill would provide for full federal reimbursement of state Medicaid expansion costs for new enrollees for three years, then gradually decrease the federal medical assistance cost-share to 90% for those enrollees. It would authorize HHS to reduce the federal cost-share percentage for states that do not expand their Medicaid programs by 0.5% quarterly beginning in fiscal 2023, and by 10% beginning July 2027. It would permanently authorize funding for the Children's Health Insurance Program. It would require Medicaid and CHIP programs to provide at least 12 continuous months of coverage for qualifying individuals and provide one year of coverage for women after the end of a pregnancy. It would allow states to expand eligibility for Medicaid and CHIP programs to include children whose family income exceeds certain amounts, and it would make citizens of the Freely Associated States residing in the U.S. eligible for Medicaid. Title III of the bill would establish a fair price negotiation program under which the Health and Human Services Department would enter into agreements with drug manufacturers to negotiate a "maximum fair price" for insulin and up to 250 other Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition and account for high levels of spending. It would require the department to negotiate the maximum price of at least 25 drugs for 2023 and at least 50 drugs in each subsequent year, with maximum prices not exceeding 120% of a drug's average international price or 85% of the average manufacturer price for that year. It would subject manufacturers who do not reach a negotiated agreement for a drug to excise taxes based on gross sales of that drug. It would require manufacturers to offer negotiated prices to private health insurers. It would authorize a total of $3 billion through fiscal 2023 for implementation of the price negotiation program. As amended, the bill would authorize $2 billion for National Institutes of Health cancer research and make Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program recipients eligible to enroll in ACA marketplace health plans." The bill passed 200-179.HR 1425, [Vote #124, 6/29/20; CQ, 6/29/20]

Aug. 2019: Garcia Said He Supported A Social Safety Net Via Medicare "At Some Levels." "HOST: "Should there be a social safety net? Do you believe in that?" GARCIA: I believe in social security, for sure." HOST: "What about food stamps?" GARCIA: "Food stamps at a low level I think is... As a purist I would say no. I think everyone should have to figure out how to fend for themselves." HOST: "Medicare?" GARCIA: "At some levels yes, as well." HOST: "Medicaid?" GARCIA: "Again, I'd have to look at the level of that. I'm not a big fan of that. Social security is not one of those things though, right. Social Security is absolutely something we need to protect. Those are investments that we as citizens have invested in. We've put that money in and it's a contract with the government." Talk of Santa Clarita, Mike Garcia Interview, [8/9/19]

Garcia Voted Against The Build Back Better Act, Which Would Have Extended Medicare Coverage To Hearing Services

Nov. 2021: Garcia Voted Against The 'Build Back Better' Budget Reconciliation Bill. In November 2021, Garcia voted against: "Passage of the fiscal 2022 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, that would provide approximately $2 trillion in investments and tax cuts to address climate change and child care, health care, education, housing and other social policies intended to support families. It would establish a child care and early learning entitlement program, providing approximately $100 billion for the program through fiscal 2024. It would provide $18 billion through fiscal 2024 for a free universal preschool program. It would extend through 2022 the expanded child tax credit provided by prior coronavirus relief law (PL 117-2) and provide $5 billion to administer the credit. It would establish a paid family and medical leave benefit for up to four weeks per year, beginning in 2024. It would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a "maximum fair price" for Insulin and select Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition. It would require manufacturers to provide rebates for single-source drugs under Medicare Parts B and D for which prices increase faster than inflation. For Medicare Part D, it would cap annual out-of-pocket limit at $2,000 beginning in 2024. It would establish or extend expanded eligibility for certain tax credits toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums through 2025. It would establish or expand a number of tax credits to incentivize actions by businesses and individuals to mitigate climate change, including to expand credits for renewable energy production and facilities, carbon capture facilities, use of alternative fuels and energy efficiency improvements at residential properties; and to establish individual credits for the purchase of electric vehicles. It would raise royalty rates and fees for oil and gas drilling leases and cancel or ban certain offshore leases. It would provide $29 billion to support the deployment of low- and zero-emission technologies, more than $20 billion for federal climate resiliency and environmental conservation activities and $9 billion for federal procurement of electric vehicles and related infrastructure. It would provide $65 billion for public housing improvements, $24 billion for rental assistance housing vouchers and $15 billion for down payment assistance and loan programs for first-generation homebuyers. It would provide $9.8 billion for local transit projects to support mobility and affordable housing access disadvantaged communities and $9 billion for lead remediation and water line replacement projects. It would forgive all debt owed by the National Flood Insurance Program's debt, for a total of $20.5 billion. It would provide such sums as necessary for the USDA to forgive farm loan debt for economically distressed farmers and ranchers. It would provide $6.6 billion to the Small Business Administration and Minority Business Development Agency to help underrepresented individuals with business development. It would provide $20 billion for Labor and Education department workforce development programs and $1.9 billion for Labor Department worker protection agencies. It would allow individuals who entered the United States prior to Jan. 1, 2011, to receive a grant of parole allowing them to remain temporarily in the country for a period of five years, but no later than Sept. 30, 2021. It would temporarily increase from $10,000 to $80,000 the annual cap on the deduction for state and local taxes for tax years 2021 through 2030. To offset costs, it would establish or modify various taxes on corporations and high-income individuals, including to establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with an annual income exceeding $1 billion; a one percent tax on stock buybacks by public companies; and an additional five percent tax on individual income over $10 million and further three percent tax on income over $25 million. It would provide $78.9 billion to improve IRS operations and tax enforcement." Passed by a vote of 220-213. HR 5376, [Vote #385, 11/19/21, CQ 11/19/21]

- Build Back Better Would Add Coverage Of Hearing Services To Medicare Part B. "Section 30901 of the Build Back Better Act would add coverage of hearing services to Medicare Part B, beginning in 2023. Coverage for hearing care would include hearing rehabilitation and treatment services by qualified audiologists, and hearing aids. Hearing aids would be available once per ear, every 5 years, to individuals diagnosed with moderately severe, severe, or profound hearing loss. Hearing services would be subject to the Medicare Part B deductible and 20% coinsurance. Hearing aids would be covered similar to other Medicare prosthetic devices and would also be subject to the Part B deductible and 20% coinsurance. For people in traditional Medicare who have other sources of coverage such as Medigap or Medicaid, their cost sharing for these services might be covered. Payment for hearing aids would only be on an assignment-related basis. As with other Medicare-covered benefits, Medicare Advantage plans would be required to cover these hearing benefits." Garcia Said He Wanted "The Churches," "The Local Community Nonprofits," And "Our Neighbors To Be The Safety Net" Rather Than The Federal Government. "I want the churches, I want the local community nonprofits, I want our neighbors to be the safety net because a dollar that's spent at the federal government level on food stamps – by the time it gets to the level where someone's actually using those stamps and getting merchandise

as a result of that – the inefficiency lost through that whole process is staggering. There’s organizations like the xxlocal Veterans Collaborative group out here. I know that when we put money into that, that money pivots right away to someone who needs that safety net. Healthcare becomes a bigger problem because of the cost and the magnitude of it.” Santa Clarita Valley Proclaimer, [8/9/19]

Garcia Called On Governor Newsom To End The Taxes On Health Savings Accounts

Garcia Signed On To A Letter Urging California’s Governor To End The State’s Tax On Health Savings Accounts. “Today, Rep. Michelle Steel (CA-45) led a letter with Reps. Young Kim (CA-40), David Valadao (CA-22), Mike Garcia (CA-27), Kevin Kiley (CA-03), Ken Calvert (CA-41), and Jay Obernolte (CA-23) to Governor of California Gavin Newsom urging him to end California’s tax on the over 5 million people covered by Health Savings Accounts (HSAs), which are used by working families to pay for care. This tax hurts those who live below California’s median income the most by taxing California families who save their hard-earned money for current and future qualified medical expenses. California is one of only two states to tax HSA accounts. The Kaiser Family Foundation found that more than 40% of Americans have delayed care due to costs. More than 50% of those with an HSA live in zip codes with a median income below $75,000.” Congresswoman Michelle Steel, Press Release, [7/18/23]

Homelessness

Garcia Said That “Free Market Capitalism” And Private Charities Could Solve Homelessness

Garcia Believed That “Free Market Capitalism” Could Help Solve Homelessness And Expand Affordable Housing. “Garcia said the problems the district faces — from homelessness to housing — can be chipped away at by adherence to the Constitution, improving free market capitalism and protecting Social Security. With regard to homelessness, “I believe the churches and local charity organizations can give a hand up to our homeless,” he said, adding such organizations can ‘help them earn skill sets and ... get the tools to get them back on their feet.’ Homelessness and affordable housing — like in many of the nation’s communities — emerged as issues on Friday night. While Garcia saw a free market approach to dealing with the issues, including mental health and addiction, others saw more room for government intervention.” [Daily News of Los Angeles, 2/23/20]

Garcia Opposed Investing $500 Million In Homelessness Assistance Grants

House Republicans Objected To Biden’s Proposal For A $500 Million Increase In Homeless Assistance Grants. “Republican appropriators raised objections to a Biden administration push for more aid for the homeless in the coming fiscal year. Biden’s discretionary spending request for fiscal 2022 calls for a $500 million increase in homelessness assistance grants, bringing total funding for the program to $3.5 billion. But at a hearing Wednesday of the House Transportation-HUD Appropriations Subcommittee, Republicans questioned Housing and Urban Development Secretary Marcia L. Fudge on why the increase is needed.” [CQ Budget Tracker, 4/23/21]

- Garcia Claimed That The $500 Million Increase Was Unnecessary Because The Federal Government Had Already Spent $9 Billion In Homeless Aid Since March 2020. “Only about 6 percent of the $4 billion provided through a March 2020 pandemic relief package (PL 116-136) has been spent so far, said Rep. Mike Garcia, R-Calif. And the relief measure Biden signed last month (PL 117-2) provided an additional $5 billion in homelessness aid. ‘If I do the math, 585,000 homeless, if we were to purchase a home for each one of those folks at $250,000 per home, that comes out to $145 billion, which is a small fraction of what we are actually already spending on these programs,’ Garcia said.” [CQ Budget Tracker, 4/23/21]

July 2020: Garcia Voted Against HR 2. “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would reauthorize federal-aid highway, public transit, and surface transportation safety and research programs for five years, through fiscal 2025. It would authorize approximately $1.5 trillion for infrastructure projects, including $494 billion for federal highway and surface transportation programs, $100 billion for grants to upgrade facilities for schools with high percentages of low-income students, and over $100 billion for affordable housing development. It would appropriate $100 billion to expand broadband access, particularly for underserved areas and low-income individuals. It would transfer more than $145 billion from the Treasury general fund to the Highway Trust Fund, including $38.6 billion for mass transit. Of funds authorized for surface transportation, it would authorize $257.4 billion for federal-aid highway programs and over $29 billion for Amtrak, through 2025. It would also authorize $40 billion through fiscal 2025 for an Environmental Protection Agency revolving fund that provides grants to states for water infrastructure projects; $25 billion until expended to modernize U.S. Postal Service infrastructure and operations; and $10 billion through fiscal 2025 to upgrade hospital infrastructure, prioritizing projects that emphasize public health emergency preparedness or cybersecurity. It would authorize $20 billion from the aviation trust fund and appropriate an additional $17.5 billion for airport improvement projects, through fiscal 2025. Among other provisions, it would establish a number of grant programs for "green" transportation technologies, including for the procurement of zero emission buses and other vehicles, purchase and installation of zero emission equipment at U.S. ports, and development of electric vehicle charging and hydrogen fueling infrastructure. It would authorize $700 million annually through fiscal 2025 for Energy Department electric grid modernization and security projects. It would reinstate "Build America" bonds to provide subsidies for state and local bond issuers to offer lower interest rates for infrastructure investments. It would provide a number of tax incentives for infrastructure investment, including to expand the low-income housing tax credit program by increasing its base allocation to states and establishing a permanent minimum 4% credit rate for projects financed using tax-exempt bonds. As amended, the bill would require the Transportation Department to expand certain safety protections to passenger, freight, and cargo transportation workers with high exposure risk during the COVID-19 pandemic; grant Transportation Security Administration employees the same collective bargaining rights as other federal employees; and require contractors and subcontractors for certain projects funded by the bill to meet prevailing wage requirements for laborers and mechanics; and prohibit the use of funds for contracts or funding to any entity connected to a foreign company based in certain countries subject to existing trade restrictions, tariffs, and sanctions, including China. Passed 233-188. HR 2 Would Have Invested Over $100 Billion Into Our Nation's Affordable Housing Infrastructure To Create Or Preserve 1.8 Million Affordable Homes. “H.R. 2, the Moving Forward Act, is a more than $1.5 trillion plan to rebuild American infrastructure—not only our roads, bridges, and transit systems, but also our schools, housing, broadband access, and so much more. [...] Invests over $100 billion into our nation's affordable housing infrastructure to create or preserve 1.8 million affordable homes, helping to reduce housing inequality, create jobs, and stimulate the broader economy, increase community and household resiliency in the face of natural disasters, improve hazardous living conditions, and increase the environmental sustainability of our housing stock. - Increases federal investment in low-income housing through a robust expansion of the Low-Income Housing Tax Credit with new, targeted housing incentives for rural and tribal communities and individuals at risk of homelessness. - Establishes a new Neighborhood Investment tax credit that would subsidize certain development costs to encourage the rehabilitation of vacant homes or construction of new homes in distressed areas. Garcia Voted Against The Dream And Promise Act, Which Would Provide Residency Status For Undocumented Immigrants Who Entered The U.S. As Children Or From TPS-Designated Nations. In March 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would provide legal residency status for certain undocumented immigrants who entered the United States as children or from nations with Temporary Protected Status designation and would prohibit the Homeland Security and Justice Departments from initiating or continuing the removal of such individuals.” The bill passed 228 to 197. Garcia Voted Against The Dream And Promise Act, Which Would Provide A Path To Citizenship For Immigrants Who Were Brought Into The Country Illegally As Children. “Reps. David Valadao, R-Hanford, voted to approve the Dream and Promise Act, which would provide a path to citizenship for immigrants who were brought into the country illegally as children, known as Dreamers. It also grants a path to citizenship for immigrants in the country with temporary protected status or other protections. [...] Other battleground district California Republicans, such as Rep. Mike Garcia, R-Santa Clarita, voted against the bill. Garcia said while he ‘sympathized’ with dreamers, Congress should focus instead on comprehensive immigration reform. ‘Providing amnesty to dreamers while ignoring the crisis at the border is like cleaning up spilled water before fixing the broken pipe,’ Garcia said in a floor speech Thursday. ‘If Congress fails to reform our immigration system and fails to secure our borders, future migrants will be subjected to the same situation in which dreamers today find themselves.’” [Sacramento Bee, 3/18/21]

Garcia Falsely Implied That DACA Recipients Were Not Subject To Thorough Vetting, Including A Criminal Background Check

Garcia Complained That A “40-Year-Old Convicted Felon” Could Be Protected Under DACA. GARCIA: “Yeah, DACA people are a subset, which is okay, let’s have a debate about that, but it goes beyond that. There’s no age limit. You can be a 40-year-old convicted felon and you fell under the auspices of the Hope and DREAM Act and that’s one of the problems. They create these acts and they use the language and it’s a political thing, right, so probably both parties are guilty of it in the same way. You give it a name that sounds like what everyone wants-- the American Promise Act or the PATRIOT Act. And that’s one of the problems we’re seeing on that right now. The House is writing bills that at first blush don’t look that offensive and the natural reaction is ‘Senator McConnell, why don’t you bring this up for debate,’ but when you read through it, you find Easter eggs. Things like no age stipulation. A 40-year-old pedophile would fall under the act.” Talk of Santa Clarita, 1:03:00, [8/8/19] (VIDEO)

We still have a crisis on our southern border, and we need to stop illegal drugs from entering our country. An amendment to support innovation in the gas industry. American energy is clean, affordable, and efficient. We must capitalize on our American energy dominance to rebuild our economy, expand trade, and create stable jobs. July border crossings were up 33% in just one month. And CBP officials say much of the surge has been driven by human smugglers. What has been happening at our border is a complete and total dereliction of duty by President Biden and Secretary Mayorkas. They are putting American and foreign lives at risk with these dangerous policies.

Rep. Mike Garcia, R-Santa Clarita, said in a statement he is co-sponsoring the Justice for Victims of Sanctuary Cities Act to hold cities 'accountable for their inactions.' Garcia Voted Against Condemning The Performance Of Unwanted And Unnecessary Medical Procedures On Individuals Without Their Full, Informed Consent – Particularly With Regard To ICE's Detention Center In Ocilla, Ga. In October 2020, Garcia voted against: "Agreeing to the resolution that would express that the House of Representatives condemns the performance of unwanted and unnecessary medical procedures on individuals without their full, informed consent -- particularly with regard to the Immigration and Customs Enforcement's Irwin County Detention Center in Ocilla, Ga. It would express that 'everyone deserves to control their own reproductive choices and make informed choices about their bodies' and that further accountability and transparency is necessary to protect people in custody of ICE. The resolution would call on the Homeland Security Department to pause the removal of individuals who experienced any medical procedure at the Irwin County Detention Center; allow individuals who may have experienced an unnecessary or nonconsensual procedure to have immediate access to appropriate medical treatment; comply with investigation and records requests related to the detention center; ensure that impacted individuals are able to participate in investigations; and hold individuals involved accountable." Garcia Voted Against The NO BAN Act, Prohibiting The President From Banning Individuals Seeking Immigrant Visas Based On Their Religion. In April 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would explicitly prohibit discrimination based on religion with regard to individuals seeking immigrant visas, nonimmigrant visas or other entry into the United States. It would limit the president's ability to restrict entry of a class of foreign nationals, including to require that such restrictions be temporary, narrowly tailored and subject to a State Department determination that they are in the interest of U.S. public safety or international stability. It would require the State and Homeland Security departments to notify Congress prior to the issuance of any such restriction and provide information regarding its justification and planned duration; brief Congress within 48 hours of its issuance; and report Congress every 30 days during the restriction on its continued justification and how visa applicants are impacted. It would terminate the restriction, absent intervening congressional action, if the briefing or reports are not provided. The bill would allow individuals present in the United States who are harmed by entry restrictions in violation of the bill's provisions to seek declaratory or injunctive relief through a U.S. district court. It would also require the State and Homeland Security departments to submit a report to Congress describing the implementation of proclamations by former President Donald Trump that restricted the entry of individuals from certain countries, including the number of refugees admitted and the number of visa applicants admitted or rejected, disaggregated by country and visa category.” The bill passed 218 to 208. HR 1333, [Vote #127, 4/21/21; CQ, 4/21/21]

Under the first version of Trump’s travel ban, unveiled in January 2017, citizens of seven majority-Muslim countries, including those who held US green cards and dual US citizenship, were held for questioning for many hours at airports across the country and were denied entry to the US. A de facto ‘Muslim ban,’ the policy appeared to be the execution of Trump’s call on the campaign trail for a ‘total and complete shutdown’ of Muslims entering the US and sparked widespread protests throughout the country. [...] The No Ban Act would dial back the president’s authority to issue such bans under the Immigration and Nationality Act, which was ‘not intended to provide carte blanche authority to the president to ban large categories of individuals without justification, or to rewrite immigration laws with which he disagrees,’ Chair Jerrold Nadler said on the House floor Wednesday.” Vox, [7/22/20]

Garcia Voted Against The Infrastructure Investment And Jobs Act, Which Had Bipartisan Support And Allocated $550 Billion In New Infrastructure Spending

November 2021: Garcia Voted Against The Infrastructure Investment And Jobs Act, Providing $550 Billion In New Infrastructure Spending

Garcia Voted Against The Infrastructure Investment And Jobs Act, Providing $550 Billion In New Infrastructure Spending. In November 2021 Garcia voted against: “DeFazio, D-Ore., motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill that would provide approximately $550 billion in new infrastructure spending, including for surface transportation, broadband, water and energy infrastructure. In supplemental appropriations and increased contract authority, the bill would provide $110 billion for roads, bridges and major surface transportation projects, including $47.3 for highway infrastructure and $40 billion for bridge construction and repair; $66 billion for rail, including $58 billion for Amtrak; and $39 billion for transit, including $5.3 billion for zero- and low-emission transit buses and $2 billion for accessibility improvements. It would provide $25 billion for airports and approximately $17 billion for ports and waterways, including $3.4 billion to modernize land ports of entry and $2.25 billion for water port upgrades, including resilience and electrification projects. It would provide approximately $11 billion for various transportation safety and research programs. It would provide $7.5 billion for electric vehicle charging infrastructure and $5 billion for zero- and low-emission school bus programs. It would establish requirements for many new and existing surface transportation programs to consider the environmental and equity impacts of funded activities and authorize a range of transportation programs related to emissions reduction and climate change resilience. It would provide $1 billion for activities to reconnect neighborhoods by removing or remediating the effects of transportation infrastructure construction in disadvantaged and underserved communities. The bill would provide approximately $65 billion for broadband, including $42.5 billion for grants to states to increase access in unserved areas and $14.2 billion to extend a program initially authorized in response to the coronavirus pandemic that provides stipends to help low-income families pay for internet services. It would provide approximately $62 billion for the Energy Department, including $21.5 billion for clean energy demonstration projects, $16.3 billion for energy efficiency and renewable energy programs, $8 billion for power grid resilience and other electricity projects, and $7.5 billion for fossil energy and carbon management. It would authorize or expand several programs to incentivize clean energy manufacturing, development and adoption. It would provide approximately $55 billion for water infrastructure and safety, including $30.7 billion for the Drinking Water State Revolving Fund, including $15 billion to replace lead service lines and $4 billion to address per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances and other emerging contaminants; and $12.7 billion for the Clean Water State Revolving Fund. Across various departments, the bill would provide funding for climate change response and environmental remediation, including; $11.3 billion for abandoned mine land and water reclamation projects, approximately $5.75 billion for wildfire management, $3.5 billion for the EPA hazardous substance superfund and $3.5 billion for FEMA flood mitigation. It would also provide more than $1.7 billion for cybersecurity resilience programs. The bill would include a number of provisions intended to offset spending, including by rescinding certain unobligated COVID-19 relief funding and establishing tax reporting requirements for cryptocurrency and other digital assets.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 228-206. #### August 2021: Garcia Voted Against Considering The Bipartisan Infrastructure Package

Garcia Voted Against Considering 3 Resolutions, The 2022 Budget Resolution, The John Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act, And The Bipartisan Infrastructure Package. In August 2021 Garcia voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 601) that would provide for House floor consideration of the fiscal 2022 budget resolution (S Con Res 14), the John R. Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act (HR 4) and the bipartisan infrastructure package (HR 3684). The rule would provide for automatic agreement, upon adoption of the rule, to the fiscal 2022 budget resolution (S Con Res 14). It would provide for up to one hour of general debate each on HR 4 and on a motion to concur in the Senate amendment to HR 3684. It would require the House to consider the motion to concur in the Senate amendment to HR 3684 on Sept. 27, 2021, if the motion is not offered prior to that date. It would also provide for automatic adoption of a Nadler, D-N.Y., manager's amendment to HR 4 that would, among other provisions, clarify and expand considerations related to court evaluation of voting rights violations, including to require that courts consider whether a voting practice was designed to and does advance a "valid and substantiated" state interest. The manager's amendment would specify that a provision related to violations in the case of voting practices that have not yet been implemented would apply to practices enacted on or after Jan. 1, 2021, and it would add an "administrative bailout" provision allowing political subdivisions to apply for exemptions to the bill's preclearance requirements for changes to voting practices if they meet certain eligibility standards related to not implementing discriminatory practices in the previous 10 years." The rule was adopted by a vote of 220-212. H Res 601, [Vote #258, 8/24/21; CQ, 8/24/21]

The White House Projected The $1 Trillion Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Add About 2 Million Jobs Per Year For A Decade. "The $1 trillion infrastructure plan that now goes to President Joe Biden to sign into law has money for roads, bridges, ports, rail transit, safe water, the power grid, broadband internet and more [...] The new law promises to reach almost every corner of the country. It's a historic investment that the president has compared to the building of the transcontinental railroad and Interstate Highway System. Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Provide $110 Billion For Repairs To Highways, Bridges, And Roads. "The bill would provide $110 billion to repair the nation's aging highways, bridges and roads. According to the White House, 173,000 total miles or nearly 280,000 kilometers of America's highways and major roads and 45,000 bridges are in poor condition. And the almost $40 billion for bridges is the single largest dedicated bridge investment since the construction of the national highway system, according to the Biden administration." Associated Press, [11/6/21]

Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Invest $65 Billion In Broadband Access For Rural Areas, Low-Income Families, And Tribal Communities. "The legislation's $65 billion for broadband access would aim to improve internet services for rural areas, low-income families and tribal communities. Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Invest $44 Billion On Water And Wastewater Infrastructure, Including $15 Billion To Replace Lead Pipes And $10 Billion To Address PFAS Water Contamination. "The legislation would spend $55 billion on water and wastewater infrastructure. It has $15 billion to replace lead pipes and $10 billion to address water contamination from polyfluoroalkyl substances — chemicals that were used in the production of Teflon and have also been used in firefighting foam, water-repellent clothing and many other items." Associated Press, [11/6/21]

Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Invest $65 Billion To Improve The Reliability Of The Power Grid And Boost Clean Power Generation. "To protect against the power outages that have become more frequent in recent years, the bill would spend $65 billion to improve the reliability and resiliency of the power grid. It would also boost carbon capture technologies and more environmentally friendly electricity sources like clean hydrogen." Associated Press, [11/6/21]

Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Invest $7.5 Billion In Electrical Vehicle Charging Stations And $5 Billion In Electric And Hybrid School Buses. "The bill would spend $7.5 billion for electric vehicle charging stations, which the administration says are critical to accelerating the use of electric vehicles to curb climate

Garcia Said In Oct. 2021 That Power Grid Modernization Was Key To Address Problems Like Frequent Power Outages In Simi Valley

Oct. 10, 2021: Garcia Said That America Needed To Modernize Its Power-Grid To Address Problems Like Frequent Power Outages In Simi Valley. “Residents of a Simi Valley neighborhood have had it with the frequent power outages. They say they had to endure three lengthy Southern California Edison maintenance outages in a six-week period overnight on Aug. 5, 19 and Sept. 13. [...] Woodward said she has also turned to the office of Rep. Mike Garcia R-Santa Clarita, who represents much of Simi Valley in California's 25th Congressional District. Woodward said the office told her they were working on her complaint. In a statement Friday, Garcia didn't address the outages in Woodward's neighborhood. But he said that even though Public Safety Power Shutoffs aren't under federal jurisdiction, he remains ‘committed to doing all I can to find a solution that could significantly reduce the problems posed by the frequent PSPS shutdowns.’ ‘We need to enact real solutions like modernizing our power-grid and improving fire prevention,’ Garcia said.” [Ventura County Star, 10/10/21]

In California, there are 1,536 bridges and over 14,220 miles of highway in poor condition. Since 2011, commute times have increased by 14.6% in California and on average, each driver pays $799 per year in costs due to driving on roads in need of repair. The Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act is the single largest dedicated bridge investment since the construction of the interstate highway system. ## Moving Forward Act

Garcia Voted Against The Moving Forward Act, A Bill To Provide $1.5 Trillion In Infrastructure Projects For Roads, Transit, Water, Broadband, Schools, Hospitals, And Reducing Pollution

Garcia Voted Against HR 2, Which Authorized $1.5 Trillion In Infrastructure Projects. In July 2020, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would reauthorize federal-aid highway, public transit, and surface transportation safety and research programs for five years, through fiscal 2025. It would authorize approximately $1.5 trillion for infrastructure projects, including $494 billion for federal highway and surface transportation programs, $100 billion for grants to upgrade facilities for schools with high percentages of low-income students, and over $100 billion for affordable housing development. It would appropriate $100 billion to expand broadband access, particularly for underserved areas and low-income individuals. It would transfer more than $145 billion from the Treasury general fund to the Highway Trust Fund, including $38.6 billion for mass transit. Of funds authorized for surface transportation, it would authorize $257.4 billion for federal-aid highway programs and over $29 billion for Amtrak, through 2025. It would also authorize $40 billion through fiscal 2025 for an Environmental Protection Agency revolving fund that provides grants to states for water infrastructure projects; $25 billion until expended to modernize U.S. Postal Service infrastructure and operations; and $10 billion through fiscal 2025 to upgrade hospital infrastructure, prioritizing projects that emphasize public health emergency preparedness or cybersecurity. It would authorize $20 billion from the aviation trust fund and appropriate an additional $17.5 billion for airport improvement projects, through fiscal 2025. Among other provisions, it would establish a number of grant programs for ‘green’ transportation technologies, including for the procurement of zero emission buses and other vehicles, purchase and installation of zero emission equipment at U.S. ports, and development of electric vehicle charging and hydrogen fueling infrastructure. It would authorize $700 million annually through fiscal 2025 for Energy Department electric grid modernization and security projects. It would reinstate ‘Build America’ bonds to provide subsidies for state and local bond issuers to offer lower interest rates for infrastructure investments. It would provide a number of tax incentives for infrastructure investment, including to expand the low-income housing tax credit program by increasing its base allocation to states and establishing a permanent minimum 4% credit rate for projects financed using tax-exempt bonds. As amended, the bill would require the Transportation Department to expand certain safety protections to passenger, freight, and cargo transportation workers with high exposure risk during the COVID-19 pandemic; grant Transportation Security Administration employees the same collective bargaining rights as other federal employees; and require contractors and subcontractors for certain projects funded by the bill to meet prevailing wage requirements for laborers and mechanics; and prohibit the use of funds for contracts or funding to any entity connected to a foreign company based in certain countries subject to existing trade restrictions, tariffs, and sanctions, including China.” The bill passed by a vote of 233 – 188. HR 2, [Vote #138, 7/1/20; CQ, 7/1/20]

- The Moving Forward Act Would Increase Spending On Roads And Transit, Water Projects, Broadband, Schools, Hospitals, And Reducing Pollution. “The House on Wednesday passed a $1.5 trillion infrastructure bill that would sharply increase spending on roads and transit, push for deep reductions in pollution, direct billions to water projects, affordable housing, broadband and schools, and upgrade hospitals and U.S. Postal Service trucks. House Speaker Nancy Pelosi (D-Calif.) said Democrats were making good on a promise to rebuild America with ‘green, resilient, modern and job-creating infrastructure,’ adding that the Moving Forward Act ‘shows that everything in our country is connected, from the education of our children to the technologies of the future to the road map to get there.’ The bill is meant, in part, to address the expiration in September of a law authorizing spending on highways, transit and other transportation programs. Backers, including Transportation Committee Chairman Peter A. DeFazio (D-Ore.), said the bill represents an ambitious, years-in-the-making push to buttress and expand aging infrastructure in a sustainable way. Supporters said it marks a departure from traditional surface transportation legislation because of its emphasis on maintaining roads and bridges, building transit and reducing transportation-related pollution, the nation’s top source of greenhouse gases causing climate change.” Washington Post, [7/1/20]
- HR 2 Delivers Better Roads And Bridges Faster With More Than $300 Billion Of Investment. “H.R. 2, the Moving Forward Act, is a more than $1.5 trillion plan to rebuild American infrastructure—not only our roads, bridges, and transit systems, but also our schools, housing, broadband access, and so much more. [...] Delivers better roads and bridges faster with more than $300 billion of investment that prioritizes fixing what we already have, including tens of thousands of structurally deficient bridges. - Invests more than $100 billion in transit to put more zero-emission buses on the road, add new routes, and provide more reliable service, resulting in better transit options and fewer single-occupant cars clogging highways. - Modernizes infrastructure to reduce gridlock and address bottlenecks, and makes roads smarter and safer for all users, including pedestrians and bicyclists. - Invests in programs, projects, and materials that emphasize resiliency while reducing carbon pollution from the transportation sector, including $1.4 billion in alternative fuel charging infrastructure. - Triples funding for Amtrak to $29 billion, allowing for upgrades and expansion of the passenger rail network, and improves rail crossing safety and addresses increasingly long trains that block crossings for 10+ minutes, which impacts local traffic and emergency response times. - Keeps cargo moving by funding the essential dredging and upkeep of American harbors, ports, and channels.” House Transportation Committee, Moving Forward Act Fact Sheet, Accessed [8/19/20]

High-Speed Rail

Garcia Repeatedly Proposed Legislation To End Federal Funding For California’s High-Speed Rail Project, Which Had Already Created 5,200 Jobs And Generated More Than $10 Billion In Total Economic Activity

Garcia Supported Blocking Federal Funding For California’s High-Speed Rail Project

March 2021: Garcia Supported Blocking Federal Funding For California’s High-Speed Rail Project.

“Meanwhile, Rep. Michelle Steel, R-Seal Beach, on Monday introduced legislation that would block any federal funding from being used to support California’s high-speed rail project, which she called a ‘failure.’ A slate of local Republicans have signed on to support Steel’s bill, including Reps. Young Kim of La Habra, Mike Garcia of Santa Clarita and Ken Calvert of Corona.” Orange County Register, [3/2/21]

EDITORIAL: Garcia Supported Legislation That Would End Federal Support For The California High-Speed Rail Project. “Rep. Michelle Steel, R-Costa Mesa, joined by several other California Republican members of Congress, has introduced legislation to end federal support for the boondoggle. ‘The California high-speed rail project is a failure. Costs have continued to rise, while people and businesses have lost their properties, and the sections of the high-speed rail that do exist are inoperable,' Steel said in a statement. 'This is an unacceptable and an embarrassing waste of taxpayer dollars.' Steel is right about all of that. Appropriately, Steel's proposal is called the Stop the High-Speed Money Pit Act. Steel's effort is backed by many Southern California representatives, including Rep. Mike Garcia, R-Santa Clarita, Rep. Young Kim, R-Brea, Rep. Ken Calvert, R-Corona, and Rep. Jay Obernolte, R-Big Bear Lake." [San Bernardino Sun, Editorial, 3/10/21]

July 2021: Garcia Proposed An Amendment To Bipartisan Infrastructure Plan To Block Federal Funding For California High-Speed Rail, Which He Called "Franken-Rail." "The committee's most heated battle over the bill was a flare-up in a longstanding fight over a troubled high-speed rail project in California. Rep. Mike Garcia, R-Calif., introduced an amendment that would bar federal money for the project, which has suffered skyrocketing costs and construction delays. 'This isn't high-speed rail, this is Franken-Rail,' he said, adding that the proposed project was 'not smart, clumsily meandering through our communities and scaring the hell out of our residents.' He said his state does not want the project. But Transportation-HUD Subcommittee Chairman David E. Price, D-N.C., said the spending bill made no specific reference to California high-speed rail. Instead, he said, it provides 'robust funding' for competitive grants. Jessica Wehrman and Caitlin Reilly have more on the Transportation-HUD bill markup here." [CQ Budget Tracker, 7/19/21]

The amendment would require the agency to give priority in awarding funds to entities that serve disadvantaged communities and environmental justice communities. It also would establish a federal cost share of 100 percent for such projects.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 240 – 181. HR 2, [Vote #136, 7/1/20; CQ, 7/1/20]

Labor & Working Families Issues

Significant Findings

Garcia Voted Against The PRO Act Which Would Expand The Authority Of The National Labor Relations Board And Protect Collective Bargaining Rights

Garcia Voted Against The PRO Act Which Would Expand The Authority Of The National Labor Relations Board And Protect Collective Bargaining Rights. In March 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would expand enforcement authorities of the National Labor Relations Board and modify procedures by which employees may unionize and elect representation under federal labor law. The bill would authorize the NLRB to enforce any orders it issues and to impose a number of civil monetary penalties, including penalties of up to $50,000 against employers who prevent or punish organizing activities by employees. It would require the NLRB to seek temporary injunctions against employers charged with engaging in unfair labor practices and allow employees to bring civil action if the board fails to seek an injunction. It would outline a number of procedures by which employees may petition for and elect representation for collective bargaining through an election directed by the NLRB. It would require the NLRB to schedule pre-election hearings within eight days of a petition being filed; prohibit employers from certain interference or participation in such elections; and require the NLRB to certify and order the employer to engage in collective bargaining with an elected labor organization. It would outline procedures for initial collective bargaining between an employer and a union, including to provide for federal mediation services if an agreement is not reached 90 days after the bargaining begins and referral to an arbitration panel if an agreement is not reached in an additional 30 days. Among other provisions, the bill would prohibit employers from taking certain retaliatory actions against employees who participate in a strike, including permanently replacing or discriminating against such employees. It would specify that employees' right to strike is protected regardless of the duration, scope, frequency, or intermittence of the strike. It would modify definitions of ‘employee’ and ‘supervisor,’ particularly to narrow the classification of independent contractors and supervisors, two categories of employees not eligible for collective bargaining. It would also authorize the use of collective bargaining agreements that require employees to pay fees to a labor organization as a condition of employment.” The bill passed by a vote of 225-206. The PRO Act Would Increase Fines For Companies That Illegally Retaliate Against Workers Seeking To Unionize, Expand Collective Bargaining Rights, And Weaken “Right To Work” Laws. “The Protecting the Right to Organize Act, known as the PRO Act, would amend some of the country’s decades-old labor laws to give workers more power during disputes at work, add penalties for companies that retaliate against workers who organize and grant some hundreds of thousands of workers collective-bargaining rights they don’t currently have. It would also weaken ‘right-to-work’ laws in 27 states that allow employees to forgo participating in and paying dues to unions. The House passed the bill with a vote of 224 to 194, mostly along party lines.” Washington Post, [2/6/20]

The PRO Act Would Allow More People Classified As Contractors To Be Given Employee Status, Which Would Allow Them To Unionize. “The bill would also allow more people currently classified as contractors to be given the status of employees for the purposes of union organizing, potentially paving the way for gig workers at companies like Lyft, Uber and DoorDash to organize with unions or among themselves.” Washington Post, [2/6/20]

This act would essentially designate most gig workers as full-time employees, taking away their flexibility and independence that makes the gig jobs attractive in the first place. AB5 killed tens of thousands of jobs in California and nearly drove

Garcia Voted Against The ‘Build Back Better’ Budget Reconciliation Bill. In November 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the fiscal 2022 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, that would provide approximately $2 trillion in investments and tax cuts to address climate change and child care, health care, education, housing and other social policies intended to support families. It would establish a child care and early learning entitlement program, providing approximately $100 billion for the program through fiscal 2024. It would provide $18 billion through fiscal 2024 for a free universal preschool program. It would extend through 2022 the expanded child tax credit provided by prior coronavirus relief law (PL 117-2) and provide $5 billion to administer the credit. It would establish a paid family and medical leave benefit for up to four weeks per year, beginning in 2024. It would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a "maximum fair price" for insulin and select Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition. It would require manufacturers to provide rebates for single-source drugs under Medicare Parts B and D for which prices increase faster than inflation. For Medicare Part D, it would cap annual out-of-pocket limit at $2,000 beginning in 2024. It would establish or extend expanded eligibility for certain tax credits toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums through 2025. It would establish or expand a number of tax credits to incentivize actions by businesses and individuals to mitigate climate change, including to expand credits for renewable energy production and facilities, carbon capture facilities, use of alternative fuels and energy efficiency improvements at residential properties; and to establish individual credits for the purchase of electric vehicles. It would raise royalty rates and fees for oil and gas drilling leases and cancel or ban certain offshore leases. It would provide $29 billion to support the deployment of low- and zero-emission technologies, more than $20 billion for federal climate resiliency and environmental conservation activities and $9 billion for federal procurement of electric vehicles and related infrastructure. It would provide $65 billion for public housing improvements, $24 billion for rental assistance housing vouchers and $15 billion for down payment assistance and loan programs for first-generation homebuyers. It would provide $9.8 billion for local transit projects to support mobility and affordable housing access disadvantaged communities and $9 billion for lead remediation and water line replacement projects. It would forgive all debt owed by the National Flood Insurance Program's debt, for a total of $20.5 billion. It would provide such sums as necessary for the USDA to forgive farm loan debt for economically distressed farmers and ranchers. It would provide $6.6 billion to the Small Business Administration and Minority Business Development Agency to help underrepresented individuals with business development. It would provide $20 billion for Labor and Education department workforce development programs and $1.9 billion for Labor Department worker protection agencies. It would allow individuals who entered the United States prior to Jan. 1, 2011, to receive a grant of parole allowing them to remain temporarily in the country for a period of five years, but no later than Sept. 30, 2021. It would temporarily increase from $10,000 to $80,000 the annual cap on the deduction for state and local taxes for tax years 2021 through 2030. To offset costs, it would establish or modify various taxes on corporations and high-income individuals, including to establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with an annual income exceeding $1 billion; a one percent tax on stock buybacks by public companies; and an additional five percent tax on individual income over $10 million and further three percent tax on income over $25 million. It would provide $78.9 billion to improve IRS operations and tax enforcement.” Passed by a vote of 220-213. HR 5376, [Vote #385, 11/19/21, CQ 11/19/21]

Build Back Better Would Fine Employers Up To $50,000 For Each “Unfair Labor Practice, And Up To $100,000 In Cases Where A Worker Was Illegally Fired For Union Organizing. “Although it’s still subject to changes, the current version of the Build Back Better framework includes a potentially landmark reform to labor law: monetary penalties for union busting. The latest iteration of the bill released by House and Senate leaders Thursday would fine employers up to $50,000 for each ‘unfair labor practice,’ and up to $100,000 in cases where a worker was illegally fired.” Huffington Post, [10/29/21]

- An “Unfair Labor Practice” Or ULP “Is A Violation Of The National Labor Relations Act,” Which “Protects The Right Of Workers To” Unionize And Collectively Bargain. “An unfair labor practice — commonly called a ULP — is a violation of the National Labor Relations Act, the New Deal-era law that protects the right of workers to form unions or join together to improve their working conditions.” Huffington Post, [10/29/21]

Before Build Back Better, Employers Who Committed Unfair Labor Practices Only Had To Offer Reinstatement And Backpay. “These fines would have big impact because currently, there’s almost no downside to breaking the law. If an employer is found to have illegally fired union supporters, the most they have to do is offer reinstatement and backpay. And the backpay is ‘mitigated’ — meaning any other wages the worker earned elsewhere after getting fired would be subtracted from what the scofflaw employer owes the person it fired. In many cases, an employer found to have committed ULPs merely has to hang a poster in the workplace acknowledging they did so. With such weak penalties, employers are acting rationally when they violate the law, which is why ULPs are so common in organizing drives. But with monetary penalties, employers might make a different calculation.” Huffington Post, [10/29/21]

For Smith, who supported the bill during her time in the Assembly, it was about establishing essential worker protections while the Trump administration is seeking to gut the Affordable Care Act. Garcia said 70,000 jobs have been lost since the law was enacted. ‘Turn off AB5 right now,’ he said.” [Ventura County Star, 4/26/20]

Garcia Claimed That Assembly Bill 5 And High Taxes Were To Blame For California’s High Unemployment Rate While Smith Claimed That It Was Due To COVID. “‘AB5 has killed our economy here in California,’

Garcia said, lamenting it throughout the hour-long forum as a top reason, along with high taxes, why people and companies are leaving the state. ‘She chose not to repeal it. It was low-hanging fruit.’ Smith, who as an assemblywoman supported the bill, pushed back on Garcia, arguing that the law was an outgrowth of a California Supreme Court decision that put the burden on employers to prove that workers were not ‘employees’ but ‘independent contractors.’ It ‘left every local small business potentially exposed to frivolous misclassification lawsuits, so in fact the unemployment that is occurring right now is absolutely driven by COVID,’ she said.” [Daily News of Los Angeles, 10/21/20]

Garcia Voted Against Reauthorizing And Expanding The Labor Department’s National Apprenticeship System. In February 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would reauthorize and expand programs and activities under the Labor Department national apprenticeship system, authorizing a total of $3.9 billion for program administration and grants to apprenticeship programs. It would largely codify apprenticeship program standards and expand the system to include pre-apprenticeship and youth apprenticeship programs. It would authorize a total of $350 million through fiscal 2026 for the formal establishment of a Labor Department office of apprenticeship to oversee the national apprenticeship system, as well as for program research and evaluation and the establishment of an apprenticeship advisory committee. Through fiscal 2026, it would authorize a total of $70 million for the Labor Department to carry out an agreement with the Education Department to support integration and alignment of the national apprenticeship system with the education system; $475 million for state apprenticeship agencies; and $3 billion for grants and agreements to support apprenticeship programs, including to expand programs in nontraditional apprenticeship industries and high-need social service industries and programs targeting individuals with barriers to employment. It would require state apprenticeship agencies and grant recipients to match 25% of federal funds received. It would establish a number of apprenticeship program quality standards; requirements for registration, planning and implementation of programs by states; and requirements for occupations to be approved as ‘apprenticeable occupations’ within the national apprenticeship system. It would require the national office of apprenticeship to oversee such standards; establish and provide technical assistance to state offices of apprenticeship; and promote diversity within the system through recruitment, employment and retention of nontraditional apprenticeship participants, industries and occupations.” The bill passed 247 to 173. On Feb. 25, Garcia voted against the federal Equality Act to protect all Americans from discrimination based on sexual orientation and gender identity. The law would prohibit common forms of biased mistreatment, including harassment and discrimination, in education, employment, and housing. [...] But Garcia rejected the Equality Act, saying it poses ‘a detriment to other free citizens’ and ‘is contrary to American ideals.’ Huh? Let’s unpack that. Such abstract rhetoric seems to repeat a false talking point of extremist organizations. It would require the president, within 180 days of enactment and biannually thereafter, to submit to Congress a list of individuals determined to be subject to the ban. It would require the State Department to report annually to Congress on implementation of the sanctions, including changes to the list, and any efforts by the president to coordinate with foreign countries to impose similar sanctions.   - ✓ Multiple foreign policy experts argued, however, that Trump actually weakened America relative to Russia and China.

NDAAs/Defense Funding

FY 2024 National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA)

Garcia Voted For Authorizing The Defense Budget For Fiscal Year 2024. In July 2023, Garcia voted: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would authorize $874.2 billion in national defense spending, including $841.5 billion for the Defense Department and $32.2 billion for national security programs within the Energy Department. The bill would authorize approximately $168.6 billion for weapons and other procurement and $145.2 billion for military research and development. Within these totals, it would authorize $32.3 billion for shipbuilding; $13.2 billion for Air Force procurement of 83 new F-35 series tactical force aircraft; $17.4 billion for 92 Navy aircraft;

$539 million for the Ground Based Strategic Deterrent ballistic missile system; and approximately $30 billion for missile defense programs, including $434 million for a hypersonic missile defense system, $498 million for continued development of Guam missile defense systems, $160 million for Israeli missile defense systems and $2.6 billion for a Space Force defendable missile warning satellite system. Within Energy Department funding, it would authorize $23.9 billion for the National Nuclear Security Administration, primarily for the maintenance of a nuclear weapons stockpile. It would authorize $38.2 billion for the Defense Health Program and $17.5 billion for military construction. It would authorize $9.7 billion for the Pacific Deterrence Initiative and $3.6 billion for the European Deterrence Initiative, primarily intended to counter aggression by China and Russia, respectively. For international assistance and cooperation, it would authorize $4 billion to bolster U.S. and allied forces in Europe against Russian aggression, including $300 million in security assistance to Ukraine; $565 million for the U.S. Africa Command; $398 million for forces in Syria and Iraq combating the Islamic State group; $336 million for a cooperative threat reduction program assisting former Soviet Union countries; $300 million for cooperative research and development programs with Israel; and $210 million for the Baltic Security Initiative. The bill would authorize a 5.2 percent military pay increase and authorize the Defense Department to issue bonuses to junior enlisted servicemembers to counteract inflation. It would authorize $1.1 billion for the Defense Department environmental restoration fund and require the department to undertake various environmental cleanup activities. It would eliminate the position of chief diversity officer within the Defense Department and include various provisions to restrict DOD programs that involve diversity, equity and inclusion and critical race theory. The bill would establish a special inspector general for Ukraine assistance and require the Defense Department to make plans to increase the energy resiliency of each main operating base in the U.S. European Command zone. It would repeal a 2022 Defense Department memorandum regarding access to reproductive health care and prohibit the department from paying for or reimbursing expenses relating to abortion services; eliminate all Defense Department and Armed Forces offices established to promote diversity, equity and inclusion as well as terminate all personnel within such offices; and prevent the Defense Department from purchasing data of U.S. individuals that would otherwise require a warrant, court order or subpoena.” The bill passed by a vote of 219-210. In A Newsletter Garcia Bragged About Securing Pay Raises For Service Members. “I couldn’t be more proud to announce that I’ve secured the largest pay raise for our junior enlisted troops in American history. First, it was my honor to protect my fellow soldiers from the cockpit during my time in uniform. Now, it is my privilege to fight for our soldiers and their families in the halls of Congress. It’s unacceptable that our brave servicemembers – who are willing to make the ultimate sacrifice in the name of our freedom – are making less than fast food workers. This year’s Defense Appropriations bill will now increase base pay for junior enlisted troops from $23,000 a year to at least $31,200 a year – an average pay raise of 30 percent across the enlisted ranks of E-1 to E-6. This victory is life-changing for our brave men and women in uniform.” [Congressman Mike Garcia, News Letter, 6/17/23]

- House Republicans Failed To Bring The Defense Appropriations Bill For A Vote Because Of Internal GOP Politics. “A House vote to advance a bill funding the Department of Defense was scrapped on Wednesday due to opposition from GOP hardliners. Why it matters: It's another bump in House Republican leadership's precarious path to avoiding a government shutdown as the funding deadline approaches. ‘We're in a bad spot,’ said Rep. Steve Womack (R-Ark.), a senior Appropriations Committee member. Driving the news: A vote to begin consideration of the Pentagon appropriations bill was scheduled for 1:30 p.m., but it was delayed and later canceled. ‘Members are advised that House Republicans are planning to adjourn and votes are no longer expected in the House today,’ said Minority Whip Katherine Clark's (D-Mass.) office in an update late Wednesday afternoon. Rep. Mike Garcia (R-CA) hit out against his colleagues to the right, urging them not to hold the spending legislation hostage in exchange for a slew of other demands from GOP leadership. Garcia’s plea comes as the defense appropriations bill remains stalled in the House due to resistance from hard-line conservatives, delaying initial plans to pass it earlier this week and send the must-pass legislation to the Senate for negotiations.” Washington Examiner, [9/18/23]

- Garcia Blamed Hardline Conservatives For Blocking A Defense Appropriations Bill That Would End “Failed Defense Policies And This Administration, And Accelerating The Downward Trajectory Of Our Nation's Security.” “Garcia hit out against those conservatives on Friday, urging them to drop those demands and support passage of the defense funding legislation. ‘If you oppose the rule, which is effectively preventing this bill from moving forward, and if you oppose the passage of this bill, you are enabling the failed defense policies and this administration, and accelerating the downward trajectory of our nation's security,’ he said. ‘I don't envy the person that votes against the rule or votes against this bill when they have to explain to their constituents and more importantly to our troops, why they did not support this bill. Representative Katie Hill is lauding the passage of the House National Defense Authorization Act. This is the bill that prescribes how our military spends its funds. The reality is this Democrat bill fails to address several critical national security concerns. After 20 years of warfare, now is not the time to be cutting funding to our military. Now is the time to rebuild our equipment and reward our troops with more care and higher pay (more than this bill prescribes). Our troops are woefully underpaid. Russia and China are now peers, not near-peers! We need to evolve our technologies.

Why the House NDAA is a Risk to our Security:

The House version of NDAA funds our defense and national security programs at $17 billion less than the Senate version. It cuts personnel accounts that fund troop pay/benefits by $1.2 billion (roughly $600 per active and reserve member), cuts nuclear deterrent programs, cuts critical programs designed to deter Russia and China, including cuts to hypersonics (the biggest modern threat to the US), ship construction, and closes Guantanamo Bay to move terrorists to the U.S., along with other crucial cuts. The House version creates severe restrictions on the military's traditional missions in supporting border security.

Katie Hill and her Democrat peers are using this defense budget for political messaging rather than protecting our nation and ensuring our troops are taken care of. Unacceptable!

WHY THE HOUSE NDAA IS WEAK:

The House version of NDAA funds our defense and national security programs at $17 billion less than the Senate version. It cuts personnel accounts that fund troop pay and benefits by $1.2 billion (roughly $600 per active and reserve member), cuts nuclear deterrent programs, cuts critical programs designed to deter Russia and China, including cuts to hypersonics (the biggest modern threat to the US), ship construction, and closes Guantanamo Bay to move terrorists to the U.S., along with other crucial cuts. The House version creates severe restrictions on the military's traditional missions in supporting border security.

The House 2020 NDAA Authorized A 3.1% Pay Increase For Uniformed Personnel And Implemented Reforms To Improve Military Housing

---

The House 2020 NDAA Authorized A 3.1% Pay Increase For Uniformed Personnel And Implemented Reforms To Improve Military Housing. “When passed, the FY20 NDAA will mark the fifty-ninth consecutive year the Congress has enacted sweeping legislation in support of a strong, comprehensive national defense. The NDAA is the primary vehicle to execute Congress’s important constitutional obligation to “provide for the common defense.” To do so, the NDAA must take care of our greatest asset: Our service members. Chairman Smith’s proposal focuses on improving the lives of our men and women in uniform, authorizing a 3.1 percent pay increase and implementing reforms to improve the quality of military housing. We expect our service members to confront unique, complex challenges and they deserve our support.” House Armed Services Committee, Press Release, [6/10/19]

The NDAA Ensured The Department Of Defense Was Capable Of Adapting To Climate Change

The House FY 2020 National Defense Authorization Act Ensured That The Department Of Defense Was Capable Of Adapting To Climate Change. “On July 10, the House approved two amendments, introduced by Congressman Blumenauer, to the FY 2020 National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA) that would help the Department of Defense (DoD) prepare and adapt to the impacts of climate change. One amendment would ensure the DoD is capable of adapting to the impacts of climate change, such as sea level rise, drought, and more intense storms, by directing the DoD to identify and seek to remove barriers that hinder it from being resilient to those impacts. The other amendment would ensure America’s military infrastructure is better protected from the growing threat of sea level rise by directing the DoD to consider the impacts of current and future mean sea level fluctuations in the location and design over the lifetime of the proposed military infrastructure. As the climate continues to change, these amendments will ensure America’s military assets, operational capability, and readiness remain at the forefront in the 21st Century.” National Resources Defense Council, [7/11/19]

That figure includes roughly $9 billion in ‘emergency’ funds that will go toward hurricane relief and border security, the Office of Management and Budget said Monday—in other words, Trump’s long-promised border wall with Mexico. [...] ‘It was painful, and we, frankly, we lost lives,’ he added. Garcia said inadequate resources due to Obama-era defense sequestrations led to record low levels of readiness and not enough resources for war fighters during a continuous, 20-year global war on terror. ‘Now what we need to focus on is modernizing, improving readiness but also modernizing our forces and giving our troops a break,’ he said.” [Washington Examiner, 5/19/20]

Congress needs a briefing on how this happened, and there needs to be consequences for this dangerous breakdown in the operational command of our national security apparatus.

Garcia Said Pentagon Leadership Was Pushing A “Woke” Liberal Agenda [...] Rather Than Focusing On Defeating An Enemy. “Only 45% of the American people have a ‘great deal of confidence’ in the military, according to a poll released Wednesday by the California-based Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation and Institute. GARCIA: “I did get to meet Bush Sr. at one point, I wrote a paper in college at the Naval Academy about President Bush, called ‘President Bush and his Lovely Little War,’ it was a paper about a president’s rights and abilities to engage in warfare either with Congress or without Congress. All of that aside, he was coming to visit our campus one day, and I had just gotten the paper back that day, luckily I had gotten an A- on it that day. So, I had this paper about him, he comes and visits our campus., I come around the corner and I literally run into President Bush, and this is while Clinton is in office. So, he wasn’t the sitting President. All of his guards are there, and I ask, Mr. President, do you mind signing this? And he looks at it, it was a cold day, his hands were shaking, and he goes, ‘You make me look like an a-hole son?’ And I say no sir, so, I still have this paper from Bush one signed by him.” [Talk of Santa Clarita, 8/8/19] (VIDEO)

[...] But the greatest changes in the shifting balance of power among the U.S., China and Russia in the last four years have come not from Beijing or Moscow, but from Washington. After simultaneously weakening democracy at home and disengaging from leadership abroad, President Donald Trump is leaving behind an America in much worse shape to compete with China and Russia in 2021 than it was in 2017.” NBC Op-Ed, Michael McFaul, [12/16/20]

Space, Science And Technology

Garcia Voted Against Creating Deadlines For The FCC To Process License Applications For Operating In Specific Spectrum Bands And For Grants Of Access To U.S. Markets. In July 2023, Garcia voted for: “Latta, R-Ohio, motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would create deadlines for the Federal Communications Commission to process license applications for earth and space stations in a satellite system, for operating in specific spectrum bands, and for grants of access to U.S. markets. Specifically, the bill would set a one-year deadline for a decision on applications involving an orbit satellite, an earth station that connects to a satellite, or a combined application. It would also require the FCC to renew licenses that were previously approved by the commission for a term not to exceed the original term of the license or grant of market access if they meet the renewal requirements. It would allow the FCC to pause the deadlines in cases of “extraordinary circumstances” for renewable 90-day periods.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 250-163. - Opposition To The Satellite And Telecommunications Streamlining Act Was Driven By Arguments That The Legislation Gave The FCC Too Much Authority To Regulate Space. “A bipartisan bill to reform the Federal Communication Commission’s (FCC) process for licensing satellite systems unexpectedly failed to pass in the House on Tuesday after some lawmakers argued that the measure would grant the agency too much authority. The House considered the legislation — titled the Satellite and Telecommunications Streamlining Act — under suspension of the rules, a fast-track process to approve legislation that has at least two-thirds support. It is typically used for non-controversial bills. [...] Tucked into the 48-page bill, however, are clauses pertaining to ‘space safety and orbital debris,’ which fueled some opposition on Tuesday. Rep. Frank Lucas

(R-Okla.), the chairman of the Science, Space, and Technology Committee, argued in a statement that the bill ‘includes a significant and unprecedented grant of authority to the FCC, explicitly directing the agency to issue rules related to both ‘space safety and orbital debris’ that applicants must comply with to obtain a license for use of FCC-controlled spectrum.’ ‘The FCC has exclusive jurisdiction over the licensing of spectrum use, but the language in the bill would extend to that reach to the design and operation of any space object that carries an FCC-licensed system,’ he continued.” The Hill, [7/25/23]

The very purpose of government is to secure a peaceful society.

We pay taxes, and the government provides security. Sacramento and LA County are breaking that fundamental contract with the people of California.

It shouldn't be controversial to make life safe for law-abiding citizens, but Sacramento and county policies continue to do the opposite.

CA needs to revoke Prop 47 and 57 and hold criminals accountable. It's time for a return to sanity.

Last year, there were over 80 fentanyl-related deaths in CA-27 - the most in all of LA County. As a community, and as a nation, we cannot passively accept this tragic loss of life.

That's why I introduced critical legislation to combat this epidemic by 1) Better supporting our local law enforcement and 2) Holding the CCP accountable for their outsized role in fueling this epidemic.

We have a long road ahead, but this legislative action is an important step toward overcoming this national suffering. Read more about this all-important effort here

Policing

Garcia Twice Voted Against The George Floyd Justice In Policing Act, Which Overhauled Policing Laws

2021: Garcia Voted Against The George Floyd Justice In Policing Act

March 2021: Garcia Voted Against The George Floyd Justice In Policing Act, Which Overhauled Policing Laws. In March 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would establish reporting and oversight requirements related to policing data and restrict the use of certain policing practices by federal law enforcement agencies and state and local agencies receiving certain federal policing grants. It would restrict a number of policing practices by federal law enforcement agencies and state and local agencies that receive federal funding, including to prohibit the use of “no-knock warrants” to execute searches in drug cases; the use of deadly force, including chokeholds, except as a “last resort” to prevent imminent injury to an officer or another person; and the use of deadly or “less lethal” force before exhausting reasonable alternatives, including deescalation tactics. It would prohibit racial profiling by law enforcement, authorize lawsuits regarding violations of the prohibition, and require agencies to implement racial profiling training and oversight procedures. It would eliminate “qualified immunity” protections for law enforcement officers by prohibiting legal defenses based on an officer acting “in good faith" or the purported absence of "clearly established" law. It would require federal law enforcement officers to use body cameras and dashboard cameras and require state and local agencies to use certain grant funding to purchase body cameras and develop protocols for their use. It would make it a crime for an officer to engage in a sexual act with an individual under custody. It would require the Justice Department to establish a national police misconduct registry, and it would establish a number of reporting requirements for law enforcement agencies, including on use of force, racial profiling, officer misconduct records and routine policing practices -- with data disaggregated by demographics of officers and civilians involved. Among other provisions, it would require the Justice Department to analyze and recommend updates to law enforcement agency accreditation standards. It would authorize $750 million annually through fiscal 2024 for grants to support independent investigations into police use of deadly force, including to create civilian review boards. It would authorize subpoenas by the Justice Department or state attorneys general for evidence related to potential violations of constitutional rights by law enforcement and authorize grants to states to support such investigations. It would authorize grant funding for activities related to community-based policing practices and non-police public safety initiatives. It would limit the transfer of military equipment from the Defense Department to state and local law enforcement agencies." The motion was agreed to by a vote of 220 - 212. It would ban no-knock warrants in federal drug cases, mandate data collection on police encounters and create a nationwide police misconduct registry to help hold problematic officers accountable. The bill would also prohibit racial and religious profiling and redirect funding to community-based policing programs." NPR, [4/21/21]

June 2020: Garcia Voted Against The George Floyd Justice In Policing Act, To Establish Reporting And Requirements Related To Police Data And Restrict Multiple Police Practices By Federal Law Enforcement And State And Local Agencies That Receive Federal Funding. In June 2020, Garcia voted against: "Passage of the bill, as amended, that would establish reporting and oversight requirements related to policing data and restrict the use of certain policing practices by federal law enforcement agencies and state and local agencies receiving certain federal policing grants. It would restrict a number of policing practices by federal law enforcement agencies and state and local agencies that receive federal funding, including to prohibit the use of "no-knock warrants" to execute searches in drug cases; the use of deadly force, including chokeholds, except as a "last resort" to prevent imminent injury to an officer or another person; and the use of deadly or "less lethal" force before exhausting reasonable alternatives, including deescalation tactics. It would require the Justice Department to establish a national police misconduct registry, and it would establish a number of reporting requirements for law enforcement agencies, including on use of force, racial profiling, officer misconduct records and routine policing practices -- with data disaggregated by demographics of officers and civilians involved. It would eliminate "qualified immunity" protections for law enforcement officers by prohibiting legal defenses based on an officer acting "in good faith" or the purported absence of "clearly established" law. It would require federal law enforcement officers to use body cameras and dashboard cameras and require state and local agencies to use certain grant funding to purchase body cameras and develop protocols for their use. It would authorize grant funding for activities related to community-based policing practices and non-police public safety initiatives. Department to state and local law enforcement agencies.” The bill passed 208-181. HR 7120, [Vote #119, 6/25/20; CQ, 6/25/20]

- The Justice In Policing Act Would Reform Qualified Immunity And Revise Federal Law On Prosecuting Police Misconduct. “The new bill would change one very significant word in federal law when it comes to prosecuting police: ‘willful.’ That word means prosecutors charging police have to demonstrate there was willful intent on the part of the police officer to kill or harm someone — which can be extremely difficult to prove and successfully prosecute. The bill would change that word to the phrase ‘knowingly or with reckless disregard.’ It would also define a ‘death resulting’ as any act that was a ‘substantial factor contributing to the death’ of an individual. In addition, the bill changes something called qualified immunity, which courts have interpreted to give police officers and other public officials broad immunity from being sued in civil court if they have violated the constitutional rights of an individual. The bill would make it easier for plaintiffs to recover damages against police officers if the officer is sued and found guilty.” Vox, [6/25/20]
- The Justice In Policing Act Would Create Federal Bans On Chokeholds And No-Knock Warrants. “The Democratic bill would ban these kinds of no-knock warrants in federal drug cases, but also condition federal funding for state and local law enforcement agencies on prohibiting their use as well [...] The legislation would put a federal ban in place on the use of police chokeholds, which is defined by the bill as an act putting pressure on an individual’s throat or windpipe that impedes their ability to breathe. Such bans have already been supported by localities across the country including, most recently, Minneapolis. A federal chokehold ban would further condemn the use of this tactic by police and give the Justice Department more power to levy charges against law enforcement officers who use this maneuver.” Vox, [6/25/20]
- The Justice In Policing Act Would Establish A National Registry Of Misconduct By Law Enforcement Officers. “There’s currently very little data available about police misconduct, making it difficult to pin down past offenders and ensure that they don’t receive jobs in new places. According to a USA Today report, punishment for misconduct also varies at the state level, with some requiring police to decertify while others are far less punitive. Creating a national registry about misconduct would enable lawmakers to better understand its frequency and craft targeted responses to combat it.” Vox, [6/25/20]
- The Justice In Policing Act Would Require States To Report Use Of Force To The Justice Department, And Require That Deadly Force Be Used Only As A Last Resort. “Similarly, little is currently known about the frequency with which police officers currently use force, something the bill is striving to change. By mandating state documentation of use of force, law enforcement agencies can begin to determine how often police engage in such actions [...] The bill would change the use-of-force standard for federal officers from ‘reasonableness’ to only when it is necessary to either prevent death or ‘serious bodily injury.’ It would require federal officers to use deescalation techniques and only resort to force as a last resort, and would condition federal funds to state and local agencies on their adoption of the same standard.” Vox, [6/25/20]
- The Justice In Policing Act Would Require Police To Increase The Use Of Body And Dashboard Cameras. “The bill would require federal police officers to wear body cameras and put dashboard cameras on all federal police vehicles. It requires state and local departments to use existing federal funds to increase body camera use, which has been on the rise since the 2014 shooting death of Michael Brown in Ferguson, Missouri. However, research has shown that more cameras aren’t the whole story; police don’t always turn them on or review the footage while writing an incident report, and footage is not always made public.” Vox, [6/25/20]

Marijuana

Garcia Voted Against Decriminalizing The Use And Possession Of Marijuana At The Federal Level

Garcia Voted Against Decriminalizing The Use And Possession Of Cannabis At The Federal Level, Provide For The Expungement Of All Previous Cannabis-Related Arrests, And Establish The Cannabis Justice Office At The Department Of Justice, Among Other Provisions. In December 2020, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill that would decriminalize the use and possession of marijuana at the federal level. It would remove marijuana from the federal controlled substances list, eliminate federal criminal penalties for cannabis offenses and provide for the expungement of all previous arrests and convictions for non-violent federal cannabis offenses. It would create a federal excise tax on cannabis products manufactured in or imported into the United States, set at 5% for two years and gradually increasing to 8%. It would also create an annual ‘occupational tax’ of $1,000 for each cannabis production or export warehouse facility. It would establish a Treasury Department trust fund from tax proceeds, from which 40% would be available for Small Business Administration loan and licensing programs for the cannabis industry and 60% would be available for programs of a new Cannabis Justice Office within the Justice Department. The new office would administer a community reinvestment grant program for nonprofits to administer services for individuals adversely impacted by the war on drugs, including job training, reentry services, literacy programs, legal aid and substance use disorder services. Among other provisions, it would establish federal bonding, permitting and operational requirements for cannabis businesses. It would prohibit SBA programs from declining services to a business solely because it is a cannabis-related business and prohibit the denial of any federal public benefits to an individual on the basis of cannabis use or possession. It would require the Labor Statistics Bureau to compile and publish demographic data on cannabis industry business owners and employees. It would require the Government Accountability Office to conduct a study on the societal impacts of recreational cannabis legalization by states. It would strike references of ‘marihuana’ and ‘marijuana’ in existing law and replace them with ‘cannabis.’” The bill passed 228 to 164. HR 3884, [Vote #235, 12/4/20; CQ, 12/4/20]

The rule would provide for up to one hour of general debate on the bill and automatic adoption of a Nadler, D-N.Y., manager’s amendment to the bill. The manager’s amendment would maintain the authority of the Transportation Department and Coast Guard to regulate and screen for the use of marijuana along with other controlled substances; specify that the expungement of federal cannabis offenses under the bill applies to non-violent offenses; specify that individuals who received increased sentences for organizing or leading criminal activity related to a cannabis offense would not be eligible for expungement; and require a Government Accountability Office study on the societal impact of recreational cannabis legalization by states to include uses of marijuana related to the health, including the mental health, of veterans.” The Rule was adopted by a vote of 225 to 160. [...] Currently, we have a presidential administration that fails to address the crisis at the border, a state that fails to enforce laws, and a reckless call by the radical Left to defund the police — a recipe for disaster. The lack of manpower paired with open borders allowing for the transnational criminal organization leaders to expand their workforce through human trafficking is only causing the illegal activity in Southern California to grow and more people to suffer.” Washington Examiner, Mike Garcia Op-Ed, [5/24/21]

Mike Garcia, who represents a mostly rural and suburban area north of Los Angeles, used one such recent bust to make political hay. In an op-ed published by the Fox News website, Garcia included ‘dope on the table’ photos and characterized the black market as being a problem caused by ‘Democrats’ [...] He did declare, inanely and with zero basis, that the problem of the illicit market has been ‘significantly worsened in recent months, fueled by both calls to defund the police and the Biden administration’s failure to secure the border.’” [East Bay Express, 8/11/21]

Representatives Mike Garcia (CA-25), Kevin McCarthy (CA-23), Jay Obernolte (CA-08) and Ken Calvert (CA-42) led the signatories on a letter from the California Republican Congressional Delegation to U.S. Department of Justice Attorney General Merrick Garland regarding the dangerous increase of illegal marijuana grows in southern Californian. When prosecutors wait for violent or other serious crimes to occur before charging these criminals, our constituents pay the price.’” [Big Bear Grizzly, 5/17/21]

Garcia Voted Against The Elimination Of The Federal Sentencing Disparity Between Crack And Powder Cocaine. In September 2021 Garcia voted against: “Nadler, D-N.Y., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would eliminate the federal sentencing disparity between crack cocaine and powder cocaine by repealing a law that authorizes higher penalties for crack cocaine offenses compared to powder cocaine offenses, with the repeal effective retroactively. It would authorize sentencing courts to impose reduced sentences under the new guidelines for individuals convicted prior to the bill's enactment.” The motion passed by a vote of 361-66. - The Harsher Sentences For Crack Cocaine Have Disproportionately Impacted Low-Income Communities And Communities Of Color. “Crack cocaine, which is typically smoked, tends to be less expensive than powder cocaine, which is snorted in through the nose. The lower price of crack cocaine made it more easily accessible to people in lower-income communities, which subsequently meant that members of marginalized groups were more likely to face longer prison sentences compared to the lower ones for powder cocaine offenses. ‘The burden has disproportionately fallen on African American communities,’ said Rep. Hakeem Jeffries (D-N.Y.), the House Democratic caucus chairman and chief author of the bill. The Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1986, a law signed by then-President Reagan as part of the ‘War on Drugs,’ established a five-year minimum sentence for possessing at least five grams of crack, while an individual would have to possess at least 500 grams of powder cocaine to receive the same sentence.” The Hill, [9/28/21]

Unlike Garcia, A “Majority Of House Republicans” Voted To End The Federal Sentencing Disparity Between Crack And Powder Cocaine. “The House passed legislation on Tuesday that would eliminate the federal disparity in prison sentences for crack and powder cocaine offenses, in an effort to enact criminal justice reform on a bipartisan basis. The bill, which lawmakers passed 361-66, is meant to address a gap that its proponents say has largely fallen on Black people and other people of color. This amendment was modeled after U.S. Senator Richard Blumenthal’s (D-CT) CIVIL Act introduced on June 4, 2020, after President Trump threatened to invoke the Insurrection Act and deploy active-duty troops against the American people peacefully protesting the brutal killing of George Floyd and systemic racism.” Rep. Garcia: Again, I’d have to look at the level of that. I’m not a big fan of that. Social security is not one of those things though, right. Social Security is absolutely something we need to protect. ### Garcia Voted Against Preventing Sequestration Cuts To Medicare amended, that would extend from Dec. 31, 2021, to March 31, 2022, a temporary suspension of the 2 percent annual sequester of Medicare payments, and provide for payment reductions of 1 percent for the period of April 1 through June 30, 2022. As an offset, it would increase sequestration percentages above 2 percent in fiscal 2030. It would also require budget year debit for 2022 to be rolled over to the 2033 scorecards under statutory pay-as-you-go requirements, thus delaying spending cuts to Medicare and other mandatory programs subject to sequestration that would otherwise be triggered in January. It would delay a number of other Medicare payment reductions and policies, including to extend a temporary increase in payment amounts for physicians to provide a 3 percent increase for services furnished in 2022; delay for one year a provision that would phase in payment reductions for clinical diagnostic laboratory tests, prohibiting any reductions for 2021 and 2022 and prohibiting reductions greater than 15 percent for 2023 through 2025; and delay through 2022 the implementation of the Medicare radiation oncology model. It would decrease from $165 million to $101 million funding that may be expended from the Medicare Improvement Fund for fiscal 2021. Finally, the bill would establish procedures to expedite Senate consideration of a joint resolution to increase the debt limit by a specific dollar amount. Specifically, it would provide for a non-debatable motion to proceed to the joint resolution and, if the motion is agreed to, up to 10 hours of debate on the measure with no amendments or other motions in order, immediately followed by a vote on passage. Such procedures would be valid for consideration of one joint resolution by Jan. 16, 2022.” Passed by a vote of 222-212. [S 610, [Vote #404, 12/07/21; CQ, 12/07/21]

Garcia Voted Against Preventing Sequestration Cuts To Medicare And Providing The Senate With Procedures To Increase The Debt Limit. In December 2021 Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as

Garcia Voted Against The Build Back Better Act, Which Would Have Extended Medicare Coverage To Include Hearing Services

Garcia Voted Against The ‘Build Back Better’ Budget Reconciliation Bill. In November 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the fiscal 2022 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, that would provide approximately $2 trillion in investments and tax cuts to address climate change and child care, health care, education, housing and other social policies intended to support families. It would establish a child care and early learning entitlement program, providing approximately $100 billion for the program through fiscal 2024. It would provide $18 billion through fiscal 2024 for a free universal preschool program. It would extend through 2022 the expanded child tax credit provided by prior coronavirus relief law (PL 117-2) and provide $5 billion to administer the credit. It would establish a paid family and medical leave benefit for up to four weeks per year, beginning in 2024. It would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a “maximum fair price” for Insulin and select Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition. It would require manufacturers to provide rebates for single-source drugs under Medicare Parts B and D for which prices increase faster than inflation. For Medicare Part D, it would cap annual out-of-pocket limit at $2,000 beginning in 2024. It would establish or extend expanded eligibility for certain tax credits toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums through 2025. It would establish or expand a number of tax credits to incentivize actions by businesses and individuals to mitigate climate change, including to expand credits for renewable energy production and facilities, carbon capture facilities, use of alternative fuels and energy efficiency improvements at residential properties; and to establish individual credits for the purchase of electric vehicles. It would raise royalty rates and fees for oil and gas drilling leases and cancel or ban certain offshore leases. It would provide $29 billion to support the deployment of low- and zero-emission technologies, more than $20 billion for federal climate resiliency and environmental conservation activities and $9 billion for federal procurement of electric vehicles and related infrastructure. It would provide $65 billion for public housing improvements, $24 billion for rental assistance housing vouchers and $15 billion for down payment assistance and loan programs for first-generation homebuyers. It would provide $9.8 billion for local transit projects to support mobility and affordable housing access disadvantaged communities and $9 billion for lead remediation and water line replacement projects. It would forgive all debt owed by the National Flood Insurance Program's debt, for a total of $20.5 billion. It would provide such sums as necessary for the USDA to forgive farm loan debt for economically distressed farmers and ranchers. It would provide $6.6 billion to the Small Business Administration and Minority Business Development Agency to help underrepresented individuals with business development. It would provide $20 billion for Labor and Education department workforce development programs and $1.9 billion for Labor Department worker protection agencies. It would allow individuals who entered the United States prior to Jan. 1, 2011, to receive a grant of parole allowing them to remain temporarily in the country for a period of five years, but no later than Sept. 30, 2021. It would temporarily increase from $10,000 to $80,000 the annual cap on the deduction for state and local taxes for tax years 2021 through 2030. To offset costs, it would establish or modify various taxes on corporations and high-income individuals, including to establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with an annual income exceeding $1 billion; a one percent tax on stock buybacks by public companies; and an additional five percent tax on individual income over $10 million and further three percent tax on income over $25 million. It would provide $78.9 billion to improve IRS operations and tax enforcement." Passed by a vote of 220-213. HR 5376, [Vote #385, 11/19/21, CQ 11/19/21]

- Build Back Better Would Add Coverage Of Hearing Services To Medicare Part B. "Section 30901 of the Build Back Better Act would add coverage of hearing services to Medicare Part B, beginning in 2023. Coverage for hearing care would include hearing rehabilitation and treatment services by qualified audiologists, and hearing aids. Hearing aids would be available once per ear, every 5 years, to individuals diagnosed with moderately severe, severe, or profound hearing loss. Hearing services would be subject to the Medicare Part B deductible and 20% coinsurance. Hearing aids would be covered similar to other Medicare prosthetic devices and would also be subject to the Part B deductible and 20% coinsurance. For people in traditional Medicare who have other sources of coverage such as Medigap or Medicaid, their cost sharing for these services might be covered. Payment for hearing aids would only be on an assignment-related basis. As with other Medicare-covered benefits, Medicare Advantage plans would be required to cover these hearing benefits." ### Garcia Repeatedly Called For Making The 2017 Republican Tax Cuts Permanent

April 2019: Garcia Said He Would Make Trump’s Tax Plan Permanent, Calling It His Second Highest Priority. “Garcia said that instead, he would rather focus on defense and fiscal issues. ‘That’s the top priority, supporting the president’s budgets for DoD over the next five years is critical,’ he said. ‘The second issue is supporting long term tax cuts, the temporary tax cuts were put in place a couple of years ago need to be made permanent, I think that does a lot for small business and for the average family.’” Santa Clarita Valley Proclaimer, [4/28/19]

July 2019: Garcia Said He Would Vote To Make The Tax Cuts Permanent. [6:15] “Now, there were parts of it that were not beneficial to Californians and New Yorkers in particular. The state and local tax deduction limits of $10,000 was meant to target Californians and New Yorkers, and we felt that. I felt it personally, and we were capped at that as a family. So that’s something that needs to be negotiated. And those 2017 tax cuts are not permanent, they’re coming up for a vote in the next few years. So the congress that will be in place there will determine what that looks like, and I don’t think a Democrat congress will negotiate a better deal for Californians. And I don’t think Representatives, if they’re Democrats from California, are going to be able to negotiate a better deal under this administration. So I think for us as the 25th District, Santa Clarita, Antelope Valley and Simi Valley, to be able to get someone to represent them and ideally make permanent the tax cuts, but also tailor the tax cuts so we’re not being punished for being Californians.” KHTS, [7/22/19]

April 2020: Garcia Said That We Need To Make The 2017 Republican Tax Cuts Permanent. “The candidates did battle over fiscal policy, with Garcia suggesting California state government has overtaxed its residents, specifically citing gas tax hikes. He pointed at the need to protect sweeping federal tax legislation passed in 2017.

‘We need to make the tax cuts permanent,’ he said, contending the legislation played a pivotal role in a pre-pandemic U.S. economy that he called the best ‘the world has ever seen.’” [Ventura County Star, 4/26/20]

November 2020: Garcia Called For Making The 2017 Republican Tax Cuts Permanent. “Garcia touts himself as a defender of the free market, deregulation and low taxes. He sees a future of pushing to keep the Trump 2017 tax cuts permanent, and he’s recently backed legislation that would prevent legislation like AB 5 from becoming federal law. He agrees that there needs to be a more unified response to the COVID-19 pandemic and has pushed for federal aid to local cities. And while he acknowledged not everyone likes Trump’s ‘style,’ he agrees with his administration’s policies.” [Daily News of Los Angeles, 11/4/20]

California Budget & Policy Center: The Tax Cuts And Jobs Act Would Increase Income Taxes On “More Than 5 Million Households In California.” “This week, the US House of Representatives is expected to vote on federal tax legislation proposed by House Republican leaders, with the support of President Trump, that calls for significant cuts to the federal deduction for state and local taxes (SALT). ... Reducing or eliminating the SALT deduction, then, would result in double taxation, thereby increasing the income taxes paid by millions of households in the US, including more than 5 million households in California.” California Budget & Policy Center, [11/15/17]

Los Angeles Times: The Trump Tax Plan “Hits Many Middle-Income Residents Hard In California.” “President Trump again indicated this week he might be open to revisiting the controversial new limit on state and local tax deductions that hits many middle-income residents hard in California and other high-tax, Democratic states. That’s because the cap on state and local tax (SALT) deductions disproportionately impacted progressive states with high taxes by limiting the amount residents used to be able to deduct from their federal filings.” Cal Matters, [4/10/19]

PolitiFact: GOP Tax Bill Would Raise Taxes For The Middle Class After Individual Tax Cut Provisions Expired In 2025. “Gillibrand said the Republican ‘tax [plan] raises middle-class taxes.’ That’s not true during the first years of the new tax provisions. If not for the sunset for the tax changes for individuals, we likely would have rated Gillibrand’s statement False or perhaps Mostly False. Tax Experts Said The Tax Cuts And Jobs Act Increased Incentives For Companies To Move Jobs Overseas. “What happened to the workers in Clinton, tax experts say, will probably happen to more Americans if the Republican tax overhaul becomes law. The legislation fails to eliminate long-standing incentives for companies to move overseas and, in some cases, may even increase them, they say. ‘This bill is potentially more dangerous than our current system,’ said Stephen Shay, a senior lecturer at Harvard Law School and former Treasury Department international tax expert in the Obama administration. ‘It creates a real incentive to shift real activity offshore.’” Washington Post, [12/15/17]

Build Back Better

Garcia Voted Against Build Back Better, Which Would Cut Taxes For Working Families, Make The Ultra-Wealthy And Corporations Pay Their Fair Share, And Stop Rewarding Corporations For Shipping Jobs Overseas

Garcia Voted Against The ‘Build Back Better’ Budget Reconciliation Bill

Garcia Voted Against The ‘Build Back Better’ Budget Reconciliation Bill. In November 2021, Garcia voted against: “Passage of the fiscal 2022 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, that would provide approximately $2 trillion in investments and tax cuts to address climate change and child care, health care, education, housing and other social policies intended to support families. It would establish a child care and early learning entitlement program, providing approximately $100 billion for the program through fiscal 2024. It would provide $18 billion through fiscal 2024 for a free universal preschool program. It would extend through 2022 the expanded child tax credit provided by prior coronavirus relief law (PL 117-2) and provide $5 billion to administer the credit. It would establish a paid family and medical leave benefit for up to four weeks per year, beginning in 2024. It would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a "maximum fair price" for insulin and select Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition. It would require manufacturers to provide rebates for single-source drugs under Medicare Parts B and D for which prices increase faster than inflation. For Medicare Part D, it would cap annual out-of-pocket limit at $2,000 beginning in 2024. It would establish or extend expanded eligibility for certain tax credits toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums through 2025. It would establish or expand a number of tax credits to incentivize actions by businesses and individuals to mitigate climate change, including to expand credits for renewable energy production and facilities, carbon capture facilities, use of alternative fuels and energy efficiency improvements at residential properties; and to establish individual credits for the purchase of electric vehicles. It would raise royalty rates and fees for oil and gas drilling leases and cancel or ban certain offshore leases. It would provide $29 billion to support the deployment of low- and zero-emission technologies, more than $20 billion for federal climate resiliency and environmental conservation activities and $9 billion for federal procurement of electric vehicles and related infrastructure. It would provide $65 billion for public housing improvements, $24 billion for rental assistance housing vouchers and $15 billion for down payment assistance and loan programs for first-generation homebuyers. It would provide $9.8 billion for local transit projects to support mobility and affordable housing access disadvantaged communities and $9 billion for lead remediation and water line replacement projects. It would forgive all debt owed by the National Flood Insurance Program's debt, for a total of $20.5 billion. It would provide such sums as necessary for the USDA to forgive farm loan debt for economically distressed farmers and ranchers. It would provide $6.6 billion to the Small Business Administration and Minority Business Development Agency to help underrepresented individuals with business development. It would provide $20 billion for Labor and Education department workforce development programs and $1.9 billion for Labor Department worker protection agencies. It would allow individuals who entered the United States prior to Jan. 1, 2011, to receive a grant of parole allowing them to remain temporarily in the country for a period of five years, but no later than Sept. 30, 2021. It would temporarily increase from $10,000 to $80,000 the annual cap on the deduction for state and local taxes for tax years 2021 through 2030. To offset costs, it would establish or modify various taxes on corporations and high-income individuals, including to establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with an annual income exceeding $1 billion; a one percent tax on stock buybacks by public companies; and an additional five percent tax on individual income over $10 million and further three percent tax on income over $25 million. It would provide $78.9 billion to improve IRS operations and tax enforcement.” Passed by a vote of 220-213. HR 5376, [Vote #385, 11/19/21, CQ 11/19/21]

Build Back Better Would Lower Taxes On Middle Class And Working Families By Extending Increases In The Child Tax Credit And The Earned Income Tax Credit. “Cut taxes for families and workers. Prior to the pandemic, 8% of children under the age of 18 in Kansas lived in poverty. The Build Back Better framework will bolster financial security and spur economic growth in Kansas by reducing taxes on the middle class and those striving to break into it. The framework will extend Child Tax Credit (CTC) increases of $300/month per child under 6 or $250/month per child ages 6 to 17. This will continue the largest one-year reduction in child poverty in history. And critically, the agreement includes permanent refundability for the Child Tax Credit, meaning that the neediest families will continue to receive the full Child Tax Credit over the long-run. The framework will also provide a tax cut of up to $1,500 in tax cuts for 163,700 low-wage workers in Kansas by extending the American Rescue Plan’s Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) expansion.” White House, accessed [4/22/22]

Build Back Better Would “Adopt A 15% Country-By-Country Minimum Tax On Foreign Profits Of U.S. Corporations, So That They No Longer Receive Massive Tax Benefits From” Shipping Jobs Overseas. “President Biden is announcing a framework for the Build Back Better Act. [...] Stop rewarding corporations for shipping jobs and profits overseas. President Biden has led the world to stop the race to the bottom in corporate taxes, while also calling for an end to incentives that encourage corporations to ship jobs and profits overseas. That’s why the President won an agreement among 136 countries on a 15% global minimum tax. This framework will help finish the job. Consistent with that agreement, it’d adopt a 15% country-by-country minimum tax on foreign profits of U.S. corporations, so that they no longer receive massive tax benefits from shifting profits and jobs abroad. And, these reforms would ensure that other countries abide by the agreement by imposing a penalty rate on any foreign corporations based in countries that do not. It would apply a 5 percent rate above income of $10 million, and an additional 3 percent above income of $25 million. ### Garcia Said The SALT Deduction Needed To Be Negotiated

July 2019: Garcia Said The SALT Deduction Needed To Be Negotiated. [6:15] “Now, there were parts of it that were not beneficial to Californians and New Yorkers in particular. So that’s something that needs to be negotiated. And those 2017 tax cuts are not permanent, they’re coming up for a vote in the next few years. So the congress that will be in place there will determine what that looks like, and I don't think a Democrat congress will negotiate a better deal for Californians. And I don't think Representatives, if they're Democrats from California, are going to be able to negotiate a better deal under this administration. ### Garcia Supported Removing The SALT Deduction Cap

The First Bill That Garcia Introduced In Congress Would Have Repealed The SALT Deduction Cap. “GOP Rep. Mike Garcia of Santa Clarita, a swing-seat Los Angeles County lawmaker, introduced a bill to repeal the SALT deduction cap as his first act after a controversial vote to support efforts that would have overturned November's presidential election results.” [San Francisco Chronicle, 2/2/21]

Garcia Said That Removing The SALT Cap “Would Put Thousands Of Dollars Of People’s Hard-Earned Money Back In Their Pockets.” “Prior to the 2017 tax plan championed by House Republicans and President Donald Trump, Americans had been able to deduct any amount they paid in state and local taxes, also known as SALT, from their federal incomes. The 2017 law capped those deductions at $10,000, even for married couples filing jointly. [...] But many Republicans who won House seats in Southern California did so, in part, by promising to repeal the SALT cap. And now they're pitching legislation and supporting talks to possibly reverse the $10,000 deduction limit as part of President Joe Biden's planned $2 trillion-plus infrastructure bill. 'In our state, a middle-class married couple can quickly hit the cap if they work and own a home,' said Rep. Mike Garcia, R-Santa Clarita, whose first piece of legislation after taking office Jan. 7 calls for reversing the SALT deduction limit. 'Removing the cap would put thousands of dollars of people's hard-earned money back in their pockets.'" [Orange County Register, 4/13/21]

Sacramento's policies target the most vulnerable like our senior citizens who now rank CA #48 out of 50 for best states to retire in. This is while Dems are also looking to end prop 13 which will make it even tougher on seniors. We need to lower taxes on pensions, cut the wasteful spending, and cut regulations that are driving healthcare costs. Otherwise the exodus will continue.

Garcia Falsely Claimed That Taxes And Regulations Were Causing A “Mass Exodus From California”

July 2021: Garcia Claimed There Was A Mass Exodus From California Because Californians Were “Being Frankly Overtaxed And Over-Regulated.” “Garcia, R-Saugus, said his ‘focus from a legislative perspective, is trying to make sure we can try to keep Californians in California.’ Garcia added that a much-discussed mass exodus from California is ‘a symbol of folks being frankly overtaxed and over-regulated.’ [Daily News of Los Angeles, 7/10/21]

- July 2021: A University Of California Survey Found That There Was No Evidence Of A California Exodus. “A recent survey by the University of California — which drew on public opinion data, the U.S. Census, consumer credit histories, home ownership rates, venture capital investments and information from the Franchise Tax Board — showed that despite the fact that the state is losing a congressional seat for the first time in history due to slow population growth, there’s no evidence of a ‘California exodus.’” [Daily News of Los Angeles, 7/10/21]

Garcia Claimed Taxes In California Were “Out Of Control”

Garcia Said He Was Running For Congress “Because Taxes In California Are Out Of Control.” “Garcia announced his candidacy on April 10, 2019, slightly more than two months after Hill took office. ‘I am running for office because taxes in California are out of control,’ Garcia told City News Service. ‘Southern Californians simply cannot afford more taxes and we cannot take liberal Sacramento policies to Washington.’” [City News Service, 5/12/20]

Garcia Said That California’s Taxes Was One Reason It Was “The Most Underachieving State In The Nation.” “Republican Rep. Mike Garcia of California, who won a special election in May and then squeaked out a win on Nov. 3, said his state is ‘the most underachieving state in the nation’ with high taxes and fuel prices and low-ranked public education. He said he is moving his staff away from liberal-oriented internet platforms to new alternatives.” [Washington Times, 5/10/21]

Supply Chain Issues

Garcia Voted Against The America COMPETES Act, Aimed At Increasing The U.S.’s Global Competitiveness

Garcia Voted Against The America COMPETES Act, Aimed At Increasing The U.S.’s Global Competitiveness. In February 2022 Garcia voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, comprising a package of provisions related to scientific research and development and international competitiveness, including provisions to authorize more than $135 billion over five years for federal investment in scientific research and development programs; provide more than $52 billion in supplemental appropriations for the U.S. semiconductor industry; and require various actions related to U.S. technological competitiveness and foreign policy, particularly with regard to countering Chinese influence. Among provisions related to science and technology research and development, it would authorize $78 billion through fiscal 2026 for National Science Foundation activities, including $13.3 billion for a new NSF Directorate for Science and Engineering Solutions to support use-inspired research and development that addresses societal challenges such as climate change, global competitiveness in critical technologies, cybersecurity, national security, social and economic inequality, and education and workforce development in science and technology. It would authorize $50.2 billion through fiscal 2026 for Energy Department science activities, including research and development related to climate issues, alternative energy sources and quantum technologies. It would authorize $8 billion through fiscal 2026 for the National Institute of Standards and Technology and expand NIST functions to include information security and cybersecurity research and development activities. Among supply chain provisions, it would provide $52.7 billion through fiscal 2026 in supplemental appropriations to fund a program to incentivize research, development and workforce development related to the production of semiconductors, established by the fiscal 2021 defense authorization law. It would establish a Commerce Department office to lead federal efforts to strengthen supply chains and domestic manufacturing in critical industries, and it would authorize $45 billion through fiscal 2027 for grants and loans under the office. It would appropriate $1.5 billion through fiscal 2031 to support 5G wireless network development. Among foreign policy provisions, it would require the president and State Department to develop diplomatic engagement strategies to address global economic and security development, particularly with regard to countering Chinese influence and economic coercion. It would authorize more than $2 billion in bilateral and regional foreign assistance and $1.25 billion for diplomatic engagement in the Indo-Pacific region for fiscal 2022, as well as over $1 billion through fiscal 2026 for foreign military financing and security programs in the region. It would include various provisions related to global action on climate change, including to establish an interagency task force to monitor climate change in relation to national security risks and authorize $8 billion through fiscal 2023 for contributions to the U.N. Green Climate Fund. It would extend a wide range of duty reductions and suspensions; update certain trade policies to include standards related to environmental, labor, human rights and intellectual property protections; and establish a U.S. Trade Representative committee to review and potentially block overseas investments in foreign adversary nations that could impact U.S. critical capabilities. Among workforce and economic development provisions, the bill would reauthorize and expand the Labor Department national apprenticeship system; authorize several new or expanded NSF programs related to expanding science, technology, engineering and mathematics education, workforce development and participation of underrepresented groups in STEM; create a new class of nonimmigrant ‘W’ visas for entrepreneurs associated with U.S. start-up companies; and reauthorize and expand the Trade Adjustment Assistance program to support individuals and communities that have been adversely impacted by international trade.” The bill passed by a vote of 222-210. H.R. 4521, [Vote #31, 2/4/22; CQ, 2/4/22]

- The America COMPETES Act Authorized $45 Billion To Bolster The Supply Chain And Increase U.S. Manufacturing Of “Critical” Goods. “The House bill would provide $45 billion over six years in grants and loans to improve the nation's supply chains and to boost American manufacturing of goods deemed critical for national security and the US economy -- like products for public health, communications technology and food -- according to a summary of the bill provided by House Democrats. Similar to the Senate bill, it would create a new initiative within the Department of Commerce to help promote the resiliency of the nation's supply chains. The House bill would establish an office that would monitor supply chains, identify vulnerabilities and designate which products are critical. The agency would also be tasked with building up stockpiles to prevent shortages of goods in the event of a future supply chain shock.” CNN, [2/4/22]
- The America COMPETES Act Invested $3 Billion In Solar Manufacturing To Reduce The U.S.’s Reliance On China. “The House legislation would set aside billions of dollars to bolster research and manufacturing. [...] It would set aside another $3 billion for the nation's solar manufacturing supply chain, aiming to reduce the country's reliance on China for parts.” CNN, [2/4/22]
- The America COMPETES Act Invested $52 Billion In Domestic Manufacturing And Research Of Semiconductors To Decrease The U.S.’s Technological Dependence On Asia. “The House voted Friday to pass the America COMPETES Act, a bill that aims to increase U.S. competitiveness with China and to address the country’s shortage of semiconductors by strengthening the country’s supply chain. [...] The bill includes $52 billion to support domestic manufacturing and research of semiconductors, the chips that are used in electronic devices and have faced shortages throughout the pandemic, contributing to delays and increased costs. The incentives for semiconductor production come as the U.S. has increasingly relied on imports for computer chips. Twelve percent of the world's chips are made in the U.S., down from 37% in the 1990s, according to industry officials. About 80% are made in Asia.” USA Today, [2/4/22]
- The America COMPETES Act Funded An Aid Program For Workers Impacted By Increased Imports And Invested In STEM Education Programs. “The measure, known as the America COMPETES Act, passed 222-210 in a near-party-line vote. [...] The legislation would also fund a government program to aid workers who lost jobs or saw their pay cut as a result of increased imports, as well as boost funds for the National Science Foundation and STEM education programs.” New York Post, [2/4/22]

- The American COMPETES Act Provided “More Than $1 Billion Toward Increasing Diversity” In Science And Technology To Increase STEM Employment. “Congress is aiming to reshape America’s workforce through new legislation that would direct more than $1 billion toward increasing diversity of the scientists, researchers and technologists who drive the innovation economy. The measure includes $900 million for grants and partnerships with historically Black colleges and universities, $164 million to study barriers for people of color in the field and $17.5 million to combat sexual harassment. They’re part of a expansive package of bills known as the America Competes Act, which lawmakers hope will ensure the United States continues to lead the global economy. [...] A report from the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering and Medicine estimated the United States will need 1 million more people employed in those sectors over the next decade than it is currently on track to produce. The group said the country will not reach that goal without substantially increasing diversity in the labor force.” CNBC, [2/4/22]
- The America COMPETES Act Included Provisions To Hold China Accountable For Human Rights Violations. “The legislation includes provisions to strengthen US relations with Taiwan, new sanctions for officials in Xinjiang accused of ‘systematic rape, coercive abortion, forced sterilisation, or involuntary contraceptive implantation policies and practices’ and an authorisation for millions of dollars in funding to counter Chinese government censorship and disinformation. [...] Advocacy groups supporting human rights in Xinjiang and Hong Kong applauded the bill. The Washington-based Hong Kong Democracy Council said it was ‘elated’, and the non-profit Uyghur Human Rights Project said it was ‘encouraged that Congress continues to put rhetoric into action’. ‘We are particularly encouraged by provisions meant to provide safe haven for Uyghurs fleeing atrocities, and to tighten scrutiny on Chinese companies complicit in these abuses,’ said Uyghur Human Rights Project executive director Omer Kanat.” South China Morning Post, [2/4/22]
- The America COMPETES Act Included Provisions To “Offset China’s Market-Distorting Trade Practices.” “The U.S. House of Representatives on Friday narrowly passed a multibillion-dollar bill aimed at increasing American competitiveness with China and boosting U.S. semiconductor manufacturing, despite Republican opposition. [...] It includes changes to U.S. trade rules intended to offset China's market-distorting trade practices, including by strengthening anti-dumping rules.” Reuters, [2/4/22]
- The American COMPETES Act Authorized $10 Billion To Help Developing Countries Address Climate Change. “The bill also authorizes $8.8 billion this year for Energy Department research and development programs, with that amount increasing each year through fiscal 2026. And it authorizes as much as $8 billion to help developing countries address climate change over the next two years and another $2 billion annually to help developing countries deploy clean energy technologies, expand zero-emission vehicles, promote sustainable land use, and adapt to the effects of climate change.” Bloomberg, [2/4/22]

Tuberville Military Promotion Hold

Garcia Opposed Tuberville's Hold On Military Promotions. "Spectrum Host 3:16 Well, let's talk about you know, taking care of those who have served and also those who are currently serving. Now you're on the House Intelligence Committee, which oversees our military, but right now, over 300 military promotions are being blocked by Senator Tommy Tuberville over an abortion policy, leaving the lives of these service members and families in limbo. Do you think it's right to hurt these families over a political stance? Rep. Mike Garcia 3:37 No, I've been very vocal about this. His tactics and strategy for this is actually extremely detrimental. I have a lot of friends who have served for 20 to 24 years who are on the fence about whether they stay in or get out. These are folks who are O-6's or captains in the Navy about to make Admiral and this tactic by a Senator Tuberville is frankly the forcing function for a lot of these people getting out. They're being asked to do more for less meaning they're taking on a role as an admiral without getting paid for it." Spectrum News, [11/20/23]

Garcia Op-Ed: "An Undeniable Crisis For Military. SCV Signal, Mike Garcia Op-Ed, [12/30/23]

- In An Op-Ed Garcia Claimed The Military Was Facing A Recruiting Crisis Because The Pentagon Was Infusing The Military With Partisanship. "Our military is in the middle of an undeniable crisis in recruitment, retention and morale. The most talented and experienced servicemembers may now decide that retirement sounds better than a promotion. The best and brightest of our next generation may now decide that flipping burgers sounds better than risking their lives in return for food stamps. We need to refocus our priorities before it's too late. The Pentagon needs to stop infusing our military with partisanship and focus on its one true mission: Deter and win wars. The legislators in Washington need to stop grandstanding and focus on our one true mission: Find compromise and legislate on behalf of the American people. And the president simply must do more to support and inspire our troops." SCV Signal, Mike Garcia Op-Ed, [12/30/23]

Consumer Protections

The amendment was adopted 222 to 203. HR 4350, [Vote #271, 9/22/21; CQ, 9/23/21]

Garcia Voted For A Bill That Would Provide Appropriations Funding For Veterans Affairs And Military Construction, But Prohibits Use Of Funds For Abortion And Gender-Affirming Care. In July 2023, Garcia voted for: “Passage of the bill that would provide $317.4 billion in mandatory and discretionary funding for the VA, including $121 billion for VA medical care programs, $166 billion for veteran disability compensation and other benefits, $151.4 billion for veteran pensions, $17.5 billion for military construction projects and $2 billion for military personnel housing. It would also provide $293 million for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Security Investment Program, intended to counter Russian and Chinese military activities. Among other provisions, it would prohibit the use of funds provided by the bill to close or realign Naval Station Guantanamo Bay and provide $189 million for Arlington National Cemetery, including funding for its southern expansion. The bill would allow the use of funding for the Veterans Affairs Department Medical Services to reimburse veterans and their spouses for assisted reproductive technology treatments or adoption expenses. It would also prohibit the use of the bill's funds to provide abortions, to implement a September 2022 VA rule that allows abortion counseling and establishes exceptions for the prohibition on abortions in the medical benefits package for veterans and civilian beneficiaries, to provide surgical procedures or hormone therapies for gender-affirming care, and to fly or display a flag over a VA facility or national cemetery that is not the U.S. flag, military-related or another government jurisdiction. As amended, the bill would prohibit the use of the bill's funds to interfere with a veteran's participation in a legal state medical cannabis program, to enforce COVID-19 mask mandates, and to implement the COVID-19 vaccination program for VA health care personnel.” The bill passed by a vote of 219-211. Within total funding, the bill would provide $8.35 billion in overseas contingency operations funding and $37.5 billion in emergency funding related to the COVID-19 pandemic, veterans’ healthcare, and infrastructure projects, not subject to discretionary spending caps.” The motion passed 224 to 189. HR 7608, [Vote #166, 7/24/20; CQ, 7/24/20]

Garcia Voted Against Providing For Consideration Of H.R. 2, A $1.5 Trillion Infrastructure Package As Well As $3.4 Billion In Additional Funding For VA Construction, And Increasing Funding For The Forest Service And DOT Research Projects. In June 2020, Garcia voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 1028) that would provide for House floor consideration of the $1.5 trillion infrastructure package (HR 2). It would provide for automatic adoption of a DeFazio, D-Ore., manager's amendment that would, among other provisions, require contractors and subcontractors for certain projects funded by the bill to meet federal prevailing wage requirements for laborers and mechanics; authorize $3.4 billion for Veterans Affairs Department construction and maintenance efforts; grant Transportation Security Administration employees the same collective bargaining rights as other federal employees; double the cap for the U.S. Forest Service reforestation trust fund to $60 million per fiscal year; and authorize $30 million annually from fiscal 2022 through 2025 for the Transportation Department to establish a demonstration program for advanced transportation technologies in small- and mid-sized communities. The rule would also provide for floor consideration of a total of 170 amendments to the measure, including 167 amendments contained in six en bloc packages and three standalone amendments.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 222-183. ## Debt Limit Package

Garcia Voted For Suspending The Debt Limit Through March 2024 Or Until $1.5 Trillion Has Been Reached And Capping Federal Spending For FY 2024 At 2022 Levels With A Capped 1% Per Year Growth.

In April 2023, Garcia voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would suspend the statutory limit on federal debt through March 31, 2024, or until an additional $1.5 trillion has been borrowed — whichever occurs first. It would also include a range of provisions to limit federal spending, as well as the text of a previously passed energy and permitting policy package. The bill would set base discretionary spending limits through fiscal 2033, capping spending for fiscal 2024 at the fiscal 2022 level of $1.47 trillion — a reduction from current spending levels — and raising the cap by 1 percent annually through fiscal 2033. It would also include similar annual cap adjustments for specified programs, including for wildfire suppression, disability reviews and redeterminations, health care fraud and abuse control, and disaster reemployment services and eligibility assessments. The bill would rescind unobligated amounts from various funds provided by the fiscal 2022 reconciliation package (PL 117-169) for COVID-19 relief, IRS enforcement, and certain climate- and infrastructure-focused initiatives, as well as all unobligated funding from the March 2021 coronavirus relief reconciliation package (PL 117-2) and earlier coronavirus response laws. The bill would expand or establish work requirements for Medicaid beneficiaries aged 19 to 55 and raise from 49 to 55 the oldest age at which existing work requirements would apply for Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program beneficiaries. It would also modify various work standards for the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program, including to update the baseline for calculating certain state workforce participation standards and require states to collect certain data related to work outcomes for TANF participants. To limit regulatory spending, the bill would nullify pending executive actions suspending student loan payments and prohibit the Education Department from implementing any substantially similar actions without congressional approval. It would also establish a process to require congressional approval of all “major” federal rules that would have an annual impact of at least $100 million, cause a major increase in prices, or cause significant adverse effects to economic competitiveness. Among energy- and climate-focused provisions, the bill would repeal, phase out or narrow a variety of climate-focused tax credits under the fiscal 2022 reconciliation package, including repealing new credits for solar and wind projects, sustainable aviation fuel and clean fuel production. It would also include the full text of the House-passed energy and permitting package (HR 1) that would require a number of actions to boost the domestic production of fossil fuels and certain critical minerals and accelerate the construction of natural gas pipelines and other energy infrastructure, while reversing or repealing certain presidential actions taken and laws enacted during the Biden administration related to energy policy and climate change.” The bill passed by a vote of 217-215. - New York Times: The Republican Debt Limit Bill Did Not Include Many Specifics On What Government Spending Would Be Cut. “Their bill, which would raise the country’s borrowing limit for a year in exchange for a decade of spending reductions, does not include many specifics. It achieves most of its savings with spending caps for discretionary spending — the part of the budget allocated annually by Congress that is not automatic like Social Security payments — but it doesn’t say what discretionary programs should be cut and which ones should be spared.” New York Times, [5/8/23]
- The House Republican Debt Limit Plan Was Expected To Force 22% In Cuts Across The Federal Government. “The legislation Congressional Republicans introduced sets overall appropriations for Fiscal Year 2024 at the same level as FY 2022. At this level, all appropriated funding—including both defense and domestic programs—would be cut deeply. However, Congressional Republicans have indicated that they are not willing to cut defense funding at all, which means that everything else in annual appropriations—from cancer research, to education, to veterans’ health care—would be cut by much more. The math is simple, but unforgiving. At their proposed topline funding level—and with defense funding left untouched as Republicans have proposed—everything else is forced to suffer enormous cuts. In fact, their bill would force a cut of 22 percent—cuts that would grow deeper and deeper with each year of their plan.” The White House, [4/20/23]
- Cutting Federal Spending By 22% Meant 31 Million Fewer Veteran Outpatient Visits And 81,000 Layoffs Across The Veterans Health Administration, Leaving Vets Vulnerable. “Cutting funding by 22 percent would mean 30 million fewer veteran outpatient visits, and 81,000 jobs lost across the Veterans Health Administration—leaving veterans unable to get appointments for care including wellness visits, cancer screenings, mental health services, and substance use disorder treatment.” The White House, [4/20/23]

- Recouping Unspent Pandemic Aid Was Expected To Take Away Billions From The VA That Would Limit The Availability Of Healthcare Services For Veterans. “Democrats are jumping on the House GOP plan to recoup unspent pandemic aid in their debt limit bill, charging that the move will harm agencies counting on that funding, including the Department of Veterans Affairs. [...] But few issues carry the political resonance as potential cuts to veterans benefits, and Democrats have been aiming their fire particularly at over $2 billion sitting in VA health accounts that the debt limit bill would cancel. Rescinding that money would “dramatically limit the ability for VA to provide healthcare services both within and outside of VA by clawing back needed funding for medical care,” according to the Democrats' memo.” Roll Call, [4/25/23]
- Cutting Federal Spending By 22% Was Expected To Negatively Impact 25 Million Low Income Students And 7.5 Million Students With Disabilities. “A 22 percent cut would impact 25 million students in schools that teach low-income students and 7.5 million students with disabilities, which could force a reduction of up to 108,000 teachers, aides or other key staff.” The White House, [4/20/23]
- Cutting Federal Spending By 22% Was Expected To Take Away Nutrition Services For More Than A Million Seniors. “A 22 percent cut would take away nutrition services, such as Meals on Wheels, from more than 1 million seniors. For many of these seniors, these programs provide the only healthy meal they receive on any given day.” The White House, [4/20/23]
- The Republican Debt Limit Plan Was Expected To Leave Over Half A Million Of The Poorest Americans Without Health Insurance. “More than a half million of the poorest Americans could be left without health insurance under legislation passed by House Republicans that would require people to work in exchange for health care coverage through Medicaid. It's one of dozens of provisions tucked into a GOP bill that would allow for an increase in the debt limit but curb government spending over the next decade. The bill is unlikely to become law, though. It is being used by House Republicans to draw Democrats to the negotiating table and avoid a debt default.” ABC News, [4/30/23]
- The Republican Debt Limit Plan Was Expected To Cause Over 275,000 Americans A Month To Lose Access To Food Stamps. “House Republicans passed a debt ceiling bill last week with a provision to enact new work requirements for those seeking federal assistance, claiming the measure would help cut federal spending. The Congressional Budget Office (CBO), a nonpartisan agency, said last week that the stricter work requirements proposed by the House GOP would reduce federal spending by $120 billion over the next decade, a small portion of the roughly $4.8 trillion in savings the bill would generate. About 600,000 Americans would lose health insurance, while about 275,000 Americans a month would lose access to food stamps, the CBO said.” Time, [5/1/23]
- Republican Spending Cuts Were Expected To Cut Cancer Research, Nutritional Assistance For Poor Mothers And Infants, And The Social Security Administration Employees By More Than Half. “The charts above show how exempting big categories of spending would make the budget caps more draconian. Universal discretionary caps would cut spending by an average of 18 percent over a decade, compared with what's expected if current levels grew according to inflation. But with defense, veterans' care and homeland security exempted, the caps would result in cutting the rest of the discretionary budget by more than half. Defense is the largest category of discretionary spending in the budget. Veterans' health care is the second largest. The programs that would be subject to such deeper cuts include nutrition assistance for poor mothers and infants, air traffic control, the State Department, cancer research and Social Security Administration employees.” New York Times, [5/8/23]
- The Debt Limit Bill Repealed Tax Incentives For Renewable Energy And Toughened Work Requirements For Antipoverty Programs, Including Medicaid. “The U.S. House of Representatives on Wednesday narrowly passed a bill to raise the government's $31.4 trillion debt ceiling that includes sweeping spending cuts over the next decade. [...] The House bill would increase Washington's borrowing authority by $1.5 trillion or until March 31, whichever comes first, raising the specter of another round of negotiations during the 2024 presidential campaign. The bill would pare spending to 2022 levels and then cap growth at 1% a year, repeal some tax incentives for renewable energy and stiffen work requirements for some antipoverty programs. [...] The overnight changes removed a provision that would have ended a tax credit for biofuels that was part of Biden's climate change initiatives in the 2022 Inflation Reduction Act. Bending to the far-right wing of the party, Republicans also accelerated some new, tougher work requirements for receiving Medicaid healthcare benefits for the poor, angering Democrats.” Reuters, [4/27/23]

- The Debt Limit Bill Cut Unspent COVID-19 Relief Funds, Revoked Internal Revenue Service Funding, And Tightened Work Requirements For Medicaid And Food Stamp Recipients. “The House on Wednesday passed a bill that would raise the debt ceiling and slash trillions of dollars in government spending, delivering House Speaker Kevin McCarthy a victory in his efforts to pressure the White House to begin negotiations ahead of a fast-approaching deadline to avoid a default. [...] The House voted 217 to 215 to pass the Limit, Save, Grow Act of 2023, with all but four Republican members voting in favor. The House GOP's plan would freeze spending at levels adopted in fiscal year 2022 and cap future federal spending increases at 1% annually for the next decade. It also claws back unspent federal COVID-19 relief funds, revokes some of the $80 billion for the Internal Revenue Service included in the Inflation Reduction Act and tightens the work requirements for Medicaid and food stamp recipients.” CBS News, [4/26/23]
- Recouping Unspent Pandemic Aid Was Expected To Revoke Billions From The Department Of Transportation For Highway, Aviation And Transit Agencies. “Democrats are jumping on the House GOP plan to recoup unspent pandemic aid in their debt limit bill, charging that the move will harm agencies counting on that funding, including the Department of Veterans Affairs. [...] Almost $6 billion would come out of unspent Transportation Department funds for highway, aviation and transit agencies. ‘Rescinding this funding would eliminate critical resources for mayors and governors to keep their airports open, trains running, and buses operating to get their essential workers to and from their jobs to keep our economy and people alive,’ the Democrats' memo states.” Roll Call, [4/25/23]

Overall, it said the Republican plan, which would sharply reduce budget spending in exchange for a short-term increase in the debt ceiling, would reduce funding for U.S. transit and highway infrastructure projects by nearly $5.2 billion. The White House has said President Joe Biden would veto the legislation, and has called on Congress to raise the debt limit without conditions. President Biden and his administration have pushed back hard against the proposal from Republican House of Representatives Speaker Kevin McCarthy, which would implement $4.5 trillion in spending cuts with a $1.5 trillion increase in the $31.4 trillion U.S. debt limit.” Reuters, [4/26/23]

[...] The bill rolls back some of the president's signature policies, including his plan to forgive up to $20,000 in student loan debt — two challenges to the debt relief program are pending before the Supreme Court — and climate provisions enacted through the Inflation Reduction Act, Democrats' signature health care, tax and climate package.” CBS News, [4/26/23]

The rule would provide for up to two hours of debate on the bill and provide for automatic adoption of an Arrington, R-Texas, amendment. The Arrington amendment to HR 2811 would strike from the bill provisions that would repeal tax credits for biofuels and other alternative fuels, which were initially enacted in the fiscal 2022 reconciliation law (PL 117-169), and strike from the bill a provision that would narrow eligibility for tax credits for carbon oxide sequestration. It would create a transition rule for the bill's repeal of sustainable aviation fuel and clean fuel production credits, maintaining eligibility for entities to receive such credits based on binding contracts or other investment actions between Aug. 26, 2022, and April 19, 2023. It would rescind the balances of unobligated funds provided by the fiscal 2022 reconciliation law for programs related to greenhouse gas pollution reduction, energy infrastructure updates, Federal Highway Administration neighborhood access and equity projects, energy efficient building codes and National Park System maintenance. Finally, the amendment would make certain modifications in the bill to the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program, including increased work requirements, effective one year earlier, on Oct. 1, 2024, and establish that a purpose of the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program is to 'assist low-income adults in obtaining employment and increasing their earnings.' The rule would also provide for up to one hour of debate on a joint resolution (H J Res 39) providing for congressional disapproval of a Commerce Department rule related to duties for solar-energy materials.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 219-210. ### Repealing IRS Funding

Garcia Voted For Repealing Remaining IRS Funding From The $71 Billion Appropriated In The FY 2022 Budget. In January 2023, Garcia voted for: “Passage of the bill that would rescind unobligated balances from $71 billion appropriated to the IRS in the fiscal 2022 budget reconciliation bill (PL 117-169) for tax enforcement and operations support, as well as $726 million for a task force to design a free direct e-file system for tax returns; the Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration; Office of Tax Policy functions related to promulgating tax regulations; the U.S. Tax Court; and Treasury Department oversight and support of the IRS. It would not rescind any funding from the $3.1 billion provided by the reconciliation bill for taxpayer services or the $4.7 billion for business systems modernization.” The bill passed by a vote of 221-210. - The Rule Pertained To Federal Employee Status And Protections When Federal Employees Change Positions. “The Office of Personnel Management (OPM) is proposing a rule to reinforce and clarify longstanding civil service protections and merit system principles, codified in law, as they relate to the movement of Federal employees and positions from the competitive service to the excepted service, or from one excepted service schedule to another. First, it clarifies that, upon such a move, an employee retains the status and civil service protections they had already accrued by law, unless the employee relinquishes such rights or status by voluntarily encumbering a position that explicitly results in a loss of, or different, rights. Second, it interprets ‘confidential, policy-determining, policy-making, or policy-advocating’ and ‘confidential or policy-determining’ to describe positions, generally excepted from civil service protections, in accordance with statutory text, legislative history for that text, and congressional intent, to reinforce the interpretation that this term was intended to mean noncareer, political appointments.

Third, it provides specific additional procedures that apply when moving positions from the competitive service to the excepted service, or from one excepted service schedule to another, for the purposes of good administration, to add transparency, and to provide employees with a right of appeal to the Merit Systems Protection Board (MSPB or Board) to the extent any such move purportedly strips employees of their civil service status and protections.” Federal Register, [9/18/23]
