Joe Teirab wants to ban abortion – taking away women’s reproductive rights and freedoms. He said that he is 100% pro-life. He is a lifelong anti-abortion activist. He has led anti-abortion groups and served on their board. Teirab said, “I am 100% pro-life,” and “I want to be part of the solutions and consensus to make [abortion] go away.” If Teirab had his way, he’d take away women’s rights and freedoms and turn that decision-making power over to the government. Teirab would let politicians ban abortion – with no exceptions for rape, incest, or to save a woman’s life.

Joe Teirab Wants To Ban Abortion – Taking Away Women’s Reproductive Rights And Freedoms

Teirab Said That He Wanted To Be “Part Of The Solutions To Make [Abortions] “Go Away.” TEIRAB: “And it hurts my heart that this has happened since 1973, that we even had abortion in this world. I want to be part of the solutions and consensus to make it go away.” [Le Seur County GOP Meeting, YouTube, 13:25-13:$0, 11/6/23] AUDIO

Teirab Said That “The Supreme Court Did The Right Thing By Putting The Decision Back To The States.” “Teirab told Axios that while he is personally ‘pro-life,’ he ‘would not be in support of more federal control on abortion.’ ‘I think the Supreme Court did the right thing by putting the decision back to the states,’ he said.” Axios, [10/18/23]

He Is A Lifelong Anti-Abortion Activist

As Executive Director Of Cornell College Republicans, Teirab Said He Did Not Support Obama Because Of His “Really Radical” Abortion Views. “Joe Teirab, executive director of the Cornell College Republicans, made phone calls for Mike Huckabee's campaign during the Republican primary season last winter and plans to travel to Pennsylvania to campaign for McCain as soon as he's finished taking the law school admission test. Though he favors McCain on foreign policy, the economy and education, Teirab said his biggest issue is opposing abortion. ‘I feel like (Obama's) views on abortion are really radical and not within the mainstream of America,’ Teirab said. ‘That issue in and of itself to me basically disqualifies me from supporting Obama.’” [Ithaca Journal, 10/4/08]

Angie Craig understands the struggle Minnesota families are facing to make ends meet – so she got to work. Craig wrote the bill to end federal income taxes on Social Security, so that seniors keep more of the hard-earned benefits they depend on. And Craig took on the big drug companies to lower the cost of prescription drugs. Angie wrote legislation to cap the cost of insulin at $35 a month — and then worked with both parties to pass a cap into law.

Craig Wrote The Bill To End Federal Income Taxes On Social Security, So That Seniors Keep More Of The Hard-Earned Benefits They Depend On

Craig Announced New Legislation To Eliminate Federal Taxes On Social Security Benefits For Seniors.

“Today, U.S. Representative Angie Craig announced new legislation to eliminate federal taxes on Social Security benefits for seniors. Rep. Craig’s You Earned It, You Keep It Act would eliminate all federal taxes on Social Security benefits beginning in 2025 – putting money back into the pockets of retirees.” Rep. Craig, Press Release, [1/25/24]

- Rep. Craig’s Bill Would “Ensure That Nobody With Health Insurance Pays More Than $35 A Month Out Of Pocket For Insulin.” “The Affordable Insulin Now Act would limit copay costs to $35 a month, max. A bill that would ensure nobody with health insurance pays more than $35 a month out of pocket for insulin passed the U.S. House this week, but with no support from Minnesota’s Republican Congressional Delegation. The Affordable Insulin Now Act, authored by Minnesota DFL Rep. Angie Craig, passed Thursday by a vote of 232-193.” Bring Me The News, [4/1/22]

August 2022: Craig Voted For The Inflation Reduction Act. H.R. 5376, Vote No. 420, [8/12/22]

- The Inflation Reduction Act Lowered The Cost Of Insulin To $35 A Month For People With Medicare. “The Inflation Reduction Act of 2022, signed into law by President Biden on August 16, 2022, includes several provisions to lower prescription drug costs for people with Medicare and reduce drug spending by the federal government... Limit monthly cost sharing for insulin to $35 for people with Medicare, beginning in 2023.” Kaiser Family Foundation, [1/24/23]
- Craig Said She Was “Proud To Have The President Sign My Bills Into Law—Capping The Cost Of Insulin At $35/Month For Seniors.” Craig said, “I’ve worked with the President and members of both parties to pass critical legislation like the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law and the CHIPS and Science Act. And I was proud to have the President sign my bills into law – capping the cost of insulin at $35/month for seniors, expanding mental health support for police officers and their families, and investing more resources to tackle the fentanyl crisis at the southern border.” KTTC, [7/6/24]

Craig Wrote Legislation To Cap Insulin Copays At $35 A Month That Received Support From Both Democrats And Republicans. “U.S. Representative Angie Craig’s legislation to cap insulin copays at $35 per month is gaining momentum in the House of Representatives. 73 Members have co-sponsored Rep. Craig’s bill since its re-introduction in March. The Affordable Insulin Now Act passed through the House with broad support from Democrats and 12 Republican votes during the 117th Congress.” Rep. Angie Craig, Press Release, [9/1/23]
