Jeff Crank Message #1 Backup

It is Jeff Crank's job to listen to the people he represents. Yet, he refuses to hold in-person town halls or meet with his constituents because he cannot defend his record of putting his loyalty to Donald Trump first. Crank has voted with Trump 100% of the time. He voted to greenlight Trump's tariffs and war in Iran, for Trump's plan to sell off our public lands, and for Trump's budget that cut Medicaid and added $4 trillion to the debt.

Crank Was "Rarely Seen" In Colorado's 5th Congressional District And Failed To Hold In-Person Town Halls

August 2026: Colorado Pols: Crank Was "Rarely Seen" In Colorado's 5th Congressional District. "Colorado Republican Members of Congress are not too keen on having to talk to their constituents....Avoiding voters is also the habit of Rep. Jeff Crank (R-Colorado Springs), who is so rarely seen in his district that it's fair to wonder if he is just a figment of our collective imaginations. Fellow Rep. Lauren Boebert (R-Windsor) hasn't met with constituents in CO-04, either." Colorado Pols, [8/18/26]

June 2026: Jessica Killin Noted That Crank Had Not Held Any In Person Town Halls Since Being Elected. "KILLIN: Showing up, engaging with constituents, and listening to people who disagree with you is the job of being a representative, and yet Crank has refused to host any in-person town halls and consistently ignores his constituents. I commit to hosting in-person town halls at least once every quarter, answering unscreened questions, and consistently meeting with all constituents, including those who disagree with me. This community deserves real, responsive leadership. That is the job of a member of the House of Representatives.” Colorado Newsline, [6/9/26]

March 2025: Jeff Crank Declined To Appear At A Town Hall Hosted In Colorado’s 5th

Congressional District. “A room full of 200 people at the IBEW and more joining online wondering why hasn’t Colorado District 5 Representative (Rep.) Jeff Crank (R) answered their questions. The town hall started with several speakers, some of whom intend to run for offices and even oppose the congressman. Later on, a line formed, where person by person shared questions they would like the representative to answer. Questions about topics like cuts to Medicaid.” KOAA News, [3/18/25]

2025-2026: Crank Voted Eight Times For Trump’s Tariffs

February 2026: Crank Voted Against Terminating Trump’s Tariffs, After Voting Repeatedly To Delay A Vote On The Issue

February 2026: Crank Voted Against Terminating The National Emergency That Imposed Tariffs On Goods From Canada. In February 2026, Crank voted against: “Passage of the joint resolution that would terminate the Feb. 1, 2025, national emergency that imposed tariffs on goods from Canada.” The bill passed by a vote of 219-211. - The House Voted To Rescind Trump’s Imposed Tariffs On Canada. “The House voted on Wednesday to rescind tariffs that President Trump imposed on Canada last year, delivering a largely symbolic but politically consequential rebuke that Republicans had fought for a year to prevent. In a 219-to-211 vote, six Republicans joined nearly all Democrats in backing the resolution sponsored by Representative Gregory W. Meeks of New York, the top Democrat on the Foreign Affairs Committee. While the Senate has moved to cancel the president’s tariffs in recent months, the vote was the House’s first opportunity to formally register a position on Mr. Trump’s trade policy since he returned to the White House and began deploying tariffs as an economic strategy.” New York Times, [2/11/26]

Crank Voted For Providing Consideration Of The Law-Enforcement Innovate To De-Escalate Act, The Undersea Cable Protection Act, The Securing America’s Critical Minerals Supply Act, And Blocking Consideration Of Joint Resolutions Terminating Trump’s Tariffs. In February 2026, Crank voted for: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 1042) providing for floor consideration of the Law-Enforcement Innovate to De-Escalate Act (HR 2189), the Undersea Cable Protection Act (HR 261), and the Securing

America's Critical Minerals Supply Act (HR 3617). The rule would allow for up to one hour of debate on each measure. It would consider as adopted a substitute amendment to HR 2189 appending the text of the Innovate Less Lethal to De-Escalate Tax Modernization Act (HR 4242), as reported by the Ways and Means Committee. It also would block the expedited consideration of joint resolutions terminating President Donald Trump's 2025 tariff actions under the Feb. 1, April 2, July 30, and Aug. 6 executive orders by providing that each day during the period from Feb. 10, 2026 through July 31, 2026, will not constitute a calendar day under the federal law pertaining to terminating national emergencies." The resolution was rejected by a vote of 214-217. H. Res. 1042, [Vote #60, 2/10/26; CQ, 2/10/26]

- The House Rejected A Republican Effort To Delay, For Months, Any Vote On Cancelling President Trump's Tariffs. "The House on Tuesday rejected a Republican effort to change the chamber's rules and delay for months any vote on canceling President Trump's tariffs, as G.O.P. defectors rebuked party leaders who have tried for a year to avoid weighing in on levies that are unpopular with many voters." September 2025: Crank Voted To Block Congress From Challenging Trump's Tariffs Through March 2026

September 2025: Crank Voted For H Res 707, Which Extended Trump's Tariff Authority Through March 2026. On 9/16/25, Crank voted for H Res 707, which passed by a vote of 213-211. According to a "vote note" from U.S. Rep. McClintock: "H Res 707 goes beyond the prerogative of the majority to decide what bills are taken to the floor. This resolution amends existing law to extend the authority of the President to impose tariffs until March 30. That makes this a substantive question of policy and the responsibility of individual members to pass judgment. Under the Constitution, the power to impose tariffs is a congressional power and needs to be restored to Congress." “On Tuesday, after an all-day hearing, the House Natural Resources Committee passed its portion of President Donald Trump’s ‘big, beautiful bill’ to deliver on his tax, energy, national security and immigration promises. The bill could have impacts on public land in Western Colorado as it strikes down resource management plans for the Bureau of Land Management’s Colorado River Valley and Grand Junction field offices, mandates quarterly lease sales for oil and gas on federal land in the state, and more. The Natural Resources Committee’s bill would grant the ability for oil and gas companies to lease on over 200 million acres of national public land, sell public land in Utah and Nevada, reduce the onshore royalty rate, allow private entities to bypass the NEPA process for a fee, limit judicial and public review on environmental action, increase timber production, reinstate mineral leases, mandate offshore and Arctic drilling, cut Inflation Reduction Act funding from NOAA, the U.S. Forest Service and the Bureau of Land management, and more.” Post Independent, [5/10/25]

The Revenue From The Sale Of Public Lands Outlined In The House Natural Resources Committee Reconciliation Bill Was Intended To Cover Trump’s Proposed Tax Cuts

The Revenue From The Sale Of Public Lands Outlined In The House Natural Resources Committee Reconciliation Bill Was Intended To Cover Trump’s Proposed Tax Cuts. “The most recent clash over the future of federal lands was the amendment sponsored by a pair of congressional Republicans last month. The measure would have directed the Bureau of Land Management to sell more than 500,000 acres of land in Nevada and Utah. Local governments would have been able to buy the land at market value, with no restrictions on how they used it. Backers said the sale would bring in revenue to cover Trump’s proposed tax cuts, while allowing local governments to build much-needed housing on the parcels. Utah GOP Sen. Mike Lee said he will try to revive the measure as the Senate considers the bill this month, E&E News reported.” Colorado Newsline, [6/5/26]

- The House-Passed Republican Reconciliation Bill Extended The Tax Cuts And Jobs Act Which Skewed In Favor Of The Wealthy By Providing Them Tax Cuts That Were Three Times Greater Than For Working Americans. “The tax provisions of the House Republican reconciliation bill double down on the failures of the 2017 tax law, which was skewed in favor of the richest people in the country, further eroded the nation’s revenue base, and didn’t produce the promised economic gains for working people.[1] Instead of changing course and prioritizing people with low and moderate incomes as House Republicans’ rhetoric about supporting hard-pressed working families would suggest, the House Republican tax bill only offers more of the same. The bill is heavily skewed to the wealthy: Under the bill, the top 1 percent of people would receive tax cuts three times the size of those for people with incomes in the bottom 60 percent, measured as a share of after-tax income. (See Figure 1.) The top 0.6 percent of people — the 1.2 million people with annual incomes above $1 million — would receive more total tax cuts than the 127 million people with incomes below $100,000. [...] The bill extends and expands the 2017 tax law’s increase in the estate tax exemption, boosting the cut in estate taxes for the 1 in 1,000 wealthiest estates to $6.3 million.[3] Next year a couple could pass on an estate worth up to $30 million tax free, $1.7 million more than under a simple extension of the 2017 law.” CBPP, [5/22/25]

May 2025: Crank Voted For The House’s Version Of The One Big Beautiful Bill

May 2025: Crank Voted For H.R. 1, The One Big Beautiful Bill Act. In May 2025, Crank voted for: “Passage of the bill that would provide for approximately $3.8 trillion in net tax cuts and $321 billion in military, border enforcement and judiciary spending, offset by $1.5 trillion in spending reductions, as instructed in the fiscal 2025 budget resolution (H Con Res 14). It would raise the statutory debt limit by $4 trillion and provide for increased spending on defense and border security, spending cuts on social safety net programs, such as Medicaid and the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program. It also includes a mix of tax breaks for businesses and individuals; tax increases on universities and foundations; and a phase-down of clean energy tax credits. It would reduce spending on Medicaid by $625 billion over a 10-year period and modify eligibility and cost provisions for enrollees and health providers and impose work, volunteer and education requirements on adults ages 19 to 64 who are covered by the program. It would appropriate “such sums as necessary” for reducing cost-sharing payments for low-income individuals who’ve purchased “silver” plans on the 2010 health care law’s exchanges. But payments to plans that cover abortions would be mostly barred. It would extend and make permanent individual tax brackets and rates included in the 2017 tax overhaul law (PL 115-97) and provide for the adjustment of the lower bounds of each tier based on inflation. It would reduce federal spending on the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program by requiring states to shoulder more of the cost, expand work requirements for SNAP, extend programs authorized under the 2018 farm bill, and prohibit the U.S. Department of Agriculture from increasing the cost of the Thrifty Food Program. As amended, it would cap state and local tax deductions at $40,000 for households with incomes below $500,000 and prohibit Medicaid funding for gender transition therapies or procedures for minors and adults, among other provisions.” The bill passed by a vote of 215-214. July 2025: Crank Voted For H.R. 1, The One Big Beautiful Bill Act. In July 2025, Crank voted for: “Motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill that would permanently extend nearly $4 trillion in expiring individual and business tax cuts, create several new tax breaks and fund border and immigration enforcement and air traffic control upgrades. It would cut Medicaid and other safety net programs to partly offset the cost. Among other provisions, it would raise the statutory debt ceiling by $5 trillion and appropriate more than $448 billion in mandatory funding for Trump administration priorities and other needs, including $153 billion for defense, $89 billion for immigration enforcement, and $89.5 billion for border control and security. It also would increase the state and local tax deduction cap to $40,000 annually for five years for households making up to $500,000 a year until 2030, when it would permanently revert to $10,000.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 218-214. The tax and spending bill is projected to cost more than $3 trillion during that time, but it would be partially paid for with about $1 trillion in cuts to Medicaid. The One Big Beautiful Bill Added $4.7 Trillion To The National Debt. “Congress last raised the debt limit in quieter fashion, adding $5 trillion to the debt ceiling as part of the One Big Beautiful Bill Act, the Republicans' marquee tax and spending law. Measures to raise the debt ceiling often include spending cuts aimed at reducing the annual budget deficit. But the One Big Beautiful Bill Act, which Trump signed in July 2025, did the opposite: That law added $4.7 trillion to projected deficits over the next decade, according to CBO estimates.” Washington Post, [8/18/26]

As housing costs are skyrocketing, Crank has received hundreds of thousands of dollars from real estate developer and construction company interests, and he himself owns five properties worth up to $2.3 million. He backed a bill that allowed real estate developers to benefit from a new tax subsidy and voted to sell off public lands to benefit real estate companies and his corporate donors.

As Housing Costs Are Skyrocketing, Crank Has Received Hundreds Of Thousands Of Dollars From Real Estate Developer And Construction Company Interests,

Housing Costs Increased Under Trump

Tariffs Raised Housing Costs

Trump’s Tariffs Raised The Price Of Building Materials Like Copper By 25% And Steel By 21%. “Following President Trump’s 2025 tariff announcements and the ensuing economic uncertainty, home construction costs increased over the last year and fewer new homes began construction. These challenges continue to grow in 2026, which will further drive up the cost to rent or buy homes and make it harder to address the nation’s housing shortage. This Joint Economic Committee – Minority report includes findings from outreach that the Committee conducted to home builders, multifamily housing developers, and realtors, who detailed ways that tariffs and economic uncertainty are making it more difficult to build and sell homes. In addition, key new Committee calculations in this report show that: • Materials and other products that are used to build and furnish homes have become more expensive over the past year. Following Trump’s tariffs on steel and copper, the price of copper and copper products in February 2026 was 25 percent higher compared to the year before and the price of steel mill products – including steel bars, wire, pipes and plates – increased by 21 percent. The most popular ovens at key retailers increased in price by $70 on average, or 9 percent. By the end of the first year of Trump’s second term, the rate at which builders secured construction permits and started construction had sunk below late 2024 levels. August 2025 had the lowest issuance rate for residential permits since May 2020, one of the worst months of the pandemic-era slowdown in construction. As industry activity declines, there are now nearly 60,000 fewer jobs in home construction compared to December 2024.” Joint Economic Committee Minority, [April 2026]

Recent Reports Estimated That Trump’s Tariffs Could Increase Building Costs By $10,900 Per Home Initially, And By More Than $17,000 Per Home In The Coming Years. “Recent reports estimate that Trump’s tariffs could increase building costs by $10,900 per home initially, and by more than $17,000 per home in the coming years – which could in turn drive up rental costs and home prices. After months of these tariffs hitting the market, trends in home input prices indicate that costs for homebuilders have, as expected, increased. As shown below, both producer and consumer prices for multiple housing inputs have increased significantly compared to a year ago, making homes more expensive to build and to furnish. Notably, inflation for key building materials, construction tools, household appliances, and furniture far outpaced overall producer and consumer inflation for the same period.” Joint Economic Committee Minority, [April 2026]

The Cost Of Living Increased For Residents Of Colorado Springs Due To Inflation, Housing Shortages, Increased Construction Costs, A Pandemic, Rising Tax Burdens, New Tariffs And Global Conflict. “When Brittany, a special education paraprofessional, moved back to Colorado Springs from Denver a decade ago, a main driver was the rising cost of living in the Mile High City. The 53-year-old, who declined to give her last name, relocated with hopes the move would improve her financial freedom and quality of life. While the cost of living was lower in the Springs, wages were, too. And over the years, as the cost of living rose across the state and the nation — driven by inflation, housing shortages, increased construction costs, a pandemic, rising tax burdens, new tariffs and global conflict — Brittany and other residents in El Paso County were not immune to the crunch.” Denver Gazette, [5/16/26]

May 2025: Crank Voted For The House's Version Of The One Big Beautiful Bill

May 2025: Crank Voted For H.R. 1, The One Big Beautiful Bill Act. In May 2025, Crank voted for: “Passage of the bill that would provide for approximately $3.8 trillion in net tax cuts and $321 billion in military, border enforcement and judiciary spending, offset by $1.5 trillion in spending reductions, as instructed in the fiscal 2025 budget resolution (H Con Res 14). It would raise the statutory debt limit by $4 trillion and provide for increased spending on defense and border security, spending cuts on social safety net programs, such as Medicaid and the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program. It also includes a mix of tax breaks for businesses and individuals; tax increases on universities and foundations; and a phase-down of clean energy tax credits. It would reduce spending on Medicaid by $625 billion over a 10-year period and modify eligibility and cost provisions for enrollees and health providers and impose work, volunteer and education requirements on adults ages 19 to 64 who are covered by the program. It would appropriate “such sums as necessary” for reducing cost-sharing payments for low-income individuals who’ve purchased “silver” plans on the 2010 health care law’s exchanges. But payments to plans that cover abortions would be mostly barred. It would extend and make permanent individual tax brackets and rates included in the 2017 tax overhaul law (PL 115-97) and provide for the adjustment of the lower bounds of each tier based on inflation. It would reduce federal spending on the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program by requiring states to shoulder more of the cost, expand work requirements for SNAP, extend programs authorized under the 2018 farm bill, and prohibit the U.S. Department of Agriculture from increasing the cost of the Thrifty Food Program. As amended, it would cap state and local tax deductions at $40,000 for households with incomes below $500,000 and prohibit Medicaid funding for gender transition therapies or procedures for minors and adults, among other provisions.” The bill passed by a vote of 215-214. It would cut Medicaid and other safety net programs to partly offset the cost. Among other provisions, it would raise the statutory debt ceiling by $5 trillion and appropriate more than $448 billion in mandatory funding for Trump administration priorities and other needs, including $153 billion for defense, $89 billion for immigration enforcement, and $89.5 billion for border control and security. It also would increase the state and local tax deduction cap to $40,000 annually for five years for households making up to $500,000 a year until 2030, when it would permanently revert to $10,000.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 218-214. The One Big Beautiful Bill Established A Qualified Production Property Deduction, Which Allowed Certain Building Owners To Immediately Expense 100% Of The Cost Of Eligible Nonresidential Real Property

The One Big Beautiful Bill Established A Qualified Production Property Deduction, Which Allowed Certain Building Owners To Immediately Expense 100% Of The Cost Of Eligible Nonresidential Real Property That Was Integral For Qualified Production Activities. “With the enactment of the One Big Beautiful Bill Act (OBBBA), the real estate and development community had reason to celebrate. The legislation, formally known as H.R. 1, did more than simply extend existing tax provisions. It permanently restructured the federal tax landscape in ways that directly reward developers, investors, and affordable housing builders. For those in the business of acquiring land, erecting structures, and creating communities, the OBBBA represents the most consequential tax reform for the industry since the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017....Perhaps no single provision matters more to active developers than the restoration of 100% bonus depreciation. Under prior law, bonus depreciation had been phasing out gradually since 2023, dropping to 40% in 2025, and set to disappear entirely after 2026. The OBBBA allows a full 100% bonus depreciation permanently for qualifying property acquired and placed in service after January 19, 2025....The OBBBA introduces a brand-new concept: the Qualified Production Property (QPP) deduction. This provision allows certain building owners to immediately expense 100% of the cost of eligible nonresidential real property that is integral for qualified production activities, such as manufacturing, production, or refining. There must be a substantial transformation.” Wilkin Guttenplan, [7/16/26]

Most Of The Proposed Land Sales In The Amendment Appeared To Be Aimed At Building Affordable Housing On U.S. Forest Service And Bureau Of Land Management. “House Republicans have approved an amendment that authorizes the sale of thousands of acres of federal public land in Nevada and Utah; two states where the federal government owns most of the land that have long been at the forefront of a controversial movement to cede control of it to state or private entities. The House Natural Resources committee approved the amendment late Tuesday night after previously indicating federal land sales wouldn’t be included in a budget reconciliation bill. The measure would have directed the Bureau of Land Management to sell more than 500,000 acres of land in Nevada and Utah. Local governments would have been able to buy the land at market value, with no restrictions on how they used it. Backers said the sale would bring in revenue to cover Trump’s proposed tax cuts, while allowing local governments to build much-needed housing on the parcels. Utah GOP Sen. Mike Lee said he will try to revive the measure as the Senate considers the bill this month, E&E News reported.” Colorado Newsline, [6/5/26]

- The House-Passed Republican Reconciliation Bill Extended The Tax Cuts And Jobs Act Which Skewed In Favor Of The Wealthy By Providing Them Tax Cuts That Were Three Times Greater Than For Working Americans. “The tax provisions of the House Republican reconciliation bill double down on the failures of the 2017 tax law, which was skewed in favor of the richest people in the country, further eroded the nation’s revenue base, and didn’t produce the promised economic gains for working people.[1] Instead of changing course and prioritizing people with low and moderate incomes as House Republicans’ rhetoric about supporting hard-pressed working families would suggest, the House Republican tax bill only offers more of the same. The bill is heavily skewed to the wealthy: Under the bill, the top 1 percent of people would receive tax cuts three times the size of those for people with incomes in the bottom 60 percent, measured as a share of after-tax income. (See Figure 1.) The top 0.6 percent of people — the 1.2 million people with annual incomes above $1 million — would receive more total tax cuts than the 127 million people with incomes below $100,000. [...] The bill extends and expands the 2017 tax law’s increase in the estate tax exemption, boosting the cut in estate taxes for the 1 in 1,000 wealthiest estates to $6.3 million.[3]

Next year a couple could pass on an estate worth up to $30 million tax free, $1.7 million more than under a simple extension of the 2017 law.” CBPP, [5/22/25]

Tax Provisions In The One Big Beautiful Bill Benefited Businesses And Corporations

The One Big Beautiful Bill Extended 100 Percent Bonus Depreciation For Businesses, Which Allowed Them To Fully And Immediately Deduct The Cost Of Many Investments When Calculating Taxable Income

The One Big Beautiful Bill Restored And Made Permanent 100 Percent Bonus Depreciation For Short-Lived Asset Investment, Which Allowed Businesses To Fully And Immediately Deduct The Cost Of Many Investments When Calculating Taxable Income. “The OBBBA restores and makes permanent 100 percent bonus depreciation for short-lived asset investment, which allows businesses to fully and immediately deduct the cost of many investments when calculating taxable income. The TCJA temporarily provided 100 percent bonus depreciation through 2022, at which point the bonus amount began falling by 20 percentage points each year until it phased out entirely at the end of 2026. The permanent restoration of 100 percent bonus depreciation is a big improvement for the tax code because it removes penalties for investment associated with delayed depreciation deductions, creating certainty and a degree of simplification for taxpayers, and preserving the large pro-growth benefit of bonus depreciation over the long term.” Tax Foundation, [7/23/25]
