July 2026: Miller Shared A Voice Recording Of Moreno In Which She Said, “You Poured Steaming Hot Water On Me, And You’ve Also, You, Uh, You Have Been Insanely Emotionally Abusive.” “Responding to the Daily Mail story, Miller also shared a separate voice recording of Moreno with the New York Post; a subsequent legal filing contained a transcript of the recording. According to the transcript, Moreno is heard saying, ‘You poured steaming hot water on me, and you’ve also, you, uh, you have been insanely emotionally abusive.’ Miller first said he ‘didn’t pour hot water on [her] neck.’ He then said, ‘The water incident...I never thought that that hurt you.’ ‘It was never done to hurt you with intent. It never was done to hurt you, and you know that,’ Miller explained.” Mother Jones, [7/18/26]

Miller’s Ex-Girlfriend, Stephanie Grisham, Accused Him Of Physical Abuse

2020: Miller Was In A Relationship With White House Press Secretary Stephanie Grisham. “The couples include Stephanie Grisham, the White House press secretary, and Max Miller, the director of the White House advance office, who stepped out to road test their relationship when they attended the state dinner for Australia together last fall. There is also Nick Luna, the president’s body man, and Cassidy Dumbauld, an assistant to Jared Kushner, Mr. Trump’s senior adviser.” New York Times, [2/17/20]

2021: In Her Book, Grisham Described Her Past Romantic Relationship With Miller As “Abusive.” “Thanks for the memories: In a newly released memoir of her years in ex-President Donald Trump’s White House, former press secretary Stephanie Grisham describes Trump’s fury during separate public relations crises that ensued when he trashed basketball great LeBron James on Twitter, and after he toured a Dayton hospital that was treating victims of a 2019 mass shooting, Sabrina Eaton writes. The book also describes her defunct romantic relationship with Northeast Ohio congressional candidate Max Miller as ‘abusive.’” Cleveland.com, [10/8/21]

Grisham Said Miller’s Abuse Was Physical And Its Violence Reached “Its Worst Point On The Day I Left.” “Grisham’s book also discusses the end of her romantic relationship with a White House co-worker, Max Miller, who is currently seeking a Northeast Ohio congressional seat with Trump’s blessing. The book describes Miller as ‘abusive’ towards her. A Washington Post column that Grisham published on Tuesday said the abuse was physical and its violence reached ‘its worst point on the day I left.’” Cleveland.com, [10/7/21]

Politico: Miller And Grisham’s Relationship Ended When Miller Pushed Grisham “Against A Wall And Slapped Her In The Face In His Washington Apartment After She Accused Him Of Cheating On Her.” “And barely more than a year ago, according to three people familiar with the incident, Miller’s romantic relationship with former White House press secretary Stephanie Grisham ended when he pushed her against a wall and slapped her in the face in his Washington apartment after she accused him of cheating on her.” Politico, [7/28/21]

April 2020: According To Three People Familiar With The Incident, Miller Pushed Grisham, Slapped Her, And She Fled. “But there was nothing ambiguous, said the three people, about the physical altercation in late April of 2020 that happened amid another confrontation about Grisham’s charges of infidelity: Miller pushed her. He slapped her. She fled. The temperatures that evening dipped into the 40s, and Grisham left with no coat, only her purse.” Politico, [7/28/21]

In High School, Miller Allegedly Pushed A Girl Down The Stairs After She Resisted His Attempts To Touch Her According To Multiple Witnesses

Politico Reported That In High School, Miller Pushed A Girl Out The Door Of His Room And She Fell Down Stairs After Miller Became Enraged When She Resisted His Attempts To Touch Her According To Multiple Witnesses. “Just about everybody at Shaker Heights High School knew Max Leonard Miller. [...] That night, with eight to 10 friends at Miller’s house, Miller pushed a girl out the door of his room and she fell down some stairs after he became enraged when she resisted his attempts to touch her, according to three people who were there and many more who heard about the incident in the aftermath.” Politico, [7/28/21]

A Witness Said Miller Shoved The Girl Against A Wall And “Effectively Down The Stairs.” “‘He flipped a switch,’ one witness told me. ‘I know what I saw,’ another witness told me. ‘It sort of escalated in a quick moment and just sort of took a turn, and I feel like in my memory she kind of defended herself and pushed back a little harder in a way that maybe wasn’t as playful—but still, like, being the far weaker person in the situation—and he sort of snapped and became more violent towards her and pushed her, shoved her, really, up against a wall that was next to the door of his room, which was at the top of this landing of stairs’ and ‘effectively down the stairs.’” Politico, [7/28/21]

A Male Classmate Who Consolated The Frightened Girl Said Of The Incident With Miller, “It’s Right In Line With Kind Of Who He Was.” “But people who were there and who knew Miller and the girl talked about it after it happened. ‘It wasn’t a secret,’ said a female classmate. ‘Everybody knew about it,’ said a male classmate. ‘It’s always,’ said another female classmate, ‘kind of been a point of discussion regarding Max Miller.’ Over time, they told me, it has become for them an extreme but nonetheless definitional episode.’ ‘It is the boiling-over point of exactly who he was in high school,’ said a male witness who consoled the crying, frightened girl that night outside in the yard. ‘It’s not surprising that it’s something that happened. I mean, I wouldn’t say it’s fair to say, like, he’s somebody who consistently throws people down the stairs, no—but, yeah, it’s right in line with kind of who he was.’” Politico, [7/28/21]

Max Miller is a dangerous, violent man with a well-documented pattern of domestic abuse allegations from multiple women

Miller’s wife has accused him of physical abuse. A judge signed a restraining order against him and his wife accused him in police records and court documents of beating her, throwing scalding hot water on her, and even holding a gun to her head.

The accusations against Miller are not new, and are part of a well-documented pattern of abuse allegations. He was previously accused of violent behavior against women in high school and college, as well as by a previous girlfriend who served with him in the Trump administration.

As part of the investigation into Miller’s violent behavior, child welfare advocates detailed that Miller’s 2-year old daughter suffered a broken collarbone with bruising that they described as suspicious after being under his care. And according to police records, the girl once told her mother “daddy kill you.”

New York Post: “A Judge Overseeing Their Custody Case Partly Granted Moreno’s Motion For A Temporary Restraining Order Against Him.” “Initially, a judge awarded Miller a civil protection order against Moreno — not unusual in messy divorce cases — but declined to do so for their daughter. Miller publicly bragged about the protection order, claiming vindication, but last month, a judge overseeing their custody case partly granted Moreno’s motion for a temporary restraining order against him. That restraining order restricts both parties from ‘disparaging the other in front of the minor child and using social media/electronic devices or third parties to threaten, harass, or annoy the other.’” New York Post, [7/30/26]

Police Records Showed Moreno Told The Police Her Relationship With Miller Shifted To Physical Abuse Before Their Marriage

May 2026: Snopes Obtained 48 Pages Of Investigative Documents From The Bay Village Police Department In Response To A Request For Records Related To “A Child Abuse Report Against Miller.” “While there is no record of the alleged incident in court filings relating to the custody case, documents from a 2026 police investigation of suspected child abuse involving Miller's young daughter refer to a ‘hot water’ incident in 2024. Snopes obtained 48 pages of investigative documents from the Bay Village Police Department in Ohio. Per those documents, law enforcement determined allegations made in relation to any sort of abuse were ‘unsubstantiated’ (Page 45). (Law enforcement redacted all names of the people involved in the report sent to Snopes. However, police sent it in response to an emailed request for documents related to ‘a child abuse report against Rep. Max Miller.’” Snopes, [5/22/26]

Mother Jones: “Moreno Told Detectives That Miller Had Previously Thrown Hot Water At Her, Shoved Her, And Held A Gun To Her Head.” “Neither the child’s father, Rep. Max Miller (R-Ohio), nor mother, conservative policy adviser Emily Moreno, admitted to knowing what caused their daughter’s injury or that it occurred while their daughter was under their care. Miller’s primary theory was that the bruising resembled marks from a seat belt. Moreno, who discovered the bruises and took the child to an emergency room, suggested the cause may have been something more sinister. Records of the investigation into potential child abuse show that Moreno told detectives that Miller had previously thrown hot water at her, shoved her, and held a gun to her head; therefore, she couldn’t rule out that Miller caused their daughter’s fracture. Moreover, a child protection specialist reviewing the incident had characterized the bruising near the fracture as resembling a ‘handprint.’” Mother Jones, [7/18/26]

He Was Previously Accused Of Violent Behavior Against Women In High School And College...

In High School, Miller Was Accused Of Pushing A Girl Down The Stairs After She Resisted His Attempts To Touch Her According To Multiple Witnesses

Politico Reported That In High School, Miller Pushed A Girl Out The Door Of His Room And She Fell Down Stairs After Miller Became Enraged When She Resisted His Attempts To Touch Her According To Multiple Witnesses. “Just about everybody at Shaker Heights High School knew Max

Leonard Miller. [...] That night, with eight to 10 friends at Miller's house, Miller pushed a girl out the door of his room and she fell down some stairs after he became enraged when she resisted his attempts to touch her, according to three people who were there and many more who heard about the incident in the aftermath." Politico, [7/28/21]

A Witness Said Miller Shoved The Girl Against A Wall And "Effectively Down The Stairs." "'He flipped a switch,' one witness told me. 'I know what I saw,' another witness told me. 'It sort of escalated in a quick moment and just sort of took a turn, and I feel like in my memory she kind of defended herself and pushed back a little harder in a way that maybe wasn't as playful—but still, like, being the far weaker person in the situation—and he sort of snapped and became more violent towards her and pushed her, shoved her, really, up against a wall that was next to the door of his room, which was at the top of this landing of stairs' and 'effectively down the stairs.'" A Male Classmate Who Consolated The Frightened Girl Said Of The Incident With Miller, "It's Right In Line With Kind Of Who He Was." "But people who were there and who knew Miller and the girl talked about it after it happened. 'It wasn't a secret,' said a female classmate. 'Everybody knew about it,' said a male classmate. 'It's always,' said another female classmate, 'kind of been a point of discussion regarding Max Miller.' Over time, they told me, it has become for them an extreme but nonetheless definitional episode.' 'It is the boiling-over point of exactly who he was in high school,' said a male witness who consoled the crying, frightened girl that night outside in the yard. 'It's not surprising that it's something that happened. I mean, I wouldn't say it's fair to say, like, he's somebody who consistently throws people down the stairs, no—but, yeah, it's right in line with kind of who he was.'" Politico, [7/28/21]

On 03.18.2026, at 0930 HRS., a Zoom meeting was conducted involving Children and Family Services caseworker [REDACTED], Cleveland Clinic physician [REDACTED], Det. Sgt. Chapman, and myself. During the meeting, [REDACTED] presented a timeline of known facts and information regarding [REDACTED] injury. [REDACTED] reviewed the known facts of the case, photographs and surveillance video from the [REDACTED] Library depicting [REDACTED] in the presence of her nanny, [REDACTED].

After a thorough review, [REDACTED] stated she could not definitively determine a specific timeframe during which the injury occurred. However, after reviewing the library footage, [REDACTED] opined that [REDACTED] appeared to be favoring her right arm. [REDACTED] advised that clavicle fractures are common injuries in toddlers; however, she stated the bruising observed surrounding the clavicle fracture made the injury suspicious. [REDACTED] further advised the injury would have required a high degree of impact to occur. When asked, [REDACTED] advised she did not believe the injury was consistent with a motor vehicle-related incident, aggressive driving, or the use of a child restraint seat, and stated those mechanisms would not account for the specific pattern of bruising observed.

The Bay Village PD is awaiting [REDACTED] full medical report to be attached with this supplement.

Max Miller Message #2 Backup

Max Miller voted for a $4 trillion giveaway to corporations and billionaires and paid for it by slashing Ohioans' health care and food programs for Ohio's children

Max Miller puts his billionaire and corporate donors ahead of Ohioans. Miller voted for a $4 trillion giveaway to billionaires and corporations and paid for it by kicking almost half a million Ohioans off of their health care and driving our utility bills higher and higher. Now he's cheerleading an unnecessary war in Iran that isn't making us safer, all while driving gas prices through the roof.

Max Miller has hundreds of thousands of dollars in investments in companies pushing AI data centers, and then voted to expand tax breaks for data center developers and reduce regulations on AI. Max Miller has lined his pockets while Ohioans saw their electric bills go through the roof.

Miller Voted For The One Big Beautiful Bill

July 2025: Miller Voted For The One Big Beautiful Bill Act. In July 2025, Miller voted for: “Motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill that would permanently extend nearly $4 trillion in expiring individual and business tax cuts, create several new tax breaks and fund border and immigration enforcement and air traffic control upgrades. It would cut Medicaid and other safety net programs to partly offset the cost. Among other provisions, it would raise the statutory debt ceiling by $5 trillion and appropriate more than $448 billion in mandatory funding for Trump administration priorities and other needs, including $153 billion for defense, $89 billion for immigration enforcement, and $89.5 billion for border control and security. It also would increase the state and local tax deduction cap to $40,000 annually for five years for households making up to $500,000 a year until 2030, when it would permanently revert to $10,000.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 218-214. House Budget Committee Democrats: The Big Beautiful Bill “Rips Health Care Away From Millions While Handing Out $4.5 Trillion In Tax Breaks To Billionaires And Big Corporations.” “This budget rips health care away from millions while handing out $4.5 trillion in tax breaks to billionaires and big corporations. Nearly half the net benefit of extending the 2017 Trump tax cuts would go to the top 5 percent of households, or those making more than $450,000 a year. CBO estimates that permanently extending the 2017 tax law will cost $4.6 trillion (including net interest costs) over the decade.” House Budget Democrats, [2/25/25]

The One Big Beautiful Bill Gave $1.5 Trillion In Tax Cuts To The Top 5% Of Americans, Who Were Worth At Least $1.17 Million

Center For American Progress: As A Result Of The One Big Beautiful Bill, The Top 5% Would Receive $1.5 Trillion In Tax Cuts. “The One Big Beautiful Bill Act would issue the largest transfer of wealth from working-class Americans to the ultrawealthy in the nation’s history. To do so, House Republicans are proposing to cut programs that are essential to people, especially in states that voted for Trump in the last election, in order to pay for tax cuts for the wealthiest Americans. Under this proposal, millionaires would see a larger tax cut than the bottom half of Americans combined—with more than $1.5 trillion in tax cuts going to the top 5 percent. In total, households that make at least $1 million per year would receive roughly twice as much in tax breaks as the bottom 50 percent of the nation combined. Roughly 57 million households in the bottom 60 percent would see a tax increase or a negligible tax change ($100 in either direction) under the House Republican proposal. Not only does this proposal extend the 2017 Tax Cuts and Jobs Act’s tax breaks for the wealthy, but it also adds additional loopholes that skew the tax code even more in favor of the ultrawealthy. Polling demonstrates that Republican voters oppose the bill when they learn that the tax cuts overwhelmingly benefit those who are already rich.” Center for American Progress, [6/13/25]

Forbes: The Top 5% Were Worth At Least $1.17 Million. “For the top 5%, a net worth of $1.17 million to $2.7 million secures your spot, while the top 10% requires between $970,900 and $1.9 million. If you are aspiring to the top 25%, you’ll need roughly $340,000 to $500,000, a milestone many Gen Z professionals can target early in their careers. At the pinnacle, the top 0.1% command a staggering $62 million, often amassed through entrepreneurship, high-growth investments, or inheritance.” Forbes, [4/22/25]

The Big Beautiful Bill Enacted $920 Billion In Corporate And International Business Tax Breaks

The Big Beautiful Bill Enacted $920 Billion In Corporate And International Business Tax Breaks. “Despite promises of middle-class relief, a new analysis from the Center for American Progress analysis finds that a handful of provisions in the Big Beautiful Bill (BBB) funnel nearly $2.3 trillion in tax cuts mainly to the richest 10 percent of Americans, accounting for 70 percent of the law’s total deficit cost. [...] Corporate and international business tax breaks ($920 billion combined): Massive subsidies for offshore profits and investments deliver a second round of corporate windfalls, similar in size to the TCJA’s corporate cuts.” Center for American Progress, [11/20/25]

[...] Average US gas prices topped $4 in March, according to AAA. Countries worldwide have faced gas price hikes, a direct result of surging crude oil prices. The spike in energy prices has shaken global markets, from stocks to bonds, gold and currencies. This affects both investors and consumers. Increased shipping costs have led to higher food prices in the US and other countries. Produce prices could also be affected by potential fertilizer shortages. Insurers and shipping companies have added US surcharges as diesel prices rise, influencing shipping rates. Flight prices are climbing worldwide as jet fuel spikes. Under The One Big Beautiful Bill Major Data Center Companies Received $83 Billion In Federal Income Tax Breaks In 2025 Which Allowed Them More Capital To Expand Data Center Development

American Prospect: The Tax Benefits In The One Big Beautiful Bill “Have Trickled Up The Most To Just Six Companies, Primarily Silicon Valley Titans That Are Dominating The AI Boom And Spending Lavishly On Data Centers.” “Last year, corporations ran away with one of the biggest federal income tax breaks in history, thanks to rule changes, write-offs, and credits made permanent in President Trump’s One Big Beautiful Bill Act (OBBBA). According to a recent analysis by the Institute on Taxation and Economic Policy (ITEP), companies avoided paying more than $200 billion in federal income tax in 2025. The latest cuts have helped dozens of corporations, like Tesla, CVS, and liquefied natural gas behemoth Cheniere, pay zero in federal income tax while raking in more than $100 billion, but the benefits have trickled up the most to just six companies, primarily Silicon Valley titans that are dominating the AI boom and spending lavishly on data centers.” The American Prospect, [8/17/26]

What these hyperscalers and Jamie Dimon’s bank (which is deeply involved in financing data centers) saved in federal income taxes is equivalent to roughly one-fifth of what hundreds of thousands of other entities paid in federal corporate taxes in 2025.” The American Prospect, [8/17/26]

- American Prospect: Under The One Big Beautiful Bill, Data Center Companies Were Able To Claim 100% Bonus Depreciation On Infrastructure Investments, Which Lowered Their Federal Tax Burden And Left Them “Flush With Tons Of Extra Cash To Continue Building Out More Infrastructure, Like Data Centers.” “Clever accounting, greenlit by Congress, has helped the Big Tech giants secure those massive gains. They’ve claimed billions in tax credits for research and development and selling products built using their intellectual property abroad. They’ve leaned on stock options to compensate their employees, in order to deflate how the IRS calculates their profits. And the hyperscalers have been able to write off billions in capital expenditures on AI infrastructure like data centers essentially overnight, preemptively claiming the machines they’ve installed have undergone wear and tear, years before they actually have. That process, known as ‘bonus depreciation,’ had been used by the feds to jump-start the economy at various points in the last 25 years, first in the aftermath of the 9/11 attacks, then during the recovery after the Great Recession. They began appearing outside of economic emergencies during the first Trump administration as part of another sweeping tax cut. That most recent measure was set to be phased out last year until OBBBA expanded and codified it forever, allowing companies to write off up to 100 percent of infrastructure investments in the first year of spending on them. That’s left a handful of highly profitable companies flush with tons of extra cash to continue building out more infrastructure, like data centers, power plants, and memory chips, reaping further tax credits down the line as they go.” The American Prospect, [8/17/26]

Investopedia: The One Big Beautiful Bill Was “Likely To Spur New Waves Of Investment” In AI. “The manufacturing sector is set to get a big boost from President Donald Trump’s ‘One Big, Beautiful Bill,’ which is likely to spur new waves of investment, especially in sectors like AI and biotechnology. The sprawling budget bill introduces a series of tax deductions and credits for businesses, especially those that invest in research and development (R&D), AI buildouts, and domestic factory construction.” Investopedia, [7/22/25]

The One Big Beautiful Bill’s Tax Changes “Could Provide A Boon For AI Production In The U.S., Especially Amid A Surge In Data Center Construction.” “The bill offers immediate deductions for investments made into research and development, including retroactively from 2022. The bill also boosts the tax credit for semiconductor production to 35% from 25% previously. Together, these changes could provide a boon for AI production in the U.S., especially amid a surge in data center construction by companies like Microsoft (MSFT), Alphabet (GOOG), Amazon (AMZN), and Meta Platforms (META).” Investopedia, [7/22/25]

A Senior Research Analyst From Brownstone Said The Big Beautiful Bill Would Result In “Enormous” Short-Term Tax Savings For Data Center Builders. “Because both the factory itself and the machinery inside can be deducted immediately, some analysts said this could incentivize companies to build more of their supply chains in the U.S. ‘This ‘reshoring super-deduction’ dramatically lowers the after-tax cost of domestic investment. This should encourage the onshoring of supply chains and manufacturing capacity and create more jobs for Americans,’ wrote Brownstone Research Senior Analyst Nick Rokke. And that cash will almost certainly be reinvested into even more compute infrastructure.’” Investopedia, [7/22/25]

2025: Analysis By American Century Investments Projected That One The Big Beautiful Bill Was Projected To Give Data Center Developers Billions In Tax Breaks

American Century: Meta, Alphabet, And Amazon Were “Major AI ‘Hyperscalers’” Projected To Save Between $14-$18 Billion In Taxes Because Of The Big Beautiful Bill. “Let’s examine some real-world data. We recently received the second-quarter 2025 earnings reports from the major AI ‘hyperscalers.’ These are their projected AI-related capital expenditures for all of 2025: Alphabet, $85 billion; Amazon.com, $72 billion; Meta Platforms, $68 billion; Microsoft, $80 billion. The federal corporate tax rate is unchanged under the OBBB at 21%. Using rough estimates, these companies are expected to save between $14 and $18 billion on their tax bills for calendar year 2025 due to this issue alone. Zion Research Group estimates that the four firms would realize more than $55 billion in combined tax savings for this year.” American Century Investments, [9/4/25]

Miller Voted For The House Version Of The One Big Beautiful Bill, Which Would Have Placed A Moratorium On All State AI Restrictions For 10 Years And Blocked States From Enforcing Regulations Already In Place

May 22, 2025: Miller Voted For The Big Beautiful Bill. In May 2025, Representative Miller voted for: “Passage of the bill that would provide for approximately $3.8 trillion in net tax cuts and $321 billion in military, border enforcement and judiciary spending, offset by $1.5 trillion in spending reductions, as instructed in the fiscal 2025 budget resolution (H Con Res 14). It would raise the statutory debt limit by $4 trillion and provide for increased spending on defense and border security, spending cuts on social safety net programs, such as Medicaid and the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program. It also includes a mix of tax breaks for businesses and individuals; tax increases on universities and foundations; and a phase-down of clean energy tax credits. It would reduce spending on Medicaid by $625 billion over a 10-year period and modify eligibility and cost provisions for enrollees and health providers and impose work, volunteer and education requirements on adults ages 19 to 64 who are covered by the program. It would appropriate “such sums as necessary” for reducing cost-sharing payments for low-income individuals who’ve purchased “silver” plans on the 2010 health care law’s exchanges. But payments to plans that cover abortions would be mostly barred. It would extend and make permanent individual tax brackets and rates included in the 2017 tax overhaul law (PL 115-97) and provide for the adjustment of the lower bounds of each tier based on inflation. It would reduce federal spending on the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program by requiring states to shoulder more of the cost, expand work requirements for SNAP, extend programs authorized under the 2018 farm bill, and prohibit the U.S. Department of Agriculture from increasing the cost of the Thrifty Food Program. As amended, it would cap state and local tax deductions at $40,000 for households with incomes below $500,000 and prohibit Medicaid funding for gender transition therapies or procedures for minors and adults, among other provisions.” The bill passed by a vote of 215-214. Associated Press: The Republican Reconciliation Bill Banned States And Localities From Regulating Artificial Intelligence For A Decade. “House Republicans surprised tech industry watchers and outraged state governments when they added a clause to Republicans’ signature ‘big, beautiful’ tax bill that would ban states and localities from regulating artificial intelligence for a decade. The brief but consequential provision, tucked into the House Energy and Commerce Committee’s sweeping markup, would be a major boon to the AI industry, which has lobbied for uniform and light touch regulation as tech firms develop a technology they promise will transform society.” Associated Press, [5/16/25]

- The Bill Stated That “No State Or Political Subdivision May Enforce Any Law Or Regulation Regulating Artificial Intelligence Models, Artificial Intelligence Systems, Or Automated Decision Systems.” “The AI provision in the bill states that ‘no state or political subdivision may enforce any law or regulation regulating artificial intelligence models, artificial intelligence systems, or automated decision systems.’ The language could bar regulations on systems ranging from popular commercial models like ChatGPT to those that help make decisions about who gets hired or finds housing. State regulations on AI’s usage in business, research, public utilities, educational settings and government would be banned.” Associated Press, [5/16/25]

USA Today: “The Ban Would Not Only Prevent New State-Led Regulations Of AI But Would Also Block Dozens Of States From Enforcing Preexisting AI Regulations.” “President Donald Trump’s massive bill package, dubbed the ‘Big Beautiful Bill,’ contains a proposal that could significantly waylay a burgeoning movement to regulate artificial intelligence on the state level. The ban is tucked into a section of the bill that would allocate $500 million over the next 10 years to modernize government systems with the help of AI and automation technologies. The ban would not only prevent new state-led regulations of AI but would also block dozens of states from enforcing preexisting AI regulations and oversight structures.” USA Today, [5/27/25]

Max Miller Has Lined His Pockets While Ohioans Saw Their Electric Bills Go Through The Roof.

Miller’s Investment In VOO Had Risen 23% Since His Vote On The Big Beautiful Bill

July 3, 2025- August 30, 2026: VOO Stock Had Risen From 572.18 Dollars Per Share To 709.39 Dollars Per Share, A 23% Increase. Yahoo Finance, accessed [8/30/26]

July 2026: Ohioans’ Electricity Bills Hit Record Highs, Marking a 12% Year Over Year Increase

Signal Ohio Headline: “Electric Bills Hit New Highs Across Ohio, State Data Shows.” Signal Ohio, [8/3/26]

July 2026: Data From The Ohio Utility Rate Survey Showed That Electric Bills For Residential Electric Customers Hit Record Highs In Cleveland, Dayton, And Akron. “Electric bills will likely hit record highs for millions of Ohioans when July bills go out this month, driven by rising rates, new systemic demand and a heat dome that lingered over much of the Midwest. New data from the Ohio Utility Rate Survey – a state publication based on cost data from utilities – shows the electric bill for a residential electric customer using an average amount of power hit record levels in Cleveland ($189), Dayton ($188) and Akron ($184) in July.” Signal Ohio, [8/3/26]

On A Statewide Basis, July Bills Were 12% Higher Than Last Year And 62% Higher Than A Decade Ago. “On a statewide basis, that means July bills are 12% higher than last year and a whopping 62% higher than they were a decade ago.” Signal Ohio, [8/3/26]
